Second.—That by different devices employed during the past ten years the defendants, or some of them, have endeavored to destroy the independence of the Northern Pacific company and bring it under the domination of the Great Northern company.

Third.—That the Northern Securities company is an instrumentality devised by defendants to acquire, hold and exercise control over these two parallel and competing lines of railroads, to destroy competition between them, to create a monopoly of transportation in the section served by them and to defeat the condition attached by the United States to the franchise and land grants of the Northern Pacific company.

Continuing, Mr. Knox said:

"Let us next see what steps were taken to get the Northern Pacific property in such situation as would enable Mr. Morgan to make good his assurance to Mr. Hill that if he failed to acquire the Northern Pacific stock in the manner just described they could work in harmony. A reorganization of the road was effected, and a new company organized under the laws of Wisconsin with power to do so took over the property and franchises of the Northern Pacific company.

"By the reorganization agreement J. P. Morgan & Co. were made 'managers' of the reorganization. What is known as 'harmony' now prevailed between the two roads and continued as such until 1901, when the two roads made a joint purchase of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. This partnership in the ownership of the Burlington was almost immediately followed by the merger of which the government complains."

The attorney general then detailed the facts connected with the Burlington purchase and the organization of the Securities company and in concluding his presentation of the evolution of the Securities company said:

"These facts clearly establish that it is an instrumentality created to control the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads and through their ownership of the Burlington to control that road likewise."

The attorney general was able before adjournment to announce only one proposition by way of argument, and that was contained in the following sentence:

"This merger of interests was a combination in restraint of commerce among the states and was intended so to be, and with or without a proved intention it is illegal, as by virtue of the combination it is guilty of the mischief which the law is designed to prevent—namely, it brings transportation and trade throughout a vast section of country under the controlling influence of a single body and destroys any possible advantages the public might have through any competition between the two lines."

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the president, was one of the spectators in the United States supreme court while the Northern Securities case was being argued. She was accompanied by Mrs. Knox, wife of the attorney general.

IN THE SENATE.

Session Was Spent In Discussing Cuban Trade Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The senate spent the day on the Cuban bill, most of the time being occupied by Mr. Bailey (Tex.) in an elaborate argument against the constitutionality of the proceeding. He claimed that no treaty changing the revenue laws that was not first authorized by legislation or originating in the house of representatives was valid. Mr. Bailey also opposed the bill as a matter of general policy.

Brief speeches were made by Senators Teller, Depew and Lodge. The latter asserted that Cuba had adopted the same immigration laws as those of the United States in regard to Chinese immigration.

Pittsburg Has $150,000 Fire.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 15.—After an exciting fight of four hours in the bitter cold firemen succeeded in subduing one of the most stubborn and dangerous fires the department has been called upon to handle for some time. Spontaneous combustion is the only cause given for the fire, which was first discovered on the seventh floor of the Arrott Power building, located between Penn avenue and Duquesne way and between Sixth and Seventh streets. The loss will reach $150,000.

Sensational End of Arson Trial.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Dec. 15.—In a thoroughly dramatic manner and apparently imbued only with the purpose of setting free an innocent woman, Phillip J. Heitchman interrupted the trial of Mrs. Margaret Giles, charged with arson, and proclaimed himself to be the incendiary who on Nov. 20 attempted to burn the private hospital of Dr. J. M. Solomon and in so doing imperiled the lives of the helpless inmates.

More Fighting In Santo Domingo.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dec. 15.—A rumor is in circulation here that troops of the provisional government have attacked the revolutionary troops stationed at Monte Cristi. The government troops were repulsed and are now besieged in a fort in Santiago city. All is quiet in the neighborhood of the fort, though the situation may become serious at any moment.

Adelina Patti Wins.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—On the ground that the proceedings were premature Supreme Court Justice Leventritt has set aside an order compelling Mme. Patti, the singer, to submit to examination in the suit of Joseph S. Kennedy against Robert Grau, her manager. Kennedy alleges that $7,000 is due him for commissions for raising a $40,000 loan.

Farris Case Adjourned.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 15.—Judge Graves has continued the cases of Senators Frank H. Farris and Charles A. Smith, who were to be tried here on charges of bribery, on application of the defendants. The continuance was asked on account of the illness of Senator Smith, who is a witness in the Farris case.

Shoe Finding Store Destroyed.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 15.—Fire and water damaged property to the extent of $65,000 in a fire of unknown origin which started in the shoe finding store of F. A. Sherwood, on Mill street. Mr. Sherwood's loss is estimated at $50,000 on stock alone, the damage to the building amounting to $10,000.

Twenty Injured In Collision.

ROCHELLE PARK, N. J., Dec. 15.—A head-on collision between a work train and a fast freight on the Susquehanna railroad near here resulted in the injury of twenty Italian workmen, none fatally, and the fireman of the work train.

Object to "Parsifal."

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. — The Chicago presbytery adopted a resolution condemning the production on the public stage of "Parsifal" and other so called religious plays which depict Jesus Christ subjected to temptation by women.

A Gift From France.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Lieutenant Commander de Faramond, naval attache of the French embassy in behalf of President Loubet of France has presented to the president a beautifully bound copy of the French naval annual.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Senator Kean is confident that President Roosevelt will be renominated and reelected. When asked his opinion he said: "I do not think there is any question about Mr. Roosevelt's nomination. In my opinion he will be nominated without any trouble. I think the people of the country want him, and that he will be elected I have no fear."

Congressman John J. Gardner has made public declination of the nomination for governor. With Murphy steered away from the United States senatorship, Gardner pulled out of the gubernatorial race and there is a very friendly understanding between Edward C. Stokes and William M. Johnston on the question of the gubernatorial candidacy, so the political atmosphere in New Jersey is becoming quite clear. The indorsement of Gardner by Atlantic county was the source of much worriment to Stokes' friends in South Jersey.

In referring to Speaker Cannon's appointments the Elizabeth Journal quotes this from the Newark Evening News: "He has properly reappointed Mr. Fowler chairman of the Committee on Banking and Currency. Mr. Fowler's several currency bills have not succeeded, and none of them is in accord with Speaker Cannon's views; but he recognizes Mr. Fowler's work and ability and his qualifications for this arduous and responsible position. It may also be suggested in passing that this reappointment tends to confirm Senator Kean's statement that he in no way opposed Mr. Fowler's reinstatement as chairman of this committee. Mr. Fowler is also on the Civil Service Committee."

It is noticeable that the Senator's organ makes no comment. Plainfield rejoices over the honor paid the Congressman of the Fifth district.

AMUSEMENTS.

In these days of fierce commercial strife it is seldom that one theatrical manager pays a business rival a compliment, yet Weber & Fields have unhesitatingly placed themselves on record as saying that "Raffles, The Amateur Cracksman" in which Kyrle Bellew is appearing at the Princess Theatre is the only new play of the season "worth burlesquing." In consequence, under the title of "Whiffles, The Amateur Cracker," the delightful dramatization of E. W. Hornung's detective story will be the first travesty of the season at Weber & Fields' Music Hall. "Raffles," by the way, seems destined to make the record run of the Metropolitan dramatic season. It is now in its third month at the Princess, and the battle royal between the Amateur Cracksman and Captain Bodford, the pursuing detective, is accompanied nigthly by the merry jingle of coin in the box office below.

Broadway, somewhat jaded by the long continued visitation of musical farces, French vaudevilles, colonial plays, emotional dramas and "society" stage hysterics, has been awakened from its lethargy by the appearance of "The County Chairman," George Ade's new rural comedy. This work, presented by Henry W. Savage for the first time in the east, met with recognition as enthusiastic and instantaneous as it was unexpected. Habitual first nighters, who have become so hardened that they usually look on as expressionless as wax images, began to titter before the curtain had been up for two minutes, and presently they were laughing as they had not laughed in years. The New York World said they burst off their buttons in excess of hilarity.

Willis Hour, of Jersey City, who has been the guest of friends in North Plainfield for the past few days, has returned home.

Hoar has just been received. X. R.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Please allow me to make an explanation respecting the action of the Mount Olive Church in its annual business meeting. There was no action of the church to sever its relationship with the First Baptist Church, nor the Sunday-school of the latter church. Neither did the church vote to get rid of the teachers of the school. A committee was appointed from the church to consult the teachers, to see if they will serve in the future.

The only action of the church was to elect officers of the school. And if the Mount Olive Church is a regular Baptist church, this was its privilege, and this privilege should have been exercised years ago, if it so desired.

We do not feel that the First Baptist Church would sever its relationship with our church and school because it intelligently did that which it had a right to do. There is no desire upon the part of our church to declare itself independent. The First Baptist Church has never put any restraint upon our action. The actions of our church has not been so much out of harmony with the government of the church to be restrained from its actions, and no church can put a restraint upon another church's action. This church and school, do, unitedly thank the First Church for all it has done for them, and still hold them as interested in our welfare. Our only object for any change was to utilize the talent which we have in our church competent for this work.

The school of our church is self sustaining so far as the literature is concerned and other essentials, and has been lifting money enough for it, not including the annual outing, and Christmas entertainment.

We would not desire any change in our outing if we could be treated like human in the park, etc., and many of the brethern know this. As to our church's property, that was not spoken of in our meeting. We are intelligent enough to know that as the property is not ours in the strict term and meaning of ownership. As to our superintendent, this school will never have a man whom we esteem, and whose worth will be more to us than his has been to us, and we are planning to demonstrate that to the public.

Our teachers are among the best in the city. As to the officers of the church, the First Church has never interfered with their election. As to the money raised for the work this year, and the cost, the work cost over $1,100, and I only raised from the public in cash $303, and we have lifted more than $1,000. There are pledges but they are not as yet paid but will be paid. The effort of the members of this church has merited all that the public has done for them and may do, and some who have done for us were not Baptists.

This school will not be under the pastor in the future, any more than it has been in the past. When I permitted the church to take this action, I felt that it would have been most gratifying to the First Baptist Church, and to those in the school, to know that their twenty years' labor was not in vain, and that the results of their untiring effort in the colored people's behalf had resulted in such measure that the fruits could be seen.

The Crescent Avenue Church did not sever its relationship with Hope Chapel because the members wish to manage their affairs. Every negro school should be under negro management. The negro is being educated to lead his own race and not the superior. Give the negros all of their schools, public and religious, and employ negro talent, and it will be the best method to teach them self reliance. Rev. E. E. Jackson.

ANNOYANCE CAUSED BY GAS WORKS METHODS

Residents in the Vicinity of Washington and E. Fourth Sts. Complain to Light Co.

CONSTANT EXPLOSIONS

BLOWING OF THE RUNS THE CAUSE OF THE DISTURBANCE.

Flames Shoot High in the Air Lighting Up the Sky at Night—Residents Say That Their Slumbers Are Disturbed.

Persons living in the vicinity of Washington and East Fifth streets have made several complaints to the Plainfield Gas Company and to The Daily Press about annoying explosions which take place every few minutes at the gas works situated at the corner of Washington and East Fourth streets,. The explosions are accompanied by a large volume of flame which shoots into the air to a heighth of twenty-five feet and at night lights the heavens. There is a dull rumbling noise preceding and following the outburst, which the people claim, keep them awake at night.

A reporter for The Daily Press visited the gas plant a few days ago and in an interview with the superintendent of the works was told that the explosions were caused by "blowing off the runs." After each retort has been discharged of its gas, the flues are blown out before a new charge is put in. These charges are called runs and a new run is put in every fifteen or twenty minutes. The blowing off process is accomplished by turning into the retort a large volume of gas which is automatically set fire. The explosion of the gas cleans out the flues in preparation for the new run.

Heretofore the runs have been accompanied by merely a large volume of flame, which was not accompanied by any noise. It seems that a new retort was installed in October and since then the new apparatus has not been overhauled. It has been made to do service while the old retort is undergoing repairs. As soon as the repairs are completed the annoying explosions will cease, say the men at the works.

BOYS' BASKET BALL GAMES

"YALE" DEFEATS "PRINCETON" AND "COLUMBIA" BEATS "HARVARD."

By two shut-outs, "Yale" triumphed over "Princeton" and "Columbia" defeated "Harvard" yesterday afternoon in the Junior basket ball league of the Y. M. C. A. Columbia won its game by two goals from fouls scored after much rough play by Woodhull, one goal in each half. The score was 2 to 0 and was the second defeat Harvard has sustained in the series. The Princeton-Yale game was won by the latter, 6 to 0, Briggs and Alpaugh scoring goals from the floor in the first half and Leggett in the second. Princeton was outweighed and generally outplayed throughout.

The series will be decided next Tuesday afternoon when the last games will be played. Harvard, the leader up to the present, is now tied with Columbia for first position, each team having won three games and lost two. Yale and Princeton are also tied, with two victories and three defeats. Summaries:

Columbia—Woodhull and Morris, forwards; Freeman, centre; Stephen and Stern, guards. Harvard—Doeringer and Hart, forwards; Loughlin, centre; R. Doeringer and Lambert, guards. Goals from fouls, Woodhull 2.

Yale—Leggett and Briggs, forwards; Alpaugh, centre; Denton and Leland, guards. Princeton—Line and Bird, forwards; Caldwell, centre; Sharp and Taylor, guards. Goals from the floor, Leggett, Briggs, Alpaugh.

Referee, Robbie; umpire, Collier; timer, Heywood; time, 15-min. periods.

NASH CONDEMNS A. O. U. W. PLANS

Evasion of Order's Rules Responsible for Big Indebtedness Supreme Lodge Finds.

MEETING IN NEWARK

NASH AND COLLIER DISAGREE AS TO THE SCHEME.

Grounds for Opposition to Plan Enunciated Before the Members of West End Lodge, No. 49—Mr. Nash's Talk.

For and against the new plan of assessments for the A. O. U. W., adopted by the Supreme Lodge last June, V. W. Nash, of this city, and Edward Collier, of Newark, argued last night before a gathering of members of West End Lodge, No. 49, at Newark. Both men are supreme representaives of New Jersey. Mr. Nash spoke carefully and at length in opposition to the new plans. He said in part:

"At the meeting of the Supreme Lodge, the members were informed to their surprise that the A. O. U. W. was in debt $650,000 on January 1 of this year to which sum must be added the amount of indebtedness incurred from January to June when the meeting took place, the entire debt being about $800,000. According to the laws of the organization, this debt should have been cleared up by a special assessment upon each of the 450,000 members and a per capita assessment of $2 would have been sufficient for the purpose.

"This assessment was not made and in consequence, the announcement of the $650,000 shortage was sprung upon the representatives to the Supreme Lodge.

"For eight months prior to the Supreme Lodge, the committee in charge had an actuary working upon a new plan of assessments. This plan as presented created a new class of members of 55 years of age and over from whom it was proposed to collect $11.40 per month upon each $3,000 certificate. This plan being rejected, a new one was substituted whereby a new class was formed whose rate at 55 should be $8 40, and this plan was adopted together with a number of other novel ideas on fraternal insurance.

"Among these ideas the one that was most strongly advocated was what is known as the level plan, such a one as New Jersey had abandoned a year previous for a classified plan. The new level rate was proposed as one offering greatest inducements to new members and was strongly opposed by me as a plan that could not advisedly be offered young men desirous of entering a fraternal insurance association. My grounds for this opposition are first, that a comparison of rates shows that the plan would make the cost to a man of from 21 to 45 greater than straight life insurance in old line companies. The figures that follow speak for themselves:

"Under the new plan, a man of 21 joining the A. O. U. W., and paying twelve yearly assessments would be required to pay $16.08 and in addition $4 in dues and a $1 special assessment, the total being $21.08. An old line company would require the payment of $19.62. At the age of thirty, the fraternal insurance would cost $25.88 and the old line $24.38. At 35, the figures would be $30.24 for fraternal insurance and $28.11 for old line; at 40, $34 40 as against $33.01; and at 45, $40.64 as against $39.55.

"These figures indicate clearly that there would be no inducement for young men to join the order under the new plans, the fact that payments in the A. O. U. W. could be made monthly instead of quarterly or semi-annually not being a sufficient off-set.

"So far as the new plans affect New Jersey, I contend that New Jersey does not require and should not adopt them. The State has already paid about $100,000 for the relief of other jurisdictions without ever having received a cent in return. Under the present plan she has paid from January to November into the guarantee fund between $16,000 and $17,000 for other jurisdictions. If the new plans are adopted we will pay about $50,000 a year. If New Jersey, under the present plan, collects twelve classified assessments for a year, she will have collected more in the last year than is necessary to pay her debt losses.

"My contention is that, if New Jersey deemed it wise, the surplus of $70,000 a year could be properly invested and would enable the State to continue for many years without increasing the rate to the old man to drive him out of the order or cause him to reduce the amount of his certificate.

"As to the fraternal idea of the order, I maintain that men join this and similar associations for its insurance feature and not for the fraternal idea which prevails among Masons and Odd Fellows. This fact is clearly demonstrated in every lodge by the fact that not ten per cent. of the members attend their meetings, many never entering the lodge rooms after their initiations."

Referring back to the insurance feature of the order, Mr. Nash gave figures to show that under the proposed plans, members of the present day would be taxed to relieve those who will join fifteen or twenty years later.

In opposition to Mr. Nash, and in favor of the plans, Mr. Collier confined his argument almost entirely to an emphasis of the fraternal idea of the organization, stating that men should be willing to pay more for fraternity with insurance than for simple insurance alone. He said that dues should not be considered as part of the insurance, and that Mr. Nash, while not actually advocating secession for New Jersey, was merely making plain how easy it was to secede.

Mr. Nash will speak at Jersey City on Friday night of this week.

ROSELLE DEFEATED CRANFORD'S TEAM

Initial Contest Between Two Aggregations Results in a Clean Victory for Roselle.

WINNERS' HIGH SCORES

CRANFORD FAILS TO TAKE ANY ONE OF THE THREE GAMES.

Howe High Man on Successful Team—Bates Makes Good Showing for Losing Aggregation—Result of the Play.

Roselle Casino and Cranford Casino met last night for the first time this season in a series of games in The Daily Press Bowling League tournament. The games were rolled on the Cranford alleys, and the visitors still continuing their good work took all three from the home team. In every game they rolled over 800, while Cranford rolled over that score in the first game only, when the total was 810. The totals for Roselle were 843, 842 and 815, against 810, 795 and 705 for the home five.

Howe was high man for the Roselle aggregation with a score of 211. This he made in the first game when he is credited with four strikes, six spares and no breaks. Roselle did not roll such high scores generally, but they were better on the average, while with Cranford there were several scores much below the average. Bates, with a 190, touched high point for Cranford. Dohrman rolled for Hibson in the second and third games, while Hibson rolled for Bremmer in the third game. These changes did not benefit the home team greatly as their opponents were much too strong for them.

The next series of games is scheduled for Friday night, when Roselle will roll at Westfield and Cranford will visit the Parks.

The scores for last night were:

ROSELLE.			CRANFORD.
S. Smith	189	164	Bates	190	180
Hamman	167	170	Park	185	184
Harris	126	163	Bremmer	134	137
Howe	211	167	Hibson	120	153
Mulford	141	178	Dohrman	155	138
			Plummer	181	141
	843	842		810	795

MRS. HUNT TALKS AT TEMPERANCE MEETING

Plainfield W. C. T. U. Gathered in the Seventh-Day Baptist Church to Hear Address.

SOME EVILS OF DRINK

UNITED STATES THE MOST SOBER NATION ON EARTH SHE SAYS.

Scientific Analyses of Liquor—Woman Tells of the German Congress's Work—The Schools Receive Mrs. Willard's Portrait.

Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, a noted temperance worker, interested a small but attentive audience at the Seventh-Day Baptist Church last night by an address descriptive largely of scientific analyses of the evils of drink and of a trip made by her to an anti-alcohol congress in Bremen, Germany, in April of this year.

Mrs. Hunt attacked vigorously the recently exploited theory of Prof. Atwater that alcoholic beverages contain much that is valuable as food. She pointed out the fallacy in the statistics, which Prof. Atwater produced to show a gain in weight produced by the taking of stimulants, indicating that the supply of proteum, the most necessary food element, was lessened by the use of alcoholic drinks.

Mrs. Hunt's descriptions of her attendance at the German congress and visit to the German empress were most entertaining. She states that Germany has awakened to the need of an active war against the drink habit and that much progress has already been made. The emperor and empress are especially eager to restain the excessive beer drinking of large numbers of their countrymen, believing that a continuance as under present conditions will menace the future of the empire.

The tests of German scientists of the effects of alcoholic drinks were described. These tests have been most thorough and unite to show the harmful effects of liquor upon physical and mental growth. Mrs. Hunt stated that the standards of measurements and physical requirements for admission to the army have been frequently lowered in recent years to meet the lower average of physical attainment brought about by the use of liquors.

Of the progress in the United States, Mrs. Hunt spoke most encouragingly. She stated that the United States is the most sober nation on earth and that the per capita consumption of liquor has greatly decreased in the last two decades. The safety of the nation, she declared, depends upon a continuance of the present laws requiring the study of the effects of alcohol upon the human system in connection with the study of physiology and hygiene in the public schools.

The beneficent effect of these laws which now exist in every State in the union, Mrs. Hunt said, has already been amply illustrated. Twenty-two million school children at the present time are learning of the evils of drink at an age when such teachings make their most lasting impression. Mrs. Hunt referred to the effect of immigration from countries where drinking has been universal for centuries upon the consumption of liquor in the United States, and said that these immigrants are gradually being weaned from their habit largely through the teachings that their children receive in the public schools.

Mrs. Hunt is the World's and National Christian Temperance Union's Superintendent of Scientific Temperance Instruction in schools and colleges and is a director of the Bureau of Scientific Temperance Investigation.

At the close of her address, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, of the W. C. T. U., of this city, presented Superintendent H. M. Maxson for the public schools of the city a portrait of Mrs. Frances E. Willard, the distinguished temperance advocate. The gift, which was in recognition of good temperance work accomplished in Plainfield schools, was accepted with appropriate remarks by the superintendent.

Mayor Gilbert a Guest.

Among the guests of honor at the annual banquet of the New York State Bankers' Association to be given tomorrow evening at the Waldorf-Astoria will be Alexander Gilbert, of West Eighth street, president of the Market and Fulton Bank, New York, and a member of the Clearing House Committee.

ALL TO BE UNDER ONE ROOF

GREAT IMPROVEMENT AND EXPANSION ARRANGED BY M. WEINBERGER.

M. Weinberger, the West Front street clothier and men's furnisher, has decided to combine his two stores into one, continuing the one in the building owned by him and located next to what is known as Compton's alley. Extensive alterations are planned, including a forty foot extension to the ground floor and the complete remodeling of the two upper floors, one of which is now occupied by Assemblyman Newcorn and the Jewish Congregation. This second floor will be thrown into one large room, to be used exclusively for tailoring, while a handsome glass front, similar to the one on the first floor will be made. Nothing will be done for the present with the third floor.

Another improvement planned is a new and more substantial entrance to the alley, to be made of cement, taking the place of the block stone and wood now used.

THREE SILENT, SULLEN PEOPLE

MYSTERIOUS PERSONAGES VISIT SOUTH PLAINFIELD WITH MAPS, ETC.

Who were the three silent men of South Plainfield, and what was their mission? This is the question which is puzzling the people of that community. Although these mysterious persons were at the place Friday and Saturday nights, they would not divulge their true identity nor their object in coming to the town with surveying instruments and a large case of maps. Were they surveyors for some big company who intend giving South Plainfield communication with this city, Metuchen and New Brunswick by trolley? The question remains unanswered.

Late Friday night the three men alighted from an east bound Lehigh Valley train and secured lodging at Higgin's Hotel. They would not give their names neither would they say what their object was in coming to that hamlet. The next morning, they received a large number of surveying instruments, maps, etc.

Early Saturday morning, they consulted their maps and located the direction to Metuchen and then started across the country towards Metuchen. They returned to the hotel that night, and Saturday night and that was the last seen of them.

The report spread that they were surveyors employed by the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company to lay out the "air line" trolley road between this city and Metuchen, and New Brunswick, taking in South Plainfield and possibly New Market. As told in The Daily Press, the M. & S. Company, has in mind, the erection of a trolley road over that route. William F. Fisher, assistant superintendent of the New Brunswick line, when called up over the telephone yesterday declared that he knew nothing of any surveyors in the employ of the company being in this vicinity. It is thought that these surveyors represented some Philadelphia concern which contemplates building an air line road between this city and Staten Island sound and the sound resorts.

SUMMIT TURNPIKE PROPOSITION KILLED

Union County Freeholders Vote Against Scheme Because Too Extravagant.

MR FARRELL HONORED

SILVER TEA-SET PRESENTED TO POPULAR RAHWAY MAN.

Farrell, a Valuable Member, Leaves Board. After Long Service—The Presentation Speech Was Made By Benjamin King.

The Summit turnpike project was killed and forever buried by the Union County Board of Freeholders, when it met in adjourned session in the Court House at Elizabeth yesterday afternoon. The Board was divided in the matter. Those who live in the neighborhood of the proposed road were in favor of the project but the members from Plainfield, Rahway and Elizabeth and other places in that part of the county voted it down. Their reasons were that the road is not of sufficient need to warrant the expenditure of $40,000.

A feature of the session was the presentation of a silver tea set of very attractive design to the retiring member, John Farrell, of Rahway. The speech was made by Major Benjamin King, who voiced the sentiments of the members of the Board when he said that Mr. Farrell has always been held in high esteem by his colleagues and that it was with a deep sense of regret that the time had come when he must be absent from the deliberations of the Board. Mr. Farrell, who was greatly surprised by the unexpected honor, was visibly moved by the gift. It was some seconds before he was able to make a reply. He then thanked the members for the spirit which prompted making him such a gift.

"Mr. Farrell was one of the most popular members of the Board," said a local member this morning.

The New York Daily Tribune.

Of course, a great deal depends on your own taste in the matter of newspapers. If you want a publication that serves up so much gore and so many thrills in every issue, it is money thrown away to buy The Tribune. If, however, you are looking for a daily history of the world, carefully collated and sifted and presented in the most attractive form that the facts and the laws of good taste will permit, you cannot make any mistake in reading The Tribune every day. But The Daily Tribune is more than a continuous history. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which is supposed to interest intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the illuminating and instructive editorial articles and reviews of books, music and the drama. Just by way of experiment, why don't you invest $1 and get The Daily and Sunday Tribune by mail for a month? With The Sunday Tribune goes a handsome illustrated supplement equal to a ten-cent magazine.

—If you have an hour for idling,
Give the time to rest and play;
Aye, forget that work awaits you
'Tis by far the better way.

Or an hour's resting spell.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Red Feather" continues to wave triumphantly at the Lyric Theatre, with every prospect of remaining until after the holidays. The magnificence of this production with its cohort of beautiful women gowned in the most striking of Parisian conceits is equalled only by its musical charms. Miss VanStuddiford's rendition of the superb vocal numbers allotted to "Countess Draga," by the composer, Mr. Reginald DeKoven, has created no end of favorable comment among musicians and theatre-goers generally. No more beautiful love song has been written in years than "The Garden of Dreams." Mr. Seabrooke as Bulverstrauss is scoring a comedy triumph fully equal to his hit in "A Chinese Honeymoon," and his singing of "There's a Little Street in Heaven That They Call Broadway" calls forth a tumult of laughter and applause at each performance.

Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous and wonderful production of "Ben Hur," is to be presented at the Newark Theatre for the first time next week. "Ben Hur" is brought direct to Newark from its New York engagement at the New York Theatre and it is the same elaborate production which was made by the management for the long run this famous play enjoyed at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, London. There is much interest aroused in the coming of "Ben Hur" as it is a dramatic event of such magnitude as is rarely offered to playgoers. The organization numbers some 350 people, including a large acting cast, chorus and ballet.

—The officials of the Pullman Palace Car Company are doing their best to put a stop to the practice to the prevalent habit people have of tipping employes, and they say that they expect the employes to give just as good service to the people from whom no "tip" is received as to those who give the "tip." In case of any complaint they say that the employe will be discharged.

LOOMIS ON PANAMA

Assistant Secretary of State Speaks on New Republic.

NO DESIRE TO ANNEX THE COUNTRY

President Was Instructed by Congress to Secure a Route For the Canal on the Old Route if Possible, and He Has Done So.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. — Assistant Secretary of State Loomis at the dinner of the Quill club at the Hotel Manhattan here last night delivered the following address, which bears the authority of an official statement:

"The government has not desired to annex Panama and has not done so. The president simply executed the will of the American people, with due regard to international law and rights. He was instructed by congress to secure a canal route on the isthmus of Panama if possible. He waited until the adjournment of the Colombian congress and gave the government of that country every opportunity to ratify the treaty or to propose some proper method looking to the ratification of a new treaty, and the Colombian congress, in utter bad faith, rejected the treaty and adjourned.

"In less than a week's time and before the president could reasonably be expected to turn to grave consideration of the Nicaragua route the long expected and inevitable revolution in Panama came to pass. The people arose as one man, and in thorough accord, without the firing of a single shot, unresisted, they quietly established a government of their own. They had thrice been independent, and the right of secession was, I believe, expressly stipulated in some of their constitutions.

"The president directed our meager naval force ashore, consisting of forty marines, to do what they could to preserve peace, order and unimpeded transit across the isthmus. He promptly recognized the de facto government as soon as he learned that it was in peaceful possession of the country. This is the usual and necessary proceeding. We have on many occasions recognized new governments with an equal degree of celerity and promptness. Later the republic of Panama was given full recognition. We are acting fairly and lawfully under the treaty of 1846. The administration, I am sure, has no apologies to offer for its course.

"We were more deeply interested and more directly in the guarantee contained in the treaty of 1846 than New Granada was, or any other country. That treaty was negotiated for the purpose of securing to us certain canal privileges. We in turn agreed to guarantee the neutrality of the isthmus, to keep transit open and to keep foreign aggressors at a distance. We have carried out the letter and the spirit of our part of the agreement. We have performed generously and faithfully all of the duties laid upon us and at times greatly to our disadvantage and very great cost. Colombia, on the other hand, seems to have shirked most of her obligations.

"The rejection of the treaty at Bogota was an unfriendly act from the viewpoint of international law. Colombia appealed to us to enter into a treaty to build a canal, the treaty was negotiated with her in a most liberal spirit on our part and was then rejected by the Colombian government and congress without debate. The executive branch of the government, which had negotiated it, did not try to secure its ratification. It became evident shortly after the opening of the Colombian congress in June that there was not the least intention of ratifying the Hay-Herran treaty. The belief seems to have been widely current in Bogota that the United States could not or would not build a canal by any other than the Panama route.

"It occurred to certain men in Bogota that the United States could be made to pay $20,000,000 or $25,000,000 instead of $10,000,000, or, better still, as has been disclosed by recent published official correspondence, if the treaty were rejected or no action taken upon it and the whole matter postponed for another year, the concession of the present French canal company having expired by that time, the renewal of that concession would be declared invalid and all the rights, privileges and work of the French canal company be practically confiscated and disposed of to the United States for $40,000,000 in addition to the $10,000,000 as proposed and the annuity of $250,000. This was a radiant and alluring prospect, and the temptation proved too strong.

"This particular phase of canal history and the possible consequences of the action of the Colombian government in rejecting the treaty have not been exhaustively discussed. If you will consider it carefully you will see that out of the conditions created by the failure of the Colombians to ratify the treaty and their deeply grounded belief that they could invalidate the renewal of the concession of the French company and sell that concession to the United States for $40,000,000, out of these possibilities came one of our strongest needs for prompt and courageous action when the opportunity was offered by the revolution in Panama on Nov. 3.

"Reflect for a moment on the grave possibilities which confronted this government as it peered into the future and sought to provide intelligently for the many serious complications and contingencies which the president foresaw. If the revolution in Panama had not occurred, if the American people, guided by the opinions of its most learned, efficient and highly trusted engineers, continued to think the Nicaragua route an impracticable one, if the people and congress of this country had insisted that we wait for a year or until such time as the politicians at Bogota were ready to negotiate a new canal treaty and in the meantime their congress had declared invalid the renewal of the French concession, what might have happened on the isthmus? I may safely assert without fear of contradiction by any well informed person that the government of France would not have stood serenely by and witnessed the pillage of thousands of her people through the act which Bogota politicians devised for the looting of the French company of $40,000,000.

"The moment that the cables flashed from Bogota to Paris the astounding news that the extension of the French concession was canceled a French squadron from Martinique would have borne down upon the isthmus and perhaps landed marines at Colon and sent them across the isthmus to Panama and along the line of the canal to protect the interests and property of French citizens. There would in all probability have been an armed conflict between France and Colombia or France at least would have felt herself compelled to hold the isthmus for a long period. This would have wrought immediately and poignantly upon the sensibilities of the American people in respect to the Monroe doctrine, and we should no doubt have found ourselves viewing France with annoying apprehension. The French warships might easily have been followed by those of England and Holland, and Panama, like the Balkan states, might well have been expected to furnish the spark to set half the world in flames.

"This situation which I have described, fraught with real and momentous dangers, furnished one of the very serious possibilities which the administration had to reckon with in dealing with the revolution in Panama. When you keenly grasp the full sense of imminent danger of foreign complications which confronted the president and the plainly evident truth that no justice, generosity, fair dealing or business-like consideration could be obtained from Colombia; when you consider further our obligations under the treaty of 1846 and the opportunity afforded to put an end to the long series of sanguinary and enfeebling revolutions which have wasted the resources and arrested the progress of the isthmus; when you recall Colombia's 'dog in the manger' attitude and the salient, dangerous, pressing exigencies of the situation which confronted this government upon the night of Nov. 3 I think you may well be glad that there was in Washington upon this truly fateful occasion a man who possessed the insight, the knowledge, the spirit and the courage to seize the opportunity to strike a blow the results of which can be fraught only with peace and good to the whole world.

"One of the most significant and valuable results of our action in respect to Panama will be the wholesome object lesson and the enduring moral effect which our supremacy on the isthmus will bring to the eyes of certain people who are in sore need of instruction in the practice of peaceful pursuits and orderly administration. It also would be not without value for these people clearly to understand in dealing with the United States that there is a limit to the patience and the forbearance of this government.

"Happily all of the Latin-Americans are not alike, and all do not offend in these particulars. There are many good and enlightened people among them. We have the best of feeling for them all. As I have said, we have been tolerant, generous and sympathetic in the past, and we intend to continue this line of conduct in the future. From some of the citizens of these countries we have received encouragement, assistance, intelligent appreciation and cordial approval. We have left nothing undone to show our good will and unselfish purpose. We have respected the rights and sovereignty of every government when possible to do so.

"We have tried to help our friends in Central and South America who wanted to be helped and were willing to be helped by us to become strong and efficient commonwealths. We want them to attain great prosperity and power. We wish all of our neighbors well, and we want all of them to be plenteously endowed with the blessings of peace No republic to the south of us can become too rich, potent and self sustaining to suit the kindly purpose of this country. Everywhere among the people of Latin-America we want the spirit of liberty to thrive and have its being. We want to feel that they are profiting by what is noble and true in our national life.

"In this sense at least we hope to be paramount throughout the new world. We want the American republics to know that honest toil is dignified and ennobling; we want them to entertain a spirit of toleration in all matters; we want the ideas of civil and religious liberty and free education to have wide scope and abundant appreciation, and we desire all of our Latin-American friends heartily to join us in urging, supporting and vitalizing the principle of international arbitration.

"In these peaceful ways it is the desire of this government to Americanize the new world and perhaps the old, but not by the power of the almighty dollar, not by the urgency of trade demands, not by any manifestation or display of force, but rather by the more potent and enduring means of the dissemination of those lofty, civilizing agencies, those great principles, those fine ideals, those substantial virtues, upon which our country was founded and upon which it has continuously thrived and had its well being."

ADDRESS ROOSEVELT

British Bondholders Send an Unofficial Request.

PANAMA'S PORTION OF OLD DEBTS

Semiofficial Statement Says For the Present Force of Marines Will Protect the Isthmus and Keep Order There.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The council of foreign bondholders has addressed a letter to President Roosevelt setting forth the British bondholders' position anent Panama and Colombia, which has been forwarded by the foreign office to Ambassador Durand, who has been instructed to hand it unofficially to the president. The letter recites the history of the Colombian debt and asks the president to use his good offices to secure an equitable assumption of a portion thereof by the Panama leaders.

The statement telegraphed from The Hague to a newspaper of this city that both Holland and Great Britain insist that Panama shall assume liability for $15,000,000 of the Colombian debt is emphatically denied by the council, which points out that no such large sum was ever dreamed of as Panama's share.

Arbitration at The Hague or the personal decision of President Roosevelt would be quite satisfactory to the council.

Regarding the various reports about the dispatch of troops to the isthmus of Panama it is semiofficially stated that until the senate shall have ratified the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty the administration will look to the marines to protect the isthmus and keep order there unless in the meantime it is learned that a considerable force of Colombian troops is to attack Panama. In the latter event the protection of the republic could be best accomplished by the army, and troops would supplant the marines. It may be stated, however, that this government does not expect such an emergency to arise at present and is prepared to retain the present force of marines in isthmian waters until after the ratification of the canal treaty.

Boston Civic Elections.

BOSTON, Dec. 16.—The Democrats won an overwhelming victory in the municipal election here, Mayor Patrick Collins being re-elected by 27,000 plurality, the largest ever given a mayoralty candidate in the history of the city. The board of aldermen next year will be solidly Democratic, and that party will have a large majority in the common council. James A. Gallivan, the Democratic candidate for membership in the board of street commissioners, was also successful in defeating Isaac B. F. Allen (Rep.), a colored man and formerly a member of the governor's council. The city, as usual, favors licensed liquor selling by a large majority.

A "Back to Nature" Scheme.

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—Plans for affording the poorer residents of crowded cities a chance to acquire farms and homes for themselves in the country have been discussed at a banquet given the advisory committee of the Field and Workshop society at the Auditorium. The society, organized last June, has for its object the formation of branch institutions in every large city and the raising of funds needed for the purpose of buying lands, tools and seed. The society will hold a general session in Washington before the adjournment of congress.

Ice Gorge Causes Flood.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec. 16.—The ice gorge which has formed in St. Mary's river below this city has caused the water to rise five feet, flooding the docks and houses along the river front for the first time in the history of the city. The steamer Monarch, which was released from the bottom in Hay lake, has since then made practically no headway, although aided by the two strongest tugs on the river. It is believed by vessel men that she will be stuck in the ice all winter.

Chicago-Denver Limited Wrecked.

MALVERN, Ia., Dec. 16.—A locomotive of the Burlington's Chicago-Denver limited train jumped the track near here, and Engineer Knox, a veteran employee, was killed. His fireman escaped with a few bruises, and the passengers were similarly fortunate, although severely shaken. Men and women were thrown from their berths or chairs into the aisles, and a panic followed the crash. The cause of the accident is not known.

Hamburg-American Liner Ashore.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—The Hamburg-American steamship Assyria, which sailed from this port for Hamburg, is aground on Pea Patch shoal in the Delaware river about ten miles below Newcastle, Del. The Assyria went aground during the night. She is lying easy. Tugs have been sent to her assistance.

Cabinet Meeting Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The cabinet meeting was postponed on account of the funeral of John R. Proctor, late president of the civil service commission, which was attended by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Crew Not Dangerously Ill.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16.—Attending physicians state that Attorney General Crow may be confined to his bed for several weeks, but is in no danger of dying.

Weather Probabilities.

Partly cloudy; not so cold; west winds.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

They're spending lots of money on Mr. Bryan in Europe, and all of it is not silver.

Stop publishing those stories on the holdups of towermen. We'll hear of some of those railroad men going on the stage next thing you know.

Cablegram asks whether the Mr. Bryan who has secured a seat in the Liverpool Exchange as a cotton broker is the late presidential candidate. If the fiery Nebraskan came in contact with cotton a conflagation would surely result.

Between the lines of an editorial in the Newark Advertiser lauding William Randolph Hearst as a candidate for a presidential nomination is irony that shows the master hand of a newspaper genius. Mr. Hearst ought to have the writer on his staff.

There is great need is Plainfield for a number of higher grade apartments and it is no small wonder that persons seeking desirable investments do not take advantage of this opportunity. There are but three or four apartment houses in the city and each of these has a waiting list showing that there is a demand for such quarters. Higher grade apartments renting anywhere from $30 to $50 per month, would prove a profitable investment to the owner.

There is a conventional form of advertising for every line of business nowadays, says Printers' Ink. One kind of argument is identified with shoes, and another kind draws people up to the red ticket-wagon of the circus. This conventional advertising has the merit of being perfectly intelligible to the public. It is no great shakes as literature, but it sells goods year after year, and never seems to become stale. If a writer has some original way of stating the old facts he may attract more attention and possibly sell more goods. But a very little originality is often a dangerous thing. If the right sort of originality is not to be had, or the kind that was tried proved a failure, it is policy to utilize the conventional forms of publicity.

The revival meetings held at the Rescue Mission continue to attract many people. Mrs. O'Brien, the evangelist, who has been ill, is able to be out again and will lead the meeting tonight. W. J. LITERARY.

The Scientific American has issued another special number, this time devoted to the iron and steel industry of the United States. Technically considered, the number is one of the best of the special issues which have so far been prepared by the Scientific America. Each article bears the stamp of absolute certainty of fact—a certainty gained by a personal examination of each of the plants described. Instead of giving a condensed account of a large number of less important works, the editors have wisely adopted the plan of selecting a certain number of large industrial establishments, and of giving them a very thorough description. Among the more notable articles of the issue may be mentioned those on armor plate and gun steel, structural shapes, tube making, chain making, steel and wire making, and rail making. The number is dressed in a handsome colored cover.

Bishop Potter's Christmas Greeting.

"To the American People, a Merry Christmas," is the tenor of a telling Christmas talk by Bishop Potter, of the Episcopal Church, in next Sunday's World. But there is more than this greeting in the article, for there are words of sound sense and good advice, words of cheer and hope, that will make it well worth reading by every one who appreciates the true significance of the day. Next Sunday's World will be an unusually interesting number, filled with entertaining and instructive matter written by the foremost writers of the day.

KAISER'S SUCCESSOR

Emperor Checks the Too Venturesome Prince, His Heir.

CROWN PRINCE TOO RASH A RIDER

The Solicitude of German Ruler Is Taken by Many as Significant, Considering His Health—He Wishes to Care For His Son.

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—The kaiser has ordered the Crown Prince Frederick William to remain in his room for three days for having raced in a steeplechase against the emperor's wish. The race took place near Potsdam.

The crown prince is a venturesome rider and had been reprimanded by the emperor for riding up the steps of the Sans Souci palace at the head of the Second company of the First regiment of the guards, of which regiment he had been appointed colonel a few days before, on which occasion, it is reported, the emperor said he must not endanger his life by steeplechasing.

The prince while at Bonn university was noted for driving tandem at full speed to see how closely he could cut corners.

The emperor's solicitude for the crown prince is taken by many as significant. They say the German ruler is probably not so fully restored to health as the court physicians and others near him would have the people believe and realizing that he may not live long will not permit the prince to jeopardize his life.

This view is strengthened by a report current in Berlin that Emperor William has undergone a second operation for his throat and that the knife may have to be used a third time.

Despite all assurances of the emperor's recovery and the harmless quality of the polypus removed from his throat at the first operation, great anxiety is felt in official circles because of the great similarity between the emperor's case and that of his father, Emperor Frederick.

It is known that the kaiser's policy would be to conceal from his people as long as possible the fact that his malady is incurable, just as was done in the case of Emperor Frederick.

It was admitted by many eminent specialists at the time of the first operation on Emperor William that the removal of a benignant growth is frequently followed by the formation of malignant growths, especially in cases where there is the hereditary taint of cancer.

Mrs. Rogers' Lover on the Stand.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Dec. 16.—The state has placed on the witness stand the man for the love of whom, it alleges, Mary H. Rogers murdered her husband. Next to Leo D. Perham, the confessed accomplice of the defendant, Morris Knapp is the most important witness of the prosecution. He admitted an attachment for the defendant based upon the belief that she was free to marry him, told of their personal relations, of frequent long letters received from the woman. Mrs. Rogers had at first represented herself as single, then as the sister of Marcus H. Rogers, the murdered man, and finally told him that she had been married, but that her husband had left her.

Talked With Napoleon at St. Helena.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Dec. 16.—Major William H. Garland, aged ninety-four years, is dead at the National Soldiers' home here. He had shaken hands with every president of the United States except Washington. He was on the naval cadet detail that welcomed Lafayette on his second visit to America in 1824, and he at one time conversed with Napoleon on the island of St. Helena. Major Garland's wife and children were drowned in the Evansville (Ind.) flood in 1884. He was for many years a Baptist minister.

Boy Bandit Confesses.

CHICOPEE, Mass., Dec. 16.—Claiming to be only fifteen years old, John T. Malone, who was arrested in Springfield and later confessed to having assaulted, bound and gagged Israel Dick, a Main street merchant, and attempted to ride the safe, was arraigned in police court on a charge of assault and attempted robbery. He was held under $500 bonds until Thursday morning, when his case will be considered by the court and an agent of the state board of charities.

Governor Odell's Busy Time.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 16.—Governor Odell spent the most of the day at the executive mansion at work, it is understood, upon his message to the legislature. He and Mrs. Odell will leave late today for Washington, where tomorrow evening he and Mrs. Odell will attend a cabinet dinner at the White House. He will return on Friday and go to Buffalo in time to speak on Saturday evening at the annual banquet of the Buffalo chamber of commerce.

To Probe Colorado Strike.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Dec. 16.—The trades and labor assembly of the Cripple Creek district has indorsed the resolution of United States Senator Patterson providing for an investigation of the strike situation in Colorado, and copies have been forwarded to President Roosevelt, Senators Patterson and Teller and to the president of the senate.

Soldiers Plan Lynching.

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 16.—Thomas B. Fuller, the Fort Douglas soldier accused of assaulting and seriously injuring a young woman here, has been taken to the state penitentiary for safe keeping. Nearly 200 soldiers at the post were planning to storm the jail and lynch Fuller.

RACING AT INGLESIDE.

Royal Rogue Outfinished Bullman by a Nose.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Some of the best racing of the season was witnessed at Ingleside. Several finishes aroused enthusiasm and especially that in the fifth race. Tommy Burns made his first appearance and had the mount on Royal Rogue. He outfinished Bullman and gained the decision by a nose. Cougar upset calculations by taking the third event at odds of 12 to 1. Four favorites were successful. The results:

First Race.—Constellator won; Dora L, second; Bee Rosewater, third.

Second Race.—Lord Wadsworth won; Ebony, second; Andrew B. Cook, third.

Third Race.—Cougar won; Veterano, second; Dupont, third.

Fourth Race.—Epicure won; Apumuda, second; Leader, third.

Fifth Race.—Royal Rogue won; Beau Ormonde, second; Arabo, third.

Munroe Beat Limerick.

BOSTON, Dec. 16.—One of the most uninteresting bouts ever held in this city resulted in a decision for Jack Munroe of Butte, Mont., over Al Limerick of Buffalo in the third round of what was to have been a fifteen round contest before the Criterion club. Limerick showed little knowledge of boxing, while Munroe made a good appearance and had no difficulty in landing at will on his huge opponent.

Pigeon Fliers' Officers.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—The annual meeting of the National Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers was held here, at which the following officers were elected: President, L. J. Kenngott, Buffalo; first vice president, George F. Kuett, Paterson, N. J.; second vice president, J. P. Hatter, Baltimore; national race secretary, John Fisher, New York; secretary, William Verrinder, Philadelphia.

Hands Across and Siddons Won.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16.—Hands Across and Siddons were the only winning favorites here. Lew Dorsey was well backed in his race and nosed out a victory for his supporters. Autumn Leaves was cut down in her race.

To Escape the Golden Cup.

TOKYO, Dec. 16.—Mirza Asghar Khan, the former grand vizier of Persia, has arrived here on his way to the United States. The reason of his journey is said to be that the governor of the province of Ratch received a golden cup containing coffee which was poisoned and which the shah sends to officials whom he wishes to banish from the world. The governor drank the coffee and of course died. It was discovered later that the golden cup was not sent by the shah; and the grand vizier was accused of the act, whereupon he was dismissed. Expecting soon to receive the fatal cup in his turn, he asked for and obtained leave to go on a pilgrimage some miles from Teheran, whence he fled to the coast and then sailed for the United States.

Butler Typhoid Epidemic.

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 16.—The relief committee here wishes to advise the people of the United States in regard to the epidemic of typhoid fever now in Butler as follows: "Total number of cases to date, 1,254; total number of deaths to date, 51. For the past week the average of new cases has been twelve per day. The population of Butler and Lyndora, adjoining, is 18,000. A conservative estimate of those dependent upon daily wages is 14,000. Typhoid experts and eminent physicians who have had large experience in epidemics of this character insist that we are confronted with a siege that in all human probability will continue to a greater or less degree for a period of from two to three months."

Camile Peres Unjustly Convicted.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 16.—Governor Toole has granted an unconditional pardon to Camile Peres, who is serving five years in the penitentiary here after having been convicted at Great Falls two years ago of having assaulted Adrienne Baque, a fifteen-year-old French girl. A short time ago the girl returned to France, and in a letter written to the governor the girl admitted having given perjured testimony against Peres. She stated that she was about to be married and wished to right a wrong done an innocent man before her marriage took place.

Election Inspectors Accused.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 16.—The Ulster county grand jury has found indictments against Cornelius Riggins, Eugene Way, Eugene Fridell and John Imhoff, four inspectors of election at the Eddyville poll of the town of Ulster. They are accused of permitting persons to vote who were not registered and of making false returns.

Judge Daly Elected Mayor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 16.—Sufficient though unofficial returns in the city elections have been received to indicate the election of Judge Augustin J. Daly, the nonpartisan candidate for mayor, by a plurality of about 150. Mayor McNamee has conceded the election of his opponent.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

A KENTUCKY AUTHOR

Alice Hegan Rice and Her Delightfully Human Stories.

"I would rather have written 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch' than any other book I know of," said a literary gentleman not long since. "It's so cheery and optimistic and so pleasant and good natured all through."

And, come to think of it, nobody would be apt after reading either "Mrs. Wiggs" or "Lovey Mary" to get up and go and commit suicide. Rather would he, though he were in the depths of the dumps and of hard luck, laugh, pull himself together and say:

"There's a chance for us still, O soul! Let us pick up and go in and try it again. We'll win out yet."

And an author who can write a book which gives that impression in these days has a clear mission. It is not any wonder that children in England and America delight in the simple story of Mrs. Wiggs. Wise teachers in many schools use it as a supplementary reading book. As Frances C. Simpson writes, "Familiarizing the homely, sweethearted scenes in the young lives of the cabbage patch to those who do not live so humbly makes all the world akin."

The veritable, actual cabbage patch is in Louisville, just as described. Miss Simpson, who lives in Louisville, says of it: "Mrs. Wiggs' wonderful garden is there, with its varieties of broken crockery, old pots, a piece of a cart wheel and a glass globe as decorations. It all fits in exactly, even the pump where Mrs. Wiggs met Lovey Mary, and the 'commons,' and Miss Vinney's denominational garden."

As a matter of fact, the celebrated cabbage patch is less than half a mile from the red brick house in which the girl author wrote of it in the unpretentious tale which, like Dickens' "Christmas Carol," the mind of one who has read it especially reverts to at Christmastide. The patch itself is so very plain and humble that the hundreds of people who now make pilgrimages to it are often disappointed and inclined to exclaim:

"Is that all there is of it?"

Just so. It is the highest tribute one could pay to the exquisite literary art of Alice Hegan Rice. Anybody could see that patch and the queer, scrambling, hand to mouth life of its inhabitants, but it required a genius to see the possibilities for literature that lay therein. Common people see there only the not always clean, not always agreeable life of the poor quarter of a city, but Mrs. Rice says, "The cabbage patch is full of stories." She herself has a way of making quaint, humorous, philosophical cabbage patch observations to her familiars in everyday life, they say. What a delightfully jolly companion she must be!

Socially Mrs. Rice is extremely popular. On the return from her honeymoon journey to Europe the doorbell of the Hegan home in Louisville was broken down by the multitudinous jerks of old friends who called and insisted on seeing her. She was born and brought up in Louisville. Her friend, Miss Simpson, writes of her:

"Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice is a woman of about twenty-eight, with beautiful dark eyes and hair and a face that is interesting beyond the ordinary, as there beams from it a genial kindliness and a hidden laugh in the brown eyes. She is of medium height and graceful figure, a real Kentucky girl in speech and manner. She has always shown to her friends the inclination to wit and humor, picking up and using in everyday conversation remarks similar to those she puts in the mouth of Mrs. Wiggs. These bits of fun often were sent to newspapers and magazines and found a ready market."

It was as a humorist in conversation that Miss Hegan became noted first among her friends. It is as a humorist in print that she is best known to the public, but one endowed with that true mirth provoking power whose source is always infinite human sympathy.

It is especially interesting to note that Miss Hegan's earliest successes were achieved in a women's club which met regularly for literary work at the girl's own home. Charming women are cultivated Louisville ladies, with their unconventional, frankly expressed kindliness and sprightliness, and that club was a typical assemblage of such women. They wrote and read aloud in meeting essays, stories, poems and every manner of literary sketch.

The hopeful, sunny atmosphere that pervades Mrs. Rice's stories is the reflection of her own happy childhood and girlhood. The Hegans were a hospitable family who knew well how to enjoy life. They owned extensive woodlands near Louisville. In the impressionable years of the future author an old Kentucky cabin was maintained in these woods, and there "week end parties" assembled summer after summer to live the life of nature. There mirth, liberty and joy, likewise good will and affection, reigned supreme.

JANE STORY.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Michigan and Minnesota are left in a class above all other western teams in the football field as a result of games played Thanksgiving day, but the elusive "championship" is sure to be disputed between the two leaders. As both teams have broken training there is little chance that a post-season contest will be played, and in consequence the question of superiority will be left for long winter discussions to settle. The lines of comparison between Minnesota and Michigan are furnished by the game in which they met at Minneapolis and in comparative scores as furnished by Wisconsin. The game at Minneapolis resulted in a tie, 6 to 6. Against Wisconsin Michigan made 16 points, scoring one touchdwon and two field goals; while Minnesota made 17 points on three touchdowns, from two of which goals were kicked. The fact that Chicago, which defeated Wisconsin 15 to 6 on three field goals, was defeated by Michigan 28 to 0, furnishes another chance for speculation. Coach Williams, of Minnesota, maintains that in the game at Minneapolis his team gained more ground than Michigan, and thatt three touchdowns against Wisconsin show more strength than Michigan's one touchdown and two field goals. He says: "So far as comparisons go, it seems to me that three touchdowns against Wisconsin on Wisconsin's own field certainly entitles Minnesota to be placed above Michigan, as they only made one touchdown and two goals from the field on their own grounds at Ann Arbor against Wisconsin." Coach Yost, on the other hand, says that the long trip of the Michigan team to Minneapolis and the early date should be considered in connection with the Minneapolis tie. He thinks that the Michigan team did not show its true strength until the Thanksgiving day struggle with Chicago.

Redden, Michigan

"The whole season's work should be considered in deciding the ranking of the teams," says Yost, "and it strikes me that Michigan's showing is fully as good as that of Minnesota. The fact that Minnesota met Wisconsin after the Badgers had been through three hard games should not be overlooked, and the point that Chicago, which won from Wisconsin by within two points of Minnesota's score, has been defeated by us 28 to 0 is significant."

In the game between Yale and Princeton, won by the latter by the score of 11 to 6, the Tigers demonstrated the possibility of a "one-man" eleven defeating a team probably its superior. According to all reports of the struggle that gave the Tigers the championship of the country, Yale's offense was stronger than that of the orange and black team, and the defense was able to hold them also, but the New Haven eleven counted without its host when it passed over one man—John R. Dewitt, captain of the Tiger eleven and playing right guard. Through his individual ability, stamping him probably the greatest individual gridiron hero of the season, he turned seeming defeat into glorious victory over old Nassau, the first victory over old Eli for the Tigers since '99, when Poe won the game for the Tigers by kicking a field goal from the same spot Dewitt kicked his. Dewitt has been a football player ever since he grew large enough to play the game. In his high school and academy days he played the game, and at Lawrenceville academy, where he prepared for Princeton, he was captain of the team. He entered Princeton in 1900 and played guard a part of the season on the eleven, but was injured early and retired. Since that time he has been one of the regulars, playing right tackle in 1901, but returning to the guard position in 1902. He proved the mainstay of the Tigers. Last fall he was unanimously elected captain of the eleven. He is a giant in physique, standing six feet one inch tall and weighing 195 pounds. He is 22 years old. Even though the new rules had not favored the development of the kicking game, Dewitt has been recognized as one of the best drop kickers in the country. It was through his ability in this department of the game that he was able to wrest victory from the Blues. Princeton's victory places the Tigers at the head of the list of football elevens in the country. Yale is put out of the running by this defeat and Harvard was beaten by a secondary team like Dartmouth. With the Yale game Princeton closed its season. The Tigers played a wonderful game all season and had not been scored on by any of their opponents until Hogan made a touchdown for Yale. Dewitt's aggregation has not been a great scoring machine and has made lower scores against some of the secondary teams than Harvard and Yale made against the institutions, but the Tigers have been consistent at all times, playing steadily, with the one purpose in view of beating Yale.

Cashier Bushnell Shot Himself at Yale National Bank.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 16.—After greeting a bank examiner who had come unannounced to examine his accounts Asa C. Bushnell, cashier of the Yale National bank, at the corner of State and Chapel streets, this city, went into the basement of the bank and shot himself fatally, death ensuing an hour and a half later at Grace hospital.

A statement given out by Elwin S. Greeley, president of the bank, and by John T. Manson, the vice president, said that an investigation of the books indicated that the cashier was indebted to the bank between $12,000 and $15,000.

The president added: "It is evident that Mr. Bushnell had been speculating in stocks to a limited extent. The small amount to which he is indebted to this bank is amply covered by a surety bond. The United States bank officials are now engaged in making an examination."

IN THE SENATE.

Cuban Bill and the Tariff Discussed During Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The senate continued the debate on the Cuban bill. Mr. Perkins (Cal.) spoke for the measure, as did Mr. Simons (N. C.). Mr. McCumber (N. D.) opposed it.

Mr. Patterson made an extended speech against the bill, during which there were numerous colloquies between himself, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Dolliver. With the former there was quite a lively debate on the tariff, in which Mr. Aldrich said the duty on sugar was too high. Mr. Dolliver replied to suggestions made by Mr. Patterson that Governor Cumming of Iowa had changed his tariff views after having visited the White House.

Other senators engaged in the debate at the close of the session.

IN THE HOUSE.

Congress Discusses Postal Matters, Canada and Panama.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Rural free delivery, reciprocity with Canada and the new republic of Panama were the topics of discussion in the house. The subject of rural free delivery was introduced by Mr. Maddox (Dem., Ga.), who claimed that certain states had been favored in the establishment of routes. This allegation resulted in a lively discussion. Mr. Hepburn (Rep., Ia.) and Mr. Hemenway (Rep.) among others replied on the Republican side.

Mr. Crumpacker (Rep., Ind.) defended the course pursued by the administration in dealing with the Central American situation and replied to criticisms which had been made on the opposite side of the chamber.

Wife Is Arrested For Murder.

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 16.—Robert Burchett was murdered with an ax in his home at Maxmeadows, Va. His body was dragged some distance from the house, where it was found with the head crushed and mangled. Suspicion pointed to Burchett's wife and a man named McGlamery, who went to Maxmeadows from North Carolina, and they have been arrested. When officers went to the Burchett home they found Mrs. Burchett engaged in washing up blood from the floor, and blood stains were found on her clothing. The accused deny all knowledge of the crime.

Cracksmen Got $2,500.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 16.—The vault in the office of the Courtenay Manufacturing company at Newry, Oconee county, has been blown open with nitroglycerin, the safe being literally torn to pieces. The cracksmen secured $2,500 and escaped. It was evidently the work of professionals.

Alfred Dolge.

Morris C. VanArsdale, the shoe dealer, has made unusual preparations for the holiday season, as a glance at his show window will show. He carries proper and appropriate things for presents, such as the Alfred Dolge felt slipper, as well as leather one. There is a great array of rubbers, including boots for boys and men, as well as leggings for children. The Dorothy Dodd shoe is still popular, while the general stock of shoes for men, women and children is larger than ever. The window display is very attractive.

It's a Queenly Shoe.

Willett & Son, the old established shoe firm in Park avenue, is now ready for the holiday trade. The quality of the shoes handled by this firm is too well known to need comment. The best makes are kept in stock, including the Queen Quality and the celebrated Hanan & Son. The line of slippers, both in felt and leather gives an excellent opportunity to select a holiday present. The prices of these goods are reasonable considering quality.

Be Well Shod.

There is no more appropriate holiday gift than a pair of shoes or slippers, or a pair of rubber boots for the boys or girls. John H. First Battle of War of 181

The first battle of the war of 1812 fought at Sacket Harbor upon the 9th day of July, 1812, and consisted of an attack upon the village by a British fleet. The inhabitants had but one gun of sufficient size and strength to inflict damage, a 32-pounder, for which they had no shot. This difficulty was overcome by the patriotism of the housewives, who tore up carpets from the floors and, with strips, wound the small balls to fit the cannon.—Four-Track News.

EARLY HISTORY OF SCOTCH PLAINS LIBRARY

Records in Existence Today of First Association Organized in 1800.

MET WITH HARD TIMES

PLAINFIELD MADE USE OF THE SECOND LIBRARY ASSOCIATION IN THE 'PLAINS.

Present Library Organized in 1889 Occupies Comfortable Quarters—Rooms for Entertainment of Young People—A Building Fund.

In historic old Scotch Plains there are few institutions of greater interest than the old library which is not only one of the oldest in the State, but at the present time, one of the largest and most complete of the smaller town libraries in New Jersey.

There have been three distinct library associations in the town. The first authentic record of one in 1800 when the Scotch Plains Reading Society was organized, the librarians record of books loaned by the society being in existence at the present time in a remarkable state of preservation. This society continued its existence presumably for twenty-three years until the incorporation of the Scotch Plains Library Company.

The early struggles to maintain the new institution are revealed in the minutes of a number of the meetings the records, of which are in possession of the present librarian, William VanValkenberg. At the annual meeting of May 6, 1823, there was a balance of $6.16 in the treasury. Evidently this was a large sum in the eyes of some of the members of the company, as a motion that the annual payment be dispensed with was lost by a small vote. At this meeting ohnathan Osborn was appointed librarian for the ensuing year. The committee appointed to buy books consisted of Dennis Coles, grandfather of Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, Samuel B. Miller and Jonathan Osborn. Recompense Stanbury, father of William Stanbury, was elected president and Dennis Cole vice president.

Two dollars and sixty-nine cents was the balance in the treasury at the next annual meeting in 1824 held at the schoolhouse, and adjourned to the tavern of Peter B. Davis. It was at this meeting that Scotch Plains claims Plainfield was given its first opportunity to avail itself of the benefits of a public library, the minutes of the meeting containing a record of a resolution recommending that the residents of the village of Plainfield be allowed the privileges of the library, such as were regularly accorded non-resident members. A resolution was also passed that Samuel B. Miller, Dennis Coles and Aaron Osborn act as a committee to consider the propriety of amending the constitution so as to remove a portion of the library to Plainfield. The records do not show, however, whether or not the change was made.

The present Scotch Plains library association was organized April 4, 1889, one of the principal objects of the association being to provide the young people of the village with a reading room. The association obtained the use of the parlors of the Excelsior Hose and Ladder Company for its purposes, and occupies the same comfortable quarters which are directly above the town hall, today. Three rooms are used, the largest for a reading room, the smaller ones for smoking and reception rooms.

Several years ago a building fund was established and still exists, the association hoping some day to own its own building. During the fourteen years of the association's existence, the number of volumes has increased from 350 to 1,486. The attendance has been encouraging, the records of the last quarter showing 750 visitors and the loan of 438 books. The association is without any endowment fund.

The present officers of the association are: President, John Robinson; vice president, Mrs. S. S. Thomas; secretary, William B. Noble; treasurer, Dr. W. F. Westcott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Jr.; trustees, A. D. Sheppard, Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, Rev. Dr. A. H. Parks, Dr. F. W. Westcott, George B. Nicholl, David P. Hall, John Robinson, L. W. Miller, Mrs. T. J. Nicholl, Mrs. L. W. Miller, Miss Mary N. Mead and Miss Jennie E. Kyte.

MINISTER IN A SCANDAL

REV. MR. CRUDUP, PASTOR OF COLORED CHURCH, FACES SERIOUS CHARGE.

Rev. Essex J. Crudup, colored, pastor of the Filmore Baptist Church, is in the toils of the law again and an expectant congregation awaits his trial tomorrow afternoon. Charges of a serious nature have been preferred against the minister by John Alston, of East Third street, also colored, an employe of the Electric Light Company, who has been obliged by his occupation to remain away from home nights. Mrs. Alston is an important witness in the case. Crudup was arrested last night by Patrolman McCarthy. Bail was fixed at $500 for a preliminary hearing before Justice Huff tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The defendant was unable to produce the necessary bonds. He will be represented by Coddington & Swackhamer. William Newcorn, Esq., will represent the State.

Crudup is already under indictment for a similar offense, his trial being scheduled for the January term of court at Elizabeth. The complainant in the other suit was Richard Randolph who charged improper conduct with his daughter, Regetta Randolph. Rev. Mr. Crudup is still in jail.

BUSINESS MEN'S EASY VICTORY

HIGH SCHOOL LADS NO MATCH FOR THEM IN BASKET BALL.

The business men's basket ball team of the Y. M. C. A. defeated the High School five at the association building last night, rubbing it in to the extent of 23 to 3. The High School boys never had a chance against the splendid guarding of their opponents. Team work was not a prominent feature of the work of either team, although both played with vim and dash. Dr. Whitford, for the business men, was active in all parts of the floor, his work being equally good on offense and defense. Utzinger also distinguished himself and Paul Whitford and Doane had a good eye for the basket. The summary:

Business Men — Doane and Paul Whitford, forwards; Lott, centre; Utzinger and Dr. Whitford, guards. High School—Collier and Thompson, forwards; Freeman (Long), centre; Fenno and Anderson, guards. Score, Business Men, 23; High School, 3. Goals from the floor, Doane 4, P. Whitford 4, Lott 3, Collier. Goals from fouls, Doane, Collier.

WILL OCCUPY THE NEW ENGINE HOUSE

Borough Council Last Night Passed Resolution to Take Such Room As Necessary.

A WARM DISCUSSION

FIVE COUNCILMEN FAVORED RESOLUTION AND ONE OPPOSED IT.

Mr. Clark Sided With Warren Engine Company—Resolutions Received From Company Declaring the Action An Encroachment.

The North Plainfield Common Council last night passed a resolution to move into the new Warren Engine Company building and to remodel the interior of the structure so as to provide a suitable room to be used as a Council chamber. In spite of a resolution submitted by the company protesting against the Council's using part of the upper room of the new engine house, this resolution was offered by Councilman Lee: "Resolved: That this Council take such room in the new engine house as may be necessary for its need." Councilmen Arnold, VanArsdale, Lee, Northrup and Nicholls voted for the passage of the resolution and Councilman Robert Clark against it.

The resolution submitted by Chief of the Fire Department J. J. Stahl, as representative of the company, was as follows: "Whereas: This company has been informed through the chairman of the fire, water and lamps committee of the North Plainfield Common Council, that on April 1, 1904, the present lease of the rooms of the Council will expire and it has become necessary for the Council to seek other quarters and the new fire house has been mentioned as a possible chamber, and,

"Whereas, we realize that all power is invested in the Council to occupy the said room as a Council chamber, and

"Whereas, we believe that such occupation of the said engine house will be, in a measure, an encroachment on the company, be it

"Resolved, That we register a vote against such action on the part of the Council."

The resolution is signed by L. B. Bodine, secretary pro tem. The resolution was referred to the fire, water and lamps committee.

Mr. Clark stated that he met the Company, as instructed and was courteously received. He submitted to the members the proposition and the above action was taken. Councilman Northrup asked what the vote was against the measure and Chief Stahl replied that out of a membership of thirty-eight, twenty-five were in attendance at the meeting, and sixteen were in favor of the resolution and nine opposed.

A spirited discussion followed especially between Councilmen Clark and Northrup. Mayor Smalley made a few remarks to the effect that, while bonds had been issued for the new house which was almost completed, there was no intention of using the structure for anything but a fire headquarters. He said the need was obvious for the Council to provide itself with suitable quarters for public hearings and stated meetings. It was not the intention of the Council to take up any more room that it actually needed.

The Mayor characterized the action taken by the firemen as absurd. He declared that he did not see how the Councilmen could represent the people and the fire company at the same time. "We represent the public," he said, "and it is better from the public's point of view that we occupy the house."

Mr. Clark then said that he would vote against the proposal because he was convinced that when public monies had been appropriated to a specific purpose, the object for which the money was spent could not be diverted from its stated purpose. Mr. Northrup declared that the Council had a perfect right to do as it pleased with the building, so long as the original purpose of the house was not actually interfered with in any way, and said that inasmuch as the firemen were servants of the Council and the Council was not the servant of the fire department, the governing body of the borough had a perfect right to occupy a part of the headquarters as a Council chamber.

PAID FIRE DEPT. FOR BOROUGH

The Council Passes a Resolution Instructing the Drawing Up of Ordinance.

MUCH BAD FEELING

Action the Result of Warren Engine Company's Refusal to Allow Use of Its New Building for the Council Chamber—Councilman Clark Explains His Position.

North Plainfield is to have a paid fire department and the volunteer system, which has been the pride of the borough people for years, last night heard its death knell sounded at a time when the companies were at the height of their career as volunteer organizations. Before the new volunteer headquarters is completed the company finds its services no longer required.

This is the resolution offered by Councilman James K. Arnold, an exempt fireman: "Be it resolved by the Mayor and Council of North Plainfield that the borough attorney be instructed to draw an ordinance to make a paid fire department in the borough of North Plainfield."

The action is the result of the drawing of a resolution by the members of Warren Engine Company and its presentation to the Common Council, opposing the attempt of the Council to make the upper rooms of the new engine house a Council chamber. The resolution was passed with but one dissenting vote, that of Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., who has championed the cause of the firemen throughout the discussion. The passage of the ordinance was a shock to the representatives of the North Plainfield fire department who were present. They did not expect such a termination of the question which has been agitated for the past week or two.

As a result of the passage of the resolution and ordinance by the Council to move into the new building in spite of the objections of the Company, a heated argument followed; Councilman Robert Clark, Jr., resenting what he termed a personal remark made by Councilman Lee, and declaring that he was not courting any favor from the firemen and that to prove his assertion he would resign in February his position as Councilman. He declared he acted in the matter as a conscientious representative of the people and would stand by his vote against moving into the new house and against a paid fire department in the borough. When Mayor Smalley asked him to reconsider his words, Mr. Clark said that he might retract what he said about resigning. The discussed waxed warm and personalities were indulged in.

After the Council had decided in the affirmative regarding the proposal to move the chambers into the headquarters, Mr. Arnold arose and said: "I have been a fireman in this company and no man in the borough has the interest of the organization at heart more than I. For that reason I have done much for the department since I have been a member of the Council but I feel hurt at the action of the Warren Engine Company in refusing to grant to the Council the use of the rooms sixteen times a year.

"I am the taxpayers' representative and many taxpayers have come to me and said that we were foolish to pay out $350 a year for a Council chamber when the borough is erecting a building which would meet their needs as a meeting place. I am in favor of a paid fire department in the borough and I believe it cannot come too soon." He then offered his resolution. When the roll was called Councilmen Arnold, VanArsdale, Lee, Northrup and Nicholls voted for the resolution and Councilman Robert Clark against.

INHUMAN TREATMENT OF DUMB ANIMALS

Charge of Cruelty to Beasts Laid at Door of David Blackford.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

ANOTHER SERIOUS CASE OF NEGLECT BROUGHT TO AGENT'S NOTICE.

New Market Man Makes a Complaint—Blackford to be Given a Hearing Before Justice Warden in Dunellen.

One of the most flagrant cases of cruelty to animals brought to the attention of the society for the prevention of that offense is that a number of horses, alleged to be starving to death, or already dead, as the result of the owner, David Blackford, of South Plainfield. Constable W. N. Pangborn, of North Plainfield, representing the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, went to Blackford's farm yesterday and found three horses dead, apparently of starvation, and three others in a horrible condition from lack of food. The only fodder provided was hay of a quality so miserable that the horses even though starving refused to eat it.

Blackford was placed under arrest and will be given a hearing Saturday morning in Justice Warden's court at New Market.

Another case of cruelty to animals was brought to the attention of Constable Pangborn by Victor D. Schomp, of New Market, who discovered a horse wandering along the highway near his home, apparently turned out to die. The horse was at one time the property of Stonewall Jackson, of this city, who traded it to a New Market man, its present owner. Though in no way responsible for the horse, Mr. Jackson has promised to care for it, if its owner persists in his neglect.

Blanchard was made an additional member of the board of trustees, and delegates to the annual session of the imperial council to be held at Atlantic City next July were elected.

MEN ORGANIZING FOR CHURCH WORK

Nearly All of Plainfield's Leading Churches Have Men's Clubs Now.

FOR SOCIAL PURPOSES

ALL SORTS OF ENTERTAINMENTS GIVEN TO BIND MEN TO CHURCHES.

Seventh-Day Baptist, First M. E., Grace M. E., Monroe Ave. M. E., Congregational, Trinity and First Presbyterian Have Clubs.

Men's clubs are now on the tidal wave of success in many of the churches throughout New Jersey, and Plainfield enjoys the distinction of being included in the cities where large numbers of these clubs are established. For a long time past the women in the churches have had all sorts of societies and associations, the purpose being to attract and band them together for church work. That the men have not thought of a similar plan before seems remarkable, there being no apparent reason why the men in the church should not band themselves together and attain the same results as the women.

One of the first churches in Plainfield to organize a men's club was the Seventh-Day Baptist and once a year at least the organization has given a supper or social affair of some kind, when the whole affair was arranged by themselves, even to the cooking of a regular dinner.

Another church that has had a successful men's club is the Congregational. Here literary features combine with the social side to give the members and their friends a good time once a month. Occasionally there is a "ladies' night," when the fair sex is entertained in good style. Recently the men of the First Presbyterian Church organized a club and are having success. Tomorrow night the club will meet, enjoy a debate on the Panama question and listen to an interesting talk by Ernest R. Ackerman, who will tell of his last trip to Europe, after which the men will provide a collation.

The First M. E. Church has had for a long time the Young Men's Brotherhood, and this organization has had a most successful career, giving entertainments of a unique character that have always attracted the men in large numbers. "Men's Assembly" is the name of an organization at Grace M. E. Church, and here the men have become greatly interested in the work of the church. Recently a men's club was formed at Monroe Avenue Church and a most auspicious beginning was made under the direction of the pastor, Rev. John McMurray, who has brought about a live interest in the various organizations in that church.

The Consistory of Trinity Reformed Church recently approved the forming of a men's club in that church and such an organization will be effected within a short time. The general opinion seems to be that these clubs can have but one result, that of reviving an interest among men in church work. As a rule it is the women who are in the majority at most church affairs, including the mid-week prayer-meeting and oftentimes at the Sunday services and it is believed that in organizing the men in each church they will become identified with some definite line of work and be induced to lend their help and support.

CRUISERS AT COLON

Dixie Lands More Marines. Reserves In Port.

WAR MATERIAL FOR NEW REPUBLIC

Reyes Is Silent as to the Situation. General George E. Elliott May Be Ordered to Make a Reconnoissance of Isthmian Country.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. — A dispatch from Colon says the United States auxiliary cruiser Dixie has just disembarked her marines, numbering 330, there. They took a train for Empire Station, near Panama, where they will be quartered in the canal company's houses, which already have been repaired and made fit to receive them. Sixteen machine guns and six automatic guns accompany the marines.

The remainder of the United States auxiliary cruiser Prairie's marines are still on board that vessel. It is probable that they will be landed also.

The Panama government has received by the Panama Railroad company's steamer Allianca 500 cases of cartridges, twenty-five cases of rifles and other war material.

The United States auxiliary cruiser Mayflower and the United States gunboat Bancroft are in port.

The speech of Assistant Secretary of State Loomis in New York, in which he stated some new things regarding the attitude of Colombia toward the Hay-Herran treaty, was the subject of considerable gossip here, and there was much speculation as to the effect it would have on the future course of General Reyes, the special envoy of Colombia now in Washington.

When seen General Reyes admitted that he had read Mr. Loomis' address, but declined to make a statement.

"I am a diplomat," said he, "and it would ill become me to make any comment."

It is reported that Brigadier General George E. Elliott, commandant of the marine corps, will be ordered to the isthmus to make a reconnoissance of the country and, should the situation demand, to assume command of the marine forces there. The matter has not yet been decided, but it was said by a high official of the navy department that the subject is receiving serious consideration.

Two Deputies Shot.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 17.—Deputy Marshal A. F. Surles and Deputy Sheriff B. G. E. Daughty were shot and seriously injured near Dunn, Sampson county, N. C., while attempting to apprehend W. A. Gotier, whose presence is desired in the federal court to answer the charges of destroying mail boxes. Gotier failed to answer at Raleigh when the case was called, and Surles was sent to arrest him. Daughty went with him. Upon reaching his house the officers were met by a fusillade from within, which continued until Gotier's ammunition was exhausted. After great difficulty he was apprehended and brought here. Surles was shot through the arm, and the ball lodged in his breast. Daughty was shot in the abdomen.

Quimby Bank Robbers Caught.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Dec. 17.—Robbers blew open the safe of the Citizens' Savings bank at Quimby, forty miles northeast of Sioux City, and secured $3,000 in cash. Burglars also blew the door from the safe of the postoffice at Paulina, Ia., and secured $125. While in search of the men who committed the latter robbery Sheriff Price of O'Brien county captured two of the Quimby bank robbers, recovering $1,400 of the stolen money.

Robbed a Slot Gas Meter.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 17.—It was learned that Mrs. W. W. Ellsworth in the absence of her husband was held up in her house by a burglar, who after locking her in her room robbed a prepayment gas meter in the cellar. He forced her from the cellar, where she found him, up a flight of stairs at the point of a revolver. The man has not been captured.

THE TYPHOID TERROR

Clara Barton of the Red Cross Reports From Butler.

FOUND NEARLY 1,800 CASES OF FEVER

Personal Inspection Reveals a Very Grave Situation, There Being an Average of Twelve New Patients Each Day.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Dr. George A. Soper, a New York expert engaged to investigate the typhoid epidemic at Butler, Pa., and its causes, reports that the epidemic has by no means attained its culmination, about 50 per cent of the cases not having reached the critical stage.

Investigation of the drainage areas, he says, shows the existence of numerous sources of pollution, and particularly the occurrence of cases of typhoid on the banks of the Conoquenessing, since July.

Clara Barton, president of the American Red Cross, who visited Butler, Pa., with members of her staff in compliance with the recent appeal of the mayor and relief committee of that stricken city for assistance, has returned to Washington and in confirmation of the appeals from Butler made the following statement addressed to the people of the United States:

"Unable to judge of the seriousness of the situation at Butler, Pa., because of conflicting rumors of the typhoid epidemic, accompanied by members of my staff I have made a personal visit to the scene. We found in Butler, a town of 18,000 inhabitants, almost as many hundreds of patients in all stages of typhoid fever, a few cases convalescing to an average of twelve new cases per day. The hospitals are nearly full, but most of the patients are being treated at their homes. In some cases as many as six or eight members of the family are prostrated. The patients are attended in most part by trained nurses from such large cities as Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Cleveland and Rochester, more than 200 in all.

"The relief work is administered by a competent committee elected at a mass meeting of citizens about two weeks ago. This committee includes many of the most prominent merchants and professional men of the town, the burgess of Butler being one of the members. Investigation shows that at least $75,000 more than is now in hand will be required for the relief work before the epidemic is over. This money cannot be obtained from the town and must be looked for in voluntary contributions from the outside public.

"Donations should be sent to Thomas J. Schufflin, treasurer, Butler relief committee."

First "Parsifal" Production.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Arrangements for the approaching production of "Parsifal" have now been completed, and after elaborate rehearsals, extending over a period of twelve weeks, on Christmas eve Richard Wagner's dedicational festival play will at last be presented at the Metropolitan Opera House here. Including the chorus of men and the boys' chorus, about 150 people will take part in the performance of "Parsifal." In addition to these, twenty-three electricians and eighty property men and stage hands will be needed to manipulate the scenery and the mechanical contrivances and to control the lights. The cost of the production may roughly be estimated at $100,000.

Frightened Into Suicide.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 17.—J. F. Eckleberry, who made pretense of medical skill, has committed suicide under peculiar circumstances. On Sunday Eckleberry gave a farmer named James Stone some medicine to relieve the patient of the effects of drink. Stone died, and the coroner officially attributed the death to alcoholism. Eckleberry, however, heard that threats were being made against him and became so perturbed that he took chloroform with fatal result.

Willis Waited Twenty Years.

LEOMINSTER, Mass., Dec. 17.—John H. Willis, aged sixty-six, a veteran of the civil war, was arrested here on a warrant alleging polygamy. Willis says his first wife ran away twenty-seven years ago. He waited twenty years, then married again. Wife No. 1 is now in Haverhill and is understood to have furnished the information that caused the arrest.

CUBAN BILL PASSED

Senate Makes Treaty Effective by Large Majority.

WILL FOSTER INSULAR PROSPERITY

Twin Objects of the Government Were to Render Justice to Cuba and the Opening of New Markets to the United States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—After an all day debate the senate passed the Cuban reciprocity treaty. The vote was 57 in favor of the treaty to 18 against it. As the measure was passed by the house of representatives during the special session, it now only awaits the president's signature. This will be affixed at once, as the special session was called for the purpose of disposing of the treaty.

With the passage of the bill to make effective the treaty of commercial reciprocity with Cuba the end for which the administration has constantly striven, with the twin objects of justice to Cuba and the opening of a new market to the United States, will be in sight and will be attained ten days after the exchange of ratifications of the treaty.

Epitomized, the new treaty admits into the United States all products of Cuba now dutiable at a reduction of 20 per cent upon the rates of the Dingley tariff. In return Cuba admits products of the United States at an equal reduction from its own tariff. In addition to this general concession Cuba agrees to three lists of imports from the United States upon which it grants reductions of duty respectively of 25, 30 and 40 per cent.

Another important provision of the treaty is that no Cuban sugar during the life of the treaty shall be admitted into the United States at a reducion of duty greater than 20 per cent upon the Dingley rate and that no other foreign sugar shall be admitted during the same period at any reduction of duty whatever. The treaty is to continue in force for five years and thereafter until terminated by the giving of one year's notice by either party.

This summary of the treaty is pertinent because it is expected that many inquiries as to exact terms will be made by manufacturers and exporters in the United States. They will need to study the schedule of articles upon which Cuba has made concessions of duty greater than 20 per cent. The interest of the general public lies in knowing the broad expectations that are held as to the advantage that this country will gain in increased export trade, a trade that should grow with the growth of Cuba in population and industry, due to the insular prosperity that reciprocity is expected to foster.

CUBA REJOICES.

News of Passage of Bill Received Everywhere With Enthusiasm.

HAVANA, Dec. 17.—News of the passage by the United States senate of the bill for reciprocity between the United States and Cuba, conveyed here by a bulletin, soon spread through the city. It came somewhat as a surprise both to the Cuban and Spanish merchants, the prolonged negotiations and the many delays having caused a feeling of skepticism as to the outcome, which was relieved only by the news.

President Palma and the members of his cabinet, however, expressed no surprise at the passage of the bill, as they have always been confident that the scheme of reciprocity would eventually be successfully carried out. Nevertheless they were highly gratified and greatly relieved at the settlement of the question without further amendments and delays.

Expressions of satisfaction are universal in Havana. Many Americans engaged in enterprises in Cuba are enthusiastic and believe that business generally will find relief from the depression of the past four months, during which stocks ran extremely low. It is believed that the passage of the bill will result immediately in heavy buying both from the United States and Europe.

South Dakota to Cuba.

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 17.—A party of twenty from South Dakota, Iowa, Michigan and Illinois has reached Mobile en route to Cuba, where they have purchased 24,000 acres of grazing land and 48,000 acres of timber land in Puerto Principe province. They will locate there.

Three Drowned In a Runway.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Dec. 17.—A special from Massena says that three men were drowned in the Massena canal there, and a fourth narrowly escaped a similar fate. The victims were William Wilkinson, George Moffatt and an Italian whose name is unknown. The men were in the employ of the St. Lawrence Power company and were passing through a runway on the canal when their boat capsized. The men were soon out of reach of ropes, and their bodies were carried down the rapids of the St. Lawrence.

Grace Atwood Rearrested.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 17.—Grace Atwood, alias Grace Gibson, who claims to be the wife of George F. Atwood of Boston, the self confessed postoffice thief and ex-convict, when released by the Springfield police was immediately rearrested by United States Marshal Pickering for alleged complicity in robbing the United States mails.

Former Archbishop of Santiago Dead

MADRID, Dec. 17.—Mgr. Usti, the last Spanish archbishop of Santiago de Cuba, has died at Zaraus, near San Sebastian. His body will be interred there by the side of the remains of General Martinez de Campos.

Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 17, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The men's assembly of one of the local churches announces the discussion of "The Power of the Press" and "Capital Punishment" on the same evening. Is this association ideas?

It's a mighty poor merchant who advertises because some solicitor offers space for sale. When the subject of advertising is properly understood, the merchant will ask for a visit from the newspaper man, just as the manufacturer asks for prices on raw materials. The solicitor is out to sell space, and the most of them are glad when the space pays a profit. He can often give the advertiser information that will do good. It pays to be a good listener to a solicitor, but there should be a plan behind every advertising campaign, and the merchant should decide, after a careful study of the needs of his business.

Robert Clark, Jr., as a man and as a Councilman can always be found fighting for the right, but he made a serious mistake at the borough Council meeting last night when he declared his intention of resigning his seat as a borough father. Instead of announcing his purpose of taking such a step to set himself in a right position before his fellow members, who were arrayed against him and one of whom particularly unbecomingly charged him with courting favor with the firemen, he should have declared that he would continue his fight until his term expires. Men such as he are sorely needed in councilmanic bodies and from some recent moves we are led to believe that the borough Council is no exception to the rule. Mr. Clark's public acts show he has the correct proportion of ginger in him to be an independent and fearless councilman.

The unpleasantness brought about by the determination of the Borough Council to occupy a portion of the second story of the handsome new engine house as a place of meeting is to be regretted. It is admitted that the borough fathers have broken an agreement, but they can well put in a plea of justification. The borough government must be run at this time as economically as possible and the councilmen, true to the trust reposed in them, believe that it is their duty to save the taxpayers money rather than spend three or four hundred dollars annually for unnecessary rent. So far as a paid fire department is concerned that proposition should be entirely disconnected with the ugly feeling engendered by the stand taken by the Council relative to the uses to be made of the new engine house. The substitution of a paid fire department for the present volunteer organization is a serious question and should not be made hastily. The prime questions are, first, does the present service answer all the demands, and secondly, if not, can the borough afford a regular paid department.

We are quite sure that the volunteer firemen will take a more charitable view of the Council's decision to make use of a part of the new engine house and are equally sure that the Council, itself, will carefully weigh the proposition to substitute a paid department before taking definite action.

--HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS--

First of all we would suggest that you do your Christmas shopping at home, where you can shop in comfort, instead of running off to New York, where the stores are jammed with terror-inspiring crowds and where shopping is distressingly uncomfortable.

THE NEW STORE is fully prepared to meet your wants. Intelligent shoppers are rapidly awakening to the fact that right at home is an establishment of Metropolitan proportions and preparedness, ready to respond promptly to every demand made upon it. Magnificent reaches of wide aisles give us plenty of room in which to care for the constantly increasing crowds which are coming our way.

FINE UMBRELLAS—A grand assortment of high grade goods such as we have never offered before. Goods that are highly reliable and particularly desirable for holiday business. An equally good variety for men and women.

KID GLOVES for men, women and children. Good gloves, too. Fownes, Centemeri and P. & L. for ladies. Myers and Dents for men. There's a Kid Glove combination that can't be beaten.

Knit Skirts, Toques, Tam o'Shanters, Gloves, Mittens, Cardigan Jackets, Sweaters for Men, Women and Children, Crochet Slippers, and a thousand other lines of desirable goods carefully selected.

We have also a grand assortment of beautiful Toys, remarkable for variety and quality. Mechanical Toys that work well and that are highly interesting and instructive.

The trolley wire had become slack, caused by a break further down the line and the cross wire hanging very low across the road. Mr. Brower was driving quite lively when the wire caught in the top of the buggy, upsetting the wagon and threw the horse to the ground. The horse became frightened and sprang up and dashed down North avenue, leaving the wagon behind. ONE OF FIVE NOTED BROTHERS DIES IN HIS EIGHTY-SIXTH YEAR.

Alfred T. Serrell, brother of the late Lemuel W. Serrell, of this city, and uncle of L. W. Serrell, Jr., of West Seventh street, Harold Serrell, of Myrtle avenue, and Miss Ella Serrell, of Plainfield avenue, died yesterday, in his eighty-sixth year, at the home of his son, Alfred W. Serrell, in Cambridge, Md. Mr. Serrell's health was broken ten years ago by a fall from a surface car in New York. Besides his son he leaves a widow and daughter. Burial will be at Tarrytown, in the family plot in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery. His brother, General Edward Serrell, distinguished himself in the Civil War, and later built the first great suspension bridge—that at Niagara Falls. John Serrell, another brother, was one of the designers and constructors of the Brooklyn Bridge; Lemuel became a famous patent lawyer; James was City Surveyor of New York for many years, and Alfred became proprietor of a saw and planing mill, and invented the first machine for cutting wood mouldings. He was one of the founders and a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank and a founder of the old Forty-third Street, and subsequently of the Fifty-third Street, Methodist Episcopal Churches. He was chief of a volunteer fire company.

Vice Chancellor Stevens has filed an opinion in the case of Trangott Wirsching, of Elizabeth, against the Grand Lodge of Masons of New Jersey, declaring that Wirsching need not transfer certain property to the society and absolving him from an agreement made by him. Wirsching some time ago became incapaciated for work. He entered the Masonic home in Burlington. At that time he had a vested interest in a legacy of $3,000, payable at the death of his brother's widow. He was admitted as an indigent member, but signed a deed transferring all his property to the Grand Lodge. Wirsching was at the home about nine months when his brother's widow died, and later he was informed that the society claimed the legacy. The court holds that it is an important fact that Wirsching did not get into the home upon the representation that he possessed property, and that he is entitled to relief.

A meeting of the Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue Methodist Church was to have been held last night at which time officers would have been elected but it was decided to postpone the meeting until tomorrow evening. The Missionary Society was to have met last night but their meeting was also postponed.

Most of the Sunday-schools of the city and borough have settled upon Tuesday night, Dec. 29, as the time for holding Christmas entertainments. The chief reason for this is that it will prevent a wholesale visitation on the part of the members of the various schools who generally find it convenient to go from one entertainment to another, instead of attending to their own alone.

On account of the rainy day only $319 as the offerings at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Sunday, was received, and since then additions amounting to $62 have been received. The amount needed is $400. An offering will be made Sunday morning for the Children's Home, but is hoped that the deficiency in the amount required for Synodical Home Mission Work in New Jersey, $196, may be contributed as well.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 20—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—A vision of worldwide peace.—Isa. xi, 6-9; ix, 6 (Christmas).

Worldwide peace! What consummation more devoutly to be desired! Peace—peace among the nations of the earth, peace between man and man and, most important of all, peace between every man and God. After nineteen centuries of Christianity we scarcely dare dream of universal peace, yet centuries before the Christ was born Isaiah the prophet was bold enough, under divine inspiration, to picture the day of worldwide peace and to set forth some of its characteristics.

Though a vision, Isaiah's vision is to be a reality. The day is coming when there will be universal peace. This is the prophecy of the prophet of God, and God Himself is therefore responsible for its fulfillment. This fact makes its fulfillment an absolute certainty. God often acts slowly, it is true, and yet He always accomplishes His purposes. He "moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform;" but, though the way may be mysterious, the wonders are always performed. And while God often unfolds His plans and purposes slowly, at the same time He also acts at times with marvelous rapidity. Through the coral insect God sometimes takes ages to make an island in the sea, and then, again, by volcanic action He casts up a group of islands in a day. So with His purposes concerning men. What it may take centuries to accomplish in one way God can and sometimes has accomplished in a day by a different method. There is a divine plan in human life, and whether it is worked out slowly or rapidly it will be worked out, and God will be supreme.

The basis of worldwide peace is Jesus Christ. Isaiah calls him "the Prince of Peace," and He is. He was peace itself amid the adversities and distractions of His own life. In leaving the world He left peace as a legacy to His disciples—"Peace I leave with you; My peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled." And as the Prince of Peace He is finally to extend His peace throughout the entire world. He came into this world to bring peace. At His birth the angels of heaven sang, "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men!" On Christ alone could universal peace be brought about. He alone can satisfy the want and need of every human heart. He is the only universal Saviour, and through Him alone can universal peace be brought about. But it can be and will be through Him. His kingdom is to be a universal kingdom, and when it is universally extended there will be worldwide peace.

But we have a part in bringing about worldwide peace. It is to be brought about by the extension of Christ's kingdom. Peace is to reign "because the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." It is our mission to fill the earth with a knowledge of the Lord. In so doing we will have a part in bringing about worldwide peace.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xxix, 11; lxxii, 1-8-17-20; Isa. xxvi, 1-4; Dan. ii, 44, 45; Matt. xiii, 31-33; Luke ii, 7-20; Rom. viii, 15-23; Eph. ii, 14-22; Rev. xxi, 23-26.

Some Distinguishing Features.

One distinguishing mark of a Society of Christian Endeavor is the prayer meeting pledge, which reads as follows:

As an active member I promise to be true to all my duties, to be present at and to take some part, aside from singing, in every meeting unless hindered by some reason which I can conscientiously give to my Lord and Master Jesus Christ. If obliged to be absent from the monthly consecration meeting, I will, if possible, send an excuse for absence to the society.

Another distinguishing feature is the committee work, especially the lookout, prayer meeting and social committees.

Another is the consecration meeting, concerning which the constitution reads:

Once each month a consecration or experience meeting shall be held, at which each active member shall speak concerning his progress in the Christian life. If any one chooses, he can express his feelings by an appropriate verse of Scripture or other quotation.

A Blessing to the Churches.

No man can measure what a blessing the Christian Endeavor society has been to the churches of this land and to individual believers. One of the many reasons why I rejoice in it is because it is not an organization outside of the church. I look with growing suspicion upon anything in the way of an organization that is not an integral part of the church of Christ.—Rev. R. A. Torrey, D. D., of Moody Bible Institute.

Enthusiasm Worth Copying.

One Sunday it was 41 degrees below zero in Winnipeg, but it could not keep the Endeavorers away from church and Sunday school.

The watchword in Jamaica for the extensive campaign is, "A society in every church in the island that is in sympathy with the movement."

A Voice From India.

Millions of young lives have been redeemed and quickened to highest service in the name of the King through the simple but soldierly spirit of Christian Endeavor.—Rev. William Carey, Dacca, India.

The Flower of Endeavor.

The Junior movement is the flower of the Endeavor society. We are not doing enough for the boys and girls.—John Willis Baer.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 20, "A Choice For Eternity." Text, Luke xvi, 19-31.

Jesus was speaking to a mixed company in which there were many of the most religious of the people, the Pharisees and scribes, and also large numbers of the common people who were reckoned as irreligious. Because Jesus did not shun these last, but did talk and eat with them, the strictly religious people were scandalized, much as church members would now be astonished and offended if an evangelist should familiarly visit and associate with the dissolute and drunken.

Jesus talked to them about losing a sheep and a piece of money and how we would hunt to find it, about a boy squandering his money and then waking up to his condition and starting on the way to true manliness.

After this He carries His lessons of life a little further and speaks about the enduring results, the permanent effects of our actions. The first series of pictures from life shows the anxiety one feels to save what he has and to recover what may have been lost. The fact that one who has been a prodigal and wanderer may return and find welcome and become a dutiful son is also made clear. Jesus here shows the real nature of God in His dealings with men in this life.

The second series of parables carries the truth beyond this life and shows the settling of destinies for all eternity by the actions of this life.

The parable of the unrighteous steward showed how a man in a position of influence might use his power so that when he had lost his place he would have friends who would take care of him. The lesson Jesus taught from it was that we ought to use our opportunities and means so that when all earthly advantages are gone we shall have friends who will welcome us into eternal abiding places.

Then comes the story of the rich man and Lazarus. This has had many different explanations. It should be studied in its connection with all the parables which go before it. It closes this special section of teachings.

Read carefully and with attention to all surrounding circumstances, the main truth that is taught appears to be the permanent effect on future destiny of the way we live in this life. Nothing is said about any special vice or wickedness of the rich man nor of any special saintliness of the poor man. Nor does it appear that the rich man went to the place of anguish because he was rich and the poor man to the comforts of Abraham's bosom merely because he was poor. The point of the teaching of Jesus appears when he says, "They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them." That the rich man had not heeded, regarded and kept God's law as given by Moses and the prophets seems very clear from his anxiety that one shall be sent from the dead to his brothers, whom he acknowledges have not repented. Jesus states plainly the uselessness of sending such a messenger. If those living have no disposition to walk the right way pointed out by the teaching of such holy men as Moses and the prophets no persuasion by one rising from the dead would have any influence with them.

The mysteries of the future life are claiming as much attention now as ever they have. Every person has reason for keenest interest in the discussion. No one should lose sight of the supreme importance of knowing the truth. Whether it seems pleasant or disagreeable we should force ourselves to recognize the fact that our future condition depends on the use of our present opportunities. No regrets will undo what is once done. Neglect of God's law now forever forfeits the benefits to be had from obedience to that law. The gulf between characters good and bad is unchangeably fixed, and the limits once passed can never be repassed.

What you are now doing and becoming will remain yours and you—ever. Then do and be what will be best for—ever.

God's Power.

In the world of nature God's power is exercised for our temporal welfare. In the world of grace His power in the gospel is for our salvation. We take hold upon His strength in nature, and God carries our burdens for us, flashes our messages under the ocean and across continents, operates our mills, produces our harvests. We take hold upon His strength in grace, and He bears our heart burdens, gives us communication with Himself, keeps us from falling, works in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure and makes us conquerors, and more than conquerors, through Him that loved us. Let us take hold of His strength, that we may make peace with Him.—United Presbyterian.

Meekness.

Meekness is love at school, love at the Saviour's feet. It is Christian lowlihood. It is the disciple learning to know himself, learning to fear and distrust and abhor himself. It is the disciple practicing the sweet but self emptying lesson of putting on the Lord Jesus Christ. It is the disciple learning the defects of his own character. It is the disciple praying and watching for the mellowing of his temper and the amelioration of his character. It is the living Christian at his Saviour's feet, learning of Him who is meek and lowly and finding rest for his soul.—Dr. James Hamilton.

He Calls You.

Even if in the midst of an avalanche of work He calls you "apart into a desert place to rest awhile," and, even if the desert mean only a headache or a rainy day instead of a journey, make no complaint, but follow close.—Anna Warner.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

STYLES OF THE MOMENT.

Loose Hanging Boleros—Ribbon and Taffeta Ruchings.

The three-quarter coat, according to the leading fashion authorities, is going out of style, and they are showing jaunty little jackets and blouses ending at the waist line and so designed as to simulate waists and give to the whole costume the air of a gown.

The wide, even the very wide, belt is a feature of nearly all the new dresses. So is the loose hanging bolero effect with wide three-quarter length sleeves which allow a glimpse of an inner blouse of mull and embroidery having exaggerated sleeve puffs of the same creamy material.

Ribbon and taffeta ruchings of all widths are very smart on otherwise plain gowns. A net frock much admired on a debutante recently was trimmed with a cape arrangement over the shoulders edged with three rows of this narrow ruching. The skirt was likewise banded. Skirts, by the way, are becoming fuller and fuller, so that they hang in folds all around.

The ingenuity of the tailor is again shown in the manipulation of cloths for woman's use. English tweeds, Scotch and Irish friezes, etc., have a soft finish. The higher authorities in the sartorial world no longer care for the harsh makes of stuff except in the creation of the riding habit.

With elderly women chiffon velours and panne still continue the favorite evening fabrics, and indeed for day wear as well velvet of every possible make is used.

The cut shows a pink chiffon waist trimmed with venetian lace and narrow sable bands.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FURS AND CHIFFONS.

Combinations of Expensive Skins and Rich Laces Are the Fashion.

Fur coats are now being made very fancy, and many of them boast expensive lace trimmings or wide lace sleeves which are plainly visible beneath the three-quarter length baggy open sleeves of fur. Sometimes also these fur coats have yoke pieces of rich lace.

Hip yokes are seen on very many tailor mades, and these retain the slen-derness of the figure where it would ordinarily be lost sight of in the fullness of the rest of the skirt.

Gowns of black chiffon dotted here and there either with chenille or with net are very effective for evening wear.

Dinner blouses of chiffon are used with skirts that harmonize in shade for less dressy occasions, but these are seen mostly in black or in white.

There has been a determined effort to bring corduroy to the front for dressy street costumes, but this has not been a great success owing to the superiority of the lustrous chiffon velvets and pannes.

Velvet, velveteen and corduroy are the leading materials for the nursery folk. The belt is to form a very important item in the attire of the small people. For little boys up to six the Russian blouse will be the correct thing, in as wide a striped corduroy as may be obtained. The only difference as regards these garments from those of their sisters is the addition of leather trimmings, which form the collar, belt, side band and cuffs.

Professionals May Race Autos.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—A cable from Paris has been received from the representative of the club on the international committee in charge of the arrangements for the race for the Bennett international automobile racing trophy. The rules governing the race were altered by the committee so as to allow cars to be driven by professionals provided the drivers are nominated by the clubs entering the cars. This means that America will be represented in the race in Germany next summer by a team of three of the best automobile drivers in this country, headed by Barney Oldfield, the holder of the world's mile track record of fifty-five seconds, and consequently the American team will have at least an even chance in the event.

Messenger Won by a Nose.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17.—The Bobby and Ivernia were the winning favorites. Of the other winners both Eve Russell and Cardinal Wolsey were well supported. J. P. Mayberry, favorite in the third race, fell at the half mile pole. The colt and rider, W. Hicks, both escaped injury. The Messenger in the last race was caught in the barrier and was practically left at the post. When he drew up to the others he was pocketed, but won out by a nose in a hard drive.

Buffalo Racing Association.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. — Announcement was made that the Jockey club had granted to the Buffalo Racing association dates for its spring meeting in 1904 from June 6 to June 25, both inclusive. The association has planned a series of stakes, the conditions of which, with its overnight races, will make up the most ambitious programme ever framed outside the Metropolitan circuit. The principal event will be the Buffalo Derby, of a value of not less than $6,000.

World Bowling Record.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 17.—In a match bowling contest here the blue ribbon team of the Central City league established a world's record for a five men team, scoring a total of 1,164. The former record was 1,152 pins. H. C. Stahlbordt made eleven of thirty-seven strikes in a game marked by but two errors.

A TREATY OF ARBITRATION.

Boston Leading Merchants Discuss British-American Treaty of Peace.

BOSTON, Dec. 17.—A movement to bring about a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain was inaugurated at a meeting of Boston's leading merchants at the Boston Chamber of Commerce. After a discussion entered into by prominent men it was voted that President Lincoln of the chamber appoint a committee of five to decide on some form of action for promoting the cause of the treaty. Primarily the meeting was called to give Thomas Barclay, former president of the British Chamber of Commerce at Paris, an opportunity to address the chamber on the subject of "Arbitration as a Means of Settling International Disputes." Other speakers were President Lincoln, Edward Atkinson, the economist, and Edwin D. Mead, editor of the New England Magazine.

Mr. Barclay dwelt at some length on the Anglo-French treaty which was signed last October and said that what the treaty has done has been to carry out the czar's original intention and reinsert as between Great Britain and France the compulsion clause. Therefore the treaty reads that the two parties agree to refer all judicial cases to arbitration and refers them specifically to The Hague court. Mr. Barclay asked the business men of the United States to take up the question of arbitration and create agitation in the same way as had been done in Great Britain and France for the purpose of securing the signature of an Anglo-American treaty.

PROHIBITION PARTY.

Convention to Be Held In Kansas City June 29, 1904.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—The national convention of the Prohibition party will be held in Kansas City on Wednesday, June 29, 1904. Eight cities—Los Angeles, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Baltimore, Buffalo, Milwaukee and Columbus, O.—put in bids for the convention when the national committee of the party met here, but after listening for several hours to the arguments of the rival delegates Kansas City secured almost twice as many votes as the nearest competitor.

The report of Treasurer Samuel Dickie of Michigan showed that the committee had $7,000 to begin its next presidential campaign.

Brooklyn Will Go to Alexandretta.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—As a result of Minister Leishman's advices respecting the Alexandretta affair the state department has requested the navy department to place a warship at the disposal of Consul Davis, now at Beirut, upon which he might return to Alexandretta at his pleasure. The navy department accordingly cabled instructions to Admiral Cotton, on board the flagship Brooklyn at Alexandria, Egypt, to place a vessel at the disposal of Mr. Davis. It is believed the Brooklyn will be selected. It is left to the consul to arrange the terms of his reception.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Dec. 17.—A strike has been declared at Rossiter, 500 miners in the employ of the Clearfield bituminous coal corporation quitting work. The trouble was caused by the discharge of James Callahan, one of the motormen, who was ordered to go to work, but failed to report for duty, claiming that he would not work extra time in the morning.

Dynamitard on Trial.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 17.—It developed here at the trial of Isaac Cravelle, charged with dynamiting Northern Pacific trains, that the Great Northern had received a threating letter mailed two months ago from Cascade, Mont., in which [illegible] made for $10,000. The state asserts that Cravelle wrote the Cascade letter.

Warship For Korea.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—At the request of Minister Allen at Seoul, who reports considerable uneasiness and rioting in Korea, the state department has suggested to the navy department that a warship be sent to Korean waters. It is probable the Wilmington will be detailed for this purpose.

DAILY GRIND AT THE TELEPHONE OFFICE

Facts and Figures Gleaned From a Visit to "Central" Which Are of Interest.

BEST SERVICE IN STATE

NUMBER OF CALLS MADE BY VARIOUS SUBSCRIBERS IN A DAY.

The Daily Press Says "Hello" More Than Any Other Patron in Plainfield—Record of Neuman Bros.—Connections Made Instantaneously.

A live, up-to-date telephone company is a perpetual town boomer. This is particularly true of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company in this city. With good service, reasonable rates and a wonderful display of enterprise the company has done more in the making of Plainfield than almost any other agency, with the possible exception of the railroad. Without the telephone Plainfield would not be the convenient town for commuters, it is because the twenty-four miles separating this city from New York would isolate a New York business man from his store or office completely. It is interesting to glance over the monthly reports of the local exchange to see the great volume of business handled at the central office every day.

Imagine a subscriber receiving two hundred calls a day, three hundred days in a year. There are many subscribers in this city who answer that many "rings." The report for November shows that Neuman Brothers hold the record for the greatest amount of telephone business. That firm receives every day 200 calls, which does not include the number of calls they make from their store. Next comes S. Scheuer & Sons and Smith Brothers with 150 calls, Smalley Brothers, William L. Smalley, Fred Endress and John C. Storm with 100 each and T. S. Amrstrong, L. W. Randolph and C. M. Nagle with fifty calls each. Rogers, the seafood man, on Friday answers in the neighborhood of 300 calls.

The Daily Press holds the record for having the busiest telephone in the city. Number 61 is the pioneer telephone number in Plainfield. It was in the Constitutionalist office, the forerunner of The Daily Press, that the first telephone to be connected with a central office was installed. It was put in and connected by Charles W. Runyon, now manager of the local system. That number is still retained by The Daily Press and each day the telephone bell rings 200 times. This does not include out of town calls. There are more out of town calls, ranging from Newark, Philadelphia and New York, made from The Daily Press office than from any other office or dwelling in this city.

Manager C. W. Runyon has in his office a telephone book, the first one every published by the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. Plainfield is represented with 105 telephones. Today there are 1,076. Dr. E. W. South had telephone No. 1, which is now the number of Dr. Olin L. Jenkins, the Mayor; Dr. J. B. Probasco had No. 2, which he still retains, No. 99 was and is still Jacob Kirkner's number; C. W. McCutchen has No. 11 and Henry A. McGee has No. 8. Other enterprising citizens whose names appear on the list of first subscribers are Albert Hedden, Henry B. Newhall, A. M. Runyon & Sons, I. W. Rushmore, H. P. Talmadge, Dr. E. W. Endicott, Dr. Justus H. Cooley and Dr. J. B. Probasco.

Taking for example Thursday, December 10, the number of calls received at the local exchange was 4,822, of which only 238 people were unable to secure an answer, through the subscriber called not answering, or "line busy." This is an ordinary week day record, and on many days this record is exceeded. When it is considered that only twelve operators, divided into three shifts, and two chief operators, handle all the calls received at the local office, it is plainly seen that the service in this city is excellent.

The reports sent into the main office in Brooklyn show that Plainfield has the heaviest local calls of any city of its size in the country. We lead New Brunswick in the number of daily calls. This city averages 3,926 while New Brunswick averages 3,394. Montclair, with 1,111 telephones, which is rated as the same size town as Plainfield, has an average of 2,165 calls a day. Plainfield's busiest hour shows 544 telephones answered, New Brunswick, 380 and Montclair, 292.

A man went into the central office a few days ago and declared that his telephone was cut of order. He could not give the exact time or what the nature of the trouble was. He was surprised when a glance at the "trouble book" gave him the exact time the trouble occurred, when it was located, the extent of it, the cause of it, how, when and by whom it was repaired and when the telephone was used again. The book also showed a record kept of the weather on that day, whether it was clear or cloudy, bright and balmy or dismal and damp. A like record is kept of the fire department service and the police department system. Each wire is numbered and located, a record is kept of the direction each wire takes, as it is stretched from pole to pole, and over what route it enters houses of subscribers, and also of the intricate tangle of wires in the underground conduits. It might be said that every ohm and ampere of current is numbered and recorded.

No Cause For Action.

A case in tort in which all New Market was interested was tried this morning before a twelve man jury in Justice VonMinden's court. Suit was brought for $200, the plaintiff claiming that the defendant had taken his horse and carriage on October 29 without asking leave and by reckless driving injured the horse and damaged the wagon. The jury was out ten minutes and returned a verdict of no cause for action. W. L. Hetfield, Jr., was the successful attorney for the defendant and P. S. Swackhamer, Esq., represented the plaintiff. Daniel Gulick, of Dunellen, was foreman of the jury.

J. W. Coddington's Pension.

A pension has been secured for J. W. Coddington, of the borough, at the rate of $8 a month, from July 8 last. The pension was secured by Representative Lanning.

The Busy Store.

Christmas week at Hill & Shupp's store on West Front street, is a busy time of the year. The great number of holiday bargains offered there make it so. The people of this city have learned to realize that the best holiday bargains can be secured here at home and in consequence those who formerly purchased presents in New York now trade at Hill & Shupp's. That firm makes a specialty of having good goods at the right prices. For that reason the display there this year is better than it has ever been before. The novelty, toy and fancy goods departments are filled to overflowing with the best goods of the season and all high grade. A specialty is made of millinery and hat trimming. The best milliners in the city are employed there and the styles are direct from Paris. There is a large stock in each department to select from at Hill & Shupp's.

All Sorts of Gifts.

Pocket knives for the small boy and man, skates for girls and boys, fine table cutlery for the man of the house, an oil stove, heater or radiator, for the mistress of the house, and a hundred and one things which are suitable for Christmas presents can be secured at H. E. Gayle, the hardware merchant on West Front street. People as a rule do not realize that there are many things on sale in a hardware store which make excellent Christmas presents, and useful ones, too.

WARNED BY INSURANCE MEN

UNDERWRITERS ASS'N TELL OF DANGERS INCIDENT TO THE CHRISTMAS TIDE.

The Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department of Philadelphia has sent out a warning to property owners regarding the use of easily inflammable materials and electric batteries in Christmas decorations, which may be of interest to Plainfielders. In order not to render insurance policies void those who use such materials must receive special permission as will be seen by the notice which follows:

"So many fires have resulted from the elaborate decoration of business houses, at 'openings,' and during the holiday season, and in churches and public building, from the use of cotton batting, Christmas greens, wool, paper flowers and draped cheese cloth; also flimsy draperies and highly ignitible materials in large quantities, that it has been deemed expedient to call your attention at this time to the fact that such practice is in direct violation of one of the conditions of the Standard Policy (see lines 11, 14, 15), and may render your policy void.

"Series lighting, revolving lights, or objects operated by a motor when the motor is placed in the window itself cannot be permitted, and nothing will be allowed in store windows except work of the most permanent character.

"Attention is called to the fact that the certificate and permit for use of electricity is subject to the following conditions, viz.:

"No additions, alterations or repairs shall be made in the system of wires, lamps or any portion of wires or appliances for conducting, creating, or controlling the electric current located in the building until written notice has been given to and written permission obtained from the Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department."

MEDICAL SOCIETY ALERT

UNION COUNTY PHYSICIANS ENGAGE LAWYER TO MAKE WAR ON QUACKS.

The District Medical Society of Union County has employed the services of an attorney, whose duties will be to follow up and bring to the attention of the grand jury and prosecutor the names of all illegal practitioners in medicine. No one can practice medicine in New Jersey who has not qualified to do so by passing the State examination.

This matter has been under consideration by the members of the medical society for a long time past and action regarding it has not been taken as the result of any particular case. It is only the desire of the society to protect its own interest and prevent the people from being imposed upon.

Trolley Service Improvement.

It has been noticed of late that some of the conductors on the local trolley cars are taking pains to call out the names of streets, especially at night. The practice has been adopted in all cities and Plainfield should not be an exemption. It is difficult for passengers to keep track of the streets especially at night and this attention on the part of conductors would save lots of trouble.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The regular weekly devotional meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms in Park avenue, when Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, county superintendent, gave an interesting account of the recent National convention held in Cincinnati.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

According to the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, New Jersey gauged one-third more distilled spirits during 1903 than it did during the fiscal year 1902. The number of gallons gauged in the State during 1903 amounted to 2,141,612.8, and the amount distilled during the fiscal year just past to 3,029,572.1 gallons.

In fruit brandy New Jersey ranks third among the States in the amount produced. California, of course, is first. New York is second, showing a production of 114,395 gallons. New Jersey is but slightly below New York, with 113,181 gallons produced during 1903. In the amount of apple brandy produced among the States, New Jersey ranks first and New York second. New Jersey produced during 1903, 108,094 gallons, and New York 96,256 gallons of apple brandy.

New Jersey produced 3,602 gallons of grape brandy, 1,312 gallons of prune brandy, and 54 gallons of cherry brandy. In cherry brandy, New Jersey is also the banner producing State.

AMUSEMENTS.

Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer's pastoral comedy "Our New Minister" which has caught the popular fancy of all New York entered upon the third week of its merry run at the American Theatre on Monday of this week. The "Standing Room Only" sign was brought into use every night last week, while on Saturday night the entire house was sold out at 8:15. The comedy with its excruciatingly funny characters and situations will hold the boards of the American for a long time to come. The New York critics admit that "Our New Minister" is a far better play than the "Old Homestead." The matinee on Wednesday, December 23d, will be known as "Children's Matinee," and every child attending will receive a box of bon bons as a holiday gift.

YOUNGEST "J. P." IN STATE

FRED HUFF CLAIMS THAT DISTINCTION DESPITE HARRISON MAN'S BOAST.

The New York World last Sunday contained a sketch of a Harrison man, W. J. Sullivan, who purported to be the youngest justice of the peace in New Jersey. Mr. Sullivan's claim to the title is disputed by a Plainfield man who was not only a year younger than his rival when first chosen to office, but was elected by the people, the man from Harrison holding his office by appointment, and occupying the position more nearly of a recorder than a justice of the peace.

Fred J. Huff is Plainfield's claimant of the honor of being the State's most youthful "J. P." Mr. Huff was elected justice from the Fourth ward in the spring of 1900 when he had just passed his twenty-first birthday. Though but twenty-three at the present time, one year older than Justice Sullivan, Justice Huff has heard as many important cases as almost any other justice in the city, included among them being numerous cases of assault and other criminal offenses, as well as important civil cases. He has in addition appeared in court several times before other judges to plead cases for clients of his own.

THOROUGH TROLLEY PROMISED

REPORTED THAT NEW YORK-PHILA. SERVICE WILL BE IN OPERATION SOON.

Reports from Trenton state that within four weeks the line of the Trenton-New Brunswick Railroad Company will be connected with that of the Camden and Trenton line, giving a continuous route from this city to Trenton and Philadelphia. The delay in inaugurating the through line between Jersey City and Philadelphia has been caused by the difference in the gauge of the tracks. A third rail has been installed thus rectifying the trouble.

The local company has recently secured the new cars which will be used in the through line and, it is now stated, according to Trenton reports that that the line will be in running order within another month. It was originally planned to open the line on January 1.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

The work at the Campbell Press Works which has been rushed of late, necessitating the employes woring until 10 o'clock each night, is expected to come to a close tonight and during the rest of the year it will be necessary only to keep the 8 o'clock gang working overtime.

Arthur Longworth, who formerly was employed in this city in one of the local shops, has written to friends in this city that he has fallen heir to a large fortune in Rhode Island. Longworth, who was employed as a gas engine expert in the Scott Press Works, has made a study for some time of submarine boats and he writes that he nows intends devoting more of his time to a patent air storage scheme.

Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., of Central avenue, is convalescing from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Henriques, of New York, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barlow, of Prospect place.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heeley, of West Fourth street, who have been visiting friends in Passaic, have returned home.

Charles Meyers, of this city, who has been the guest of friends in Brooklyn for the past few days, has returned home.

Frost Stops Work.

Workmen in the employ of the street department have ceased work on the new sanitary sewer in the West End, on account of the unusual amount of frost in the ground. It is rare indeed that there is eighteen inches of frost at this time of the year and for that reason the work has had to stop. Usually the work on the sewers continues until Christmas time.

Cantata to be Rendered.

A cantata will be given in the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church Sunday night, December 27, under the direction of Rhys Thomas. He has enlisted the services of several of Plainfield's best singers and also a double quartette from New York. The double quartette will sing at the morning service.

Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 18, 1903.

THE WEATHER.

Fair, continued cold, tonight; Saturday, increasing Cloudiness and not so cold. Ther 22.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

"Wanted—50 husbands for fifty girls out West who can keep house."—New York Evening Sun.

Why not address Senator Smoot, Salt Lake City, Utah?

A man does not want a better snap than to be the innocent bystander when two great railways are at war.—Paterson Evening News.

Not when he has stock in one of them.

North Plainfield can not afford a police department when it has but a volunteer fire department; how old in wisdom would the borough fathers be to establish a paid fire department when it cannot afford a police department?

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue reports that New Jersey produced more apple brandy during 1903 than any other State in the Union. It's safe to say that she consumed as much of the general run of liquor as any other State also.

In referring to the town, a Westfield paper says "it undeniably has more advantages to offer than any other town along the Central." That may be true as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. Can the Westfield enthusiast say that it is the most desirable place of residence along the Central?

Plainfield had an earthquake on Sunday morning. It was a slight shock, and unlike the November shake-up, which was felt outside of Plainfield.—Elizabeth Journal.

The Journal must have sad recollections of the way that November earthquake shattered its amusingly optomistic election predictions.

If you are satisfied with just "keeping store," don't advertise. If your blood is red, if you want to grow, if you feel a satisfaction in being a leader in your line—advertise. Do it right. Make it a feature of your work, not a side issue, and the cash assets at the end of each year will surely determine the value of advertising.—Printers' Ink.

The Westfield Leader, which Editor Hankinson is rounding into form as a model weekly, urges that the people of that town boom the place by having large bill boards placed along the tracks of New Jersey railroads running out from New York and speaks of it as "judicious advertising." It is not only injudicious advertising but belongs to a class which should be prohibited by law. The proper place to advertise a town is in the newspaper and if you walk into Hankinson's office he'll tell you so.

The advertising of every business should do good to every department. Its purpose is more far reaching than the particular offerings made in each announcement. The public's estimation of a house is based upon a thousand and one little things. This public will rightly judge the character of your entire establishment by the way you advertise certain items. About ten years ago this statement appeared in Printers' Ink: "Above the article advertised, always consider the effect of every statement upon the character of your house." The intervening years of advertising work have strengthened the conviction as to the absolute soundness of this statement. Each ad should build all along the line. It should help create good character—the most valuable asset of any business.—Ex.

It is a foregone conclusion that the Republican party in New Jersey will be solid for the renomination of Theodore Roosevelt at the Republican National convention to be held in Chicago on June 21, and the only question that remains is, who will be the emissaries of the voice of the people? It is generally believed that the big four — Dryden, Kean, Murphy and Stokes—will be chosen delegates at large. To all outwardly appearances this quartette of master politicians would be the most representative that could be chosen. In addition to these captains of the party, the usual number of district delegates will pose as the lesser fry of New Jersey Republicanism. The Democratic party has not set a time and place for its National convention, but in all probability the sessions will be held in New York. One reason for this is that the party leaders believe that New York State can be made solid for its nominee at the coming Presidential election. Odell has dragged Roosevelt into the factional fight there and the two are lined up against Senator Platt and in consequence there is some reason to suppose that the feeling will be given expression at the polls. Then again, the signal victory of George B. McClellan in New York City was such as to buoy up the hopes of the rank and file of the party there irrespective of the various shades of belief. "As New York goes, so goes the Union" is a popular saying that has been disproven of late, and the Democrats will have to do a lot of hustling to make any inroads into Roosevelt's popularity, which is conspicuous in the South and West.

DREYFUS JUSTIFIED.

After Many Years Prisoner of Devil's Island Is Reinstated.

TO BE MADE LIEUTENANT COLONEL

Long Fight For Justice Ends In Victory For the Jewish Artillery Captain, Who Is Proved Not a Traitor to France.

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The council of the war office has decided on Captain Alfred Dreyfus' reinstatement in the army and that he be given the rank of lieutenant colonel. It is said that a determination has been reached to deal rigorously with officers who express disapproval of Dreyfus' reinstatement.

The reinstatement of Dreyfus in the French army will be the last chapter in one of the most sensational romances of the nineteenth century. His arrest and condemnation as a spy, his imprisonment on Devil's isle, his repatriation, retrials and pardon, were the theme of the world's conversation. His friends have never rested in their efforts to clear his name, and now they are rejoicing in the victory of a long sustained fight for justice.

Spies of the French secret intelligence department had been at work in the German embassy in Paris and in September, 1894, discovered the now famous bordereau on which the conviction of Dreyfus was apparently based. Count Munster was then the German ambassador, and Lieutenant Colonel von Schwarzkoppen was the military attache. The bordereau was found in fragments in Schwarzkoppen's waste-basket. General Mercier turned it over to Major du Paty de Clam, who pieced it together and affirmed that the handwriting resembled that of Dreyfus.

Captain Alfred Dreyfus of the Fourteenth artillery, then attached to the general staff, was arrested in Paris on Oct. 15, 1894. The arrest was made on the order of General Mercier, minister of war, and Dreyfus was taken to the Cherche Midi military prison, where for fifteen days he was kept in ignorance of the charge against him. The fact that Dreyfus was a Jew added bitterness to the popular feeling. General Mercier announced that there was overwhelming evidence that for three years the accused had been in communication with the agents of a foreign power.

General Mercier had the letter before the court martial, and it is alleged that in reading it as a last resort to secure the conviction of Dreyfus he deliberately changed the letter "D" to "Dreyfus," though it plainly did not refer to the prisoner. Colonel Picquart at once denounced the new Schwarzkoppen-Panizzardi letter as a forgery. Shortly after came the confession of Lieutenant Colonel Henry, who was then head of the secret intelligence department, that he had forged the letter. His suicide soon followed. Because of this exposure M. Cavaignac resigned, as did General de Boisdeffre, chief of the general staff.

Tried to Save Her Servant's Life.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—Mrs. H. H. McKay Wilson, whose residence is in the heart of the fashionable section here, was dangerously burned about the face and hands while trying to rescue her servant, Annie Crete, who died in terrible agony from the effects of fire. At the risk of her life Mrs. Wilson tried to put out flames which fearfully burned the girl, whose clothing had ignited from a furnace.

Second Torpedo Fleet Goes South.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The second torpedo boat flotilla, consisting of the Truxtun, Whipple, Worden, Lawrence and Stewart, left Hampton Roads under convoy of the battleship Texas for Charleston, S. C., on their way to Key West, Fla., which will be their base of operations for the next few weeks.

Protest From Isle of Pines.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The senate in executive session received a number of petitions, submitted through Senator Penrose, relative to protests from Americans in the isle of Pines against the ratification of the treaty between the United States and Cuba giving the island to Cuba.

Three Years' Sentence For Gautier.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 18.—W. A. Gautier, the desperado of Sampson county who shot two United States deputy marshals who went to arrest him, has been sentenced to three years in the Atlanta prison for destroying rural mail boxes.

Buffalo to Convoy Torpedo Fleet.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The United States cruiser Buffalo has sailed for Key West and San Juan, from which port she will proceed as a convoy to the torpedo boat flotilla ordered to the Philippines.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MEETING.

Baseball Magnates Arrange Rules For Future Play.

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—The magnates of the American Baseball league at their annual meeting here rescinded the foul strike rule adopted last year as an experiment and declared in favor of a schedule of 154 games in order to meet the extension of the National league schedule. The playing season will open April 15.

The vote against the foul strike rule was unanimous, and a committee consisting of Comiskey, Chicago; Farrell, New York, and Kilfoyle, Cleveland, was appointed to meet with the rules committee of the National league and try to effect a compromise on the rule.

The National league at its recent meeting in New York declared in favor of this rule, and it is the general belief that considerable trouble will be experienced before a substitute rule satisfactory to both leagues can be agreed upon.

During the discussion of the matter at the meeting suggestions for a compromise were offered by several of the magnates, but nothing definite was decided upon.

The suggestion of President Shibe of Philadelphia that only the first foul be called a strike and that the other fouls be treated as they used to be before the adoption of the foul strike rule last year seemed to meet the approval of most of the magnates, and it was said that an effort would be made by the committee when it met in joint session with the National league committee to reach a settlement of the question along these lines.

Racing at Ingleside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18.—Long priced horses were to the front in some of the races at Ingleside. Kickumbob took the opening number, while Elfin King scored in the last race. Lord Melbourne came out and beat the field easily in the mile and seventy yards. Rasp fell in the last race.

Huzzah and New York Won.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 18.—Huzzah and New York were the winning favorites here. The stewards were dissatisfied with the performance of Bengal, favorite in the third race, and suspended C. E. Burnett & Co., the owners, and Livingston, the jockey, pending an investigation.

Historical Pen Now.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The greatest dispatch was used in getting the Cuban bill started to the White House for signature of the president. Senor Don Gonzalo de Quesada was at the capitol when congress was convened, and he offered a pen for the signatures necessary to make the reciprocity treaty operative. The pen was a gold one, with a highly ornamented holder. It was used by Speaker Cannon, President Pro Tem. Frye and Alexander McDowell, clerk of the house. It accompanied the bill to the White House, where it was used by President Roosevelt. The pen will be sent to Havana, where it will be placed on exhibition in the Cuban palace.

Wos y Gil on Annexation.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 18.—General Wos y Gil, former president of Santo Domingo, discussing the resolution introduced in the United States senate by Mr. Heyburn of Idaho requesting the president to negotiate for the annexation of Santo Domingo, said: "Although Santo Domingo is under the commercial and political influences of the United States, annexation would not be agreeable, because the republic is still feeling the effects of the annexation to Spain forty years ago, which left a deep impression. The civil wars of the republic date from that time. I shall be able to talk more freely when I am better advised regarding the situation."

Galileo Will Bombard Durbo.

ROME, Dec. 18.—The bombardment of Durbo, in Italian Somaliland, where Lieutenant Grabau was killed, which has been undertaken by the Italian warship Galileo, is merely for the purpose of impressing the natives. It is pointed out in official circles that Italy does not need foreign assistance to punish those who offend her, as might be thought after the revenge taken at Durbo by the British warship Mohawk.

IN THE SENATE.

Senators Hoar, Gorman and Foraker on the Isthmian Question.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The senate was the scene of a most important debate on the isthmian canal question as affected by the president's recognition of the independence of the republic of Panama. The discussion began with a speech by Mr. Hoar on his resolution of inquiry and lasted several hours. In addition to Mr. Hoar's address there were speeches by Messrs. Gorman and Foraker. All three were notable utterances and of historical interest.

Mr. Hoar confined his remarks to his resolution and held that this country had not yet received full official information concerning the isthmian revolution and criticised in sharp terms the conduct of this country as shown by what had been given out. He compared the conduct of the United States on the isthmus to a policeman who would manacle and hold a person about to be attacked for robbery and who would then insist on having the spoils of the theft delivered to himself.

Mr. Hoar said that it was no justification of our course to say Colombia had failed to ratify the treaty for the construction of the Panama canal. Had the United States itself not failed to ratify many treaties?

Mr. Gorman took the floor as soon as Mr. Hoar had concluded, and there was from the start evident interest in what he might say. He said that Democratic senators generally are as favorable to the construction of the canal as are Republicans. He congratulated the country on the possession of a senator like Mr. Hoar, who, he said, was following many examples of courage, patriotism and disinterestedness in the senate which had occurred at times when the executive by some inexcusable act had been about to involve the country in war without the consent of congress. In this connection he referred to the course of the late Senator Sumner when he antagonized President Grant in the Santo Domingo affair. Mr. Gorman said that he himself had been a witness to Mr. Sumner's protest, and he declared that his act would "live in history as well as that of the present senior senator from Massachusetts."

Taking up the question at issue, Mr. Gorman said the facts were all that were desired, and he proceeded to refer to the extension of the executive influence, saying that this influence had been extended until "the senate had become practically the agent of the executive." He criticised the selection by the president of commissioners from the senate to negotiate treaties as a reprehensible practice. He also criticised executive interference in state politics, saying:

"The president with doubtful propriety telegraphs his instructions to state conventions as to their actions."

But none of these transgressions could be compared, he declared, to the action of the executive in connection with the affair in Panama. "It is," he said, "the most flagrant act of transgression that has ever taken place in the history of the country, and it should be resisted without regard to party."

Mr. Gorman then discussed the president as a "second Napoleon," which title had, he said, "been assigned to him by some."

"A second Napoleon indeed!" he exclaimed. "Has it come to this that the United States must have a Napoleon to shape its destinies and to distort the presidential office from its proper functions?"

Mr. Foraker took Mr. Hoar to task severely for his remarks reflecting on the administration and his indiscretion in speaking in open session concerning executive matters. He defended the administration for its attitude toward the Panama revolt. A heated colloquy took place between Mr. Foraker and Mr. Hoar during an effort of the Massachusetts senator to explain more fully his position in the matter.

DREAM OF AN EMPIRE

What Lebaudy's Move on the Sahara May Portend.

Instead of Being a "Megalomaniac Empire Builder," the Frenchman May Prove to Be a Long-Sighted Statesman.

Lebaudy, "Emperor of the Sahara," as he calls himself, or "megalomaniac empire builder," as he is denominated in term of ridicule by the skeptical public, has at least set the world to thinking, and the possibilities and the impossibilities, the avowed purposes and the secret schemes, of the move on the part of the mysterious and ambitious Frenchman are being pretty generally discussed. Jacques Lebaudy is a Paris millionaire who is ridiculously visionary or keenly long sighted. When he sailed recently for the new dominions over which he proposes to reign, and which is a dreary waste of sand, he proclaimed himself the emperor of the Sahara, and gave out two documents, one a "Notice of the Constitution of the Empire," and the other a new postage stamp in the form of a return envelope for use of those who wish to communicate with the new empire functionaries. As much as $40 has been offered for one of these stamps by collectors. The constitution, in Lebaudy's own hand and reproduced by photo-lithographic process, reads as follows:

"EMPIRE OF THE SAHARA—POLITICAL ORGANIZATION.

"The Sahara has been explored and opened to civilization for the first time in the year of 1903 by JACQUES LEBAUDY, who has taken the title of EMPEROR, under the name of JAMES the FIRST.

"This sovereignty is essentially territorial. It bases itself on the principle that from the land is derived all sovereignty. It is the system of feudal law still in vogue among the principal European nations. For example, England whose system of nobility has not changed since the Norman conquest.

"As a consequence this sovereignty is entirely different from the ideas admitted in France since the revolution (example), "All sovereignty is derived from the people," from which plebiscites, etc.

"The EMPEROR OF THE SAHARA exercises a personal power, an absolute sovereignty, over all THINGS.

"But on PERSONS this absolute power is tempered by the most liberal kind of legislation founded on this principle:

"Absolute liberty of PERSONS, respect for individual rights pushed to its last limit.

"Capital of the Empire: Troja, situated on the West Coast of Africa at the mouth of the Sabiet-el-Hama, on a bay called the Bay of Liberty, about 28 degrees, 40 minutes north latitude.

"Principal city: Polis. Polis is situated on the West Coast of Africa on a bay called the Bay of Justice, about 27 degress 20 minutes north latitude."

So much for the scheme of empire as it appears on its face. What are some of the hidden possibilities as they have been suggested? A desert reclaimed by irrigation blossoming as the rose and supporting a thriving population, a new France established, with an advantageous port on the Atlantic and an outlet through the north to Algiers, the Mediterranean abolished by the boring of a tunnel between Europe and Africa at the straits of Gibraltar, and Spanish cooperation in the schemes to the extent of yielding Morocco to the protectorate of France.

As far as the public goes, at least, it is all supposition, but suppose, by reason of some wonderful new engineering feat the value of all northern Africa from the Atlantic eastward is to rise so enormously as to justify territory grabbing protectorates and unusual treaties. Through Lebaudy's move, France would have it all within her own grasp. Suppose the French colony of Algeria is to become a rich and populous new France, pushing southward and westward, building cities, founding industries, laying railroads and opening what was in ancient Roman times the garden and granary of Europe.

Suppose the tunnel is built—12 miles of it under the straits—then the motto will be "Paris to the Soudan without change of cars." Monsieur Berlier, the distinguished engineer, declares that the work will not cost more than 123,000,000 francs. With Morocco under French protectorate, with Spain satisfied, by who knows what guarantee and the very patent promise of this immense traffic running through her to enrich her, the work becomes a simple matter for French finance and engineering.

Suppose Lebaudy is satisfied for the present to throw dust in the eyes of the people in order that the true purposes may lie hidden until they are ripe for revelation. Suppose—but let us wait and see.

MINISTER VARILLA.

Address on How the New Republic Was Formed.

TRIED TO ROB FRESCH HOLDERS.

The Canal, the Western Highway From Europe to Asia, Is Now In Sight, and Americans Have Made It a Certainty.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—P. Bunau-Varilla, minister from the republic of Panama to the United States, delivered an address here at the regular meeting of the members of the American Academy of Political and Social Science on "The Conditions Under Which the New Republic Was Founded." There was a large attendance of members of the academy. The minister was introduced by Professor Leo S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania. M. Bunau-Varilla said:

"I have to speak on a subject which comprises an infinite diversity of features. The question of Panama may be treated from a technical point of view. Its economical consequences upon the trade of the earth and the distribution of mankind affords equally a large field to the observation of the thinker. The history of that glorious undertaking could cover many volumes, as it begins really with the discovery of America. Its more important phases only, the history of the endeavors, of the successful efforts made by the French Lesseps company toward the accomplishment of that dream of the centuries, would also allow me to speak for many evenings on this last subject. I would have to say many things that would very likely have been considered as scarcely probable if they had been uttered four years ago in any part of the world.

"The mist of lies, calumnies and prejudices which has covered to the sight of mankind the glorious battles fought against the difficulties of nature on the isthmus of Panama are not yet known, but the dawn of the day when truth will at last universally be known has come. The selection of the Panama route in preference over the Nicaraguan one by the senate of the United States on the 16th of August last year has been the beginning of the great victory of science and verity over prejudice and systematic error.

"Among these many parts of the great subject one appears as being of a more actual and special interest. It is the history of the recent facts which have led to the present situation, and it is among the many phases of that great question the one which is likely more apt to interest you tonight. It is the one which I am going to treat upon before you in the shortest time possible after having consulted with your eminent president.

"The course of the United States has been noble, impartial and just. The people who want to represent injustice, greed and blackmail in the garb of dignity and virtue try naturally to transform dignity and straightforwardness into crookedness. But whoever studies the action of the United States from an impartial point of view and from international law, nothing can be expressed but admiration for its straightforward policy. More than anybody else I can bear witness that the United States has not encouraged any revolution on the isthmus of Panama, but when the revolution that everybody could foresee broke out her duty was traced in advance. The republic consisted in the first form in the isthmus, properly speaking—that is to say, in that territorial unit which extends from Panama to Colon and follows the line of the railway and that of the canal and is east and west limited by wilderness.

"When the revolution of the 3d of November burst out and when the withdrawal of the Colombian troops from Colon on the 5th took place afterward, the situation for the United States was that a Colombian party calling itself the republic of Panama had control of the line and that anybody interfering with the state of things thus created was a perturber of the traffic and had to be prevented from doing so. It was exactly the same situation as last year when Admiral Casey forbade any movement of Colombian troops.

"If the recognition of the republic by the United States is not seen in the light of the treaty obligations it is just like studying a picture in the dark. There are people who like very much to study things in such a way that the decisive elements that explain them are absent, and of course if you forget the treaty of 1846, if you forget the offensive action of Colombia toward the United States, if you forget its attempt to rob the French shareholders of their property, if you forget the decision taken at Bogota to practically kill the population of the isthmus by private use of its means of existence, if you forget the laws of blackmail, the ambiguous policy of the republic, if you forget all about that, of course you will find that the action of all the great powers of the earth is absolutely unjustifiable and that 750,000,000 of people are guilty of the most atrocious assault on the virtuous, the republic of Colombia.

"We may listen with equanimity to these charming theories, and we may say with the French poet, 'The sun, prosecuting its path, throws torrents of light on its obscure abusers.'

"They will not prevent history from making itself. The Panama canal is a fact now. The western highway from Europe to Asia is at last in sight, and America, after having stopped the first man who looked for it, Christopher Columbus, takes him by the hand and leads him to the terminus of his voyage."

Weather Probabilities.

Fair; light northwest winds.

DOG ON A LONG JOURNEY.

Traveler Moralizes on Canine Crated Up for Shipment Across the Continent.

"Passing along a city street the other day," said a town traveler, according to the New York Sun, "I saw, tied on at the end of a loaded express wagon standing in front of an express office, a crate containing a dog, a dog that was being shipped somewhere by express.

"Curiosity prompted me to look at the shipping tag on the crate. The dog was going to a city on the Pacific coast, a long journey, but I didn't doubt it would get there safely.

"The crate was big enough for its comfort, and it seemed to me that the dog was one likely to stand the journey well, to make friends with all the expressmen and messengers it met on the way, and to get the best possible treatment.

"I'm no judge of dogs, and I may be away off on this one, but this didn't seem to me to be a valuable dog. It was short-haired, brindle in color, of medium size and rather lanky build, and with a rather stubby head. But it had an intelligent and friendly face, which was just now rather wistful.

"As I put my hand across the top of the crate to turn the tag so that I could read the address, the dog reached its head over toward me inside, glad to meet with somebody, even if the somebody was a stranger.

"It was, in fact, a gentle, kindly dog, and whether a valuable dog or not, I'll bet it is one beloved by whomever it is going to meet over on the other coast, and I'll bet that it makes friends with and gets the best of treatment from every man who has the handling of it on the way across."

PUDDLING FOR BULI POUT.

How the Fish Are Caught with the Bare Feet in Canandalgua Lake, New York.

"Puddlin' fer pout" is a novel method of catching what are commonly known elsewhere as bullpout or "bullheads"—a species of catfish common to all the lakes, ponds and mud-bottomed streams of this region. It is done with the bare feet, says the New York Sun.

The puddlers—and there are only a few of them, owing to the truly ticklish nature of the pastime—frequent the marshes along the inlet at the Head-of-the-Lake at the season when bullheads "hole in." A puddler's outfit consists of a basket or a bag thrown over his shoulder to hold the fish. Nature does the rest.

The puddler goes into the marsh in his oldest—and sometimes his only—garments, first rolling up his trousers and sleeves as far as possible. Then he moves along cautiously, bare-footed, on the muddy bottom, feeling with his feet for the holes that form the lying-in resort of the female bullhead. When his carefully groping foot comes into contact with a smooth, slimy, slightly squirming substance he knows that he has found his quarry. Deftly reaching down he slides his hand along the fish's body so carefully and gently that the preoccupied pout suspects no evil. He maneuvers until his hand can tightly grip the wedge-shaped body of the bullhead and then, quick as a flash, he grabs the fish and has it in his bag almost before it can flop.

FICTION IN FREE LIBRARIES.

Much of It Read by English Readers When History and Biography Would Benefit More.

Viscount Goschen presided at the summer meeting of the University Extension students at Oxford, and in an interesting address which he delivered, dealing with free libraries, he referred to the complaint that fiction played so important a part in these institutions, reports the London Telegraph. In some he had heard that as much as 80 per cent. of the volumes issued was of that description, though he was glad to know that in others it was but 45. There were critics who doubted the use of public libraries if this class of literature was to play so great a part in their work, but they should remember that generally the readers had no books at all at home. While fiction was recreative and educational, it often was highly stimulating and satisfactory. A great many of the readers in the public libraries came home wearied from their work, and in a frame of mind in which it might be difficult for them to apply themselves to some of the more serious books, but if they would only try biographies, histories and works of that kind, they would find them, as soon as the plunge had been taken, as great, or of even greater interest than works which seemed lighter reading.

Exports of Butter.

Argentina exports more than 3,000,000 pounds of butter annually, nearly all of it to Great Britain. It brings 16 cents a pound at the creameries, and the exporter gets an average of 24 cents a pound. Butter from no other country except Denmark brings as good a price. The cows are principally Durham crosses.

Bavaria's Beer.

The Bavarians are well aware that they make the best beer in the world. Their exports last year amounted to 2,605,801 hectoliters, while the imports were only 1,075,926 hectoliters, mostly from Austria.

Exhausted His Vocabulary.

The sultan of Turkey declares that the bicycle is "dangerous and immoral to the state," which leaves him little to say when the first automobile chugs into Constantinople.

American telegraph instruments click in Siberia and in Italy, while out telephones are "helloed" through by the Chinese, East Indiamen and Egyptians.

NINETEEN TRUE BILLS.

More Indictments Found Against Dietrich and Others.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 18.—The United States grand jury has made its report to the court, returning nineteen true bills. These include indictments against United States Senator Charles H. Dietrich for alleged illegal leasing of a building to the government to be used as a postoffice, former Adjutant General Leonard W. Colby for the alleged embezzlement of government funds, Daniel Gaines of Bassett, Neb., for alleged perjury in swearing falsely to homestead entries, former State Senator Elliott Lowe for alleged conspiracy to bribe a United States senator, Postmaster John S. Mitchell of Alma, Neb., charging him with illegal sale of postage stamps, William M. Irwin on a charge of acting as agent for Mitchell and against R. M. Allen, president of the Standard Cattle company, for the alleged illegal fencing of government lands.

The other indictments were similar to that against Allen, but do not involve extensive tracts of land. The jury reported it had further matters under consideration.

ALEXANDRETTA INSULT.

Consul Will Ask For an Apology, Backed by a Man-of-war.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister to Washington, has conferred with Acting Secretary Loomis respecting the Alexandretta affair. The minister presented another statement emanating from his government very much in the line of that already submitted, the general tenor of which was to show that Mr. Davis, the American consul at Alexandretta, was the aggressor in the affray and that he had attacked three Turkish policemen without provocation.

This statement failed completely to agree with the report of facts made by Minister Leishman, and, as the state department felt bound to accept the word of its own agent, it could not interfere with the execution of the programme already announced—namely, to have the United States consul now at Beirut return to Alexandretta at his own pleasure on a man-of-war and to look for proper apology and reparation.

IN THE HOUSE.

House Discusses Panama, Free Rural Delivery, Tariff and Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The house has passed without division the pension appropriation bill, carrying $138,150,100.

While the bill was under consideration there was a general discussion on Panama, rural free delivery, tariff and pensions, speeches being made by Messrs. Scott (Rep., Kan.), Miers (Dem., Ind), Sims (Dem., Tenn.) and Burgess (Dem., Tex.).

Plot Hatched by Convicts.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 18.—In the trial of Isaac Gravelle, charged with dynamiting property of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, it developed that the plot against the railroad was hatched in the Deer Lodge penitentiary years ago. A former convict named Murphy testified that Gravelle, who was then in the penitentiary, told him and others that he had a scheme for getting money from the railroad.

Price of Steel Unchanged.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—The steel plate pool, in session here, has reaffirmed the present price—namely, $1.60 per hundred pounds at Pittsburg. The United States Steel corporation, Jones & Laughlin, the Pennsylvania Steel company, the Maryland Steel company, the Cambria company and the Lukens company were represented.

TROOPS ON THE GULF

Atlanta Discovers Colombian Force at Titumati.

GENERAL ORTIZ WAS IN COMMAND.

Colombian Soldiers Would Give No Information as to Their Intentions—Said to Be Building a Road to Panama.

COLON, Dec. 18.—The United States cruiser Atlanta, Commander William H. Turner, has discovered a detachment of Colombian troops, numbering visibly about 500 men, but, according to their own statements, totaling 1,500 or 2,000 men, at Titumati, on the western side of the gulf, just north of the mouth of the Atrato river and due east from Yaviza.

Early in the morning the Atlanta sighted a small schooner in the center of the gulf of Darien and followed her to the western shore, where the schooner attempted to hide behind an islet. Lieutenant Harlan P. Perrill of the Atlanta was ordered to board her, and thereupon a whaleboat was lowered and pulled toward the schooner.

Lieutenant Perrill's crew consisted of twelve men. On the first trip they were unarmed, excepting four revolvers. When the whaleboat approached the schooner twenty-four soldiers were seen seated on the side nearest the direction from which the Americans came, with rifles lying handily across their knees and pointing toward the whaleboat. General Novo, who is a Venezuelan by birth and second in command of the Colombian forces, stood on the deck of the schooner and insolently called out in broken English:

"What way is this to make war?"

Lieutenant Perrill explained that it was not war, but a friendly visit. General Novo, however, refused to furnish him with any information.

An interpreter who boarded the schooner discovered that she had seventy to eighty armed men packed sardine-like in her hold.

The Atlanta then signaled to Lieutenant Perrill to return to his ship, and later the lieutenant returned to the shore to visit General Ortiz. This time he took with him a dozen rifles concealed in the bow of the whaleboat in case of emergency. The whaleboat was rowed steadily toward the schooner, the excitement increasing as she approached, but when Lieutenant Perrill went on shore General Ortiz appeared on the beach, and the excitement subsided.

General Ortiz insisted that Lieutenant Perrill should fly the Colombian flag at the bow of the whaleboat or lower the American flag at her stern because she was in Colombian waters. Lieutenant Perrill replied that he did not have a Colombian flag and refused to lower the stars and stripes. General Ortiz did not insist upon his so doing.

After this flag incident General Ortiz made an eloquent verbal protest against the Americans' presence, the Colombian troops continually cheering his remarks. He subsequently committed his protest to writing. The general seemed uncertain at the beginning whether or not war had been declared. He left the port of Cartagena Dec. 2, and some of the others declared they had been in the gulf for a month past conducting defensive and preparatory operations.

The protest reads partly as follows: "To the Captain of the Atlanta:

"Daniel Ortiz, commandant general of a division of the Colombian army and first adjutant to General Reyes, protests most energetically in the name of the Colombian government and all Colombians against the presence of American warships in our waters. You are citizens of a powerful country, immensely rich and possessing vast numbers of inhabitants. On the contrary, we are bankrupt, and our immense territories are depopulated. Colombia has been bled by fatuous civil wars, but in the Panama matter and regarding yourselves we believe we have right and justice on our side. Do not doubt it. The God of nations will be on our side. Against him squadrons and cannon shall not prevail. Every Colombian, man or woman, is capable of rising to heights of heroism."

General Ortiz sent another communication to Commander Turner, asking what orders the commander had from Washington regarding the movements of Colombian warships in Colombian waters, to which Commander Turner answered, saying they would be treated as would the vessels of any other power with which the United States is at peace.

After saying he was satisfied with Commander Turner's answer the general said in part:

"I beg that you will leave this port, because the waters surrounding it are part of the department of Cauca. I permit myself to inform you that the rebel department of Panama borders on Cauca at Tiburon. So long as war is not declared it seems to me only just and natural that American warships should not enter the waters south of Tiburon

NEW FACES SEEN IN LOCAL PULPITS

Facts Concerning the Changes Made in a Number of Plainfield Churches Recently.

THOSE WHO HAVE LEFT

LONG PASTORATES HAVE PROVEN TO BE THE RULE.

Crescent Ave. Presbyterian, Grace and St. Stephen's Episcopal, First, Park Ave. and Seventh-Day Baptists and Swedish Pilgrim.

There is probably no place in New Jersey where there have been so many ministerial changes during the past two years as in Plainfield. With the exception of the Methodist, where changes are made every few years, the other denominations had been more or less exempt from these changes. When one minister made the start, others followed in quick order, and today there are many new faces seen in the various pulpits.

One of the first changes was made at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Presbyterian Church, where Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, after a long and successful pastorate, resigned to accept charge of the Brick Presbyterian Church, one of the most important of that denomination in the East. He is meeting with the same success that characterized his work in Plainfield.

Following Dr. Richards in the Crescent Avenue Church, Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, the present pastor, is receiving the hearty co-operation and support of his people in carrying on this important work. Mr. Zelie is well thought of and has been given a cordial reception.

Another change was that of Rev. J. W. Richardson, who resigned the pastorate of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, to accept his old charge at Stamford, Conn. After many months the officers of that church have secured a successor in Rev. A. E. Finn, now pastor of the Baptist Church at Cherryville, Hunterdon County. He is a young man 35 years of age and he has the highest endorsement of the Baptist clergy of the State, where he is known.

One of the most important changes was at the First Baptist Church, where for over forty years, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes served faithfully and efficiently as pastor. His service is without doubt the longest of any minister in one church here. It is only his physical capacity that prevents a continuance of the work. After a long time had elapsed, the committee appointed for the purpose, secured Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of New York, as pastor. He takes the charge for one year, but judging from the success now attending his work he will probably continue for a longer period.

Another change following a long pastorate was the one at Grace Church, where Rev. Erskine M. Rodman retired after many years service. He was succeeded by Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, who came from St. Michael's Church, New York. He is doing an excellent work among the people in that parish.

Rev. Mr. Norseen, as pastor of the Swedish Pilgrim Church, was another one of the ministers to leave Plainfield. He was instrumental in reviving the interest among his people in Plainfield and was able to see the beginning of a new church edifice now completed. His successor is Rev. L. T. Lindholm, an able divine, who is continuing to interest his people in church work.

After a comparatively short pastorate, Rev. Dr. A. E. Main resigned the pastorate of the Seventh-Day Baptist Church, to accept a professorship at Alfred University. He was succeeded by Rev. George B. Shaw, who came from the Seventh-Day Baptist Church, New York. While Mr. Shaw has not been in Plainfield long, he recently received a call to Ashaway, but declined it. While he does not believe in long pastorates, he has been in Plainfield so short a time he decided to remain.

Still one other change soon to be effected is at St. Stephen's Church, Ravine road, where the recent resignation of Rev. William Vincent Dawson, rector, has been accepted. He goes to St. Paul's Church, Elk Rapids, Mich., and for the present will be succeeded by Rev. William Harris, of Martine avenue, a retired clergyman.

A contemplated change is at the First M. E. Church, where Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, the pastor, has resigned, after a service at this church

BACHELORS' DANCE AT THE PARK CLUB

Christmas Tide Event Enjoyed by One Hundred Society Folk Last Night.

FIRST IN THE SERIES

HAROLD HALL, REEVE STOCKTON AND HARRY M'GEE AS HOSTS.

List of Patrons—Next Dance at the Clubhouse Saturday Night, January 23—A Number of Out-of-Town Guests Present.

A bachelors' dance, the first of a series of three to be given by Harold Hall, Reeve Stockton and Harry Mc Gee, was the attraction at the Park Club last night. The event was a most enjoyable one and its success was shown by the large number present and the brilliancy attending it. There were fully fifty couple on the floor and the music, provided by Garland's orchestra, of New Brunswick, was exceptionally fine. Several novel features have been introduced in these dances.

The patronesses were Mrs. Charles Fiske, Mrs. Harry Stockton, Mrs. Henry McGee, Mrs. Lewis T. Waring and Mrs. Clifford McGee. By a clever arrangement the main hall, or ball room, was used for the dancing last night and the social room, or reception hall, was used by the dancers between dances.

The decorations in the club rooms were suggestive of the season. A Christmas tree and holly berries formed the principal scheme of decoration. The second of the series of dances will be held at the club on Saturday night, January 23. The date for the third has not yet been decided upon.

Some of the out of town guests were Miss Murray, of Brooklyn; Miss Bennett, of New York; Louis Young, Frank Schoonmaker and Charles Fiske and Augustus Fisk, of New York, and Louis Hawley, of Bridgeport, Conn.

"WORDS, WORDS, WORDS"

SWACKHAMER TALKS ON "THE POWER OF SPEECH" AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

"The Power of Speech," was the subject of an unusually interesting talk given by Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer at the meeting of the Young Men's Brotherhood, of the First M. E. Church, last night. The speaker started in at the time of Solomon and followed history to the present day, describing the great effect of speech through all the succeeding years. He referred to a touching scene where a young man was to be hanged for a crime. Just before the final enactment of the sentence, the young man's mother appeared and the one word "guilty" spoken by him had such an effect on her that she fell dead in his presence.

Mr. Swackhamer also referred to the pathetic scene in "Rip Van-Winkle," where he bids his wife and children good-bye and goes to the mountains for twenty years. He said that when one considers the power of speech for good or evil, they should be exceedingly careful how he talks. It might mean the making or blasting of a reputation. Throughout Mr. Swackhamer's talk he used forcibly illustrations.

In addition to the address, Mrs. S. H. Tugwell favored the audience with contralto solos, after which there was a social time. S. H. Tugwell was chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, and he was assisted by most of the members of the Brotherhood.

MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL OPEN

New Structure, a Credit to Plainfield, Inspected by the Public.

MANY AT RECEPTION

STORY OF THE INSTITUTION AND NAMES OF ITS BENEFACTORS.

While the fondest hopes of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, as well as all those who are especially interested in this institution, have not been entirely realized, there was a general spirit of rejoicing and thanksgiving yesterday, when the new hospital, situate at the corner of Park avenue and Randolph road, was opened for inspection and the reception of the people in Plainfield and North Plainfield. Of the group of five buildings which go to make up the new hospital, all are completed excepting the Eastern Ward for women and a few more days' work will finish the work in this building. Considering the difficulty experienced in getting the necessary money to build the new hospital, those in charge are deserving of much credit for what has been accomplished. There were about one thousand persons attending the reception.

A pleasant feature was the presentation to the Board of Governors of a check for $1,000 by a Plainfield woman who attended and desired to endow one of the private rooms. The gift was thankfully received.

There were a few pleasant surprises announced in a leaflet distributed among the guests. It contained on one page the floor plans for the hospital and on another page the list of subscribers to the building fund, names of the Board of Governors, medical staff, Woman's Auxiliary Board. The building committee occupy a place on a third page, while on the fourth page announcements are made of the fact that the Muhlenberg Operating Pavilion was given by J. Howard Wright, of New York, in memory of his two grandsons, Howard Wright Corlies and Parker Wright Mason, that the J. Hervey Ackerman Ward for men, was given by Ernest R. Ackerman, a member of the Board of Governors, and the isolation ward, which is yet to be built, is made possible by the subscriptions given by Mrs. Samuel Milliken, Edward F. Milliken, Foster Milliken and Mr. and Mrs. James W. DeGraff, all members of one family.

This is the cost of the land and new buildings: Lands, $11,000; approximate cost of all building erected (5), grading, driveways and sewer plant, $70,000; approximate cost of furniture and furnishings, $2,500; total, $83,500.

The building committee is composed of Charles J. Fisk, chairman; DeWitt C. Ivins, J. Frank Hubbard, William R. Cock and Charles E. Brooks. Tracy & Swartout, of New York, were the architects and these were the contractors: W. H. Pangborn, C. M. Wilson, G. J. Tobin, Woolston & Buckle, Allen B. Laing, Kinsman & Rocap, J. W. Gavett, F. J. Hubbard and C. M. Meeker. The construction of new building was begun July 14, 1902, and the corner-stone was laid December 6, 1902. The buildings will be opened for the admission of patients December 28, 1903.

In this connection it might be said that the hospital was incorporated May, 1877, and the first building opened for the admission of patients December 1, 1881.

These are the subscribers to the building fund, exclusive of the subscriptions to Nurses' Home fund: Morris Abrams, Ernest R. Ackerman, Marion S. Ackerman, Mrs. Warren Ackerman, Albert H. Atterbury, Mrs. George H. Babcock, John T. Baker, Mrs. Noah C. Barnhart, Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. Charles W. Beebe, John V. Beekman, Lucius H. Biglow, Jr., Edward H. Yerkes.

The Nurses' Home is also to be built. A fund of $1,400 has thus far been subscribed toward this building. The total cost is $8,000. For the present the nurses will be provided for on the third floor of the administration building, but it is hoped that the home will be made possible within a short time.

The familiar Red Cross flag was displayed yesterday on the Administration building during the hours of the reception. It is arranged to transfer the patients from the old to the new hospital on Monday, December 28.

A few facts concerning the new hospital are interesting. It will accommodate sixty patients; thirty-four in the wards, sixteen in the women's ward and eighteen in the men's. Four patients can be provided for in the eye and ear wards and twenty-two in private and other rooms. In the construction of the hospital the very latest approved methods have been adopted. This is especially true of the operating pavilion, it being considered of the most modern type. The pavilion is tiled and the equipment is perfect. This same rule prevails in the other departments. In the basement is the dispensary. The group of five buildings include the Administration, the Muhlenberg Operating Pavilion, the J. Hervey Ackerman Ward, the Eastern Ward and the kitchen building. All are practically separate, yet all are connected. Yesterday a large sign placed in each room or department designated the use to which it will be placed. In the design and construction of the buildings much has devolved on Tracy & Swartout, the architects, and they have received much praise for their work.

At the reception the women of the auxiliary to the Board of Governors, together with the wives of many physicians of the city composed the receiving committee. These women received: Miss Elizabeth R. Cock, chairman; Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Daniel T. VanBuren, Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Jr., Miss Emily B. Tracy, Mrs. Henry Lapsley, Miss Emilie Schipper, Miss Mary E. RECOVERS PROPERTY AFTER LONG SEARCH

A Horse and Buggy Stolen From Douglass L. Darby in June, 1901.

TAKEN AT WESTFIELD

BUGGY FOUND AT LONG BRANCH BY THE OWNER.

Chance Remark Resulted in Recovery—Horse Now at Manasquan—Story of the Theft—Those Instrumental in Recovery.

A chance remark made by Dr. Provost, of Newark, in the office of Dr. L. S. Pocock on East Second street, a few days ago, has led to the recovery of a stolen buggy and will probably result in the return of a valuable mare, the property of Douglass L. Darby. The buggy was found at Long Branch on Wednesday and has now been turned over to the owner. It is believed that the horse is now at Manasquan and will likely be secured within a day or two.

The rig was stolen from the sheds at the Presbyterian Church, Westfield, on Sunday, June 16, 1901. Mrs. Darby drove from her home near Alton to church and tied the horse near the sheds. When church was over she discovered that the rig had been stolen and she was obliged to go home in another rig.

Vigilant search was made for the rig, the police throughout the State being notified of the theft. No trace of it was discovered until a day or two ago, when Dr. Provost in conversation with Dr. Pocock, referred to the horse and buggy, he having secured them from a man in Long Branch, who claimed he made a trade with the man who is supposed to have stolen the rig. Until the fall of 1901 the horse was used for hack purposes about Long Branch and was afterward sold to a party in Manasquan, where she is believed to be at present. The mare was a great pet in Mr. Darby's family, and although she was nineteen years old, money would not have made him sell her.

Dr. Provost will go to Manasquan soon and make every effort to find the horse and restore her to the owner. As for the thief no trace of him can be found. The buggy, which was almost new, is in just as good condition as when taken and Mr. Darby is hoping that the horse is the same way.

PRESENT CONDITION OF GUARD

QUARTERMASTER'S REPORT CONTAINS FACTS OF INTEREST TO COMPANY K.

In the current report of Quartermaster-General Richard A. Donnelly it is shown that the expenses of maintaining the guard are not far in excess of last year, when the total expenditure was $181,000. This sum includes the encampment at Sea Girt, the expenses of transportation, military manoeuvres, celebrations, funerals and the like, and also includes the cost of keeping and repairs of the ordnance. During the last twelve months, the department has received from the United States Government, according to the report, 3,750 rifles and 170 carbines. The rifles are worth $41.03 each and there are 3,750 cartridge belts, each worth $1.75.

Altogether, the cost of the last encampment was slightly in advance of last year, being about $20,000 as compared with $17,697, for 1902. It is recommended in the report, that the system of feeding the soldiers be changed, that stores be issued to each company separately and that the different companies do their own cooking and serving. This is the mode in New York State and has been found to be entirely satisfactory. In the last year 6,000 medals were issued to the Spanish-American War veterans, and about 450 to New Jersey's first defenders. Details of the celebration at Monmouth, the cost of this and other trips of the guardsmen and such other detailed information is likewise included in the statement.

Mr. Fair Died First.

A dispatch from Paris says that at yesterday's hearing before Commissioner Eisler, of New York, into the question as to whether Mr. or Mrs. Fair died first, as a result of the Paris automobile accident in which both were killed, Dr. Duchateau declared that the woman outlived her husband.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON FOREIGN LANDS

Ernest R. Ackerman Speaks of His Travels Before First Presbyterian Men's Club.

FEATURES OF MEETING

WILLIAM VAN EPS AND MISS WATERBURY HELP IN THE ENTERTAINMENT.

Naples, Athens, Russia, Turkey, Greece, Norway and the Holy Land Dwelt Upon—Some Amusing Facts Concerning the Sultan.

Some excellent and "out-of-the-ordinary" stereopticon views of places out of the beaten path of travel in Europe were exhibited last night in the First Presbyterian Church by Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city. The views were taken by Mr. Ackerman himself in the course of a trip abroad last summer.

Starting with a view of Naples, Mr. Ackerman took his audience to Greece, presenting interesting scenes in the Athenian acropolis. Of Turkey and Constantinople, besides photographs of the Sultan's palaces, one of the best views was of the preparations for the Sultan's trip to his temple of worship with a guard of 1500 soldiers. The descriptions of the extraordinary precautions which the Sultan requires to safeguard his life were amusing. It was said that whenever the Constantinople fire department wishes to put out a fire it is obliged to obtain a permit from the Sultan.

Mr. Ackerman has several especially good results in his snap shots of scenes in the Holy Land as also in Egypt. He showed interesting views of the emperor's palace in St. Petersburg and then conducted his audience to Norway, concluding his lecture with a number of beautiful representations of Norwegian fjords.

The lecture and entertainment were under the auspices of the men's club of the church. William VanEps gave several selections on the mandolin accompanied by Miss Waterbury, who also rendered a piano solo which was heartily encored. Following the entertainment a social hour was passed.

COLORED CHURCHMEN MEET

REV. E. V. STEVENSON AND DR. J. C. ANDERSON MAKE ADDRESSES.

An interesting meeting of the Colored Men's Guild, of Grace Episcopal Church, was held last night in the parish house of the church. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson spoke encouragingly to the members of the good work accomplished by their organization. An instructive address was made by Dr. Jefferson C. Anderson who illustrated the necessity of providing young men without a home with something of the strengthening home influence by enabling them to spend their evenings profitably. Mandolin solos were given by Arthur White and piano solos by Edward Blair. William Jones, the president of the guild, made a helpful address. At the next meeting which will take place Thursday, January 7, this question will be discussed: "Resolved, that industrial training has done more than high intellectual attainment for the advancement of the negro race." A paper on the subject will be read by R. B. Norwood, and a general discussion will follow.

PHILA. FLYER KILLS A NEW MARKET MAN

T. L. Merle, a Milkman, is Struck by Engine at Dunellen and Dies Instantly.

AT RAILROAD CROSSING

SAID THAT GATES WERE RAISED AND ENGINEER FAILED TO WHISTLE.

The Dead Man Leaves a Wife and Two Children—The Railroad Company Investigating the Cause of the Accident.

Thomas L. Merle, a local milkman, of New Market, was instantly killed last night while driving over the Prospect avenue crossing of the New Jersey Central at Dunellen. The accident happened about 6:45 o'clock, when a Philadelphia express, going west, struck the rig in which Merle was riding. This is the same train that ran into the Easton local at Westfield almost a year ago, causing the worst wreck in the history of the railroad.

Merle, had been to Plainfield and was in George Voehl's bakery about 6 o'clock. He was talking about a recent law suit in a New Market court and was congratulating himself that he had been victorious. He started for home shortly afterwards.

It is said that the gates at the Prospect avenue crossing were raised when Merle reached that point and that he did not see the express until too late to do anything. The horse was killed, the wagon smashed into splinters and Merle's body was terribly crushed, nearly every bone being broken. A fracture of the skull caused instant death.

That the engineer of the train did not see the rig on the crossing seems evident for, it is said, that he did not blow the whistle. The train ran some distance after striking the rig. It then stopped and later continued its journey.

The body was removed to Runyon's morgue at Dunellen, and later taken to the home in New Market. It was reported early in the evening that Merle's boy was in the wagon with him, but investiagtion proved this to be untrue. Merle was born in France in 1860 and came to this country when a boy. He ran a commission bakery wagon for some time, having bought out "Mayor" Bill Smith, of New Market. He gave up this business a few months ago and engaged in the milk business. He is survived by a wife and two children.

An investigation of the accident is being made by officials of the New Jersey Central.

CORESPONDENT DETERMINED.

Rev. Dr. Van DeWater Still Anxious to Clear His Name.

Rev. George R. Van De Water, of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, New York, declares he is going to clear his name in the Watt divorce case. In an interview he is reported as saying: "Mrs. Adele Watt may have obtained her desire," he said, "but I have not mine. I intend to fight this out to the end, and have the falsity of all charges against me determined absolutely and for all time in the court. I am thankful for, but am not content with, the trust and confidence of my parishioners. I don't know just how my hearing is to come about, but if I have to employ all the lawyers in New York city I will see that my good name is cleared of the slightest question in doubt. This can be done and will be done, if not in one way, in some other."

Reform Club Meeting.

John Edward Brown, the former Brooklyn policeman, and Charles Weiberg, both of the 146th street mission of New York city, were the leaders at last night's meeting of the Reform Club in Reform Hall. Singing was by W. C. Smith and others. The attendance was large.

"The Laird of Borderland" and "Alexander," in "Mother Goose," at the New Amsterdam.

AMUSEMENTS.

Klaw & Erlanger's Drury Lane spectacle, "Mother Goose," has made a tremendous hit at the New Amsterdam Theatre and is playing to the largest attendance in New York. It is not only a great comic musical entertainment, but a distinctively artistic one as well. Beneath all the wit and humor of the book, the fascinating music and the gorgeousness of the stage settings and costumes, there is a moral to its story which adds greatly to its interest—"Contentment." The two great ballets far surpass anything of the kind ever presented here. The Nouveau art ballet at the end of the first act is a most gorgeous conception, showing in processions, ballets and tableaux all the fine arts. Nearly 400 people are utilized in the exposition of this wonderfully beautiful idea. At the end of the second act, "The Land of Heartsease," the great feature of the production is seen, eclipsing even the grand ballet of the first act. That "Mother Geese" is the greatest production of this character ever seen in America is generally accepted as a fact, by all critics, theatrical managers and the public. The demand for seats is phenomenal. Orders for seats for any performance in the next four weeks may be sent by mail, accompanied by remittance. All such orders will be promptly responded to by the mail order bureau of the New Amsterdam Theatre.

After being entertained and sometimes satiated, and not infrequently bored with all manner of serio comic drama, with the conventional and unconventional, the musical comedy, farce and farce-comedy, the society drama, the heroic melodrama and all that, it is a genuine relief to turn to a play like "'Way Down East," which returned to the Academy of Music, New York, Monday night, as one would turn to fragrant breezes from the heart of the woods after enduring the heat and the burden of the day. "'Way Down East" does not boast one person who speaks good grammar except the city villain. One remarkable thing about the present production at the Academy in the manner in which the cast has been kept up to its original standard of excellence. The majority of the men and women in the present company has been playing in "'Way Down East" since it was first produced. During the engagement matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday and extra matinees on Christmas and New Year's day.

Practical Xmas Gifts.

There is nothing cheap or cheap looking about the men's and boys' clothing, overcoats or men's furnishings at Harry Werner's clothing store on West Front street. Others sacrifice quality for price. Not so with Mr. Werner. He sells only the best quality and yet his prices are reasonable. He guarantees every garment that leaves his store to be the best in quality and workmanship, in fact he will not allow a customer to go away dissatisfied. A sensible holiday present would be a suit of clothes or an overcoat and if you trade with Mr. Werner you will never have cause to regret it.

Clothing on Credit.

Not every person has the ready cash to buy clothing and for those who do not, the People's Credit Clothing Company, on East Front street, is a reliable place to purchase either men's or women's clothing on the credit system. The goods handled are of the best possible quality and are just as represented. The credit system of this house is also of the best and every transaction is on a fair basis. The company would be pleased to have you examine the goods and, if you want to buy, the most advantageous terms will be made on the deal.

Xmas Hardware.

A. M. Griffen is making a specialty of Christmas hardware. At his store on East Front street, he has a most complete stock of all kinds of useful presents for Christmas. The best table cutlery is to be secured at a hardware store. A. M. Griffen is the leading merchant in this line in the city, and the best prices can be secured there. He has a full stock of mineral wool which is safer to use on a Christmas tree than ordinary cotton. It is fire p[illegible] f.

Holiday Millinery.

At H. A. Bonn's millinery store on West Front street, exclusive designs for women's headgear can be secured at the right prices. Bonn has been preparing for the Christmas trade for several months. He has secured the very latest designs from abroad and his skillful milliners make these to order at prices compatable with good work. Bonn has a stock which should be seen by every prospective Christmas purchaser. The exclusiveness of his designs heave made the name of Bonn almost a household word in this part of the State. High quality and good workmanship are characteristics of his store. See his ad in The Daily Press and then visit his place of business.

Christmas Clothes.

A substantial gift for the holidays is a suit of clothes or an overcoat and the best place to purchase such things is at M. Weinberger's clothing store on West Front street. There is no more complete stock of men's and boys' clothing in the city. You are sure to get big values. Mr. Weinberger always has the best goods and quality, make and finish. There was a time when a person could only afford one suit of clothes a year, but Mr. Weinberger has made it possible for the people to have two or three suits. He has made elaborate preparations for a big holiday trade.

Best Place for Jewelry.

The great variety in the stock at J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store on Park avenue, makes this an ideal place at which to select a holiday, birthday or wedding present. Mr. Doane has taken particular care this season in securing a large stock of goldware, silverware, diamonds, watches and in fact everything in the jewelry line.

PRAISES J. DUNBAR WRIGHT

LECTURE GIVEN BY BROTHER OF MRS. J. B. DUMONT WELL RECEIVED.

J. Dunbar Wright, a brother of Mrs. John B. Dumont, has consented to give a lecture here for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. It will take place at the Park Club's home Tuesday night, Dec. 29. The New York Herald, on Wednesday, contained this flattering account of Mr. Wright's address in that city the previous night:

"When Mr. J. Dunbar Wright gives a travel talk before the Automobile Club of America he packs the house. His enthusiasm for automobiling is incidental to his enthusiasm for travel of any kind, and, carrying camera and notebook with him in periodical jaunts to the ends of the earth, his friends later share some of the pleasures of worldwide journeys with none of their discomforts. Last night Mr. Wright carried one hundred and fifty of his club mates with him in a pictorial trip through the Yellowstone and over the Canadian Rockies. Not since the famous meeting to discuss the Bailey bill, and perhaps not even then, had so many members crowded into the assembly rooms of the club, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-eighth street.

"Mr. Wright had travelled through Yellowstone Park and over the Canadian Rockies under exceptionally favorable auspices, having a government office connected with the reservation to direct him in the former and experienced Swiss guides to help him in the ascents of the latter. One hundred and fifty views, most of them of scenes never before photographed, exhibited the variety, and often the perilousness, of his travels to the automobilists. These pictures, taken by Mr. Wright himself, were illustrated on canvas in the in which the lecturer had viewed the original scenes.

"One moment the club members were taken on a fishing expedition to a river at the bottom of a giant canon. Another they made the ascent of great glaciers, or climbed the peakes of the Rockies that few, if any, had climbed before. The mountains were explored from Vancouver to Banff.

"The lecture is to be repeated at Plainfield, N. J., on December 29 for the benefit of the Muhlenberg Hospital, of New Jersey. Mr. Wright will sail on January 19 on a tour around the world that may not be concluded until the middle of the summer. His longest stops will be made in Egypt, Ceylon and China, and he has arranged for the employment of an automobile in Egypt, many of the roads of which country, he says, are excellent."

MISSIONARY TALK.

Rev. J. W. Kirk, From Alaska, to Speak at Crescent Avenue Church Y. P. A. Meeting.

The Young People's Association, of the Crescent Avenue Church, will hold an interesting meeting tonight at 8 o'clock. An address will be made by Rev. J. W. Kirk, a Presbyterian missionary stationed at Eagle City, Alaska. Mr. Kirk is one of the best missionary speakers in the service of the Church. So great is the demand upon his time as a speaker, that the association is very fortunate in securing him for this evening. It is hoped that a large number will take advantage of this opportunity to hear an interesting presentation of home missions in Alaska.

Santa Claus' Hangout.

Few people will realize how much Christmas money can be saved by visiting I. H. Boehm's store on West Front street. As usual that store is Santa Claus' headquarters. He has a display of toys there which is a delight to the children. Christmas gifts for everybody. His line of holiday goods cannot be equalled, the doll department is a little city of figures in wax and the toy department is a perfect fairy land for the youngsters. I. H. Boehm leads in Christmas novelties. His big store is resplendant with tempting bargains. Read his ad and visit his store.

For the Fastidious.

If there is any time of the year when it is most desirable to "Come to Pecks" it is at Christmas time. It is at this season of the year the West Front street store is a perfect emporium of laces, handkerchiefs, embroideries, and ladies' wear. His special line of kid gloves is the special delight of women who are fastidious about their gloves. Peck has an exclusive stock which makes his place one of the foremost places in the city to secure the finest line of holiday gifts. A golden opportunity of securing the best at right prices, is lost if a visit is not made to Pecks. See his ad.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sandford, who recently returned from their honeymoon to the West Indies, and who have been visiting Plainfield relatives for a short time, are now living at Englewood.

EXEMPT FIREMEN PLAN CLUB-ROOM

Suggestion Made to Fit Up Meeting Hall As a Place for Social Enjoyment.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN

MATTER MAY BE DECIDED AT NEXT SESSION OF ORGANIZATION.

Trophies of Days When Volunteer Firemen Were in Control to be Exhibited—One Hundred Members of Organization Here.

There is a movement on foot among the ranks of the exempt firemen in this city to make their rooms a club room which will be thrown open to the uses of the members and their friends. The rooms are located in the Coward building on Park avenue and are in every way adapted to the uses which the members intend putting them.

At the last meeting of the members this proposition was discussed. Recently the lodges who have been meeting in the Exempts' rooms have taken quarters in the newly remodeled Babcock building and the rooms have not been occupied by any other organization. It is said that the majority of the members are in favor of throwing open the rooms as a meeting place for the members and to provide reading matter and make of the place somewhat of a club.

If the present plans carry, it is stated that the Exempts will make a display of the hundreds of fire department souvenirs which tell in their silent way of the days the volunteer department was the sole protection against fire in this city. Included in the display is a silver hose carriage, regulation size, which was at one time the property of the old Amity Hose Company, one of the first volunteer organizations in New York City. The local exempts have secured the old relic and it is planned to clean up the old carriage and place it on exhibition in their rooms. Trumpets, badges, relics of fires and newspaper accounts of the work of the firemen fill several trunks and, if enough interest can be manifested by the members in the project, these will be encased in glass and exhibited in their rooms.

There are now 100 members of the Exempts in this city and North Plainfield. If the North Plainfield system becomes a paid department there will be many more firemen who will be entitled to the privileges of exemption. If the Exempts can be induced to take an interest in the new move, the success of the scheme will be assured.

The older members are in favor of the plans to make the rooms into a reading room and it is said that at the next meeting further details will be arranged.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

New York City for the next Democratic convention! Yes, by all means, there is no other place in this country better suited, both as to place in which to hold a convention, as to hotel accommodations. And then New York is needed for us to win, and the convention in New York would be a great help in that direction. Congressman Sulzer is all right in his advocacy of the Metropolis as the place.

J. E. Martine.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I see by last night's Daily Press that the Common Council of North Plainfield has resolved to have a paid fire department in North Plainfield and being a resident and tax payer of the borough I deem it an unnecessary move on the part of the councilmen at this early date. North Plainfield is too small a place for paid firemen and as the taxes are now much higher than is good for the growth of the borough, I think it an unwise move on their part. It seems to me that the firemen and councilmen could come to some agreement whereby it would save the borough from increasing its taxes and thus compelling those that own property in the borough from moving elsewhere.

It does not, to be sure, tell how to extract green cheese from the moon, but everything worth knowing about the theory or practice of farming is treated by men recognized as experts in their various lines. But The Tribune Farmer does more than supply such valuable information. It keeps the farmer in touch with all the latest improvements by text and pictures, and pays special attention to the work being done at agricultural colleges all over the country.

You can rely upon everything you buy of Giles. His Christmas turkeys are unsurpassed in quality. They will make you wish that Christmas came more than once a year. Try for yourself. We don't ask you to take our word for it. The best ad for Giles' meats is their quality.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

DAINTY GOWNS.

Increasing Fullness of Waists and Skirts a Feature.

Great fullness with horizontal trimmings in both waists and skirts is one of the newest features of dress.

A dainty dancing gown of white mull spotted in black seen lately had a gauged waist falling off the shoulders, disclosing a bertha of black lace over white chiffon edged with black tulle ruching. Across the waist and intersecting the skirt in three places this wavy banding of lace occurred. The sleeves were mere puffs of mull and chiffon, ending at the elbow. There was a broad girdle of black chiffon velours, and the skirt hung in full folds both back and front.

Another evening gown which possessed chic had its waist composed of a bolero of lace, with lace caps from which escaped three ruffles which formed the sleeves. The skirt had a slightly fulled upper part, reaching about as far as a hip yoke, and the rest was all ruffles graduated in width.

BRIDESMAID'S FROCK.

Motifs of lace, laid on gold colored satin and surrounded with scrolls of very narrow gold cord or braid, make an uncommon trimming for cream or ivory cloth, and a collar of mink or skunk, intermixed with old lace, looks charming on a white wrap.

The picture shows a bridesmaid's frock made of chiffon voile. The fichu and wide sleeve ruffles go well with the picture hat. JUDIC CHOLLET.

NOVELTIES OF THE SEASON

Usefulness of Chiffon Velvet—Moire Cloth Just Coming In.

Chiffon velvet is used for a variety of things, including hats. The fact that it is one-half the weight of ordinary velvet makes it very valuable in millinery.

Evening coats are made of richly tinted, heavy lace trimmed with a fringe made of the thread of which the lace itself is composed. These coats, to give them warmth, are lined with chiffon velvet.

Among the novelties of the season is moire cloth which is stamped by machinery into a beautiful imitation of watered silk and is very well suited for handsome street costumes.

A gown made of silk poplin seen recently had full sleeves, cut cape fashion, together with the loose bolero. It had no shoulder seams. These very loose boleros, ending well above the waist line, are considered smart just now. They are trimmed with bands and figurings of velvet, and the skirts which go with them are very full and are decorated with similar bands.

CHIFFON VELVET HATS.

A novelty in girdles is of fancy tinsel, ornamented with gilt harness buckle and double ring backpiece and lined with black silk, which forms an edge to the surface of the belt. Another novelty is the threefold taffeta belt, with an oxidized buckle and backpiece in the form of a bat with spread wings. Crushed leather is, however, the feature of the moment, greens, grays, tans and browns being the favorite colors.

The cut shows hats of chiffon velvet trimmed with soft ribbon rosettes.

OUR CHICAGO LETTER

The Financial Mystery of Zion City Is Still Unsolved.

DOWIE AND HIS CREDITORS

Reign of the Thug Has Terrorized Chicago—Efforts for Their Suppression—Schools in Which Crime Is Taught.

Chicago.—The application for the appointment of receivers for Zion City did not come as a surprise to the people of this city, where Dowie is probably better known than anywhere else in this country. Among the unbelievers a financial smash of great magnitude had been the general prediction for some months.

John Alexander Dowie

Zion City has been a mystery. In fact, it is still a mystery. The curiosity of the public has been fed with a mass of figures representing bills against Dr. Dowie, with estimates of possible assets, with figures given by the general overseer himself as to his financial standing; but there has been but little that gives anything like a clear insight into the ways and methods of Zion.

In fact, the mystery has but deepened because of the seeming faith placed in the institution and its head by the concerns having claims against it. Before the receivers were appointed more than 50 firms had filed suits against Dowie for goods furnished him. What they were asking were judgments, the forcible collection of which would have meant the appointment of receivers, and yet when the receivers are appointed they protest against it, and the majority ask that the receivership be dissolved, and that the venerable head of the Christian Catholic church be permitted to continue his operations.

It looks very much as though these men, at least, now understand the financial possibilities of Zion; that they have been given an insight into the methods of Dowie, and know that he is in a position to pay if let alone. Dowie, himself, claims assets of more than $14,000,000 over and above his liabilities, and says he is in no way financially embarrassed. The receivership is expensive, and if Zion is solvent, it but helps to eat up the funds that might otherwise go to creditors, and force the community into bankruptcy. The whole thing is a mystery from which the public have gained but little light.

The Tithes.

It is more than possible that the creditors see an opportunity in the tithes being paid in to Dowie. Among the estimates that have been given out is one relating to this part of Dowie's income, and it says the contributions of the faithful amount to some $7,500 monthly. This, probably, accounts for many things that have before been so deep a mystery. It may account for the payment of dividends on lace factory stock which have, as a rule, been paid promptly.

Contributing Their Tithes

To imagine that these tithes come exclusively from the poor is to imagine a grave mistake. Since the present troubles at Zion City began it has been demonstrated that all of Dowie's followers are neither illiterate or poverty stricken. Before the receivers had been in charge three days a mysterious stranger, said to be a wealthy Milwaukee banker, was on the ground with offers of assistance to the extent of $200,000. This was not advertised as a gift, but as a loan from the personal resources of the banker. Another offer of $50,000 came from a New York woman who was willing to trust the general overseer with that amount at five per cent. interest, and who evidently did so, not from motives of gain, but because of belief in Dowie.

From the fact that a majority of the creditors protested against the continuance of the receivership, it is evident that whether the merchants with whom he does business believe in his religious claims or not, they do believe in his ability to raise funds when they are needed, and that they prefer to take their chances on his ability to do so rather than have the available assets disposed of for what they will bring. They believe Dowie in power is a valuable asset.

Reign of the Thug.

The capture and confession of the street car barn murderers has produced a new spasm of morality in Chicago. The thugs are being hunted down, and either driven from the city or confined within the walls of the bridewell—for a period.

In Line of Duty

And it is time. Eight policemen killed within a period of three years is the record of the thugs in that line alone. It would take much larger figures to tell the number of murders of civilians committed if I had the statistics. It had reached the point where the policeman took his life in his hands every time he went on duty. The patrolman and the detective were both exposed to the unerring aim of the murderous thug.

There is no doubt that the Chicago police force is far from a model one in many respects. The Hermann "graft" committee investigations have proven that some of the force are not above taking "protection" money from the vicious classes, and it is this protection which has brought about the reign of the thug in the city. But on the other hand there are as brave men on the Chicago police force, men as true to their duty to the public which they serve, as may be found in any other city in America, and it is the true man who has suffered for the shortcomings of the faithless ones.

Detective Quinn was one of the true men. He was neither a fool nor a coward. He met death in the performance of duty, as did seven others of his companions of the force within the last three years. Had he shot Marx without warning, and without the confession Marx afterwards made, he would have been criticised as being "too free with his gun." When he did not do so and suffered the penalty the public called him a fool for letting a bad man get the best of him. But he was neither. He was just a conscientious official. He knew nothing of the desperateness of the man he had gone to arrest, a man who was the outgrowth of conditions the unfaithful of the force had permitted and assisted to grow.

Schools for Crime.

Every large city has its schools for crime. Some of them operate openly and are well supported by the general public. Such, for instance, is the dime museum, which finds its opportunity in catering to the morbid curiosity of the public.

Educating the Small Boy

Almost before the companions of Marx had been landed behind the bars of the police station the dugout in which they had made so desperate a stand in the sand dunes of Indiana was on exhibition in Chicago. The exhibition of this was quickly followed by the exhibition of the sweetheart of Van Dine. The public flocked to see both of these objects. They were especially attractive to the small boy of the city, and around them he built a romance, with the murderers as the heroes. Since their exhibition every open lot of Chicago has witnessed a rehearsal of the Indiana tragedy that has brought out all the inert viciousness of the average small boy, and has started many of them on the road to crime. The city council propose to put a stop to exhibitions of this kind, and when it does so it will have closed one of the schools for crime in this city.

The all-night saloon is another of these schools for crime; the dance hall that is open to the drunken revelers of a city at all hours of the night is yet another. Both of these are, for a time, under the ban. If they stay closed two other of Chicago's schools for crime will have passed out of existence. Take away from the small boy the yellow-back novel and still another will have been removed. This making heroes of criminals is but the making of criminals of boys who otherwise might be heroes.

Faith in Humanity.

That Chicago is not all bad is proven by the trust the State street merchants place in humanity. At no time in the year is this trust so exemplified as during the holiday shopping season.

Having It Charged

At the stores where the better class of trade is catered to the "charge" account is the rule rather than the exception. During the month of December, especially, more money goes onto the books than into the cash drawer. The people buy Christmas presents and have them charged, and the merchants trust them.

It is not a hard matter, this opening an account with the big stores. Almost any family, the head of which holds a fairly responsible position in which there is any promise of permanency, can secure credit to the extent of from $25 per month upwards, and the losses to the merchants from these accounts are so small as to be comparatively insignificant to the volume of business transacted.

But the faith in humanity goes further than the mere trusting them for merchandise. Half the people who buy Christmas presents not only want them charged, but they want to take them with them. The salesman or the floorwalker has no means of knowing whether the person purchasing is the one who has the account or not—the town is too big to know everybody—they cannot ask impertinent questions, that would drive away trade, so they deliver the goods and the purchaser walks away with them without having paid a cent, and upon their own guarantee that they have an account there and will pay the bill the first of the month. There is no other city in the world where the merchants place so much faith in humanity.

MESSMER IS NAMED.

Green Bay Prelate Will Take Place of Archbishop Katzer.

Selection Made by Congregation of the Propaganda Pleases Catholic Laity and Clergy in State of Wisconsin.

The report that the congregation of the propaganda at Rome has decided to propose to the pope the appointment of Bishop Sebastian Gebhard Messmer, of Green Bay, Wis., as archbishop of Milwaukee in succession to the late Archbishop Katzer is confirmed.

Roman Catholics at Milwaukee are much pleased with the selection of Bishop Messmer, of Green Bay, to succeed Archbishop Katzer. Father Augustin Schinner, administrator of the Milwaukee diocese, who was prominently mentioned himself for the succession, said:

"I expected the selection of Bishop Messmer all the time. I have no doubt he will be welcome here. He is a man of great ability."

H. J. Desmond, editor of the Catholic Citizen, said: "The appointment of Bishop Messmer is not surprising. He may be looked upon as logically in line for such promotion. From personal acquaintance I have learned to esteem him highly. He is notably interested in all those movements which aim at the moral, intellectual and social improvement of the laity. In those matters where there are chances of differences of opinion Bishop Messmer always has been classed with the conservative element."

"It is a very good choice," said Very Rev. Joseph Rainer, rector of the Seminary at St. Francis. "Bishop Messmer is a learned man and a progressive one. While he has not received unanimous support in this diocese, the difference of opinion has not been vital, and all will be pleased at the selection."

Bishop Messmer is an eloquent prelate, one of the leaders of the German Roman Catholics of America. He is a native of Switzerland, where he was born at Goldach, Canton St. Gall, on August 29, 1847. He received his education at Innsbruck, Austria, going thence to Rome to pursue his ecclesiastical studies, and he came to this country when quite a young man. He was ordained to the priesthood on July 23, 1871, and for a number of years was a professor at Seton Hall seminary, near South Orange, N. J. He left that institution to become a professor in the Catholic university at Washington, and later was made rector of St. Peter's church at Newark, N. J. It was from the latter parish that he was sent to this diocese, being consecrated as bishop here March 27, 1892.

BISHOP S. G. MESSMER.
(Chosen by Propaganda to Succeed to the Archbishopric of Milwaukee.)

During his administration of this diocese Bishop Messmer has become highly popular, and his government of church affairs has given general satisfaction. He is noted for his learning and piety, and frequently his advice is sought by clergy outside the diocese on questions connected with canon law, in which he is well versed.

While in New Jersey Father Messmer became prominent with Bishop McFaul in organizing the National Federation of Catholic societies, and at the time became very intimate with Cardinal Martinelli, who then represented the holy see as ablegate at Washington. In 1892 Bishop Messmer was spoken of as archbishop to Manila, but the authorities at Rome thought it best to have him remain in his present position.

At the meeting of Catholic societies in Chicago in August, 1902, Bishop Messmer made a notable address in relation to the friars in the Philippines.

Archbishop Ireland, it will be remembered, had urged Roman Catholics not to embarrass the Roosevelt administration in its treatment of the friars, but Bishop Messmer asserted that Roman Catholics would be unjustifiably weak if they did not deal with what public questions they chose, no matter whether the discussion of these questions had been interdicted by certain church authorities. Said the bishop:

"Now, to be a good citizen it is necessary that a man have an inteligent understanding of all questions in which his country is involved. He must proceed with a clear mind to the discussion of all these issues, and must lend his aid and influence to their just settlement. He should not be deterred from this patriotic duty by any outside consideration, and, although the Catholic citizen should act in accord with his spiritual advisers, he should remain firm in what he knows is the right path."

An Enormous Wine Cellar.

The most capacious wine cellar in the world is owned by the Roumanian government. A railway tunnel 2,600 feet long between Galatz and Barboshi could not be used for railway purposes, because of inferior construction. It was leased to a wine dealer, who has turned it into a storehouse for wines.

PARIS' DOG CEMETERY

An Elaborate Burying Place for Pet Canines.

Located on an Island in the River Seine and Well Patronized by the Sentimental Rich—Rules and Regulations.

A dog cemetery is one of the sentimental luxuries of the elite of Paris. It is not within the limits of the city proper, but is located on an island in the Seine just beyond Clichy and Asnieres. The concierge charges 50 centimes (about 10 cents) for admission and the visitor enters through the fine arched gateway built of dressed stone. Almost at the entrance is the fine monument erected to "Barry," the famous St. Bernard dog who saved 40 lives and then perished in the attempt to save the forty-first. On the face of this monument, which is massive and about eight feet tall, the form of "Barry" has been carved in relief, the dog being represented in the act of effecting a rescue. This monument was executed by M. Henri Edeline, the official sculptor of the institution.

A plain grave without a headstone may be had for four shillings, and the body is removed on a little wagon for a similar sum. The graves are leased, not sold. The charge for a five years' leare is £1, for ten £2, for 20 £3, and for 30 £4. Very stringent rules forbid the use of ceremonies or decorations such as are used at the funerals of human beings. No cross may be erected over an animal or bird, for all pets may be interred here.

There are no restrictions, however, as to the amount of expense which may be incurred in the monuments for the graves. Many are expensive and elaborate. Several consist of carvings out of a solid block of stone representing a dog's kennel, over the door to which the name of the deceased animal is placed in bold lettering, and generally on some other part of the stone is inscribed some merits of the animal or some words of sentiment.

One very striking monument in the cemetery is that of a large peacock which perches on a massive urn round which is entwined a wreath. The base to this monument is a huge jagged pile of stone. Another monument of special interest and conspicuous both for its size and elaborateness is one erected to the founder of the cemetery, George Harmois.

The inscriptions on the monuments are of a curious and in some cases exaggerated sentimentality. Tola Dorian, the author, says on her pets' tombstone that if she "cannot accompany the dear and noble animals, she does not wish for Heaven;" and on "Follette's" grave a mourner has placed these words: "My dear Follette, thou who wert always faithful and intelligent, we regret thee much; repose in peace." On a tombstone erected to "Boby" it is declared that he was "too affectionate to live." The Princess Pignatelli has interred her pet "Emma" in the cemetery and over her grave has placed a beautifully carved monument on which are inscribed the words: "The sole friend of a wandering and desolate life." Another stone bears the words: "He was not large, but he had good teeth." It marks the grave of a dog named "Bijou," who saved his mistress from the attack of a criminal. The grave of an English dog named "Bob" has a fine monument to mark it.

The visitor to the cemetery will not fail to notice near the entrance a row of battered and discarded tombstones and will be filled with curiosity to know what they are. These are the stones which have been removed from the graves on which the leases have expired and which the owners have failed to renew through neglect or forgetfulness. It is safe to say that Paris' dog cemetery has no counterpart in any other country or part of the globe.

"Oh, the girls and I can make you a beautiful hat rack."—Jewelers' Weekly.

GIVE THE MEN A FAIR SHOW

THE CLOTHES OF THE BRIDE AND HER MAIDS ARE NOT THE WHOLE THING.

James Fitzbruce and Miss Fannette Jeems were married in the Fifth Ward Church last night by Rev. Dr. Komes. The bride was given away by her father, John Jeems, the well-known hardware man.

The bridegroom wore coat and trousers of black broadcloth, a white linen waistcoat with three buttons, a Chinese-laundered shirt, a standup collar and a white tie. His shirt studs were of pearl, with gold-backs, and fastened in with a snap. The lapel of his coat was of black silk, and his trousers had raised seams down the sides and two hip pockets. Also he wore white kid gloves, a pink rose and patent leather pumps.

Dietrich Thurston was best man. He wore clothes like the bridegroom's, with the single exception that his shoes were of vici kid. The bride's father wore a Prince Albert coat, trousers to match, a black cravat and a tuberose. He parted of it. The ushers were tastefully dressed in broadcloth evening clothes, and the suit of one of the ushers was rented. The sexton, who took tickets at the door, wore blue trousers, a faded green coat, shirt. He kept his overshoes on during the ceremony.

The bride and her maids wore conventional white.

The young couple left on the 9 o'clock train for Washington.—Newark News.

Not After State Board.

The story that Attorney R. V. Lindabury had discovered that the State Board of Taaxtion had no legal existence and that he would make things unpleasant for it at its meeting yesterday met with a setback when Mr. Lindabury walked into the office of the board at Trenton and declared that he had no such intention.

Swackhamer's Position.

Mr. Swackhamer was with the majority in Somerset County, but he will be with the minority when he reaches Trenton.

But that fact will not act as a muzzle upon Mr. Swackhamer. He will be found on his feet when there is a chance to tell a good story or to lambaste a corporation.

It is not necessary to say to those who are acquainted with the gentleman, that he is capable of performing both tricks to the delight of his audience.—Trenton State Gazette.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Dufford have removed from New street to the corner of Sixth and Division streets.

—A menagerie consisting of three wagon loads of animals and curiosities passed through Second street yesterday afternoon and attracted much attention.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Dunellen, who has been visiting Plainfield friends for a short time, has returned home.

LITTLE MEADOW MICE

The Naturalist Finds in Them an Interesting Subject.

How One Industrious Creature Tunneled Under His Bootleg—Nest Full of Baby Mice.

It was a bright morning in the late summer, and, clad in rubber hip boots and a waterproof coat, I lay in the wet grass at the edge of a swamp watching a family of muskrats, who were busy with some work which I was anxious to see more of. But they were not in the least interested in my observations, and inconsiderately moved away long before I had finished with them. I was about to follow when something moving in the grass nearby attracted my attention. There was something pushing its way along under some matted dead grass, which heaved up every few moments, as it was pushed upward with irregular jerky movements. Presently, at a spot where the grass was thin, there was poked out a little dark-brown head with a blunt, bewhiskered, trembling muzzle, black, beady eyes, and short ears, almost buried in the fur. It was the head of a meadow mouse, one of the myriad little beings which live their harmless, quiet lives in our low-lying fields and meadows, and of which most of us see nothing save an occasional specimen brought in by the cat. The little creature before me looked about for a moment, and, seeing nothing to alarm her, came boldly into the open. Her body, which was the same color as her head, was round and rather stout, and terminated in a very short, straight tail. The legs were also very short, and the body seemed to touch ground as the little creature moved. She nosed about for a few moments, and then stood upright on her hind legs, with her forepaws hanging down in front, turning her head first this way and then that, in order to get a good view of her surroundings. Nothing alarmed her, so down she dropped on all fours again, and came straight toward me. The first obstacle which she encountered was my leg, and to the problem of getting past this huge barrier she gave her entire attention. First of all she pushed her nose as far as possible under my rubber boot, and tried to pass under it, as she had passed under the grass, by lifting it up with her head. But the leg was too heavy, so this plan was abandoned. There was nothing for it but hard work, so she set to, digging away with both forepaws, looking up every now and then with her bright eyes shining through a ring of mud. Whenever a little heap of mould had been scraped under the body, the hind feet were brought into play, and with these the dirt was flung away in the rear. When roots were encountered they were bitten through with the teeth, and once I saw the little mouse bring out a stone in her mouth. It was but a short time before the subway was complete, and the furry engineer come out upon the other side. The knee of my other leg was bent, so there was no difficulty in passing under that one, and away went the mouse until she came to a little mound of drifted rubbish. She seized the end of a long piece of grass in her mouth, and ran off with it at full speed through the little tunnels she had made, and back to the meadow. She was gone for a few moments and then she reappeared, made another trip to the pile of rubbish and back with a mouthful of it. I saw this done several times, and then I followed to see what was done with the grass. In the meadow close by I found what I expected, a sphere of dried grass somewhat larger than a baseball, lying right upon the surface of the ground. Somewhere underneath it was the mouse herself, for she popped out as I approached.

A few days later—it was the first of September, I remember—I visited the nest again, and in it were eight newly-born mice, blind and hairless, whose stocky build and wrinkled skin suggested young hippipotamii, seen through a reducing glass. I called again the next day, but the nest was empty; the mother had probably spirited the babies away to a new and more secluded home. This instinct to save the lives of their young by removing them from a nest which is known to their enemies, is common to many animals, but seems particularly strong in the meadow mouse.

The meadow mouse is one of the commonest animals in North America; that it is not more often seen is due partly to the fact that it is chiefly nocturnal in its habits, and partly to its quiet, inoffensive ways. Nevertheless, wherever it goes, it leaves traces of its presence, in the form of little footpaths winding about among the grass roots which extend in every direction. These footpaths are first cleared by the biting off of such grass roots as stand in the way, and are further deepened by constant use.

DIVIDED ON FIRE SCHEME

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION IN BOROUGH REGARDING CHANGE IN DEPARTMENT.

Fire department circles in North Plainfield have been stirred to a high pitch since the resolution was passed in the Council Wednesday night, wherein the Corporation Counsel was authorized to draw up an ordinance making the volunteer system a paid department. Naturally the firemen are opposed to the scheme, claiming that the time is not ripe for a paid department in the borough. Until the next meeting of the Company which takes place Tuesday night, January 5, none of the members will speak for publication.

A number of prominent borough citizens have been asked their views on the question of a paid fire department and while some of them are opposed to the plan on the ground that other improvements are more necessary in the borough, there are others who say that the paid department is a necessity. While they declare that the services rendered the borough by the volunteer fire department have been beyond reproach they believe that in the long run it will be cheaper, when exemption from taxes is taken into consideration.

It is said that the North Plainfield fire department has been conducted on a more economical basis than any other department in the same sized community in the State. Although $1,800 is appropriated every year for the use of the fire department it is seldom that the expenses exceed $1,200 and very often it is less than a thousand dollars. This year, so far it is only $900. It has been said that if the change is made it will necessitate a large outlay of public moneys which can best be spent in another direction, such as the widening of Somerset street, new sewers and additional school facilities. This is the strongest argument advanced by many against the proposed change.

The firemen maintain silence as to their plans but it is said, and on good authority, that it is proposed to petition the Council to reconsider the action taken at the last meeting and to allow the company to disband and reorganize under the present name.

ROSELLE VANQUISHED BY WESTFIELD TEAM

Westfield Aggregation Wins Easily in a Series of the Daily Press Bowling Tournament.

THREE STRAIGHT TAKEN

NO HIGH INDIVIDUAL SCORING DONE BY EITHER SIDE.

Game Scheduled Between Park Club and Cranford Casino Postponed Until Wednesday Night—The Westfield-Roselle Score.

In a series of games between Westfield Club and Roselle Casino on the alleys of the former club, last night, the home team improved its standing in The Daily Press League tournament by winning three straight. These teams have thus far shown themselves to be the strongest in the league and there was much guessing as to the result of these first games. Westfield carried off the honors easily, taking the first game by a score of 839 to 767, the second by a score of 785 to 733 and the third by a score of 815 to 788. The Roselle team did not appear up to its usual standard.

A glance through the individual scores does not show the true strength of the teams. They were all of the ordinary kind. Many splits throughout the series were responsible for the rather poor results. Hegeman was high man for Westfield with a score of 191 in the third game, while C. Smith made a 187 and Condit made a 180 in the first game. Forster did well in the second and third games, making a 181 and 175. The other scores were much lower.

For the visiting team Howe was high man with a 191 in the third game, while Mulford was next with a 188 in the first game. Third high man was Harris who rolled 170 in the first game. The balance of the scores were somewhat below the average.

Cranford Casino was scheduled to roll the Parks on the local alleys last night, but through the failure of Cranford to notify the Parks early enough the game was called off. It will probably be rolled Wednesday night, December 23.

These were the scores for last night's series:

WESTFIELD.
H. R. Forster	156	181	175
F. P. Condit	180	145	157
C. Smith	187	157	147
C. Halsted	146	157	145
F. Hegeman	170	145	191
	839	785	815
ROSELLE.
S. Smith	129	148	157
Hammen	137	146	117
Harris	170	120	164
Howe	143	155	161
Mulford	188	164	159

ANOTHER SITE FOR PARK

SUGGESTION THAT ONE BE ESTABLISHED ON GIRAUD AVENUE.

The statement recently made by Borough Councilman J. K. Arnold that Plainfield had given up the project of locating a city park near Randolph road and his presentation and adoption of a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to confer with a similar committee from the Common Council of Plainfield regarding the establishment of such a park on the Boice property on Elm place, has been received more or less favorably.

There are many persons who believe that in the Western part of the city there is a better opportunity to locate a park for the city and borough. There is a strip of land extending from Giraud avenue through to Compton avenue that some consider would make an ideal place for a park. There is plenty of natural shade on both sides of the brook and the scene is picturesque from any point in that vicinity.

There are so many natural advantages in this strip and the cost of establishing a park there would be materially lessened. Then the fact that an avenue is in the near future to be opened from Compton avenue in the city to Myrtle avenue in the borough, would add to the value of this site.

CONDUCTORS MUST FURNISH A BOND

Public Service Corporation Will Introduce Innovations on Trolley Lines.

TO TAKE EFFECT JAN. 1

FARES TO BE TURNED IN BY CONDUCTORS ONLY TWICE A DAY.

General Manager Orders Change at Meeting of District Superindents at Jersey City—Bond to be for Sum of $50.

The Public Service Corporation, on January 1, will make a sweeping change in the present system of turning in the nickels received by the conductors. For years it has been the practice for the conductor at the end of his trip to make out his slip of fares and hand it to the receiving department. Under the new plan the conductor will hand over his fares twice a day at the car barn, which, in future will be the only receiving station, and every conductor will be required to furnish a bond of $50.

The weekly meeting yesterday of General Manager W. Wheatly and the division superintendents was a protracted one and many reforms were discussed. After it was over Secretary Frederick Evans of the corporation announced the proposed change in the receiving system.

"Yes," said he, "we intend to transfer the existing receiving station to the car barns, and we think the plan will facilitate the business of the corporation."

The news of the bonding of conductors was not received with unmixed pleasure, and the result will be that many men will lose their jobs at the end of the year, it is believed.

The new rule is said to counteract the "knocking down" process, which on the Public Service lines exists to some degree, as it does on all large systems. However dishonestly inclined a conductor might be, he can scarcely get away with $50 a day.

This sum will be guarantee for the company in case of charges of dishonesty against any employe.

LEAL'S SCHOOL DEFEATED

NEW YORK COLLEGIATE SCHOOL WON BASKET BALL GAME.

Leal's School lost in a rough game of basket ball with the New York Collegiate School, of New York City, yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, by a score of 26 to 16. The visitors led except for a few minutes in the first half. The play was fast throughout, though Leal's team showed lack of practise. The most sensational play of the game was a one-handed throw for a basket by Abbott, of Leal's, from beyond the centre of the floor. Leal's line-up was Doane, right forward; Mellick, left forward; Abbott, centre; Strong, left guard; Haughey, right guard. Doane scored three goals from the floor, Mellick two and Abbott eight. Twenty minute halves were played. Collier was umpire.

The lad's wheel was wrecked and he received bruises to his legs and body. Mrs. Stockton, who was in the carriage, offered to take the boy home but he refused. The horse was frightened, it is said, by a passing train. His injuries were dressed in Armstrong's drug store, where he was carried by Leslie Dunn, who assisted in dragging him from beneath the horse's feet.

MANY HARDSHIPS IN MISSIONARY WORK

Rev. J. W. Kirk Tells of His Labors in Alaska Where it is 68 Degrees Below Zero.

COLLEGE MEN, MINERS

MISSIONARY AND WIFE LIVED IN ONE ROOM IN EAGLE CITY.

Citizens Are Cultured People—Rev. Mr. Kirk to Return to the Fields—Young Women Sang at Meeting.

Rev. J. W. Kirk, who, after a successful pastorate of seventeen years in a large Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, gave up that charge and engaged in the mission work in Eagle City, Alaska, under the direction of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, addressed a large gathering of women yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, telling of his work during the past three or four years in Alaska.

Mr. Kirk told how he and his wife journeyed to that far away place in Alaska, where they were obliged to live in two rooms. The work prospered and the miners asked Mr. Kirk and his wife to give up one of their rooms for a mission. The missionary finally consented, they eating, sleeping and living in one room. Mr. Kirk said he had his bed in one corner, a cook stove in another, his study in another, while the center of the room was used for the dining table.

The missionary said that he felt as though his people were quite as cultured as those in this part of the country, for many of the miners are college graduates, who have gone to that country in search of gold. Mr. Kirk said that his work extended to the Indians, whom he found to be very appreciative. Owing to the fact that the thermometer in Eagle City averages 68 degrees below zero it is difficult for a person to remain very long in the country, but he expects to return.

During the meeting yesterday several selections were sung by a choir of young women, accompanied by violin and piano.

PASTOR WAIVED EXAMINATION

MR. CRUDUP CONCLUDES THAT PRELIMINARY HEARING IS UNNECESSARY.

Rev. Essex J. Crudup, pastor of the Filmore Baptist Church, charged by John Alston with improper conduct with Mrs. Alston, waived examination yesterday afternoon in Justice Huff's court through his counsel, Samuel S. Swackhamer, Esq. He will be tried at the next session of the Grand Jury. Bail was fixed at $500 and was not furnished despite efforts of the pastor's loyal parishioners.

An immense crowd was present, including many of the colored sisters of the church, when the case was called at 2 o'clock in the police court, and a general sigh of disappointment arose when it was learned that there was to be no hearing of the evidence.

William Newcorn, Esq., is Alston's legal adviser.

ANOTHER AIR LINE TROLLEY CONSIDERED

Route Between Bound Brook and Newark to Pass Through Borough.

PLANS EXHIBITED HERE

THINK THAT TRIP CAN BE MADE IN TWO HOURS.

No Rights of Way Have Been Secured—Civil Engineers at Work—Said That Local Capital Will be Invested.

To connect the terminal of the Raritan River Railroad when it is extended from New Brunswick to Bound Brook with a trolley road, which will be an air line, between Bound Brook and Newark, is reported to be under consideration among some Philadelphia, Jersey City, Newark and Trenton capitalists. It is probable that there will be some local capital invested in the project.

The road will compete with the Plainfield, Elizabeth and Central Jersey lines and the Middlesex and Somerset traction line as it connects Dunellen and Bound Brook. The trolley road, it is said, was planned at the time the Baltimore and Ohio system took over the control of the Raritan river road. Nothing has been done so far in the way of securing rights of way, but a few days ago plans for a "fast line" were in this city and were shown to a few capitalists. It is planned to construct the road so that it will be possible for the cars to make the trip from Bound Brook to Newark in less than two hours.

The map showed that the road will connect Bound Brook, Dewey Park, North Plainfield, Summit, South Orange and Newark. The proposed "fast line," it is said, will only connect with regular stations and it is possible that it will handle express matter.

John Harvey, a farmer living near Dewey Park, declared a few days ago to a Daily Press reporter that he has seen a party of men at work surveying through that section for several days, and it is now believed that the three silent men who stopped at South Plainfield may have been connected with the new company.

If such an arrangement is carried through New Brunswick, as well as Bound Brook and Plainfield will have an air line trolley communication with Newark.

MRS. KLEIN HAS HER SAY

SHE PROVES TO BE A HUMAN DICTIONARY OF EPITHETS.

"You miserable dirty thing, for two cents I'd push your eye-brows into your back hair, you low dog, you." So spake Mrs. Henry Klein in the city court this morning, with difficulty restaining herself from putting her threats of hair-pulling into execution. If she is not a mistress of polite discourse, Mrs. Klein has at any rate a command of epithet that is awe-inspiring. She talked herself black in the face this morning telling Mrs. Margaret McDonough, her neighbor, what she thought of her.

Mrs. Klein was complained against by Mrs. McDonough for disorderly conduct in the use of profane language. The case was dismissed by Judge Runyon.

SMITH'S TEAM ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY

Neal's Aggregation Also Wins in the Y. M. C. A. Basket Ball League Games.

FINAL PLAY NEXT WEEK

A CLEAN SWEEP MADE TO DATE BY SMITH'S TEAM.

Neal's Men Played All Around Heinecke's—Smith's Supurb Work—Both Games Easily Won—The Lineups.

Smith's team and Neal's were the victors in last night's games in the Senior Y. M. C. A. basket ball league. Both victories were easily won, Smith's by a score of 34 to 14 over Hand and Neal's by 19 to 6 over Heinecke.

The games were played with considerable snap but with few evidences of practised team work. Smith did great work for his team, dodging the opposing guard cleverly in the second half and scoring six pretty baskets. Hand's team led at the end of the first half in this game, 11 to 7, but were unable to maintain the pace in the second period.

Neal's men played rings around Heinecke's, leading them throughout. Seven of their points were scored through the many fouls of their opponents. The guarding of Heinecke's men was lax and at times their work was wholly spiritless.

Next week it will be Smith against Heinecke and Neal against Hand. The last two games in the league will be played after the holidays and another league to be run on a somewhat different plan will be started. Summaries:

Smith—Smith and Caleen, forwards; Hallock, centre; Schuck and Skull, guards. Hand—Sheppard and Hand, forwards; Joseph, centre; Carolin and Sebring, guards. Score, Smith 34, Hand 14. Goals from the floor, Smith 6, Caleen, Hallock 2, Schuck, Skull, Sheppard, Hand, Joseph 2, Sebring. Goals from fouls, Caleen 2, Joseph 2, Sebring 2.

Neal—Miner and Bentliff, forwards; Cahoone centre; Hoagland and Kirch, guards. Heinecke — Heinecke and Mundy, forwards; McCullough, centre; Collins and Utzinger, guards. Score, Neal 19, Heinecke 6. Goals from the floor, Miner 2, Bentliff 2, Cahoone 2, Heinecke 3. Goals from fouls, Cahoone 7.

Referee, Collier. Umpires, Hand, Heinecke and Long. Time, 15 min. halves.

Smith's team has made a clean sweep in the games played to date. It has won five and lost none. Heinecke and Neal are tied for second honors with two victories and three defeats, and Hand is last with one game won and four lost.

Visitors to Lakewood.

Recalling the epigram of olden days, when all roads led to Rome, a similar thought might easily be applied to Lakewood as a point of rendezvous for the world's celebrities and men and women of mark in various walks of life.

In the relative location of a suburb for great cosmopolitian cities, it is a matter of course that at one time or another during the season the passing throng in Lakewood should include the most highly honored representatives of public or private life. From season to season the list of such visitors would be an interesting one, including what may be termed "the home guard" of those who have chosen Lakewood as a winter home.

The cottage list of the place carries the names of students and workers; people whose accomplishments have been notable in the world, and whose interest in their surroundings guarantees continued improvement. And when the casual visitors to Lakewood are considered the list might stretch out indefinitely. In the corridors of these hotels during a season, one touches elbows with grave college professors, eminent clergymen, learned doctors of law and letters and abtruse sciences of all ambassadors, prominent politicians who are readily marked, and quiet ones unsuspected as the actual power behind many a petty throne. The great song birds of the operatic and concert world come here for occasional rest, and artists and literateurs and scientists are noted in the crush.

While millionaire operators, successful business men, and women of the first social prominence, make up the resort's guest list. And Lakewood receives them all with ready welcome. She opens her doors and invites them in for the rest they need; proffers them either the peace and quiet of the wood, where none intrude, or the pleasant associations to be found in club society or hotel and cottage circles, as their preferences may turn.

If you wish to know about Lakewood, send postal to O. M. Burt, General Passenger Agent, New Jersey Central, 143 Liberty street, New York City, for book.

Appropriate Holiday Gift.

What better offering could be made to the home circle for a holiday gift than a piano? It is a delight, not for a brief season only, but for years. It is a fountain of musical culture that is far-reaching in its influence. As in other things purchased, the best piano is the cheapest in the end; and the best piano is that which has, year after year, made for itself a solid reputation. The Fischer pianos speak for themselves. They are the outcome of sixty-four years of most skilled and practical endeavor. All the styles are represented in the Fischer Warerooms, and the latest output from their manufactory is the Fischer New Small Grand. This is unique in structure, as it has practically all the sweetness, purity, power and broadness of tone of the full Grand, and yet takes up little more room than the Upright. A visit to the Fischer Warerooms, 164 Fifth avenue, will amply prove that the most critical taste in pianos can be suited, and the most fastidious can make the selection of an instrument that will be a superior one, in all respects, among the high-grade pianos that have won reputation and public confidence.

Washington.

December 28 has been selected as the date for the personally-conducted holiday tour of the Pennsylvania Railroad to Washington. WEALTH OF LEO XIII

Cardinal Gotti Presents Bag Containing $9,000,000.

LEO THOUGHT GOTTI HIS SUCCESSOR

Treasure Was Confided by the Late Pontiff to Be Given to His Successor Four Months After His Death.

ROME, Dec. 19.—The Vatican has just had sudden wealth poured into its coffers. For some time certain sums which were known to be possessed by Pope Leo were looked for without result, the search toward the end becoming somewhat feverish.

Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the propaganda, accompanied by Mgr. Marzolini, one of the late pope's secretaries, drove up to the Vatican and, getting out hurriedly, began tugging at a heavy object in the carriage.

Assistance was offered, but it was firmly refused, and Cardinal Gotti and Mgr. Marzolini between them carried the mysterious object to the apartment of Pope Pius. They were immediately admitted and remained for two hours.

Intense curiosity was aroused by this act, as it was believed to have some relation to the missing wealth, and the wildest rumors were circulated. It soon became known, however, that the bag contained $9,000,000 in bank notes.

When Cardinal Gotti entered the presence of the pope he sank to his knees and, pointing to his burden, said:

"Your holiness, the lamented Leo just before his death confided to me the money which I now lay at your feet, saying that if I succeeded him I was to use it as I thought best, but that if another took his place I was to turn the money over to him after a period of four months had elapsed. This I now do in the presence of Mgr. Marzolini, who has been the only other person to share the secret."

The pope was much affected.

It is said that it never rains but it pours, for just about the time this scene was being enacted in the papal apartments an electrician while removing the hangings in the late Pope Leo's chamber in order to get at the electric light wires found in a hole in the wall several bags which were carelessly tied. These bags when opened were found to contain $1,850,000 in gold.

Leo Wanted to Teach Economy.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—A Rome correspondent says that Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the propaganda and one of the executors of the will of Leo XIII., was received by the pope and informed his holiness that he held a large sum of money confided to him by the late pope with the mission that he should hand it to the new pontiff four months after his election. The alleged reason for Pope Leo's course is that he wished his successor to learn how difficult it would be to rule the church without money, thereby impressing upon him the necessity for economy. The sum left by Pope Leo is said to amount to $7,000,000.

SENATOR SMOOT'S ANSWER.

Utah Representative Not to File Reply to Charges as Arranged.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The answer of Senator Smoot of Utah to the charges preferred against him will not be filed with the senate committee on privileges and elections, according to the programme heretofore arranged, and it is uncertain when the answer will be submitted. The committee has been notified to this effect and has deferred their meeting.

Senator Smoot has left here with his wife for the west, and it is said is on his way to Utah in connection with the charges filed against him. It is expected that his answer will not be filed until after he has a consultation with persons in his state. The reason for the change in the senator's programme could not be learned with definiteness.

Decapitated Body Found.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Dec. 19.—A decapitated body, with two New York city addresses in the pockets of the clothing, was found on the New Haven railroad tracks here. On a scrap of paper was the address, "Thannery, 107 East Seventy-fifth street," and a pair of rimless gold bowed eyeglasses were in the case of a dealer at 21 Union square, New York. The man was about thirty-five years old and well dressed.

General Merriam Denies.

DENVER, Dec. 19.—General H. C. Merriam denied having ever said that the appointment of General Wood would lower the moral standard of the army. "I can only say," added the general, "that in the published interview my words were greatly enlarged upon and that I have been credited with making an uncalled for remark which cannot only be detrimental to myself, but to the army."

Frye Is Now President of Board.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 19.—Police Commissioner William G. Frye was elected president of the board of police commissioners at the meeting of the board to succeed Harry B. Sir Thomas Lipton Announces He Will Come Again.

A SILVER SERVICE FROM AMERICANS

The Baronet Said He Could Always "Raise the Wind" Except at Sandy Hook, but Is Ready For Another Race.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Sir Thomas Lipton announced his readiness to again challenge for the America's cup when the silver service subscribed for by the people of the United States was presented to him at a dinner held at the Hyde Park hotel last night. The dinner was attended by several members of the house of commons, the members of the London presentation committee, including John R. Carter, second secretary of the United States embassy; Captain Charles H. Stockton, United States naval attache, and Major John R. Beacom, United States military attache, and by nearly a hundred Americans resident in London as well as several who are now visiting here.

Consul General Evans presided and in presenting the service said that it was unprecedented for such an honor to be paid a foreigner by the people of the United States, but that Sir Thomas Lipton had won the golden opinions of those from whom he tried to wrest the America's cup.

Sir Thomas Lipton, replying, said he was a proud man to be the recipient of such a splendid gift, adding, "It will be cherished by me as my most valued treasure."

Referring in a humorous vein to the value of the gift in "raising the wind," Sir Thomas said that he never really had any difficulty in so doing except at Sandy Hook. He had hoped, he said, to add an interesting item to the fiscal controversy by increasing British silver imports with that interesting import, the America's cup. Having failed to do so, he found in this silver service a splendid substitute.

Speaking with much feeling, Sir Thomas said that if any action of his had tended to the development of a better feeling between Great Britain and the United States it would be a source of sincere happiness to him to the end of his days, though what he had done was merely a slight return for the generosity and courtesy showered upon him by the American people. Continuing, Sir Thomas said:

"The love which always exists between a true mother and a true daughter—however wealthy and aristocratic that daughter may become, including duchesses and other Americans—should keep the two countries together. America's progress toward the southern pole was only hindered by the newly founded republic of Panama, and we must work together for the peace of the world. 'Blessed are the peacemakers,'" quoted Sir Thomas, who amidst laughter finished the quotation, 'for they shall inherit the earth.'"

Sir Thomas said that he had sent a letter to the New York Yacht club dealing with another possible challenge for the cup. He added that he was quite willing to have one last try, "provided I have a reasonable chance of success, especially as the next Shamrock will be a lucky four leafed one."

An entertainment by American artists brought to a close a thoroughly successful event.

GEORGE GREEN HELD

Must Stand Trial on Bribery and Conspiracy Charge.

HIS ATTORNEYS WILL MAKE BIG FIGHT

Disputes Jurisdiction of the Courts and Claims the Indictments Are Faulty and That They Make No Statement of Crime.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 19.—United States Commissioner Hall has handed down a decision holding State Senator George E. Green of this city for trial in Washington on all five indictments for bribery and conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the sale of time recorders and canceling machines to the postoffice department.

Mr. Green, accompanied by his attorneys and United States District Attorney George B. Curtiss, will go to Norwich, where Mr. Curtiss will ask United States Judge George W. Ray for an order transferring Mr. Green to the custody of the Washington officials for trial in that district. Mr. Green's attorneys will ask for a writ of habeas corpus, which will be granted at once. This will act as a stay until Judge Ray can review the evidence and the commissioner's ruling and decide the case.

Senator Green was released until February by giving $20,000 bail, George F. O'Neil, publisher of the Binghamton Leader, becoming his bondsman.

It has been learned that Mr. Green's attorneys expect to make a lengthy argument in hopes of having the indictments set aside by Judge Ray.

They will attack the indictments and the decision of Commissioner Hall on the grounds that neither the complaint nor the indictment conferred any jurisdiction on the commissioner; that no facts alleging a crime are set forth in the indictments so as to give the commissioner who issued the warrants jurisdiction of the alleged offense or of the person of the defendant; that the indictments are void for repugnancy, duplicity and contradiction of statement; that the warrant issued by the commissioner does not state any crime against the defendant; that the supreme court of the District of Columbia, which found the indictments, was without jurisdiction, and that no evidence was adduced before the commissioner establishing or tending to establish probable cause to believe the defendant guilty of any crime.

In his decision Commissioner Hall says that the evidence in the Doremus canceling machine cases is not so complete as the evidence in the time recorder cases, owing to the fact that "Manager Fish of the Doremus Machine company suffered so severely last winter on account of the scarcity of coal that he was obliged, as he testified, to burn all the old books and papers of his company to keep himself warm, regardless of their possible value as evidence, and that his fondness for neat looking account books led him to tear out and destroy a number of scratched stubs from the company's check book which should have shown in whose favor checks had been drawn."

The "unexpected disappearance of Truesdell and Ida Crowell, said to have been important witnesses before the grand jury just when wanted for this hearing," is also cited as an obstacle to complete evidence.

The commissioner finds not the least suggestion in the evidence that Senator Green ever derived personal benefit from the transactions beyond the additional profit accruing to him in common with the other stockholders of the two companies. In reviewing the evidence the commissioner states that it "discloses a suspicious activity on the part of Beavers in pushing the sale of the Doremus canceling machines, for which a motive must have existed."

Chicago River Tunnels.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce gave a hearing on the Mann bill condemning the Chicago river tunnels as an obstruction to navigation. A number of members of the city council of Chicago urged amendments to delay for three to five years the period within which the tunnels must be removed or lowered in order that the street railway franchise question in Chicago might be settled first.

MR. FISK ON THE HOSPITAL

HE SAYS THE INSTITUTION IS IN AN EXCELLENT CONDITION FINANCIALLY.

Former Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, who have been sojourning at Lakewood for several days, came to Plainfield on Thursday to attend the reception at the new hospital. Mr. Fisk is now enjoying excellent health and he was much gratified with the success attending the completion and opening of the new hospital.

Mr. Fisk states that the hospital is in excellent condition financially, that is, there is not a heavy mortgage on the new buildings and he believes that in the course of seven or eight months a sufficient amount of money will have been received to build the Nurses' Home. It is quite fortunate that for the present accommodations are found in the third floor of the administration building, where the nurses can be cared for temporarily. The Board of Governors, he says, appreciates all that the people of Plainfield have done for the hospital and hopes that united support will be continued.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Business Decidedly Better.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Business is decidedly better than at any recent date, and the improvement is not confined to activity in holiday goods, although the best reports concern those lines. Continued low temperature not only stimulates retail sales, but jobbers are receiving supplementary orders for seasonable goods, and collections are more prompt. Building permits issued during November exceeded the same month last year, railway tonnage is heavy, and several manufacturing branches are starting idle machinery.

This nation's international position was greatly strengthened by foreign commerce results last month, and that the position is being maintained is evidenced by exports for the last week, $2,148,376 larger than a year ago, from this port alone, while imports decreased $2,090,134.

Earnings of the railways for the first week of December were 5.6 per cent larger than a year ago, but, largely because of decreased activity at the Stock Exchange, bank exchanges for the last week at this city were 20.4 per cent smaller than in 1902. At other leading cities there was a decrease of 2.9 per cent.

Confidence is increasing in the iron and steel industry, and the feeling is becoming more general that prices will not be materially lower except possibly in some departments that have not yet participated in the readjustment.

Exports during November were valued at $160,455,590, which surpasses all other monthly records, with the single exception of October, 1900, and the last two months' exports far eclipse any other two in the nation's history. But while November exports were $35,000,000 larger than the same month last year, imports were about $8,000,000 smaller than in 1902, making the net balance in favor of this country $88,393,784 compared with $39,814,448 a year ago.

Grain moves within narrow limits, and foreign crop reports indicate a fairly heavy yield, although some cables are less favorable than earlier conditions promised. Western receipts of wheat for the week were 5,691,269 bushels against 5,172,000 a year ago and 2,411,102 bushels of corn compared with 3,834,336 in 1902.

There was also a fairly good outgo of breadstuffs, meats and oil, so that the total of staple products attained a new monthly record of $105,826,202. Eliminating these agricultural items, there still appears a gain over last November, indicating that exports of manufactured products were fully maintained.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus reported for December aggregated $10,121,422, of which $5,424,204 were in manufacturing, $3,455,410 in trading and $1,241,808 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 320 in the United States against 267 last year and in Canada 20 compared with 16 a year ago.

Gray Upholds Asphalt Trust.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—Judge Gray in the United States circuit court of appeals has handed down an opinion sustaining Judge Kirkpatrick of the United States district court of New Jersey in the case of Harry C. Spinks and other stockholders, who appealed against the payment of an assessment called by Receiver Henry C. Tatnall of the Asphalt Company of America. Judge Kirkpatrick decided that the assessment was legal, and Mr. Spinks and other stockholders took the case to the higher court, which decided against them.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

FOR WINTRY DAYS.

Dyed Lace Makes Effective Ball Gowns—Red Is Much Worn.

Red, both in light and dark shades, is very much worn this winter, and pretty red cloth gowns are trimmed with flat braid, bias velvet or fringe.

Black silk tassels appear, plentifully besprinkled, on many an otherwise plain gown, and they are a most effective mode of trimming.

Narrow bands of fur are much used, even on very thin materials, such as chiffon, voile and crepe de chine.

The modified rever is a feature of dress which is being revived even on evening bodices.

Dyed lace makes effective ball gowns, and this is especially good in lace dyed brown trimmed with ruchings of brown chiffon and bits of applique left ecru here and there.

Wide girdles of flowered silk are quite the thing for girlish dresses.

There are charming materials for coats. The vigognes with hairy tufts or a scattered sprinkling of white hairs make up quite smartly with stitched strappings of self colored cloth and pipings and linings of silk or satin, while the new "fur" plushes are a boon to those who cannot afford the real thing. Moleskin plush, lined with gray satin and with steel or silver buttons and chenille tassels, is quite smart, and seal plush is difficult to distinguish from the real skin when carefully managed.

SMART WRAPS.

They Are Made of Zibeline, Pale Tinted Cloths and Lace.

The fashionable wraps of the moment are plentifully trimmed with embroidery, silk braiding and stenciled cloth. These are employed both on day and evening wraps, and the colorings are exceptionally delicate.

Zibelines in all the dainty colorings of silver gray, pale fawn, biscuit and ivory are much used for carriage and evening coats. The coarsest dyed lace lined with heavy silks and velvets makes the most elaborate wraps of all.

Handsome buttons of ivory, jewels and old brocade appear on evening wraps. These can easily be made from small pieces of dress goods which would otherwise be thrown away and can be embroidered and elaborated during the hours devoted to fancy work.

Three-quarter length loose coats of pale colored broadcloth are very smart trimmed with embroidered lace, gold and silver motifs or chenille tassels.

There is no doubt that many of the lesser dressmakers are getting good effects at moderate cost by using chine silks, although, of course, some of the really old patterns command a very fair price.

Moleskin, while a dull looking fur, mixes charmingly with cerise and with white lace or ermine.

The cut shows an evening dress of flowered silk trimmed with chenille.

COUNCIL OF WAR.

Secretary of War and Officials Decide to Send General Elliott.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—After a conference between Secretary Moody, Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation, and Brigadier General George Elliott, commandant of the marine corps, it was decided that if present conditions on the isthmus of Panama continue General Elliott will sail for Colon on the Dixie from Philadelphia when that vessel goes south with the new battalion of marines which has been ordered assembled at Philadelphia for dispatch to the isthmus.

The Dixie is now on her way north for this purpose. General Elliott has been anxious for some days to be given a field command, and it is the present intention of the officials to grant his request.

It was said at the navy department that in view of the growing complications over the Panama situation it was inadvisable longer to announce the plans of the department with the freedom shown during the last few weeks, and for that reason a cablegram received from Rear Admiral Coghlan was not made public.

REVOLT IN HONDURAS.

Ex-President Sierra Will Try to Oust President Bonilla.

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 19.—Advices received here by steamer indicate that another revolution is imminent in Honduras and that it is expected to take place soon after the first of the year. It is expected to be fostered by ex-President Sierra through a special envoy with the purpose of ousting President Bonilla.

On his retirement from the executive chair of Honduras President Sierra named Senor Arias for president, and he was given the position. Then Bonilla organized a revolution and overthrew Arias, who is now an exile and in prison at Tegucigalpa.

It is said the people are dissatisfied with the conduct of the government, especially in the matter of the Honduras railway. This was built by English capitalists. Since its construction not a cent of interest or principal has been paid the bondholders, and it is asserted that the English government will take cognizance of the matter and force payment.

JUMP FROM WINDOWS.

Dayton (O.) Girls Have Narrow Escape From Fire.

DAYTON, O., Dec. 19.—To escape death by suffocation twelve girls leaped from the fifth story windows of the Canby building, landing on the roof and skylights of a one story building. At least half this number were caught in the arms of Dr. Lambert, who has offices in the building, and who by breaking the force of their fall probably saved six lives.

The flames originated in the basement of the building, and the dense smoke went up the elevator shaft, quickly filling the upper floors. The property loss was small.

The injured are: Minnie Troxelt, will die; Charles Reeder, will die; Mrs. Frank Hughes, seriously hurt; Mrs. Levisson, seriously hurt.

RUSSIA OPTIMISTIC.

Hope of Peaceful Outcome Still Entertained in St. Petersburg.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg says:

"Optimistic anticipations of a pacific solution of the Russo-Japanese crisis are still entertained in the leading Russian official circles in spite of some disquietude on the part of the public and alarmist press reports."

Russo-Japanese war risks at Lloyd's rose about 5 per cent, 20 guineas per cent being quoted to the end of January and 25 to the end of February.

Ordinary insurance on a cargo to and from Japan rose about 5 per cent, with a fair amount of business.

Japanese bonds declined on the Stock Exchange from three-quarters to a point, but rallied and closed unchanged.

Roosevelt Refused Request.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Senator Penrose, Representative Olmstead and Charles H. Mullens saw the president and urged him to remove the order of suspension against West Point Cadet Stees of Pennsylvania, who was suspended from the academy for one year because of misconduct. The president said that he would not be able to carry out the request, as Cadet Stees had received extremely light punishment for his offense.

Cuban Forger Gets Seven Years.

VENICE, Dec. 19.—Jose Colles, a Cuban, was sentenced to seven years and six months' imprisonment and to a fine of $5,000 here. The charge against him was forgery, by means of which he secured $8,750 in Venice, $1,525 in Milan and $2,500 in Genoa.

For Christmas at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Theodore, Jr., and Kermit Roosevelt arrived here from their school at Groton, Mass. They will spend their vacation at the White House. Miss Roosevelt, who is visiting in New York, will return for Christmas.

Boers Sign Allegiance.

BOMBAY, Dec. 19.—General Delarey made a speech to the Boer prisoners at Admadnagar and succeeded in persuading all but ten of them to sign the oath of allegiance to Great Britain. General Delarey spoke for five hours.

Captured Gunboat In Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The gunboat Pampanga, which was one of the Spanish warships captured in the Philippines, has been put in commission at Cavite for service in those islands.

BRAIN FAG PILLOW.

An Aromatic Affair That Sweetly Lulls the Weary Owner to Restful Slumber.

The brain fag pillow is made of silk, or made of satin. It matters not what the outside may be. It is the interior part that is important, says the Brooklyn Eagle.

The pillow when it is made, must contain a small slit in one side, a slit just large enough to admit one's hand. Into this there can be bundled the contents of a rose jar.

The idea is to produce a variety of scent. And, when all the odors of Araby and a few extra ones have been obtained, the whole must be stuffed into the pillow.

It is a very good plan to add a few feathers, or a little down, for rose leaves are not always soft enough and sweet grasses have stiff hard stems. A little inner pillow of down, or a few handsful of down added to the leaves, the balsam, the lavender, and all the rest, will make the pillow light and fluffy.

The pillow must be filled with every sort of sweet thing, all nicely dried and rolled with the hands. Rolling the leaves and the grasses with the hands tends to powder them and make them softer and more easily packed.

The first breath of the pillow is that of herbs. It seems a little like a pine pillow. Late in the season, when all the rest have begun to grow dim, one gets the scent of the rose leaves. They pervade everything upon which the pillow lies, and even one's hair and one's gown, if one has lain upon the pillow, will smell like rose leaves.

If one wants it to be real rose one can add a drop of attar of rose and ten drops of oil of rose geranium. Shake it through the leaves before putting them in the pillow, let dry off a little to take off the oily feeling, and then one will have a scented pillow that is a scented pillow.

Such a pillow is not for ordinary use. It is not for show, but for headaches. It is kept put away in the locker, or high in the clothes press, where the silk quilts lie.

When tired the owner of the brain fag pillow breathes it long and deeply and sometimes she falls asleep.

The sleep may not be more than five minutes long, just the forty winks of beauty sleep. But what are the results? Bright eyes, quick, good natured brains, and such a fund of strength and spirits!

The influence of sweet scents upon the spirits is a thing that is discussed by those who know all about it. The mind, being invisible, can be affected by invisible things, and is, therefore, peculiarly susceptible to scents. This is one method of reasoning.

However this may be, the brain fag pillow is an excellent thing to have in the house. And the woman who makes one and keeps it handy will resolve never again in all her life to be without this beautiful article of household comfort and hygiene.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Odds and Ends of Feminine Finery for the Winter Season.

Pastel blue is a new and fashionable color.

One of the prettiest skirts in velvet is shirred at the waist and finished with a row of fringe at the hem. A skirt of this sort allows of an elaborate bodice.

Chiffon velvet is the elegant fabric for dinner gowns. When the color is shaded into three tones it is most fashionable.

White cloth is one of the prettiest fabrics for the reception gown, especially if it is relieved with embroidery or insertions of some contrasting tint.

Lovely "sets" now come in the popular purple tints. A favorite one in pinky violet tone comprises a hat, a tie of tulle, a graceful collar of taffeta and one of those huge new muffs.

Mousquetaire gloves are coming in once more—especially the shorter lengths—which are worn with tailor suits and which give such a graceful touch at the wrist.

Pyrography and Swedish woodwork, imitated in papier mache, are other novelties of the season. They come as buckets, boxes of all shapes and wash tubs.

Brocade silks are back in favor. Indeed, flowered patterns are obtaining even among the velvets.

Leather is pressed into service for short motor coats. They are perfectly plain in exterior finish, and are frequently lined with expensive fur, but the leather coat has not the vogue it obtained in earlier seasons.

French Beefsteak.

Place in a roasting tin a piece of best rump steak; dredge with flour, pepper and salt, almost cover with water, roast for 20 minutes; then cover with sliced onions, pepper, salt, roast 30 minutes; cover with sliced tomatoes, roast 20 minutes; then sprinkle over with grated cheese, roast again for ten minutes. Serve on a hot dish, and if baked every ten minutes previous to the sprinkling of the cheese it will be very tender and delicious.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Was Relieved.

"I have a very unpleasant duty to perform," said the chief. "The management desires to dispense with your services."

The office boy heaved a deep sigh of relief. "Gee!" he said, "I t'ought for a minute youse was goin' to fire me."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

IN THE HOUSE.

Congress Asks For Papers Relating to Postal Frauds.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The house by resolution has authorized the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department to request the postmaster general to furnish that committee the papers in connection with the recent postoffice investigation, but not until after a lively debate. The resolution met opposition on the Republican side. Mr. Overstreet (Rep., Ind.), chairman of the committee on postoffices and postroads, contended that the information sought had been received from the postoffice department and mailed to members.

Mr. Wanger (Rep., Pa.), chairman of the committee on postoffice expenditures, held that the desired information was essential to his committee in consideration of measures affecting the postoffice department.

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, renewed his effort to substitute a resolution providing that the information be requested by the house instead of a committee, but the previous question being ordered on practically a party vote he had no opportunity to offer his substitute. It required the speaker's vote to order the previous question, the yea and nay vote resulting in a tie. On a yea and nay vote on its passage the resolution was agreed to, 100 to 100, the minority voting practically unanimously with the friends of the measure on the Republican side.

The contention was between two committees of the house, the postoffice committee, of which Mr. Overstreet is chairman, and the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department, of which Mr. Wanger is chairman. The latter tried to secure recognition of his committee when the matter first came before the house. Mr. Wanger was supported by members of his committee and some other Republicans.

STRANDING OF A WARSHIP.

Commander Said Gull on a Spar Was the Cause of the Trouble.

ESQUIMAULT, B. C., Dec. 19.—At the sitting of the court martial which is trying the officers of the British cruiser Flora, recently stranded in British Columbian waters, the defense began the presentation of testimony.

Captain Baker, the commander of the Flora, and Lieutenant Grant, the navigating officer, both made statements, in which they denied neglect, and, while admitting the fault might be their own, as an error of judgment had been made, they held that the circumstances were so unfortunate that they were guiltless of the charge of hazarding and stranding the vessel. They stated that the speed of the cruiser was such that by reckoning she should have been past Village Point. A spar was sighted by Captain Baker and others with a sea gull perched on it, which gave the spar, distorted by the fog, the exact appearance of the Village Point spar, which is surmounted by an inanimate sea gull.

The result was a miscalculation of the vessel's position and the subsequent stranding of the cruiser. A number of other witnesses gave evidence to this effect.

IN THE SENATE.

Daniel of Virginia Supported Hoar's Motion For Information.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The relationship of the United States to the new republic of Panama continued to be the leading theme in the senate, but the discussion was confined to one senator.

Mr. Daniel of Virginia was the speaker, and he advocated the acceptance of Mr. Hoar's resolution calling on the president for more information relative to the November revolution in Panama. He said that so far as the available information shows the executive authorities of the United States had knowledge of the revolution in advance of the people of the isthmus, and he contended that the action of this country in preventing the landing of Colombian troops in Panama was without precedent.

Mr. Fulton made a speech in support of the bill to give aid to the proposed Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland, Ore., in 1905.

Sham Doctors Supposed Crooks.

BOSTON, Dec. 19.—Following close after the great raid on counterfeiters at Revere, exactly two weeks ago, the United States secret service agents have arrested in Boston two men who they say are as dangerous a pair of counterfeiters as the government has had to deal with for a long time. The men under arrest are Fred L. Wilson and Edward D. Wiggin, both of them claiming the title of doctor, although, according to the officials, neither man has any right to do so.

Suit Against McKee Rankin.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—For an alleged breach of contract to produce certain plays the W. S. Cleveland Amusement company has brought suit for $100,000 damages against Nance O'Neil, the San Francisco actress; McKee Rankin, her manager, and two other members of her company.

REV. JOHN M'MURRAY TO LEAVE PLAINFIELD

Pastor of Monroe Ave. M. E. Church Likely to Sever His Connections Here in March.

GROWTH OF THE CHURCH

A FORMER MISSION OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH HAS PROSPERED.

Pastor Has Received Three Invitations Elsewhere, But Has Made No Decision—Work He Has Accomplished Here in Plainfield.

In all probability there will be a change in the pastorate at the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church next March, when the Newark conference meets. Rev. John McMurray, the present pastor, is now concluding his fourth year at the church and he has been most successful in his work. He has made it a rule not to remain in a charge over three years, but in the present case there was considerable work he wanted to accomplish this year and when he was invited to remain he accepted. This work he has about completed and he will no doubt make a change in March. Just yet he is not prepared to say where he is likely to go. He has received two or three invitations, but he has not given a definite answer to any one.

At all events Mr. McMurray is quite sure to be found in another year in a larger church. He is an able divine and an energetic pastor and organizer. During the four years he has been at the Monroe Avenue Church he has succeeded in getting many forces to work, including the boys, the men as well as the women's societies. They are now doing good work.

This church has had a remarkable growth since organization on December 31, 1896, with a membership of 106. During the succeeding seven years the membership has grown until at present it numbers about 210. This increase, about one hundred per cent., cannot be expected to continue at that rate for there is not the people in that part of the town to make this possible, but there is no reason why there should not be a steady increase if the same wise management continues. The Sunday-school, under the able direction of Walter M. McGee, as superintendent, has been one of the most encouraging features of the work at this church. The membership is large and the interest continues unabated.

The church occupies a peculiar position. It is situated between Hope Chapel and the Church of the Heavenly Rest, and is located in a place where it does not affect the other houses of worship. In the western part of the city are a number of Methodists who find it not only inconvenient, but not desirable to travel so far to other Methodist churches. It was the First M. E. Church that originally established this place of worship as a mission. The late James McGee became greatly interested in the work and he finally devoted his entire time out of business to the work of the mission and through his help and generous contributions, made it possible for such a church to become established and grow.

During the mission period Rev. Mr. Munson, a sudent, was in charge and afterward Rev. W. C. O'Donnell was called there. He served two years at first, then became the regular pastor, serving three years more. Under his direction the church prospered and increased in membership. When Mr. McMurray leaves, his successor will find everything in good condition.

Judging from present rumors it is quite likely that Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp will continue with Grace M. E. Church another year. He is now closing his second year at that church and he and his people have become much attached in the Christian work.

Chief's Hat Lost.

Chief T. C. Doane, of the fire department, is still on the lookout for a hat which was blown from his head on East Fifth street, near Central avenue, while he was traveling full speed to the recent fire in which two coal cars were burned near Berckman street. It was a regulation fatigue cap and its finder is earnestly requested to take it to headquarters.

Permit to Build.

A. D. Thompson, of Belvidere avenue, has received from Building Inspector T. C. Doane permission to erect a frame dwelling on Berkley street.

The case was settled by the return of the furs and the payment of full wages to the defendant.

SMITH MAY CAPTURE Y. M. C. A. CHAMPIONSHIP

Takes First Place in All Three Events in Athletic Contests and Leads in Race.

RESULTS OF THE EVENTS

CAHOONE, MUNDY AND KOONS ALSO STRIVING FOR HONORS.

Smith's Total Now 376—Cahoone Did Not Enter Saturday Night—Events for Saturday, Jan. 2, Shot Put, Hop, Skip and Jump, Etc.

Raymond Smith was the star in the athletic contests at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night, taking first place without much trouble in all three events, the three standing broad jumps, standing high jump and potato race. He won a total of 300 points and has a good lead in the race for the all-round athletic championship of the association. At the meet two weeks ago Saturday he won 176 points, which gives him a total of 376. Walter Cahoone, who won the greatest number of points, 178, in the former events, did not enter Saturday night. Mundy finished second with 161 points and C. B. Koons third with 156.

Smith's record in the three standing broad jumps was 26 feet, 8 inches. William Bentliff was second with 26-4. Other entries were Poinier, Mundy, Koons, Stuart. The event was won last year by Bentliff with a record of 26 feet, 2 inches. Twenty-nine feet, six inches, is the association record made in 1988 by F. O. Bristol.

In the standing high jump, Smith went 3 feet, 11 inches, which beat his own winning mark of last year. The association record in this event is 4 feet, 3 inches, made in '99 by R. Carroll. Mundy and Koons were tied for second with 3 feet, 8 inches. Other entries weer Poinier and Stuart.

In the potato race, Smith had things all his own way, finishing in 1 minute, 48 4-5 seconds, Koons, his nearest competitor, having hard work to finish in 1:51 1-5, three-fifths of a second ahead of Poinier. Stuart also ran in this event. Smith's record was an improvement over last year's which was 1:50 1-5. The association record is 1:46 held by F. O. Smith and made in '98.

C. B. Koons, who was unable to contest in the first events, established a mark of 7 feet, 11 inches, in the standing broad jump, which was won by Smith two weeks ago with a mark of 8 feet, 5 inches.

The next events will be shot put, hop, skip and jump, and running high kick, will be contested Saturday, January 2.

OPPOSES DARWINIAN THEORY

MR. GREENWOOD ALSO DISLIKES TO SAY THAT WEATHER IS "BEASTLY."

To call a day when it rains and when the weather conditions are generally unpleasant a "beastly day" is an insult to God according to Lawrence Greenwood, the evangelist, who laid down the doctrine straight and hard and narrow at the First M. E. Church last night.

The Darwinian theory of evolution is another matter that displeases Mr. Greenwood who doesn't like to think that he is descended from an ape or any other of the lower animal forms. "I believe in the story of Adam and Eve just as it is written," said he, by implication characterizing as unrighteous the theory of evolution accepted in modified form as one of God's immutable laws by every great scientist and master of thought of the present age, and denying the possibility of reconciling the theory with the Bible story of the origin of man.

Mr. Greenwood also spent some time in talking about the "obscene" tendency of much of poetry that has for its object the mere giving of pleasure. "The Peace of God" was the evangelist's subject and he showed how it could be gained by detailing many of his own experiences in being shown the light.

H. VOEHL WANTS DAMAGES

BRINGS SUIT AGAINST LACKAWANNA RAILROAD IN HOBOKEN COURT.

Henry Voehl, of the borough, is plaintiff in a suit against the Lackawanna Railroad which will be heard in the District Court at Hoboken Tuesday, December 29. The horses attached to one of Voehl's wagon fell at a slippery crossing at Lyon's station on the Lackawanna on December 5, 1902, and the flagman stationed at the point instead of flagging an approaching express train is alleged to have run in the opposite direction. The express tore the wagon away from the horses and completely demolished it though not injuring the horses. Suit was brought for $800. F. J. Blatz represents the plaintiff.

FUNERAL OF AUGUST BACH

REV. JOHN JUSTIN AND REV. DR. CORNELIUS SCHENCK OFFICIATE.

Services over the remains of the late August Bach, whose death occurred last week, were held yesterday from his late residence on Somerset street by Rev. John Justin, pastor of the German Reformed Church. The attendance was large, many being present from the Trinity Reformed Sunday-school where the dead man was a member. At the German Reformed Church, Rev. Mr. Justin and Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Church, conducted the service in German and English. The interment was in the Methodist Cemetery. The display of flowers was very handsome and among others was a remembrance from the members of the Sunday-school. The pall bearers: Hiram Humes, William Kreiney, Clarence Rittenhouse, Albert Schomp, Elmer Wheeler and Charles M. Dolliver. The honorary bearers were Frank Platts, Percy Banghart, William Trembath and William Henry. Mr. Bach was a member of the Trinity Reformed Church Christian Endeavor Society.

WRECK AT LINCOLN.

Four Coal Cars Smashed by Accident, Which Delays Traffic.

An accident occurred at Lincoln on the New Jersey Central at 1 o'clock this morning, four cars being wrecked and both eastbound tracks blocked until 4 o'clock. A coal train, eastbound, was assisted by the "pusher" which was attached to the regular engine, and at Lincoln the train parted coming together again with sufficient force to wreck several coal cars. Word was sent at once for the wrecking train.

SOMERSET COURTS WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Short Term Likely as There Are Few Cases for Justice Garretson's Consideration.

THE BOROUGH'S JURORS

SUIT BROUGHT BY C. AND W. KOECHLEIN AGAINT M. AND S. T. CO.

Only One Case on Supreme Court Calendar—List of Circuit Court Shows But Four—One Common Pleas and Four Justices' Appeals.

The December term of Somerset County Courts will open in the Court House in Somerville tomorrow morning, when Justice Garretson will preside. This will be a very short term at present indications. As yet there is only one case listed on the supreme causes and that is the suit of Walter P. Lindsley against Ernest Fischer, in ejectment. Oliver K. Day is counsel for the plaintiff and Reed & Coddington for the defense.

In the list of circuit causes four cases are listed. Of these the only one interesting Plainfielders particularly, is that of Catherine and William B. Koechlein against the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company, in tort. Andrew Faulds, Jr., is counsel for plaintiffs and A. A. Clark for the defense. There is one Common Pleas case and four Justice's Appeals.

The petit jurors this term from North Plainfield are: Harrison Coddington, Michael Kennedy, Francis J. Whitely, George Schmidt, James Tilly and Charles G. Wood. The constables: William N. Pangborn and Edward Cannon.

ORPHANAGE FOR NEGROES

EFFORT BEING MADE TO HAVE INSTITUTION LOCATED HERE.

Announcement of plans for the founding of an orphanage and refuge for Southern negroes was made at the Calvary Baptist Church, last night, by Rev. Scott Wallace, one of a committee appointed at a convention held in Elizabeth last Thursday. There were present at the convention representatives from various parts of the State.

Mrs. Darling, who owns property corner of Prospect avenue and Rahway road, has given the committee an option on this property and it is expected that the tract will be purchased. A large building will then be erected, where it is expected that at least five hundred Southern negroes will be provided for. The idea is to supply help from this place and charge for the services rendered. In this way there will be an income sufficient, it is believed, to provide for the running expenses. Those securing employment will be expected to contribute a fixed sum, in accordance with the wages they receive, toward the maintenance of the home.

Such an institution has been under advisement for a long time by some of the more prominent members of the colored race and on account of Plainfield being centrally located it was thought best to try and build the home here. Another meeting of those interested will be held soon, when plans will be perfected for the institution and arrangements made to purchase the Darling property.

CRUELTY CASE.

Postponement of Trial of Man Charged With Starving Horses.

The case of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals against David Blackford was brought up in Justice Warden's court at Dunellen Saturday and adjourned to next Saturday morning, December 26, by consent of counsel for the plaintiff, F. J. Blatz. Blackford, who is charged with starving to death three horses at his farm in South Plainfield and leaving three others in a dying condition from lack of food, pleaded not guilty. He is represented by Robert Adrane, Esq., of New Brunswick.

Crooks at Work.

Would-be thieves attempted to enter the hotel of Michael Watson on Grant avenue this morning at about 5:30 o'clock. They worked over the rear entrance for some time and were evidently frightened away, leaving behind them a chisel and block of wood with which they had been operating.

WHERE PEOPLE WORSHIPPED

PRESENT USES OF FORMER CHURCH EDIFICES IN THIS CITY.

It is a little known fact that three of Plainfield's most prominent churches are occupying sites of former churches of the same denomination which, though moved years ago, are still in daily use in other parts of the city.

Forty years ago the building then known as the First Presbyterian Church and the predecessor of the present handsome home of Presbyterians was moved from East Front street, the location of the present edifice, across the railroad tracks, which were not then elevated, to East Fourth street above the gas house. The building has been practically cut in two and is used for dwellings by two families.

Where the First Baptist Church stands now was formerly a wooden Baptist church with an ungraceful turret which, in spite of the fact that its shingled sides have not been greatly altered since they sheltered the pious village Baptists in their "Sunday go-to-meetin'" clothes, would never be recognized in the row of buildings on New street where it occupies a humble position.

The fact that the Whittier school on the corner of Madison avenue and West Fifth street was at one time, less than two decades ago, the Seventh-Day Baptist Church is not generally known. When the purpose of the building was for church uses, it bore a lofty and graceful spire which has been replaced by a belfry. The beautiful building now owned by the Seventh-Day Baptists is situated on the same lot as its predecessor on the corner of Central avenue and West Fifth street.

DIVISION OF FOURTH WARD

THICKLY POPULATED WARD MAY BE SPLIT IN TWO.

There has been some talk for several years of making an additional ward to this city. It is planned to divide the Fourth ward in half thus making five wards in the city and giving another councilman to the governing body. Several persons residing in that ward have been discussing that plan for some time and it is said many of them are in favor of it. This is one of the strongest wards in the city, as well as being the largest. Its boundaries are Park avenue West through West Fourth street to the city line at Rock avenue, north to Green brook, east to the Western side of Somerset street, to West Front, to Park avenue on the West side to the northerly side of West Fourth street.

It is proposed to place the Fifth ward in the west end of the city where the greatest growth is apparent and make the dividing line Grant avenue, south of Front street and West End avenue to the brook, north of that street.

The vote at the last election in the Fourth ward was larger than any other two wards in the city. In each of the three districts there are almost people enough to constitute separate wards. Rahway, much smaller than this city, has five wards, not one of which is equal in size to one district in the Fourth.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of a new ward in the city is the wonderful growth in the west end. This is not a spasmotic boom but a healthy growth. New houses are continually going up in that section of the town and the twenty odd real estate dealers in this city continually have inquiries regarding the west end as building locations and factory sites. It is said that the Fourth ward is the cosmopolitan section of the city. All classes and creeds are represented within the boundaries and it is very necessary that the growing section be represented by two more councilmen who will have the interests of the extreme west end at heart. At present there are three councilmen representing the Fourth, one of them being a councilman at large.

Hospital Not Mortgaged.

There is no mortgage on Muhlenberg Hospital, the work having been paid for as completed. It was with this understanding that many contributions were given to the hospital. When a sufficient sum of money is recevied for the Nurses' Home that building will be erected.

MINISTER DEPLORES THINGS NEGLECTED

Rev. Dr. Schenck, Pastor of Trinity Church, Points Out the Existing Evils.

PROPHYLAXIS, HIS TOPIC

THE DEMORALIZING INFLUENCE OF CHEAP LITERATURE AND CIGARETTES.

Prevention Better Than Cure, Vein of Speaker's Argument—Trolley Company's Attention Drawn to Needed Remedies.

Protesting against the condition of the local trolley system, the attitude of the company in not properly providing for its passengers, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed Church, yesterday morning arraigned the Public Service Corporation in a sermon, the subject of which was "Prophylaxis." He took his thought from Deuteronomy, 22:8. The passage deals with one of the laws of Moses which compelled people to place a battlement about the roof of their houses. The pastor explained that the word prohpylaxis was a medical term, meaning prevention rather than cure. The battlement was ordered placed about their roof of Eastern houses because people made a practice of living on the roof of their dwellings and that the battlement served to keep them from falling off.

The minister said that the Heavenly Father did not wish to see human life needlessly sacrificed and therefore commanded Moses to make the law written in the Old Testament. "Life is held by us too cheaply," he said. "We handle it too recklessly. In no other nation of the same standing in the world is life held at so little value as in our county. In this country last year there were thousands killed in railroad collisions. In England, there were none. There precautions have been taken. Here the railroads wait to be ordered to use safe guard by coroner's juries." The speaker declared that we have a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals, but man must take care of himself. Man must take chances while the animals are taken care of by law.

"The trolley cars in our cities are a constant menace to the people in our streets," said he. "They disregard the public's welfare. It was not until the law compelled them to that they placed fenders on the cars, vestibules for motormen and other safety appliances. The cars in this city are run too fast and many improvements are needed. What we want is cars that do not threaten to part asunder when one rides in them. I entreat prophylactic measures on the part of the road in making some repairs to the road bed on Front street between Grant avenue and Elm place. The same rails which were put down when the company first laid its tracks here are in use today and it is positively physical suffering to ride in the cars that pass over them. The rails are not only a disgrace to the company but are a source of discomfort to the tax payers who own property along that line. I believe it is high time for the authorities to do something. But we must not bear too hard of the Corporations. There is very much responsibility resting with the individual. The one great aim of today is to secure speed. If we have two routes to travel we will invariably take the short route even though it be the way of peril.

The police of our State came in for a severe arraignment at the hands of Trinity's pastor. He referred to the boy criminals of Chicago and asked where these youngsters secure their cheap an immoral literature which are the cause of many a boy's downfall. He asked where the small boy gets the illegally sold cigarettes. "The laws of our State," said he, are not self-acting. They need the enforcement of the police. "It is not your or my place to ferret out crime," he said, "but is the duty of the police.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASS'NS

STATE COMMISSIONER'S ANNUAL REPORT CONTAINS INTERESTING FACTS.

The annual report of David O. Watkins, State commissioner of banking and insurance, which has just been issued, contains much data of interest relative to the building and loan associations of the State.

The report, which is the fifth since the department was established, contains the records of 385 active associations in the State. During the past year twenty-three associations were incorporated and seven ceased business.

The business of the "State" and "National" building and loan associations in the aggregate continues to show a marked decrease, and as they constitute a very small percentage of the whole number of associations in the State, the proportion of "local" associations being over ninety-seven per cent., the figures of the latter class only are used in the comparisons following.

The aggregate membership of the local associations is 112,589, which is an increase as compared with the total reported last year of 5,915, or five per cent. The particular associations reporting this year, however, show an increase in membership of 8,203. The proportion of borrowing members remains at twenty-seven per cent.

The aggregate of the gross assets is $51,460,688, which is an increase of $3,930,311, the gain in the previous year being $1,099,385 less.

The payment by members on stock account amount to $38,862,503. This is an increase of $2,293,924.

Profits have increased $839,102, the total being $9,216,183.

The other liabilities, which include and consist principally of advance payments by members, borrowed money and matured shares unpaid and balances due on loans, amount to $3,383,002, which is an increase of $347,285.

The stock payments and the profits or surplus together constitute the net assets, or net worth, of the associations, the total being $48,078,686, which is a gain of $2,633,026.

The real estate owned amounts to $2,36,565, or slightly over four and a half per cent. of the total assets. Nearly fourteen per cent. of the real estate held is sold under contract. The foreclosures for the year numbered 149, or ten less than the number reported for the preceding year.

Associations to the number of 306, or eighty-six per cent. are conducted upon the serial plan, 39 adhere to the permanent or perpetual plan, and 8 are perminating associations.

In 190, or fifty-three per cent. of the associations, the practice of deducting the premium bid from the amount of the loan applied for, known as the gross premium plan, is followed. The installment premium associations number 133, or thirty-seven per cent. In 10 associations both plans are used, and 20 report no premium plan.

Japanese Wear.

P. H. DuBois, who has charge of the Vantine store on West Front street, has in stock for the holidays a very fine stock of fine china ware, teas, coffees and Japanese ware. His stock is most complete and it is essential that persons who are undecided about securing presents should visit that store where there is such a great variety of gifts for Christmas.

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Arthur Caleen, of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, spent yesterday with friends in Elizabeth.

Frank Nickerson, of the Potter Press Company's plant, has handed in his resignation, to take effect Jan. 1.

James Slorab, of McDowell street, returned yesterday to his position at the Perth Amboy Dry Dock Company's plant.

The management of the Remington typewriting works has laid off 400 men for an indefinite period. 1,300 employes are still at work however.

Alexander Muir, assistant superintendent of the Randolph-Clowes Company's Brass Roll Mills, of Waterbury, Conn., is visiting his father, Andrew Muir, of Essex street, for the Christmas holidays.

The W. De Wees Wood plant of the American Sheet Steel Company, located in M'Keesport, Pa., which has been shut down for several months, will start up in full on Monday next, giving six hundred more men employment. This is pleasing news for the workmen. With the Wood plant in operation every mill in that city will run at full blast, with fully 15,000 men at work.

FACTS CONCERNING 1904

TWO ECLIPSE OF SUN AND NONE OF THE MOON IN A LEAP YEAR.

The first leap year in eight years will be 1904 and it will have only two eclipses. This last condition has not occurred before for a century and will not happen again for another hundred years.

According to ordinary usage 1900 would have been a leap year. But the calendar of Julius Caesar consisted in giving the year 365¼ days, which was 11 minutes too much, an error which by 1582 had amounted approximately to ten days.

There will be no eclipses of the moon during 1904, and only two minor ones of the sun. Neither of these will be visible in the United States.

The new year will comprise the latter part of the 128th and the beginning of the 129th year of American independence and will correspond to the years 5664-65 of the Jewish era. The Jewish new year will begin at sunset September 9, 1904.

Officially by the opening of the St. Louis exposition, but not chronologically, the year will make the centennial anniversary of the Louisiana purchase. The purchase was made from France in 1803. The year will mark the centennial of the Lewis & Clark expedition which opened up the Louisiana territory.

This expedition left St. Louis in 1804 and was out two and a half years. It proceeded up the Missouri to its head waters, explored the region, made a portage overland and continued down the Columbia. This opened up a vast extent of country and gave the United States a basis for claiming the Oregon country later.

The year 1904 will also make the bicentennial of the taking of Gibraltar by the English, August 4, 1407, and the battle of Blenheim, August 13, 1704.

The Christmas Tree.

Have you secured your Christmas tree yet? Charles L. Stanley, on North avenue, has secured direct from the Maine pine belt, a choice selecton of Christmas trees which are far superior to all others. They are full and have a rich Christmas color. He also has a full line of wreaths, for the window. He makes a specialty of doing Christmas decorating.

Handsomely Designed Wreaths.

Miss Anna Lincoln, of Park avenue, has a large assortment of Christmas flowers. She makes a specialty of wreaths and Christmas trees and her prices are low compared with others. She makes wreaths and fancy designs for Christmas to order and contracts for decorating.

Purity, His Motto.

The importance of securing pure candy for the Christmas tree cannot be too strongly urged. By securing the candy at Mehren's on East Front street, formerly Fowler's, pure candy is assured. Most all the candy is made at that store and cleanliness is insisted upon.

How Would a Picture Do.

Audsley's art store is a very desirable place to go to secure pictures for Christmas gifts. His stock is most complete with paintings and reproductions from the most prominent painters. He has etchings from Christy, Remington and Gibson.

Mrs. Lewis Shepard, of Plainfield, has returned from a visit with her mother at Glen Gardner.

Charles Eoff, of Crescent avenue, was a recent visitor among friends at Annandale.

WOOD'S PROMOTION.

Secretary Root Sends General's Record to Proctor.

BOTH PRESIDENTS APPROVED OF HIM

No Officer Below Grade of Major General Has Ever Held More Important Commands or Rendered More Distinguished Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The letter of Secretary Root to Senator Proctor, acting chairman of the committee on military affairs, giving a resume of the military record of General Leonard Wood and stating the chief considerations which led to his nomination as a major general has been made public.

After quoting from remarks commendatory to General Wood made by Generals Miles, Lawton, Graham and Forsythe the letter recites that "upon these and similar evidences of fitness President McKinley appointed Captain Wood colonel of the First volunteer cavalry in May, 1898."

The secretary also quotes from the commendations of Generals Young, Wheeler, Sumner and Shafter on General Wood's conduct in the Santiago campaign and says General Wood's appointment as commander of the Santiago province appears to have been based upon a statement made by General Shafter in a dispatch to the department, in which he said he "thought General Wood by far the best man to leave in command of Santiago."

The secretary reviews General Wood's subsequent military career, saying in this connection:

"The high estimate put by the secretary of war upon General Wood's services as military governor is shown in the published orders of the war department, as the opinions expressed in those orders were the opinions of both presidents under whom the service was rendered.

"Upon a review of General Wood's entire military record I think it fair to say that no officer of the American army below the grade of major general has held more important commands, rendered more distinguished service or demonstrated to a higher degree the possession of the qualities which fit a man to render valuable services to the country as major general."

"Previous rank," continues the secretary, "is of little consequence provided the service shall have been long enough to furnish the requisite experience and make the demonstration of capacity certain."

The secretary says he thinks both considerations unite in the case of General Wood and concludes by saying that General Wood's record and the views of public policy led President McKinley to appoint him a brigadier general and that the present nomination is in the regular order of seniority.

After a Three Thousand Mile Chase.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 21.—After a chase of 3,000 miles, extending from San Diego, Cal., to Norfolk and lasting since June 15, Thomas J. Blake, alias Ed Hall, was arrested here accused of being a deserter from the navy and a murderer. Detective Ulysses Grant Bonner of St. Louis has been shadowing Blake since last June. He followed him from California to Missouri and made the arrest there. While being brought east Blake managed to escape. He was followed by Bonner to Norfolk, and a second arrest was made here, but Blake again escaped. He caught a train to Suffolk and was picked up by a constable there as being suspicious.

Kaiser's "Preposterous Claims."

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Considerable resentment is shown in the English press over the reference to Waterloo made by Emperor William at a banquet in Hanover in honor of the anniversary of the Hanoverian regiments, when the emperor said he raised his glass "to the health of the German legions in memory of their incomparable deeds which, in conjunction with Blucher and the Prussians, rescued the English army from destruction at Waterloo." The Chronicle, the Standard and other papers protest against what the Chronicle calls the emperor's "preposterous claims."

Two More Charred Bodies Found.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 21.—Two more charred bodies were taken from the ruins of Rust dormitory of Walden university. The list of known dead now numbers nine, and two students are yet unaccounted for. Several of those injured by jumping from the burned building are in a critical condition, but no additional deaths have occurred.

Crow Will Go to Redlands.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21.—Within the next few days Attorney General Crow will depart for Redlands, Cal., to recuperate his declined health. For the past two weeks he has been confined to his bed by illness at the home of A. C. Steuver. Mr. Crow, it is announced, is suffering from nervous prostration and the effects of grip.

SULLIVAN, Ind., Dec. 21. — Fire which started in the Citizens' company mine here is still raging. Noble Burton and Richard Jones, who went down the shaft, were overcome by smoke and rescued with difficulty. The fire was started by a shot which was exploded in a gas pocket.

Tried to Kill Max Nordau.

PARIS, Dec. 21.—A miserably clad man fired two shots from a revolver at Max Nordau, the litterateur and vice president of the Congress of Zionists, at a Zionist ball at the Salle Charras. One of the shots grazed Nordau, while the second wounded a guest.

GORMAN ON PANAMA.

Senator Says Senate Has Not Yet Recognized Republic.

ROOSEVELT SENDS DOWN DOCUMENTS

Confirmation of Buchanan as Minister to Isthmian Republic Barred by Want of Senate's Approval, Although He Is En Route.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The house has received from President Roosevelt the third installment of papers relating to the recent revolution on the isthmus of Panama. They comprise the correspondence between the state department and Minister Beaupre at Bogota relative to the Hay-Herran treaty.

Secretary Hay telegraphed Mr. Beaupre to notify Colombia on April 7 last that the matter of requests made by Colombia to canal and railroad companies for appointment of agents to negotiate cancellation of the present concessions was covered by the treaty.

On April 13 Mr. Beaupre reviewed again at length the feeling in Colombia toward the treaty. On its negotiation he says, "I am convinced the public had never expected better terms."

In a later communication on the subject of public opinion adverse to the treaty Mr. Beaupre says: "It is utterly impossible to convince these people that the Nicaraguan route was ever seriously considered by the United States; that the negotiation concerning it had any other motive than the squeezing of an advantageous bargain out of Colombia, and that any other than the Panama route ever will be selected."

The senate in a session for the consideration of executive nominations has voted to reconsider the vote by which William I. Buchanan of New York had been confirmed as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the new republic of Panama.

The nomination of Mr. Buchanan was sent to the senate by the president a few days ago. It was confirmed without opposition, and Mr. Buchanan has already received his credentials and is en route for his post.

Senator Gorman's action moving a reconsideration of the vote by which the nomination was confirmed came like a thunderclap. He rose at his place in the senate and first called attention to the fact that Mr. Buchanan's nomination had been confirmed. He said it had "slipped through" without the knowledge of any of the senators on the Democratic side and, he believed, with the knowledge of a very few senators in the chamber. He said that a very grave question had been raised in the senate as to whether the new republic of Panama ought to be recognized, and the senate had taken no vote on this question.

Polish Lady Died at the age of 105.

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 21.—Mrs. Honoretta Marshall of Webster has just died in the Worcester Insane hospital at the age of 105 years, 4 months and 12 days. So far as any record is known she was the oldest woman in Worcester county. The woman, whose life spans an entire century and reaches into three, was a remarkable character. Born in Poland Aug. 8, 1708, she enjoyed as a young woman both wealth and position. Left a widow over sixty years ago with immense wealth, she devoted herself to distributing her entire fortune and sold her home to give to the poor. Forty-seven years ago she married John Marshall in Poland.

Governor In a Fist Fight.

HOPE, Ark., Dec. 21.—During a joint discussion here by the three candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor a personal encounter occurred between two of the candidates, Governor Jefferson Davis and Associate Justice Carroll D. Wood of the supreme court. Governor Davis struck Judge Wood on the side of the head, causing blood to flow freely. As Judge Wood attempted to retaliate he was seized and kept from reaching the governor. Later he disengaged himself and struck the governor on the arm. The two principals were arrested and placed under bonds for their appearance in the mayor's court Jan. 15.

Peabody Glue Factory Destroyed.

PEABODY, Mass., Dec. 21. — The George W. Brown Glue works, operated by the American Hide and Leather company, located in South Peabody, have been totally consumed, causing a loss estimated at $100,000 and throwing seventy-five workmen out of employment. The fire started in an outbuilding some distance from the boiler room, and it is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

John Redmond's Protest.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—John Redmond, speaking at Runningagain, County Sligo, Ireland, strongly protested against decisions of the legal officers at Dublin castle which, he said, prevented the proper operation of the Irish land act in congested districts by enabling landlords to combine in a refusal to sell grazing lands.

Two Killed by Freight Train.

IPSWICH, Mass., Dec. 21.—Thomas Fitz and William Russ, both about forty-five years of age, residents of Ipswich, were struck by a freight train on the Boston and Maine railroad some time during the night. No matter which way the visitor may turn, the suggestion of a suitable present immediately looms up. That doesn't happen anywhere else in Newark. Our buyers made an extra effort to excel all previous Christmas preparations and succeeded admirably. The heavy burden of business proves it. The end of the great army of gift buyers is coming into view. The finish will find quite as good choice as the beginning, for our immense stock rooms are ever ready to replenish delinquencies of the counters and shelves.

SANTO DOMINGO AND HAITI.

More Trouble and Fighting Feared In the Small Republics.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 21.—The Cuban steamer Julia, from Santo Domingo and Haiti, has arrived here, having on board Senor Espaillat, former minister of war of Santo Domingo; Commander Perez of the Dominican army, Captain Geirra, Colonel Espaillat and other supporters of former President Wos y Gil. The Julia also brought Juan Medina, a Porto Rican who has been appointed by the provisional government of Santo Domingo as consul general to Porto Rico in succession to Senor Morales. The latter, however, refuses to surrender his office, claiming that the provisional government has not been recognized by the United States. He has turned over the effects of the consular office to Senor Galvan, a son of the former Dominican minister of finance. Senor Medina will appeal to Governor Hunt for official recognition.

The supporters of General Wos y Gil held a long conference, and the members of the party express the belief that the intervention of the United States in the affairs of Santo Domingo will be found necessary in the near future. They declare that a crisis is rapidly approaching and that the provisional government finds it impossible to negotiate loans.

The Julia brought news that former President Jiminez is now at Monte Cristi, that former Vice President Deschamps is in control of Porto Plata and that Generals Morales and Caceres are fortifying the city of Santo Domingo. It is said that an attempt was recently made to kill General Jiminez and that General Caceres lives in imminent danger of assassination.

According to reports brought from Haiti, a revolution is feared there which may result in the assassination or at least the incarceration of several ministers and delegates.

The chief of the French bank at Port au Prince has been imprisoned.

The attitude of the people of Haiti toward President Nord is decidedly threatening, as they allege that he has been guilty of embezzling public funds.

A MINE FATALITY.

Three Workers Perish From Flames In Shaft.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Dec. 21.—A party of miners reached the surface from the old workings of the Grand Portage section of the Isle Royale mine here, having been down four hours, and report finding the bodies of Charles Peterson, aged forty-two; his son, Axel, twenty-one, and John Gregorvich, where they had been overcome by gas while fleeing from the fire in the shaft of the Isle Royale mine. They were working on the eighth level and, finding escape cut off by the flames, fled into the abandoned workings to the north of them until they could go no farther.

The bodies of father and son were found together, with Gregorvich a little distance from them. It will be necessary to build a road to bring the bodies to the surface, as the timbering is gone in the old shaft, and the drifts north of the burned shaft are too full of gas to be traversed.

Did Tolstoi Want a Rest?

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 21.—William Jennings Bryan has arrived here. Mr. Bryan spent fourteen hours with Tolstoi, arriving before breakfast. He rode half an hour with Tolstoi, who then insisted that Mr. Bryan should take a siesta while the author wrote. Tolstoi's physician laughingly said he was sorry that the author had curtailed his daily exercise through the fear of tiring Mr. Bryan. The conversation between Tolstoi and Mr. Bryan took the widest range. While Mr. Bryan was dining with Ambassador McCormick at a restaurant the servants rushed in with the news that Mr. McCormick's house was on fire. It turned out, however, that only a chimney was ablaze, and the fire was soon extinguished.

Every Passenger Vaccinated.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Dec. 21. — Every passenger on the Northern Central railroad train No. 61, which arrived in this city at 5:20 o'clock, was vaccinated by the railroad company's physicians before the train left the station, the precaution being taken because of the discovery of a smallpox patient among the passengers. The man boarded the train below Trout Run, Pa., but a Trout Run physician who was on the train immediately discovered the nature of the man's ailment and had him removed from the train at Trout Run.

Probing Chinaman's Death.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—The police are investigating the death of On Toy, a Chinaman who was found lying in a street at Charlestown. He was unconscious, but his only wound appeared to be an ugly cut on the lip. He was taken to the Relief hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. He was evidently the victim of an assault, the motive for which was not apparent.

Colonel McEntee Dead.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Colonel John McEntee, well known throughout the Hudson river valley, is dead, aged sixty-eight years. He served with distinction during the civil war and was provost judge of Richmond by order of the secretary of war from June, 1865, to April, 1866.

TURKEY'S APOLOGY.

Porte Has Agreed to Demands of Minister Leishman.

REGRETS FOR INSULT OFFERED DAVIS

Governor of Alexandretta Gets Orders to Call on Consul on His Return and Make Amends For Attack by the Local Police.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 21.—The porte has agreed to the demands of the United States government and has ordered the governor of Alexandretta to make ample apology to Consul Davis for the insults offered him and the assault committed upon him by the local police of Alexandretta while the consul was accompanying on board a departing steamer a naturalized American citizen named Attarin, who had been liberated from prison through the intervention of Mr. Davis.

United States Minister Leishman arrived at a friendly understanding in the premises with Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister, who agreed to his demands.

The porte notified the United States legation orally and in writing of the instructions telegraphed to the vali of Aleppo to order the governor of Alexandretta to call on Consul Davis immediately after his arrival at Alexandretta and offer to him a complete apology. The porte has also promised to punish the police officials who assaulted Consul Davis and will allow Attarin to depart unhindered.

The United States cruiser San Francisco, with Rear Admiral Cotton, which has left Beirut for the purpose of taking Consul Davis to Alexandretta, is expected to arrive there, and if the Turkish government carries out the programme it has formulated the Alexandretta incident may be considered closed. It is felt here that delay or complications are not likely, but Rear Admiral Cotton has received instructions to meet all eventualities.

LOUISIANA TRANSFER.

New Orleans Celebrates the Great Event's Anniversary.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 21.—Under the sunniest of skies the stars and stripes rose gracefully to the top of the tall staff in the historic Place d' Armes amid the ringing of the cathedral bells, the roar of cannon and the shouts of the populace, and the centennial celebration of the Louisiana transfer ended in a burst of enthusiasm.

The day's exercises were impressive and inspiring. They opened with the pontifical mass in the old St. Louis cathedral, built while the Spaniards were still in possession of Louisiana, the shrine to which Andrew Jackson went immediately after the battle of New Orleans to hear the high mass of thanksgiving sung for the victory of the American arms.

The scene in the cathedral was a striking one. Festooned in the great nave were the flags of the three celebrating nations, the red and yellow of Spain, the tricolor of France and the red, white and blue of the American republic. In the brilliant robes of his exalted position Archbishop Chapelle officiated in the celebration of the mass, with the assistance of clerics of the diocese. The music was superb. Rev. Father de Lamoriniere, the Jesuit orator, preached an eloquent sermon, and Archbishop Chapelle spoke briefly from the altar upon the great significance of the occasion.

One of the features of the celebration has been the popular interest in the Spanish representation. Senor Turo y O'Donnell has been the recipient of unusual attention and courtesy.

Moyer, the Tower Murder Suspect.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 21.—Edward Moyer, arrested at Sunbury on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of W. H. Glendennin at Brown's tower, has been taken to Lock Haven, where he will have a hearing. He claims to have slept in a mill near Montoursville on the night of the murder, and Chester Emick, watchman at the Fisher mill, says he remembers a man of Moyer's general description sleeping at that mill on the night in question.

Held For Alleged Counterfeiting.

BOSTON, Dec. 21.—Alfred L. Wilson and Edward D. Wiggin, who were arrested in this city on the charge of manufacturing counterfeit bank notes, were held in $7,000 each for a further hearing by United States Commissioner Fiske here. District Attorney Casey said that after the hearing Dec. 28 the defendants would undoubtedly be removed to the United States court officials at Concord, N. H., where the alleged crime was committed.

Red Star Liner Finland Aground.

FLUSHING, Holland, Dec. 21.—The Red Star line steamer Finland, which left Antwerp at noon Saturday for New York and which later ran ashore in the fog near Nieuwensluis, lies in a dangerous position. She has a thousand passengers on board and when she grounded was going at the rate of sixteen knots an hour. Attempts have been made by several vessels to pull her off, but all so far have been unsuccessful.

Improvement at Butler.

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 21.—The typhoid fever death list was increased to a total of sixty-nine by three additional deaths here. Three new cases have been reported to the committee. The physicians of the city report a steady improvement in the general situation, except that as the epidemic subsides deaths become more frequent among those who have had relapses and recurrences of the disease.

The senators resent Secretary Root's activity in behalf of General Wood. It is a case of "root, hog or die."

If Herbert Spencer could hear some of the unkind and uncharitable statements made by notoriety seeking ministers regarding him, his agnosticism might be of a still deeper stamp.

William M'Adoo is slated to succeed Commissioner Greene according to the advance list of McClellan's appointments. The selection of a Jerseyman for the office shows what brand of justice will be dispensed in the "red light" district.

More advertising would be improved if it contained more brains and fewer words. A farmer wanted to sell his farm. After trying his best to frame an ad that would induce people to look it over and failing, an ad writer who heard of it offered to write him up an ad for $10 that would sell it in less than a month, or he would not ask a cent. The farmer agreed, but after reading the ad over he said: "I believe I'll not sell; I've been looking for just such a place all my life, and didn't know I had it until you described it to me."—Press and Printer.

Rev. Dr. Schenck's remarks on the baneful influence of cigarettes and cheap literature during the course of his sermon yesterday on Prohylaxis were of the kind which should receive attention. Cigarettes cloud the brain and prevent its development and trashy literature give to the mind false ideas and ideals. It is safe to say that nine-tenths of the boys in reformatories today are victims of these two harmful habits. Laws have been passed prohibiting the sale of these things to the youth, but fail to bring about the desired result. It should be unlawful for any boy to have a cigarette or "dime" novel in his possession, though such a statute would probably be unconstitutional.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Communion services will be held at the Congregational Church on Sunday, January 3.

John E. Chester, of Upsala College, New Orange, will preach at the German Lutheran Church in Swedish at 8 o'clock Christmas night.

The Christmas services will be held at the Park Avenue Baptist Church next Sunday and the regular Christmas entertainment will be held Tuesday night, December 29.

The Rt. Rev. Edwin S. Lines, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Newark, and Mrs. Lines, are now domiciled in the Episcopal residence, 21 Washington street.

That Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson will leave the Westfield Methodist Church next spring is a foregone conclusion. It is not unlikely that he will go to St. James Church in Elizabeth.—Westfield Leader.

Mrs. W. W. Dunn, of West Fifth street, will entertain the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church, tomorrow afternoon, at which time garments for the Children's Home will be made.

The question of changing the time of meeting was not decided at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church last night. It was agreed to let the matter rest until after the holiday season.

Those attending the mid-week service at the Congregational Church Wednesday night are requested to bring with them their best Christmas thoughts and listen to Christmas song and story. Five minutes will be devoted to current events.

As preparations for the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church progress, the more intensified grows the interest in the elections and other vital matters affecting the denomination, which will come before the quadrennial gathering in Los Angeles next May. Of the important questions of church polity, under discussion, some were the cause of great agitation at the time of the last general conference and are again demanding widespread attention; others are new and the result of changing conditions or enlarged work. But unlike some denominations, Methodists are not stirred by any strife over their doctrinal standards for, while the general conference can tinker with every other part of the church machinery, they must be kept inviolate. Of the elections, the Episcopacy is, of course, paramount. Since the conference in 1900, four bishops have died, and probably as many more will be retired next year because of their advancing age and feebleness.

AMATEUR OARSMEN.

Championship Meet to Be Held at St. Louis in 1904.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—At a special meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen held here at the Murray Hill hotel those present were:

James Pilkington, president, New York; F. R. Fortmeyer, secretary, New York; John O'Regan, New York; Judge James G. Tighe, Brooklyn; C. W. Preisendanz and G. S. Carrigan, Philadelphia; C. R. Zappone, Washington; Walter Stimpson and J. P. Fox, Boston; H. W. Garfield, Albany, N. Y., and G. Schaab, St. Louis.

These compose the entire committee with the exception of C. S. Catlin, Chicago.

It was decided to hold the next championship races in St. Louis, and the dates suggested are Friday and Saturday, July 29 and 30, subject to an agreement with the Canadians.

Mr. Schaab of St. Louis stated that his clubs were amply prepared for the regatta and have a fund of $3,500 for that purpose.

Yale and New York In Draw Game.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Honors were easy in the hockey game between teams representing Yale and the New York Athletic club at the St. Nicholas rink, each side scoring three goals. The New Haven collegians, considering the fact that they were at a decided disadvantage in weight, made an excellent showing and in the first half led their opponents by one point.

Adelphi Girls Defeated.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Before an unusually large crowd in the Normal college gymnasium, Park avenue and Sixty-eighth street, the Adelphi college girls' basket ball team of Brooklyn was defeated here by the Normal college alumnæ team by a score of 15 points to 7.

FAMILY EXTERMINATED.

Machinist, Despondent, Killed Himself and Family.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 21.—Roscoe W. Derby, a machinist and about forty-five years old, exterminated his family here by shooting his wife, his three children and then himself. The crime is believed to have been due to despondency over the impoverished condition of the family purse and the near approach of Christmas.

The crimes were extraordinary in their thoroughness, and there was evidently no mishap in their enactment. The wife was killed first while sleeping at her husband's side in bed. Two of the children were killed as they ran hither and thither through the house in the darkness of early morning endeavoring to escape their merciless parent. The third child was killed in its bed after it's elder brother and sister had been killed.

Derby had been downtown late, ostensibly shopping. When he got home his wife and he talked with a neighbor who had been calling over the approaching festival. Derby seemed pale and nervous. Shortly after his arrival at home the neighbor left, and the Derby family went to bed.

A number of pool room race checks were found about the house, showing that Derby had been trying his luck on betting.

The first knowledge of the crime was communicated in a letter written by Derby to a friend who lived not far away and which was sent him by special delivery. The letter was to the effect that when it had been received the Derby family would be dead. When the friend hurried to the house all that had been written was found to be true.

The Passing of Red Cloud.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, Neb., Dec. 21.—Red Cloud is dying in a tepee in a corner of the yard surrounding the little wooden house which the government built for him here many years ago. He is eighty-five years old, almost blind, scarcely able to hear and broken in health and spirit. His once alert mind is beclouded and feeble. Death is likely to occur at any hour. With the passing of the famous old chieftain will disappear from among men the last of the eminent and powerful leaders of the Indians whose names are indelibly written, many of them in human blood, upon every page of the history of the great west. Red Cloud first came into prominence as the leader of the red men in the Fetterman massacre in Wyoming in 1866.

Saved Negro From Lynching.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 21.—To save Charles Bynum, a negro, from lynching Justice Morris of Driver, Va., held court at 3 a. m. by the light of the fire the negro is accused of having started. Bynum is charged with having burned the barn of John L. Bond. In the fire several fine horses and a number of vehicles and farm implements, together with several thousand pounds of cotton, were destroyed. He was held for court.

Chang Yi Was a "Grafter."

TIENTSIN, China, Dec. 21.—The reason for the degredation of Chang Yi, director of the Northern railway, and the taking from him of all his honors is that in 1900 he sold the valuable mines at Kaiping. Chang Yi has been given two months' grace, during which he is expected to again bring the mines under Chinese control. Should he fail to do this further punishments await him.

Fireman Held as Firebug.

KEENE, N. H., Dec. 21.—Fred P. Amadon, a fireman, has been arrested here charged with incendiarism. The arrest follows an investigation into the origin of three small fires that broke out during the night and which the police say were set. The city has been terrorized by an incendiary who has for some time escaped detection.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

MATERIALS AND COLORS.

Thin Materials Used Winter and Summer—The Vogue of Purple.

Mousseline de sole makes dainty blouses and evening gowns for debutantes, and white mousseline de sole is particularly effective with yellow lace trimmings.

Heliotrope and lavender are enjoying a return to favor which has not been equaled for a long time. Great bunches of violets are worn with the purple cloth costumes, and with these are also worn large hats of beaver either in white or of a violet tint trimmed with sweeping ostrich plumes.

Never before has there been such latitude in the choice of dress material. Everything is fashionable provided the color is becoming and the cut is in good taste. Soie de chine, crepe de chine, veilings and even dull makes of silk and satin are worn as much in the winter as in the summer.

A great many of the handsomer dresses have two bodices, one for day and the other for evening wear.

Mantles garnished with sables have a capuchon and sleeves lined with effective guipure; also velvet sorties de theatre and driving mantles are exquisitely garnished with coarse guipure and fur, while last, but not least, is the combination of guipure with silver galloon on plaited tulle hats. These tulle and lace hats, prepared for dining in restaurants, are eminently becoming. The additional note of brightness in the band of old silver galloon encircling the crown of a gold galloon brim outlining innumerable plaitings of tulle illusion promises to become exceedingly attractive and will be considerably worn with the semi-toilette de soiree. White ostrich plumes have the stems or quills finished off in an old style gold chased ornamental needle shaped tag. These bright little et ceteras must be very discreetly used; otherwise they become common and gaudy.

SEEN HERE AND THERE.

Little Dress Hints Useful to the Woman of Limited Means.

The economical girl can get along very well nowadays with one reception frock and one smart tailor made.

Picture hats of white, hairy felt are very becoming and not too expensive, for if the shape is becoming they can be trimmed at home.

Sleeves are the leading feature of fashion. The old style bell sleeves are exaggerated in width and eked out by ruffles of chiffon and lace. The undersleeves are confined at the wrist with bands of silk, lace or velvet.

Stamped and figured velvets are among the smartest dress materials for street costumes and even for evening wear.

Gray in every conceivable tint is very popular, and the new gun metal shade of broadcloth vies for favor with spotted silks and brocades and with dyed lace.

Fashion is very liberal as regards shape, but everything of the wrap or mantle type must be wide and full. Evening coats of light brocade show touches of bright velvet and paste buttons, with hanging frills of chiffon and a little fur or feather trimming at the neck. Short, old fashioned ties in ermine or sable are admirable to finish the neck of an opera coat.

Although the new woolens with dashes and flakes of color are largely used for winter toilets, yet the smartest ones are of self colored fabrics, with a smooth surface, intermixed with a little faced cloth of brighter tone and tastefully appliqued with embroidered scrolls or motifs.

In the illustration is shown a picture hat of white rough felt trimmed with white roses and a gray and white feather. JUDIC CHOLLET.

HE SCENTED DANGER.

Bishop Bowman Warned Lincoln Against Wilkes Booth.

Had a Premonition of Disaster, But the President Was Not Impressed by It—Interesting Historical Reminiscences.

Rt. Rev. Dr. Thomas Bowman, of No. 66 Walnut street, East Orange, N. J., is the senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, and, although 86 years of age, enjoys good health and is active. He lives with his son-in-law, Burns D. Caldwell, one of the vice presidents of the Lackawanna railroad.

Bishop Bowman was born near Berwick, Pa. He has been a clergyman for 65 years. He served as chaplain of the United States senate during 1864 and 1865, and while at the national capital warned President Lincoln of John Wilkes Booth, whom he had seen prowling about the capitol, and also about the white house. Mr. Lincoln was not disturbed, and took no extra precautions, and five nights later, April 14, 1865, he was assassinated in Ford's theater by Booth.

"The first time I recollect having seen Booth," said the bishop to a New York World man, "was one morning just as I was about to open the senate with prayer. The members were in their seats and stillness had come upon the gathering. I stepped forward and was about to speak when a man entered. He was so striking and handsome as to attract attention anywhere, but that was not what caused me to pause.

"The man made a peculiar impression upon me that I could not account for. He startled me, and I was so disconcerted that I could not go on. I turned to one of the members and called his attention to the visitor. He made some slight remark, after which I collected myself and continued my prayer, but it was a long time before I recovered from the shock of that man's appearance.

"I have never recovered from the impression I then gained, that he was there for no good and that his presence boded evil for some one.

"Some days passed and again I saw this man. I met him on the street in the vicinity of the government buildings and I saw him in the senate chamber. He made me uneasy and I inquired who he was. I was not reassured when I was told that he was one of the Booths and a prominent actor, for I could not shake off the impression.

BISHOP THOMAS BOWMAN.
(Methodist Churchman Who Warned Lincoln Against Booth.)

"The persistence with which Booth hung about me gave me great anxiety. Soon after I saw him prowling around the executive mansion and in the vicinity of the president's office. He apparently was taking notes of the entrances and exits. Now thoroughly alarmed, I sought out President Lincoln and told him of the man, and that I believed Booth would take his life if he got the chance.

"Although I do not remember exactly what Mr. Lincoln said at the time, I do remember that same old smile of ineffable kindness that came over his countenance as he replied that he did not believe that anyone would murder him. His great and good mind could not picture such a crime. I had delivered my warning, but I felt more uneasy than ever. A day or two later I left for my home, in St. Louis, my task as senate chaplain having been performed. I had barely reached there, when there was flashed over the wires the news of the assassination.

"I shall never forget the feeling that took possession of me as I read, coupled with this, that the deed had been done by John Wilkes Booth, the very man I had warned the president against."

Bishop Bowman's duties did not bring him in close contact with Mr. Lincoln and, as he himself says, he was very careful about calling upon the president. He first saw Lincoln when he preached at a little town in Illinois, where the latter worshiped before the war.

Mr. Lincoln was at the service, and at its conclusion came forward and shook hands with Mr. Bowman, then a circuit preacher. The two chatted together for awhile, and then Mr. Lincoln invited the minister to his home, where he was entertained at dinner. Bishop Bowman did not see Lincoln again until he met him at Washington, the head of the nation.

COLOMBIANS ON THE MOVE.

Two Battalions Reported to Be on the Way to Quidedo.

PANAMA, Dec. 21.—News has been brought here by the steamer Martinique from Savanilla that two battalions of Colombian troops have left Savanilla for Quidedo.

Three hundred and eighty marines are now at Empire Station, on the Panama railroad, under command of Major John A. Lejeune. The marines are comfortably settled and are well supplied with good water. The auxiliary cruiser Dixie before leaving Colon left stores sufficient for two weeks, and the marines are getting beef and bread from local sources.

The four companies of marines at present occupy fourteen one-story houses belonging to the canal company. The company commanders are respectively Captain Hiram R. Bearss, Captain William W. Low, Captain Louis M. Little and Captain John N. Wright, Captain Smedley D. Butler, formerly of the converted cruiser Panther, is in command of the company of marines at Yaviza.

It is reported that President Marroquin recently sent this cablegram to General Reyes at Washington:

"Any negotiations which do not look to the re-establishment of the integrity of Colombia will not be acceptable."

General Reyes is said to have replied in part as follows:

"All aggression against Panama will be disastrous for Colombia. I will undertake further negotiations."

The ceremony of blessing the flag of the new republic was performed in the open air at the Panama plaza, fronting the barracks here. Mass was said by the regimental chaplain, who blessed the regimental flags. The soldiers surrounded Minister of War Obarrio, who made a short speech to them, after which the soldiers, policemen and firemen swore fidelity to the flag and to the republic.

WAR MAY COME.

Russia's Reply to Japanese Proposals Is Unsatisfactory.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—Reuter's Telegram company has learned that considerable anxiety exists in the best informed circles of London regarding the possible outcome of the situation in the far east. Fears, it says, are expressed that the Russian government may have overstepped the boundary which would make a continuation of peaceful negotiations with Japan possible. It may be regarded as quite certain, it asserts, that Japan will not accept the principles of the last Russian note, which are altogether at variance with Japan's main contentions, and that Japan's reply must necessarily be cast in this sense.

The report that Japan has sent an ultimatum to Russia is discredited here, and no information of a corroborative nature is in the possession of the foreign legations.

AUTO TURNED OVER.

Raymond White and Miss Ingersoll Badly Injured.

BAYSHORE, N. Y., Dec. 21.—Raymond S. White, a lawyer, and Miss Ingersoll were badly hurt by their automobile upsetting with them on the south road. Mr. White is probably fatally injured. Miss Ingersoll was rendered unconscious. The accident occurred after dark.

As the automobile was spinning along at a lively rate through the village on the way from New York to Great River when at the top of Lawrence's hill it ran into a baker's wagon driven without a light. The machine was upset, throwing the occupants to the ground.

It was at first thought that Mr. White was dead. Mr. White and Miss Ingersoll were removed to the country residence of Harry M. Johnson. Mr. White has not regained consciousness.

Leper Children Saved.

ST. LONIS, Dec. 21.—After having spent the past eleven years caring for the children of the lepers of the Hawaiian Islands Sister Albina of the Franciscan order, who was formerly Miss Miriam Sluder of St. Louis, has arrived here on a visit to her parents. Sister Albina said that the common belief that children of lepers inherit the disease is erroneous. "We take the children when they are two days old," she said, "and we have never had a case where leprosy has developed in after years. The children mostly all come from the island of Molokai, where the leper colony is located."

Men Not Laid Off.

A report that all the molders in the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant had been laid off this morning for an indefinite period proves to have no foundation. The story was generally circulated in the business section. At the plant, it was stamped as being totally untrue. Seven men, it was explained, had been laid off temporarily, but they will be given work again tomorrow. The plant will be closed down from Thursday until Monday, it being considered best not to open up for a half day on Saturday.

SCHOOL FIRE ESCAPES

STATE OFFICIALS TO ACT LENIENTLY IN THE MATTER AT PRESENT.

The position of the Department of Factory and Workshop Inspection regarding the placing of a fire escape on schools is outlined in a statement made recently by the department. It is as follows:

"The laws regulating fire protection of public buildings in this State are so drawn that there is a clash of authority in cities of the first and second class between the local authorities and the Department of Factories and Workshops. The department feels that the authority to enforce the fire protection law should be vested either in the local authorities or in the department.

"There has been some talk of so amending the factory and workshop laws this winter that the jurisdiction of the department over public buildings in cities of the first and second class, should be taken away. While no one connected with the department is taking a part in this movement, yet it is felt that something should be done to overcome the present difficulty."

They were brought to headquarters in the patrol wagon. It is said they were caught with the goods in the shape of two bags of coal.

No Truth in Raby Story.

The New Brunswick Press nails a fake story regarding Noah Raby's alleged recovery of his sight in this language: "The correspondent speaks of the cows feeding in the meadow last week. If there is no more truth in the story regarding Mr. Raby, than there is about Superintendent Hummer's cows feeding in a meadow in December, the correspondent wants to wake up from his pipe dream."

SERMON BY CONSUL.

Rev. Walter T. Griffin Says Sin Causes Ills to Which Humanity is Heir.

In the Trinity Reformed Church last evening the Rev. Walter T. Griffin, U. S. Consul at Limoges, France, preached an excellent sermon. The subject was God dwelling with man. He showed the effect of sin in separating the sinner from God and in causing all the ills and suffering to which humanity is heir. Said he: "God dwelling with man in Christ effects a union between the naturally antagonistic parties and gradually removes the terrible consequence of sin. The Paradise lost will be regained and man will live in loving fellowship and communion with God."

TAX LAW EXPLAINED TO COLLECTOR SMITH

Changes in Duties of Collector Made by Act Which Has Just Gone Into Effect.

THE STATUTE IN DETAIL

MEANS OF ENFORCING PAYMENT FULLY SET FORTH.

Powers of Collector—List of Uncollectable Taxes to be Presented to Governing Body Which Disposes of Them—Other Details.

Tax Collector Frank H. Smith has received from Secretary Thomas B. Usher, of the State Board of Taxation, notices in regard to Article VI, of the rveised tax act of 1903, which sets forth the duties of these officials and provides for a number of the changes in the methods heretofore employed by them. The new act, which is in effect today allows collectors to take means to enforce payment of tax bills, which were not enforceable under the old statute.

The first paragraph of article VI which the Secretary enlooses with the note, provides, among other things, that in any city the common council, or other governing body, may authorize and regulate the payment of taxes levied in any year by operating claims held by taxpayers and duly ordered paid by the city for current expenses of the same year.

It is further provided that by December 22 of each year the collector shall pay to the county collector out of the first moneys received for the amount of county and State taxes for his district, and that the county collector shall turn over to the State treasurer the State's share in the sum thus received by January 20.

It is provided in the next paragraph that interest at seven per cent. per annum, or at such higher rate, not exceeding twelve per cent., as the governing body of the tax district may, determine upon, shall be charged upon all taxes not paid by December 20.

The belongings of tenants of property shall be liable for proceedings under the law, and, on payment of taxes, may recover from the landlord in action of contract, or by withholding the sum necessary from the rent.

If the collector believes that any of the delinquents of taxes on real estate are uncollectable because of a fictitious or double value, or any other palpably erroneous statement, or that any dog tax, poll tax or tax on personal property is not collectable because of removal, absence, death or insolvency, he shall present those in a separate list to the governing body and the latter will decide what is to be done with it.

Each collector, except those in cities governed by charter, must make a return on the first Tuesday of February to the county clerk of all the uncollectible taxes listed during the year.

There are still many borough property owners who have not paid their bills although the number is less than that of last year. $9,000 was collected by Tax Collector Brown on Saturday and $5,000 approximately, yesterday.

ARCHITECT CHOSEN FOR NEW SCHOOL

North Plainfield Board of Education Makes Selection, But Declines to Give His Name.

EXCUSES FOR TRUANCY

CHRISTMAS VACATION IN BOROUGH SCHOOLS BEGIN TOMORROW.

Only Valid Excuse for Absence from School Session to be Sickness or Confinement at Home—Teachers' Salary Warrants Drawn.

A special meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education was held last night in the Somerset street school building when an architect was chosen for the new school building. His name will not be made public until it is known whether or not he will accept the position. The general school question was discussed.

Samuel Townsend, as chairman of the truancy committee reported that several cases had been placed in the hands of the Recorder. He stated that there was some question as to what constituted valid excuse for absence. It was decided that all cases of absence from regular school sessions would be void unless it was proven that the child had been sick and confined to its home.

The object of holding the meeting at this time of the month was to draw up warrants for the teachers' salaries before the holidays.

The closing exercises in the North Plainfield schools, it was announced, will be held tomorrow at 12:30 in the Somerset and Watchung school buildings. On account of the crowded conditions of the Somerset street school, the teachers have found that it will be impossible to invite the parents of the children this year. The exercises will, accordingly, be held in the main auditorium and will be for the children only.

PLAINFIELDER'S SON KILLED

EDWARD J. CROWELL CRUSHED TO DEATH BY THE CARS AT RAHWAY.

David E. Crowell, of Elm place, a butcher, has felt the heavy hand of fate upon him during the past month. Four weeks ago he lost his brother at the latter's home in Oyster Bay, L. I., and yesterday morning he received word that his son, Edward J. Crowell, had been killed at Rahway. He hurried to the town and found his son a mangled corpse, the victim of a railroad accident. He had been caught between the bumpers of two cars.

Mr. Crowell was about 47 years of age, and for twenty-one years had been employed by the Pennsylvania R. R. in looking after and taking care of the engines and trains which go no further than Rahway and put up in the yard. He was one of the company's most faithful employes, and is spoken of highly by all who knew him. He is survived by a wife and five children.

The accident happened Sunday morning. He is a brother of Mrs. James Miller, of Newark, Mrs. Oscar Garthwaite and Mrs. James Baltz, of Rahway.

TO PHOTOGRAPH TROLLEY EMPLOYES

P. S. C. Adopts Novel Scheme of Preventing Unreliable Men Getting Employment.

PREVENTS DISHONESTY

CHANGE TO BE MADE IN THE BADGES WORN BY CONDUCTORS.

Corporation Has 2,500 Men in Its Employe — Where Photographs Are to be Placed—Objection to the Plan.

Conductors and motormen entering employ of the Public Service Corporation after the first of January must consent to have their photographs taken and placed in the company's bureau of records for identification purposes. The facts connected with the plan are generally known to the men, some of whom apparently are not aware that the rule will apply only to new employes.

The object of the rule is to protect the company against itinerant motormen and conductors who, discharged by one division superintendent, either for dishonesty or incompetence, are frequently enabled to obtain employment from another division superintendent, to whom they are not known. It usually happens that they are soon dispensed with in the second case for the same causes that prompted their dismissal in the previous instance.

Dishonest conductors have been the cause of the P. S. C. losing large sums of money. As soon as they are found out the men, who have been detected "knocking down" fares by the spotters and conductors who have stamped out the evil to a large extent, are discharged. It is to prevent such ones from getting back into the employment of the company and beginning their thefts anew, that the new rule has been decided on.

The Public Service Corporation has about 2,500 men in its employ, and it is impossible to keep track of all these and prevent being imposed upon without the aid of some practical system.

Trolleymen who have worked in New York and Brooklyn, frequently obtain employment on the New Jersey lines, starting Jersey City, working all through Elizabeth and Plainfield, till they strike Camden, meanwhile "knocking down" all along the line. The officials of the Public Service Corporation express the hope ultimately of making some arrangement with the New York and Philadelphia trolley companies and also with the Philadelphia companies for a general photographic system.

Each new motorman or conductor will have two pictures taken from the same negative. One picture will be deposited in the bureau of records, and the other will be sent to the division superintendent under whom the new employe is assigned. When a man is discharged for offense his photograph will be placed to one side, and the photographs of new applicants can thus be compared with those of discharged employes before applicants will be put to work.

The conductors' badges are also to be changed and new forms of application printed, these innovations being part of a reorganization scheme all along the line to prevent pilfering and increase the good of the service.

When the new rule goes into effect all applicants for positions will be referred to headquarters, though it is possible the employment bureau will be open in different cities on different days.

Some of the old men on the system say that if any attempt is made to photograph them there will be trouble. "We won't stand for it; no 'mugging' for us," is the way one man put it.

RECEIVER TO FINISH "THE PLAINFIELD"

Central Railroad's Fine Ferryboat to be Completed by Order of Judge Kirkpatrick.

TERMS OF AGREEMENT

WORK TO BE DONE IN CRESCENT YARDS AT ELIZABETHPORT.

The Railroad Company Has Paid $150,000—Story of the Boat—The Order Made by the Court in the Matter of Settlement.

Judge Kirkpatrick yesterday signed an order instructing Receiver James Smith, Jr., of the United States Shipbuilding Company, to finish the ferryboat Plainfield in the Crescent Shipyard at Elizabethport, the Central Railroad to pay over the $37,500 remaining of the contract price; if it costs more to complete the boat the railroad people to pay the difference; if less the creditors of the corporation to get the benefit.

In asking the court for the order counsel for the Central Railroad Company stated that his clients entered into contract with the United States Shipbuilding Company to build the ferryboat Plainfield on September 17, 1902, to cost $187,500. On June 20, 1903, this boat was launched, at which time there had been paid to the builders $150,000, leaving a balance of $37,500 to be paid when the trial trip of the boat had determined her to come up to the contract requirements. When the Crescent Shipyards were shut down in Elizabethport this boat was within twelve weeks of completion.

Counsel for the railroad asked the court to instruct the receiver to allow the railroad people to finish the Plainfield, or order the receiver to complete the boat and receive the $37,500 remaining unpaid.

In deciding on the order, Judge Kirkpatrick said that it would more equitably protect creditors if the boat was built under the direction of the receiver.

Counsel for the General Electric Company also petitioned the court for an order compelling Receiver James Smith, Jr., to return an unfinished dynamo now on board the Plainfield. The claim was made that this dynamo remained the property of the electric company until the full amount of the bill, $2,480, had been paid. The petition was, however, withdrawn, counsel announcing his determination to sue the sheriff of Union County, who, with the property in his possession, is enjoined by the United States Court from proceeding with the sale, under lien.

A MEMBER OF TRINITY

A HUSBAND AND TWO DAUGHTERS SURVIVE HER.

Born Near East Millstone—Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garret Garretson — Funeral Thursday—Interment at Blawenburg.

Mrs. Lillian VanZandt, wife of T. Romeyn VanZandt, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 935 Madison avenue, following an illness of several weeks' duration. While visiting relatives at Blawenburg, Somerset County, she was taken quite ill, but apparently improved but six weeks ago an operation was deemed necessary and since that time she fought bravely to recover health and strength. There were complications and despite the best medical aid and attention the disease could not be baffled.

Mrs. VanZandt was born in the vicinity of East Millstone and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garret Garretson, of that place. She observed the thirty-ninth anniversary of her birthday on last Sunday. Before moving to Plainfield, Mr. VanZandt was engaged in the flour and feed business at Irvington, later estabilshing the same kind of a business here with Edward V. H. Voorhees. Subsequently Mr. VanZandt built a handsome home in Madison avenue, and then brought his family here.

BATTLE OF Y. M. C. A. BASKET BALL TEAMS ENDS IN VICTORY FOR PASSAIC.

The Passaic Y. M. C. A. second basket ball team triumphed over the business men's team of the local Y. M. C. A. last night by a score of 29 to 21. Their superior team work did the trick. Kohberger's one-hand shots for baskets were a bright spot in the game. Heinecke, Scull and Utzinger did good work for the locals. The visitors did most of their scoring in the first half, leading at the end of the period, 18 to 8. The business men braced in the last half making 13 points to their opponents 11, but leaving the total in Passaic's favor, 29 to 21. The summary:

COLORED CONFERENCE SUSPENDS CRUDUP

Prompt Action Taken by His Brethren Against Pastor of the Filmore Baptist Church.

MINISTER SECURES BAIL

CONGREGATION TO BE NOTIFIED TO SUSPEND MAN AWAITING TRIAL.

Revs. Jackson, Mitchell and Wallace Condemn Their Brother at Largely Attended Meeting of Conference Held in Newark.

By a unanimous vote, Rev. Essex J. Crudup, pastor of the Filmore Baptist Church, of this city, was suspended from the fellowship of a conference of New Jersey (colored) Baptist ministers at Newark yesterday and instructions sent out for his suspension as pastor of his church.

More than thirty ministers of colored Baptist churches gathered in the Bethany Baptist Church at Newark, yesterday morning and afternoon and suspended their regular weekly session for a special session to discuss the case of the Plainfield minister who is under indictment on a serious charge brought by Richard Randolph, whose daughter, Regetta E. Randolph is the other party to the case, and who is awaiting trial by the Grand Jury on a second similar charge brought by John Alston whose wife is the main witness.

The discussion of Crudup's case was general and thorough, the Plainfield ministers participating being Rev. J. W. Mitchell, Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, and Rev. Scott Wallace, of the Calvary Baptist Church. The meeting was presided over by Rev. W. D. Watkins, of Orange, with Rev. E. O. Joiner, of Roselle, secretary.

As a result of the investigation, which included a reading of accounts of the Crudup cases appearing in the daily papers, the accused was suspended from the fellowship of the Baptist colored church conference of New Jersey; and the pastors of the other Plainfield Baptist churches, Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Mt. Olive, and Rev. Scott Wallace, of the Calvary Baptist, were instructed to notify the authorities of the Filmore Baptist Church to suspend Crudup from the pulpit of the church as its pastor, pending the action of the Grand Jury. Upon the failure of the church to comply with these instructions, it was decreed that the institution would be dropped from the fellowship of the State colored Baptist churches.

The accused man was notified to be present at the conference to speak in his own defense but failed to appear. He is out on bail furnished by M. E. Miller, one of his congregation.

Y. M. C. A. WON THREE STRAIGHT

LOCAL BOWLERS DEFEAT PASSAIC MEN ON LOCAL ALLEYS.

Plainfield's Y. M. C. A. bowlers won three straight games from Passaic Y. M. C. A. last night on the local alleys. Menzenbach and Sutphen did some phenomenal rolling in the second game, Capt. Sutphen scoring 203, the record score for the evening, and Menzenbach making 201. The game was the last for Plainfield in the first round in the league of Northern New Jersey, and leaves the locals with six games won and six lost and with a mortgage on second position. Orange leads the other members with ten games won and two lost. The second round of matches will begin probably in the latter part of January. The scores:

PLAINFIELD.			PASSAIC.
Whitley	154	109	Strange	187	124
Hummer	126	114	Seabrooke	119	146
Dreier		84	Olsen	150	143
Menzenb'h	153	201	Haviland
Sutphen	135	203	Greenman	144	140
Koons	158	139	Henser	122	116
	726	708		703	679

In the third game, nine frames only were rolled in order to allow Passaic to catch a train.

Kenneth Shupp, Leader.

Kenneth Shupp, who has been acting as leader of Grace M. E. Church choir for some time, was chosen to fill that position permanently at a meeting of the church's official board last night.

Death of Small Boy.

Joseph D. Harkins, four years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harkins, of 60 Pearl street, died yesterday. The funeral will be private and the burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS.

A recently introduced (and very successful) innovation at the Proctor theatres is that by which all patrons, whether near at hand or far away, can have their choice seats reserved for them three weeks in advance. They can be ordered by mail, by telegraph, by telephone, or in person, at almost any hour of the day or night; for the Proctor box offices are now kept open from 9:30 in the forenoon until 10:30 at night. Better than all, one is invariably certain of courteous treatment in ordering his seats. And this is a great treat, when one bears in mind that incivility is too often met with in the box office of many metropolitan playhouses.

The management of the West End theatre has the honor of announcing that a special engagement has been made with Henry W. Savage for five weeks of Grand Opera by his famous English Grand Opera Company, which opened last night, December 21. This visit of Mr. Savage's great singing organization will be a rare musical event at the West End, and all lovers of good music in the mother tongue, should unite in extending to it an enthusiastic welcome and make its engagement a pronounced success. There will be matinees on Wednesdays, Saturdays and holidays.

Beginning at Madison Square Garden on Tuesday morning, January 5th, and closing on Saturday evening, January 9th, the Fifteenth Annual Exhibition by the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association will score another success, as the most important show of the kind in America. H. V. Crawford, the veteran secretary and superintendent, reports the greatest number of entries, in every department, that the association has ever had. All the space in the Garden will be filled, and the standard breeds of fowl and the fancy ones, and the pigeon will make a display that the breeders value and the public appreciate. The pet stock department will have rabbits and cavies in large numbers.

LITERARY.

Scribner's Magazine for January, beginning its 35th volume, contains two of the leading features of the coming year, Robert Grant's serial, "The Undercurrent," and Captain Mahan's "The War of 1812." Robert Grant's fame as a social philosopher and satirist was increased by his "Reflections of a Married Man," and fully confirmed later in his remarkable novel, "Unleavened Bread." "The Undercurrent" is the highest achievement of his art. It presents a number of very individual characters—not types—struggling with present-day conditions. It is a human love-story, unfolded by actual conditions of wealth and poverty, religion and irreligion.

The January Red Book is characterized by its usual high standard of excellence in cover, illustrations and stories. Seventeen portraits introduce the pictorial features, nine of them photographic studies by American artists, and eight selections from Paris studios. The stories, a dozen or more, are invariably readable, clever and original. Among the authors represented in this number are Arthur E. McFarlane, Harriet A. Nash, Rafael Sabatini, Annette Kittredge, Frederick Walworth, Marion Short, Kemlo Watson, Mary E. FitzGerald, John Harwood Bacon, Ida Alexander, Frederic Johnston and Bradley Ford. These stories are illustrated throughout and the color printing, convenient form and typographical excellence of the magazine make it one of the most welcome of all the periodical list.

George Leland, of West Front street, is slowly recovering from his recent illness.

John VanPelt, of Jersey City, has been visiting his son, Harvey VanPelt, of West Front street.

Miss Mamie G. Evans, of this city, who has been the guest of friends in Newark, has returned home.

Former Sheriff Schoonmaker, of Somerville, has been visiting Plainfield friends for a short time.

Miss Hattie VanNest, of Martinsville, has returned home after visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Colthar, of Duer street.

Miss Mamie Perrine, of North Plainfield, who has been visiting friends in Baltimore for the past week, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blackford, who have been living in Brooklyn, are now living for the present with Mr. Blackford's parents near New Market.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used, Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.

AMUSEMENTS.

This week at the Grand Opera House will be a memorable one, as the attraction is one of the strongest that has ever played the theatre. "The Runaways" with Fay Templeton and the big Broadway cast should cause a furore on the West Side and Messrs. Shubert, Naxon & Zimmerman and Springer expect unprecedented results. "The Runaways" is one of the brightest and breeziest entertainments yet devised for the Metropolitan public; it is a combination of musical comedy, opera bouffe, extravanganza and spectacle. The chief ingredients of its make-up are girls, music, comedians, costumes—and Fay Templeton, the only Fay.

This is what the New York Sun says of Robert Mantell who is appearing in the "Light of Other Days" at the Fourteenth Street Theatre:

"Robert Mantell is here in an old fashioned 'thriller' in which he shines. He is still the sterling actor that he was in the days when he supported Fanny Davenport in 'Fedora,' his voice rings the changes from melodrama to comedy with the old time ease. The audience wept with him, laughed with him and cheered him until he must have been glad that he was back in New York again. He was ably assisted by Miss Marie Booth Russell, Miss Charlotte Lambert and a good company."

SENATE CHAMBER UNFINISHED.

Temporary Quarters May be Used by New Jersey's Salon's.

Although the handsome new addition at the State House at Trenton which is located the new senate chamber will be completed and ready for opening when the legislature meets on the second Tuesday of next month, there is a strong possibility that the Senate will not be able to occupy its new quarters for several days afterwards and possibly not for a few weeks.

If the new State House wing is not ready for the senators when the legislature convenes it will be due to the inability of the contractor to complete the heating apparatus within the specified time.

DIPLOMATS AT WORK

Powers Strive to Prevent War With Colombia.

BOGOTA MUST EXPECT NO SYMPATHY

Reyes Has Been Told That His Government Cannot Depend on European Powers to Interfere, as They All Want the Canal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—Diplomatic pressure will be brought to bear upon Colombia by several European powers to prevent war between that country and the United States. The first step in this direction already has been taken by several foreign powers through their representatives here, who have informed General Rafael Reyes of the futility of any attempt by Colombia to retake Panama, declaring that it will result only in precipitating the Bogota government into war with the United States, and have said to him that the result of such a catastrophe Colombia herself must realize. If this is not sufficient the representatives of these countries at Bogota will be instructed to inform President Marroquin that Colombia can expect no sympathy from the European powers in any move she may make on Panama, which would inevitably involve her in war with the United States.

The members of the diplomatic corps have been informed by General Reyes himself that he fears he can with difficulty check his people much longer. General Reyes is not talking for publication, but to several European ambassadors he has confided his fears with frankness and has said that he is doing everything in his power to prevent an outbreak before the conclusion of his mission, but that, although his influence with the army is considerable, he is so far away that it is difficult for him to make this felt as strongly as if he were on the ground and in command.

Realization of the true situation, it is said, will not prevent General Reyes from calling on the United States for a reference to The Hague of several of the questions at issue. It is on this point that European diplomats have told General Reyes that it is expecting too much to expect this government to submit any phase of the Panama matter to The Hague. Several ambassadors have earnestly advised the general to impress on his people the fact that Europe wants the isthmian canal and that Colombia can expect no sympathy from that quarter. It has further been pointed out by these diplomats that the proffered sympathy of several South American republics can avail Colombia nothing in the event of war with the United States.

It is hoped that the receipt of this news in Bogota will do much to calm the feeling there and hold the Colombians in check until General Reyes can return.

Great Britain and the Netherlands have taken pains to let General Reyes know indirectly that Colombia reckons without her host if she interprets their delay in recognizing the republic of Panama as an evidence of their sympathy for Colombia or as due to other than a desire to protect the interests of their financiers, who are the largest holders of government bonds. It is said here to be unlikely that our naval commanders in isthmian waters will go to the extent of dislodging the Colombian force, numbering 100 men, that has landed on the island of Pines. On this point, however, the policy of the government has not been definitely decided.

A SMALL ARMY.

Colombian Troops Land on Island In Panamanian Territory.

COLON, Dec. 22.—About 100 Colombian troops have landed at the island of Pines, northwest of Cape Tiburn, which is situated at the western entrance of the gulf of Darien. The island of Pines is in Panama territory and is the only island along that coast which is wooded, peaked with mountains and also well watered, thus offering every facility for camping and being used as a base of operations.

The United States auxiliary cruiser Mayflower has left this harbor, bound in the direction of the island of Pines, to obtain information in regard to any movement of Colombian troops.

Rear Admiral Coghlan has transferred his flag to the United States auxiliary cruiser Prairie.

It is thought here that Colombia would require a big and well supported army to do anything effective in the Darien district, but orders have been given to the commanders of the gunboats in the San Miguel gulf and to the two outposts to keep a careful watch for Colombian troops, to avoid contact or the opening of hostilities with them as far as possible and to inform the flagship immediately that their presence has been discovered.

St. Francis' Church Burned.

METUCHEN, N. J., Dec. 22. — St. Francis' Roman Catholic church here has been destroyed by fire which started from some unknown cause while the children of the parochial school were in the church practicing the singing of hymns for Christmas. All of the children escaped without injury. The rectory, which adjoins the church, was also badly damaged by the fire. The loss is estimated at about $8,000.

Fatal Power House Explosion.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 22.—The boilers in the power house of the St. Louis Transit company exploded last night, killing one man, injuring a dozen more and wrecking the building. Firemen are searching for others who may be dead. The debris took fire, but was soon extinguished.

DISTURB LAST RITES

Chicago Livery Drivers on Strike Warned by Police.

PICKETING OF FUNERALS MUST STOP

Chief O'Neil Issues General Order to Guard All Funerals From Any Riotous Act of the Strikers.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. — Picketing of houses from which funerals are to start, whether peaceful or violent, by union livery drivers who went on strike four days ago is to be prevented by the police under direct orders issued by Chief of Police O'Neil. J. B. Wadsworth, secretary, and Charles Stevens, business agent, of the Liverymen's union, were summoned before Chief O'Neil last night and told in plain language that any differences the union might have would have to be settled away from houses of mourning.

"This picketing of the homes from which funerals are holding is beyond the toleration of a civilized community," said Chief O'Neil. "Your zeal has carried you beyond the pale of endurance, and such an unheard of performance as the carrying of labor troubles to the houses of the dead will not be allowed by the police.

"Under no circumstances will I permit picketing of any kind around a house whence a funeral is to proceed. And I must say that it ought not to be necessary for me to take this step.

"Law or no law, picketing of every kind around these houses will have to stop. I shall take my chances with the courts on the question if my conduct is questioned in any court."

Chief O'Neil then issued a general order to all inspectors of police on the line of his conversation with the two union officers. He instructed commanding officers to accompany funerals in carriages, if circumstances seemed to require it, and to see that the last rites of the dead be in no way interfered with.

While the courts have inclined to the permitting of peaceful picketing, Chief O'Neil's order prohibits picketing of any kind around houses of mourning. He declares that, in his opinion, no court could be found which would fail to sustain an act of such evident necessity and propriety as that contemplated by the police department.

On top of Chief O'Neil's order came the announcement that peace plans looking to a settlement of the strike had been launched. Through the efforts of the Chicago board of arbitration a committee was appointed at a meeting of the liverymen and the undertaker's association to meet with a committee from the drivers' union to endeavor to bring about an amicable adjustment of the trouble.

The committee got together and agreed upon a basis of arbitrating the difficulty. The proposition will be submitted to a vote of the men on both sides today, and it is said that the result probably will be an agreement.

MENELEK GREETS SKINNER.

Emperor of Abyssinia Gives American Expedition Hearty Welcome.

ADIS ABEBA, Ethiopia, Dec. 22.—Escorted by several thousand Ethiopian soldiers, the American mission to Emperor Menelek, headed by Consul General Skinner of Marseilles, entered the Abyssinian capital. The reception of the Americans was most brilliant and picturesque. Emperor Menelek personally received Mr. Skinner. The emperor, surrounded by the principal functionaries of the capital, delivered a cordial discourse of welcome, to which Mr. Skinner responded, presenting an invitation engraved on a silver tablet to his majesty to visit the exposition at St. Louis.

Later in the day the emperor granted Mr. Skinner a private audience and accepted the latter's invitation to send an Abyssinian exhibition to St. Louis.

Mr. Skinner presented a number of presents to the emperor, consisting of different kinds of fine firearms and a complete set of agricultural implements of the latest model.

Gorman is fighting against the alleged piracy of Columbia and for the piracy of a Presidential nomination. The first is a mere political skirmish preceding a real battle which will be witnessed when the Democratic National convention meets.

Special from Washington says that the President and members of the Cabinet are "simply amazed at the bitter recklessness displayed by Senator Hoar" in his attitude on the Panama question. With the probable exception of Secretary Hay, the President and his Cabinet could profit by listening to some lessons on statecraft with George F. Hoar, of Massachusetts, as the teacher.

Persons who think that there is a fortune in a trolley investment will be interested to know that out of the even hundred trolley companies in Pennsylvania, only nineteen paid dividends for the last fiscal year. Accident claims against this class of corporations are largely responsible for this state of affairs, but whatever may be the cause the fact remains that it is a poor investment to put money in a trolley scheme.

Judge Dixon has non-suited a plaintiff who sought to recover damages from a railroad company, the claim in question being founded on injuries caused by a fall which the litigant received while standing in a passenger car. The plaintiff had risen from his seat after the conductor had shouted "All out for New York." The court held that the passenger who leaves his seat before the train comes to his destination does so at his own risk. The soundness of such a decision may well be questioned.

The American people are a nation of bargain hunts. The place where they begin to hunt for bargains is in the advertising columns of the daily newspapers. Wise merchants understand this fact and take advantge of it. They make bulletin boards of the dailies and set forth in minute detail just what goods they have to offer at a bargain and just what reductions they offer by way of bargains. They find that the oftener they run these advertisements the greater space they take, and the more specific and attractive they make their offerings the more attention they attract, and the more goods they sell.

Time was when once a week was sufficient to advertise bargains but now it is necessary for the wide-awake merchant to say something every day. If he doesn't, his neighbor who does set forth his wares in the newspapers every day as regularly as he opens his doors, gets more than his share of the business. This is proof of excellence in a merchant. If he expects to go to the front and stay there he should want more than his share, he should want the lion's share, and he can get it by taking a lion's share of newspaper space and using it judiciously.—Newspaperdom.

This week only emergency cases will be accepted at Muhleeberg Hospital. This rule has been established for the reason that much time will be required in the preparation for removal from the old to the new institution. It is expected that the patients will be removed Monday, Dec. 28. After that the regular routine will be resumed.

BRYAN AND THE CZAR

Nicholas Expresses Friendship For United States.

IT IS SHARED BY THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE

Ruler of the Muscovite Empire Gave Evidence of Deep Interest In and Acquaintance With Our Affairs.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 22.—William Jennings Bryan was received in audience by Czar Nicholas at noon at the Winter palace.

The audience, which lasted for fifteen minutes, was arranged almost on the spur of the moment by Ambassador McCormick, who was uncertain as to the time of Mr. Bryan's arrival at St. Petersburg.

During the conversation with Mr. Bryan his majesty expressed in the most emphatic manner the feeling of friendship entertained by him and by the Russian nation for the United States and the hope that the good relations which have always existed between the two countries would never be disturbed. He gave evidence of the deepest interest in and acquaintance with affairs in the United States.

In response to Mr. Bryan's inquiry concerning the progress of public instruction in Russia his majesty gave a minute description of the system of education in the Russian empire, showing an intimate knowledge of educational methods and the statistics relating thereto.

Mr. Bryan was entertained at dinner by Ambassador McCormick before leaving for Berlin.

METEOR WRECKED.

Eight Persons Killed and Thirty-two Injured at Godfrey, Kan.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 22.—In a bad wreck at Godfrey, Kan., of the Meteor, a St. Louis and San Francisco fast train from the south, eight persons have been killed and thirty-two injured. Of the injured five probably will die, while fourteen were severely hurt.

The wrecked train was one of the finest and fastest in the service. It was made up of two baggage and one mail car, a smoker, two chair cars and a sleeper. When the train reached Godfrey it was running at full speed to make up time. The crew of a freight train that had preceded the Meteor left the switch open, and the passenger train jumped the track and rolled down a slight embankment. The sleeper turned over, and so fast was the train running that the engine and the forward baggage car landed nearly sixty feet off the roadbed before it stopped. The sleeper remained upright, and none of the passengers in this car was injured.

The baggage cars were completely wrecked, and the smoker was badly damaged. Five of those killed were in the forward end of the smoker, and four of them were killed instantly. A news agent, who was badly mangled, died on the relief train that carried the dead and injured to Fort Scott.

All the dead lived in Kansas and Oklahoma, and the injured are residents of the west.

Rogers Trial Ends; Jury Out.

BENNINGTON, Vt., Dec. 22.—The case of Mary H. Rogers, charged with the murder of her husband, Marcus M. Rogers, by the use of chloroform on the night of Aug. 12, 1902, was given to the jury last night. The judge's charge occupied one hour. More than a thousand people crowded into the narrow confines of the courtroom. Mrs. Rogers bore herself well during the final arguments of O. M. Barber for the state. His speech to the jury was a merciless arraignment of the prisoner, whom he characterized as a woman devoid of all feeling except where her personal instincts were to be gratified. He said that the defendant had for five days during the presentation of most damaging evidence against her sat calmly before the bar of justice and exhibited a brazen effrontery and callousness that was astonishing.

Prisoner Has Killed Four Men.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Frank Henry Burness, a ship's cook, who was placed on trial in Brooklyn for the murder of Captain George B. Townsend, the skipper of the lumber schooner Charles Buckley, on Nov. 10, has admitted his guilt. He declared that he had shot the captain deliberately and with premeditation because the latter owed him money and that he now prefers to be executed rather than remain in prison. The prisoner said he had previously killed three men. For shooting a man in Charlestown, Mass., he served three years in prison. He served a term in Havana for killing a teamster, and for killing a man named Henry Hecker he was acquitted on a technicality.

Murder and Forgery Charged.

BUFFALO, Dec. 22.—The grand jury has reported four indictments against Charles Bonier. Two allege murder in the first degree and the other two allege forgery. The murder charges are based on the killing of Franz Frehr and his wife, Joanna Frehr. The forgery indictments are based on the signing of the dead man's name to a deed. Bonier has confessed the forgery.

Two Consuls of Panama.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The state department has recognized Nathaniel Brandon as vice consul of Panama at New York and Juan Francisco Arias as consul of Panama at Mobile, Ala.

Fever Abates at Butler.

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 22.—There have been no deaths during the last twenty-four hours from typhoid fever and but one new case reported.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

EVENING COSTUMES.

Gowns of Black Tulle—Vogue of Chenille and Accordion Plaiting.

Evening gowns of black tulle and chiffon are considered very smart. These are trimmed with black velvet ribbon or tiny ruchings of lustrous silk. Medallions of black velvet and chantilly lace are also very smart. The hair, being dressed low, requires less ornament than formerly, and when there is ornamentation it takes the form of jeweled pins or combs.

Crepe de chine dresses trimmed with fringe of the same shade are always graceful and pretty.

Chenille tassels and chenille fringe are much used in combination with lace. White chiffon combined with jeweled lace is another feature of the moment, and tiny gold tassels brighten up otherwise somber gowns of black.

Accordion plaiting on liberty satin and crepe de chine continues in high favor.

A beautiful robe a princesse for the bride's mother at a coming wedding of importance is of pansy colored velvet with a black and gold galloon trimming on either side of a very fine point d'alencon lace vest, which is further beautified by being studded with a design of finely wrought gold. The gown hangs in graceful folds to the ground, and at the feet appears a Greek trimming of gold galloon. Some ruches of old d'alencon form a fitting finish to the sleeves, which are of fairly voluminous proportions. To complete this exquisite toilette de reception is a pale heliotrope beaver hat, its only trimming being a long, sweeping plume which nearly touches the shoulder. A bouquet of parma violets and La France roses will accompany this chic costume.

The picture shows a crepe de chine evening gown made with gaugings.

FASHION HINTS.

Circular Trimmings Are Once More Coming Into Vogue.

One of the daintiest frocks seen recently was of royal blue chiffon trimmed with gaugings and wide ruffles of accordion plaited chiffon peeping from under a dyed lace bolero.

The latest skirts show circular trimmings instead of the perpendicular lines we have become so used to. Fringe plays as important a part in the trimming of the skirt as of the waist.

The three piece costume is among the smartest conceits of fashion. This consists of a dress trimmed with fringe or dyed lace and a cape with long chiffon or fur stole ends of the same material as the dress and trimmed with the same dyed lace.

Three-quarter coats of moleskin are lined with cream satin and have fluffy jabots of creamy lace. The tiny skins are so joined together as to produce a plaided effect.

On the whole, fashions are plainer than heretofore, but the materials are more voluminous and more costly.

In the cut is shown the latest thing in skirts. It is made with circular tucks and fringe trimming.

FAR EASTERN CRISIS.

Japan Replies to Russian Demands Regarding Korea.

TOKYO, Dec. 22.—The reply of Japan to the Russian demands was handed to Baron de Rosen at a conference between the Russian minister and Foreign Minister Komura at the Russian legation.

Japan's reply is in no way in the nature of an ultimatum, but she asks Russia to reconsider certain essential points in her reply to Japan.

Baron de Rosen is now sufficiently recovered to resume the negotiations.

Sixty military engineers have been dispatched to Korea to replace the civil telegraph operators attached to the Japanese telegraph lines on the peninsula. It is officially asserted that the step taken has no military significance.

A cablegram from London says:

"One of the most important factors is whether America will seize the opportunity to press her claims for open ports in Manchuria. If she does so it would certainly help a peaceful solution.

"No large loans have been applied for here or in Paris by either Japan or Russia. What they would do for money in case of war is a question many are discussing."

France and Britain Will Stand Pat.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—An authoritative denial is given to the reports from Peking that the French minister there has notified China that if she allied herself with Japan pending a settlement of the Japanese-Russian controversy France would advance in southern China. It is said in this connection that France has not taken any steps whatever in the matter and is not contemplating action in the event of a rupture between Japan and Russia. On the contrary, the official view is that France and Great Britain are not likely to become involved and that Russia and Japan will be left to settle their controversy.

Russians Talk Peace.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 22.—Officials of the foreign office do not share the pessimistic feeling regarding the situation in the far east which now seems to be general. They say there is no reason to despair of a peaceful settlement of the difficulties over which Russia and Japan are at variance.

M'CLELLAN'S SLATE.

New York Mayor Elect Names Four of His Staff.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Mayor Elect George B. McClellan has announced as his choice for four of the offices under his administration the names of Patrick Keenan as city chamberlain, Francis J. Lantry as commissioner of correction, Nicholas J. Hayes as fire commissioner and T. C. T. Crain as tenement house commissioner.

No announcement in regard to the police commissionership was made, but Mr. McClellan stated that the name of Commissioner Greene's successor, who is supposed to be William McAdoo, as well as those of the other commissioners, would be given out probably before Christmas. John J. Delaney, it has already been announced, will be corporation counsel under the new administration.

Of the men whose selection was announced Mr. Keenan and Mr. Lantry held the same offices under the Van Wyck administration, while Mr. Crain was city chamberlain under a former administration. Mr. Hayes is at present first deputy city clerk.

Officer Assaulted and Robbed.

CLINTON, Mass., Dec. 22.—James S. Scanlon, second lieutenant and clerk of Company K, Ninth Infantry, M. V. M., was found lying unconscious in the company office here with two severe wounds on the head, his watch gone and the entire office in the greatest confusion. An investigation showed that all the drawers and closets of the office had been ransacked and that two of the pockets in Lieutenant Scanlon's clothes had been turned inside out. On the desk in Lieutenant Scanlon's handwriting was a note which read as follows: "I have been followed by a strange man from Worcester, and I feel that he is after my watch," followed by a blot, as if the writer had been suddenly interrupted.

Kishineff Prisoners Sentenced.

KISHINEFF, Russia, Dec. 22.—Two Russians named Gnetschin and Maroslejk who have been on trial charged with murder as the authors of the massacre of Jews here last spring have been found guilty and sentenced to seven and five years' penal servitude respectively. Twenty-two other persons charged with being involved in the massacre have been sentenced to periods ranging from one to two years each. One person was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and twelve were acquitted, while forty-eight civil actions brought against the accused were dismissed. The costs of the prosecutions must be paid by the convicted persons.

Fraternal Day at St. Louis.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—At a meeting held here by representatives of numerous fraternal organizations Friday, Sept. 30, was selected as the date of the world's fraternal congress day at the St. Louis exposition. Fraternities in all parts of the world have expressed willingness to take part, and a building at the exposition will be erected by the combined associations.

Suit Regarding "Parsifal."

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—Heinrich Conried, director of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, has through his attorneys entered suit against the writer Michael Conrad of Munich for defaming his character in an article which violently denounced the forthcoming production of "Parsifal" in New York.

HEAVYWEIGHTS MATCHED.

Jack Munroe and Tom Sharkey Will Fight About March 1.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Jack Munroe and Tom Sharkey will be the principals in the next big heavyweight battle. They have been matched to fight on or before March 1, 1904. The winner of the match has been promised a battle with Jim Jeffries for the world's heavyweight championship.

Sharkey and Munroe will fight before the club offering the best inducements, the bids for the contest to be opened on Jan. 15. There are, however, several restrictions to these bids. Sharkey refused to fight in San Francisco, claiming that he had been given the worst of it in Frisco and that they would not let him fight there when he was matched to meet Jeffries. Munroe, on the other hand, would not listen to Sharkey's proposal for a six round contest in either Chicago or Philadelphia. San Francisco, Chicago and Philadelphia are therefore barred from bidding for the contest.

The winner of the match is to take the entire gate receipts.

The question of a side bet was advanced, but was objected to, as Munroe's backer, Issy Putter, refused to make a wager at even money, stating that the sailor would be a warm favorite at the ringside, and he would therefore get the worst of the odds.

Vanderbilt as an Auto Driver.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The entries for the second annual international automobile meet under the auspices of the Florida East Coast Automobile association promise to eclipse in number any previous meet entry. Much interest is centered in what speed W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., will do the mile. It is freely predicted that his previous world's record of forty-eight seconds, made in France, will suffer by at least five seconds, which will make Mr. Vanderbilt beat the present world's record by three seconds, as it now stands at forty-six seconds. Speaking of Mr. Vanderbilt's driving, W. J. Morgan, who attended the international race in Ireland last summer, asked many of the French automobilists who they considered the fastest American driver, and they all accorded that honor to W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and maintained that he should have been one of the drivers representing the Americans in the international race.

American League Clubs.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 22.—George Tebeau, owner of the Louisville American association baseball club, was in conference with William A. Rourke, owner of the Omaha Western league club, negotiating for the transfer of the Omaha club to the American association. Tebeau said that the American association would have a club in Kansas City next season regardless of Western league action.

Racing at Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—Long price horses were to the fore at Ingleside. Arthur Ray took the first race at odds of 15 to 1; Soufriere, a 12 to 1 choice, won the third race, and Harry Thatcher, played from 15 to 10 to 1, led the field in the last race. Some of the spectators objected when the judges placed Silurian first in the fifth. Coronal came with a rush in the fifth, but finished second.

Lundin Threw Faust.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Hjalmer Lundin got the decision over August Faust in a wrestling match in Brooklyn last night. After Lundin threw Faust once the latter announced that a sore arm prevented him from continuing.

Sport on New Orleans Track.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22.—Falernian and The Regent were the only winning favorites here, and The Regent shared betting honors with Satin. Most of the winners were well backed.

Prisoner Denied Wentz Affair.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—A special from Asheville, N. C., says: "Charles A. Nelms, who is charged with complicity in the murder of Alice Lamb at Pineville, Ky., and also as one of the principal abductors of the Philadelphia millionaire, Wentz, is still in jail in this city. When seen Nelms indifferently admitted that he knew his brother and Haynes were charged with complicity in the murder of the Lamb woman. When asked if he knew that he was charged with the alleged abduction of Wentz he sprang to his feet and vehemently denied that he knew anything about Wentz. Officers are holding Nelms as a fugitive from justice."

Receiver For Hampden Bank.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 22.—Chief Justice M. T. Knowlton of the supreme court has issued a temporary injunction, restraining the Hampden Trust company from paying out any money now in its possession and appointing William W. McClench and Henry H. Bosworth as receivers of the bank. The trust company directors voted Saturday to suspend business and notify the savings bank commissioners.

Carpenter Shows Great Nerve.

GENEVA, N. Y., Dec. 22.—George Burr, a carpenter, fell in front of a train on the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central and had an arm completely severed. He rose unassisted, picked up the limb and walked back to the station. Later he was removed to the hospital.

West Virginia's "Illustrious Sons."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—A marble statue of the late war governor, Francis H. Pierpont of West Virginia, was placed in Statuary hall at the capitol under the invitation of congress to each of the states to place in the capitol statues of two of their "illustrious sons."

WORK AHEAD FOR COMMON COUNCIL

Annual Reports of the Various Departments of the City Government to be Presented.

REORGANIZATION JAN. 1

APPOINTMENTS TO BE MADE BY MAYOR JENKINS.

Selection of Committees An Important Matter—Some Changes That Will be Made—Ralph I. Tolles Likely to be President.

At the adjourned meetings of the Common Council to be held tonight and Tuesday night, December 29, business tending toward the close of the year's municipal affairs will be considered. This will include the presentation of the various reports from the committees, as well as city officials. As the past year has been a busy one in many respects, the annual reports should be of much interest. There has been the introduction of the Gamewell Police Patrol system, an extension of the sanitary system of sewage, municipal street sprinkling, improvements in the poor department, and many other things of more or less importance. All of these things will come in for a share of notice in the reports.

Then there will be the reports of Chief Doane, of the fire department, as well as that of building inspector; Chief Keily, of the police department; Street Commissioner Gavett, City Judge William N. Runyon, City Treasurer W. F. Arnold, City Collector F. H. Smith and a host of other reports. It is predicted that these reports will show the city to be in fine condition financially and otherwise and that the Council for 1904 will have no cause for regret.

According to the State law the new Council will have to meet on the night of January 1 to organize. It is not likely that much else will be done, as this date falls on a holiday. At that meeting the Mayor's message will be received as well as his appointments. While there are not many appointments to be made, considerable interest will be manifested in these. It has been reported that Assessor J. A. Hubbard is to be retired in favor of Harry B. MacDonald. In view of this many petitions have been circulated in an effort to to keep Mr. Hubbard in office. What effect these will have with the Mayor remains to be seen.

Another matter arousing much interest is that relative to the appointment of J. W. Murray, Jr., as an officer in the fire department, which position he has held for many years. It has been reported that John Cose is slated for this position. This has aroused Mr. Murray's friends and they declare that they will not see him "turned down" without a just cause, and no just cause can be given. Both the change in the Board of Assessors as well as the fire department is reported to be in the line of rewards for services performed at the last election, as the two men named for the positions are known to be workers in the faction that controls the city.

Another interesting features in the organization of the new Council will be the selection of committees. The new body will be composed of seven new members, allowing for a varied distribution. It is hinted that some changes are to be made that will be a surprise. It is generally conceded that Ralph I. Tolles will be the new president, unless he should deide to remain on the floor for another year. He has been a valuable member of the streets and sewer committee and if he accepts the presidency his loss will be felt. He will be the oldest member of the Council and one best acquainted with that work. Just who would be called upon to accept the chairmanship of that important committee is not known.

It is quite likely that Mr. Lee will remain as chairman of the fire committee and Mr. Daniel as chairman of the finance committee, both having proved their usefulness, while Mr. Randolph will probably retain the chairmanship of the police committee. There are a number of changes to be made and much business is in prospect for 1904. Wise action is therefore necessary and there seems to be plenty of material to fill the various positions to be vacated.

WM. BUTLER YEATS ON CELTIC REVIVAL

Distinguished Irish Scholar Tells of the Effort to Return to Gaelic Tongue.

A POET AND DRAMATIST

SONGS AND CUSTOMS OF THE ANCIENT PEOPLE DWELT UPON.

Effort Being Made to Establish a National Theatre in Dublin—Facts About Irish Literature—The Purity of Their Art.

William Butler Yeats, the Irish poet and dramatist, lectured last night at the Park Club before a good-sized audience. Mr. Yeats is the leader of the Celtic revival in Ireland the revival of the Irish language, literature and customs, a movement coincident with the efforts of Dr. Douglas Hyde in the Gaelic league.

Mr. Yeats explained the meaning of the revival of the Irish tongue, which to the unobservant might appear retrogressive, shutting off Ireland from much of the fruits of modern thought conveyed with such nicety by the English language. "In separation all things grow," said the Irishman, indicating wherein Ireland was losing its identity and aping Englishmen in thought, customs and dress, through its neglect to maintain a national language and the national folk-lore. Through the revival of the language, the old songs have been re-sung, the old spirit of patriotism re-awakened.

The efforts for a national theatre in Dublin and a national drama have aroused the highest enthusiasm. Irish audiences have passion. Irish dramatists are not required to work down to languid audiences and this gives them the power of expressing the highest that is in them with a surety of intense appreciation.

Ireland through the new movement is preserving its own, resisting imitation, creating powerful personalities and defiant wills. It is harking back to its old folk-songs, the ancient songs of love and battle, the fairy lore of the middle ages, the songs that make a people of culture, that make possible the great lyric, the great drama or epic. These are the songs that are oftenest preserved by being sung rather than written, for, said Mr. Yeats, the written book need not be the chief instrument of literature.

Mr. Yeats referred to the writings of some of the Irishmen more closely identified with the Gaelic movement, O'Leary, Johnson and Roussell. He read selections from some of their works as well as two or three of his own poems, one of which in particular was beautiful in its simplicity and its purity of diction. Mr. Yeats' own dramatic company in Dublin is playing this winter three of his own plays in verse and three in prose.

The speaker compared the folk lore, the songs of an ancient people, with the music hall song that is sung in other nations to the exclusion of songs of literary value. He referred to the middle class poems of Mrs. Hemans and Macauley, poems wherein the intellect speaks rather than the soul, which are written not for the pure love of singing for one's self, but to please others. He described the naivete of the works of present day Irish poets, their nobleness of simplicity, the purity of their art that means a cultured people behind it. He compared it with the drama "Everyman" brought from the fifteenth century and played in this country last year.

Address by Rev. E. V. Stevenson and Recitations and Songs the Features.

DAILY PRESS BANNER

AWARD OF TROPHIES WON AT RECENT INTER-CLASS ATHLETIC MEET.

Exercises in the Grammar and Primary Departments — Gifts Exchanged by Pupils — Chorus Singing Part of Programme.

The presentation of athletic prizes and honors won last fall by pupils at the High School was the leading feature of the Christmas exercises at the school this morning. The individual winners in the fall field meet received their ribbons and Harry G. Thompson was awarded a silver medal for winning the individual athletic championship of the school. A banner in red and blue, the school colors, was presented to the class of 1905, which won first honors in the fall athletic meet. The banner, appropriately inscribed in gold letters, was given by The Daily Press. P. H. S. insignia were awarded the members of the school teams who won the honor in the season's athletics. In awarding the silver cup given by Schwed Brothers and won by the classes of 1906 and 1907 in the Plainfield junior league, the presentation address was made by Harold Robert.

The Christmas exercises were held this morning at 11 o'clock. The Assembly Hall was decorated with bunting and ribbon in the several class colors, making the occasion one of special attractiveness and animation.

This was the programme: Anthem, Prepare ye the Way of the Lord, Garrett; declamation, The Spirit of Christmas, by Ralph Eckert; anthem, Christian, Awake! Salute the Happy Morn," Schnecker; recitation, The Triumph of Ole Bull, Miss Emily Winant; solo and double quartette, The Birthday of the King, Charles L. Lewis, the Misses Newman, Patton, Batchelor and VanDeventer, Messrs. Fenno, Anderson, Babcock and Titsworth; chorus, Christmas Hymn, Brick; recitation, The King and the Fool, Miss Lillian A. Walsh; anthem and solo, There Were Shepherds, Buck; solo, by Mrs. McDonald.

Anthem, Sing, O Heavens, Tours. At the conclusion of this programme the senior class gathered on the platform and followed the usual custom of giving presents to the junior class. Each present was accompanied by a piece of poetry of a whitty character.

On account of the cramped conditions at the Franklin School the exercises were not elaborate. The programme consisted of Bible reading, stories, by Miss N. J. Bullock, and carols. The exercises at the Lincoln and Washington public schools were held this morning.

In the Bryant School this was the programme: Singing by the school, Scripture reading, prayer, carols, recitations and songs by Clementine Bremble, Lillie Remppies, Harry Carey, Isabel Harvey, Marguerite Hope, Hazel Putnam, Herbert Schreiner, William Wheelan, Hazel Runyon, Helen Weseman, Leonard Lewis, Elsa L[illegible], Ethel Naylor, Mary Coughlan, Helen Meaney, Arthur Lewis, Kitty Dolly and I. Marguerite Hope, John Harris, Eleanor Sperry, Katharine Bingaman.

Special Christmas exercises were held this morning at the Irving Public School, consisting of songs by the school and recitations by these children, under the direction of Miss Petrie, the principal:

At the same time the members of the kindergarten had a Christmas tree with exercises in the Epworth House of the Monroe Avenue Church. This afternoon, the first primary, under the direction of Miss Mary Griswold, Miss Elizabeth White and Miss Lillian Glen were in charge of the kindergarten exercises.

The pupils in the Seventh B grade at the Whittier Public School had lots of fun yesterday in an exchange of gifts. The presents were of small value and were intended only as an exchange of good wishes among the members of the class. Some received jumping-jacks, others got candy, pictures, while one member received a small toy pickle. The opening of the various packages caused no end of fun and the programme was a happy diversion.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH EDIFICE AFIRE

Damage Amounting to $500 Caused by Thoughtless Act While Decorating.

CREPE PAPER IGNITED

FLAMES EXTINGUISHED WITHOUT THE FIREMEN'S AID.

Communion Table, Pulpit Platform Carpet, Pastor's Chair and Pulpit Desk Damaged—Young People Put Out the Flames.

While the committee on Christmas decorations was engaged in arranging these decorations at the First Presbyterian Church, last night, considerable excitement was caused by a fire which resulted in about $500 damage. The young people were about to place a large design of crepe paper in front of the organ, when one end of it caught fire from a burning gas jet.

In an instant the paper was in a blaze, and articles dropped here and there about the front of the church, resulting in damage to the communion table, pulpit platform carpet, pastor's chair, pulpit desk and several cushions in the front seats.

Those present immediately began the work of extinguishing the fire, and a still alarm was sent to fire headquarters. Before the firemen arrived the fire was about out and there was nothing for them to do. No one is blamed for the accident, it being the result of general thoughtlessness.

MOSE IN A MELODRAMA

PATROLMAN QUAAS SAVES DRUNKEN MAN FROM HORRIBLE DEATH.

The fortune that is said to favor drunken men came to the aid of Henry Stephany last night and probably saved him from a horrible death. The man was found by Patrolman Moses Quaas at 7:10 o'clock lying in a drunken stupor with his body across the tracks near the North avenue railroad station. A few minuets later a heavy freight passed by that would have ground his body to a pulp. Stephany was released this morning on suspended sentence.

"LARRY" IN VAUDEVILLE

OLD STAGER IN HIS CUPS SHOWS REAL FIGHT WHEN ARRESTED.

The spectacle of a drunken man and a police officer struggling, and swaying back and forth in the patrol wagon, now and then coming perilously near to rolling out to the street, furnished excitement last night at about 8:30 o'clock. "Larry" Wallace, the old stager, was the drunk and he gave the police a bad quarter of an hour before they could get him behind the bars.

Patrolman Messler made the arrest at the corner of Park avenue and East Second street, after a lively fight in which Wallace, in a drunken frenzy, threw the policeman and Constable Walters, who assisted him, all over the sidewalk. After being lifted into the patrol wagon, Wallace began another fight with Patrolman Higgins, who with difficulty held him under until police headquarters was reached.

Wallace was sent to Elizabeth for thirty days this morning by City Judge Runyon.

CITY TO RECEIVE BIG FRANCHISE TAX

Amount Due Plainfield $4,113,23, Which is Nearly Double That of Last Year.

INCREASED VALUATIONS

CORPORATION PROPERTY HAS BECOME A MORE VALUABLE ASSET.

Electric Light and Gas Company Pays Over $2,000, While Trolley Gives $992.00—Telephone's Debt $146.74.

Tax Collector Frank Smith has received the annual notice of apportionment of taxes due this city under the franchise act. There is a noticable increase in the amount this year, due in a measure to increased valuation in corporation property. The total sum is $4,113.23, which is $2,111.17 more than last year.

Itemized, it is as follows:

Public Service Corporation, $992.57; Plainfield Water Supply Company, $379.63; Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, $2,183; Postal Telegraph Company, $.29; New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, $146.74. The Public Service Corporation is relieved of paying into the city the amount charged against it as a franchise taxes, because it already pays much more than that amount into the city for licenses. The object of the franchise tax is to protect cities and communities against officials who might give away valuable franchises free. The tax then gives the city some compensation for the use of the grants. In this city, the trolley company is obliged to pay a license fee which is in effect a franchise tax, although it is more than the State apportions.

Compared with the figures of a year ago there is a great increase in the valuation of corporation property in this city. The franchise tax of 1902 was itemized as follows: Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, $1,876.47; New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, $107.03; Postal Telegraph Company, $.21. The water company is not included in this list because of a peculiar controversy between the borough and city which resulted in the tax being paid over to the North Plainfield borough. This, however, was eventually settled, the city of Plainfield receiving $8.35.29, or $45, 69 cents more than is apportioned the city in the tax rate of this year.

A year ago the franchise tax list was itemized as follows: Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, $1,934.93; Postal Telegraph Company, $.14 and the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, $203.36.

BUSINESS SECTION GROWING

RECENT CHANGES IN THE CITY SHOW REAL EXPANSION IN TRADE LIMITS.

From a business standpoint Plainfield has kept pace with other cities in the State during the past year and the local merchants have with considerable pride secured modern quarters and improved their present places of business. To a large extent these changes have been confined more or less to Front street. This is to be expected, although it does not represent all of the business houses of the city. Within East and West Front street, Park avenue, North avenue and Watchung avenue, the principal business of the city is transacted, and within a very few years this will extend more and more to the streets running out of Front street.

There was a time when most of the business on Front street was located between Park and Madison avenues, but now it extends from Watchung avenue to Grove street. During the past year there have been many notable changes. Woodhull & Martin have probably effected one of the greatest by erecting at considerable cost a handsome new building for the firm's use. By placing this building on East Front street trade was at once diverted to a larger extent, although Powlison & Jones' furniture building, nearby, has long been an attractive place. Plans are now underway, it is said, for the improvement of the property opposite Woodhull & Martin's building, this property being considered too valuable to hold such rickety shanties as now stand there. H. W. Marshall will probably be an early builder on some of this property.

In what has long been known as the central part of the business section, in the vicinity of Front street and Park avenue, there have also been a number of improvements. S. Scheuer & Co., who for several years occupied J. E. Martine's building on West Front street, finally purchased the property occupied by J. A. Smith & Brother and after completely overhauling the building the firm took possession of one of the finest stores of its kind in the State. In the meantime J. A. Smith & Brother moved to the Cutter building further west on the street, and there the firm is conveniently located in a well-appointed grocery.

I. H. Boehm, the hustling dry goods merchant, was another one to make changes. At great expense and in response to a demand made by increasing business he enlarged his store and put in an entire new front. He has his main entrance on Front street, while another entrance is to be found on Park avenue.

The owner of the building occupied by Hill & Shupp, the dry goods merchants, also made many changes, including a new and desirable arrangement of the show windows. More room was made inside by the removal of partition walls. These are some of the most important changes made thus far, but others will follow. The building formerly occupied by Scheuer & Co., is now undergoing repairs and will soon be occupied by two different concerns. Some of the older residents who believed that the business of the town would always be concentrated in Front street, Park and North avenues, are beginning to change their minds as they see the surrounding territory built up and the business extended. As the city grows additional business houses will come and it is an encouraging sign that the business of the city is keeping apace with the residential growth.

FREE FROM DISEASE.

The Secretary of Borough Board of Health Says Public Health is Good.

North Plainfield has been singularly free from contagious disease this fall, while other communities in this part of the State have been combating against an unusually large number of cases of diphtheria, scarletina and measles. Secretary of the Board of Health of North Plainfield Rev. Dr. W. E. Honeyman said this morning that never in his fourteen years' experience has he known of such a long term of freedom from contagious disease.

For Your Wife.

You can't think of a single thing you can give your wife or any other fair member of your family that will please her more than furs. They make an ideal Christmas gift, and the expense is small when the furs are bought at the Paris Cloak and Fur Store on West Front street. The Paris furs are always exactly as represented, in quality excellent and in appearance the tonicst articles of wearing apparel on the market. You make no mistake when your buy at the Paris. You will contribute most to the joy of the Christmas season by buying a Christmas present of furs at the Paris.

Store Changes.

After the holiday season Hill & Shupp will give up a portion of the store now occupied by them and owned by S. C. Conklin, of West Front street.

CHRISTMAS TRADE AS MERCHANTS REPORT

Fewer High-Priced Articles Being Purchased This Year All Through the Country.

CONDITION IN NEW YORK

RAILROAD COMPANIES ADMIT THAT LESS BUYING IS BEING DONE IN CITY.

Saturday Night's Rush In Plainfield —Christmas Preceding a Presidential Election Bound to be a Dull One, Says a Veteran Clerk.

Christmas is almost here and the annual hey dey for the shop keepers is almost at an end. In this city, the patronage at the local stores has not been as good as last year. People as a rule are not making elaborate gifts. Shop keepers say that this is generally the rule just before a Presidential election. An old salesman, who has been behind the counter for many years, said yesterday to a reporter for The Daily Press that he has always found that the Christmas preceding a Presidential election is invariably a quiet one. According to his philosophy Christmas shopping depends on the condition of business; if business is good, the patronage is heavy; if it is poor, it is correspondingly slow.

Throughout the east there is a noticable falling off in the receipts, according to trade papers. This is caused, it is said, on by the unrest in trade circles. Throughout the country machinists are being laid off; all the building industries are suffering from a "quiet season." In this city, there has been a noticable lack of work in some of the machine shops. Many have been laid off. This has caused many, who generally patronize the local stores, to be content with an economical Christmas.

Still, the store keepers do not complain. The business has been fairly good. It has been noticed that there has been more local buying this season. Fortunately the stores prepared for this and when the rush began the stock was as good as could be secured in New York.

Woodhull & Martin, Hill & Shupp and I. H. Boehm had well stocked stores. Their assortment of toys and novelties literally "melted before their eyes." The railroad authorities state that the percentage of "shopping travel" between this city and New York has shown a material decrease this year. The express company claims that there is a decrease in the amount of business, although with them it is hardly noticable.

Saturday night the local stores experienced their greatest rush. Until almost midnight the shops were crowded with purchasers and even in the smallest stores the business was rushing.

The New York Tri-Weekly Tribune.

For those who want to get the New York news and news of things the world over and don't want to spend the money or time in buying and reading a metropolitan paper seven days in the week The Tri-Weekly Tribune fills the bill. It is issued on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of every week, and contains the essence of The Daily Tribune for the whole week. To those who are interested in the prices of flour, grain, wheat, cotton, live-stock, butter, cheese, eggs and other farm products, its market reports are invaluable, because of their correctness. Its interest in agitating the building of good roads in the country sections has elicited heartfelt praise on the part of our readers. Price, $1.50 a year. Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 23, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

There is something about State Entomologist John B. Smith that reminds us of Professor Langley.

People have forgotten all about guessing how old Ann is and are now engaged in solving the problem of how to make every dollar buy two dollars worth of Christmas presents.

There is no accounting for a woman's actions. She is armed with that powerful reason: "Because." But what do you think of a Plainfield woman who did her Christmas shopping in Elizabeth? That's the limit.

We are confident that Mayor Jenkins will heed the protest of the large number of citizens who do not wish to see Joseph A. Hubbard ousted from the local Board of Assessors. Civil service principles are particularly desirable in a city which prides itself as being a model municipality.

The Republican National Convention is to meet in Chicago next June. It is hoped that the strikes in street car, cab and hotel services will be settled before that time.—New Brunswick Home News.

And that the Wood incident, the postoffice scandal, the treatment of Gen. Miles, the Panama stunt, and a few other things are forgotten.

Judging from the list of invited guests, there'll be no "cross of gold and crown of thorns" brand of political fire at the McClellan banquet in New York. Cleveland, Parker, Gorman, Belmont and Carlisle will be present, and there's no doubt but that the son of Little Mac as well as all the Tammany braves are congratulating themselves that Mr. Bryan is sight seeing at present.

The colored brethern who are planning to establish an orphanage on Rahway road should remember that there are certain obligations which they owe as good citizens of this city. Rahway road is not a proper place for a charitable institution especially of this kind. There are plenty of desirable locations and the colored men should know it. A colored orphanage on Rahway road would depreciate the value of property in that section as any one can understand. It is unfortunate indeed that there are no building restrictions in that part of the city, but the colored men should not take advantage of the fact. There's no room for an orphanage in the section where it is planned to locate one.

YOUNG THESPIANS ACTIVE

WILLARD DRAMATIC CLUB PREPARING TO PRESENT SEVERAL PRODUCTIONS.

The A. E. Willard dramatic club with a membership of thirty is having a season of much activity and prosperity. The club has occupied its rooms above Mehrten's candy store on East Front street for rehearsals during the past few weeks, but will hold its formal opening next Tuesday night, when the friends of the club will be received and entertained with a few vaudeville sketches.

The scenery on the club stage is patricularly handsome and is the work of one of the club members, Mortimer Slater, who is considerable of an artist in that line of work. In his painting of a rural scene on the drop curtain he was especially good and showed remarkable talent also in the painting of a wood scene, street scene and brown stone front. Mr. Slater has painted all the scenery for an adaptation of Goethe's "Faust," for a presentation of which the members are rehearsing.

The next event on the club programme is the giving of an entertainment for the Independent Order of Foresters on January 15. Two laughing sketches, "Runy's Wedding," and a negro sketch, "Who Died First," together with several vaudeville selections will provide amusement on that night.

At some date not yet fixed, probably in late January or February, the club will present "The Octoroon," a play by the British playwright, Dion Boucicault, following it somewhat later with "Faust."

For a satisfactory production of "Faust" the members of the club will expend much time and care and will not put it on the boards until all the participants have become as familiar as possible with their parts under the able coaching of the club manager A. E. Willard. The presentation of the play will be accompanied by appropriate music from Gounod's opera. The cast of the principal characters will be: Faust, William Jeffery; Mephistopheles, A. E. Willard; Valentine, Mortimer Slater; Margueritde, Mrs. A. E. Willard; Sable, Walter Emmons. Other prominent parts will be taken by Miss Clara Mears Miss Bertha Thoms, Miss Belle DeMott, Miss Alice DeMott, Miss Ethel Reynolds and Mr. Finnigan.

In "The Octoroon," a delightful play with the scene laid in Louisiana, leading parts will be taken by M. Slater, George P. Bird, Walter Emmons, William Jeffery, who will make his debut as a darky, and Messrs. Long and Finnigan, and Miss Clara Mears and Miss Ethel Reynolds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shotwell, of Fairview avenue, will entertain a number of relatives at a dinner to be given on Christmas Day.

Archibald Kinsey, an employe of the Pond Machine Tool Works, while handling a large steel shafting at the shop, yesterday afternoon, let it fall on the foot of a fellow-employe named Weiglow. The latter's foot was crushed and he was obliged to go home.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The members of Fanwood Council, R. A., who have been striving during the year to attain a membership of one hundred by January 1st, 1904, had the satisfaction last night seeing the century mark passed by a safe margin. Ten candidates were initiated besides two being received by card. This brought the membership up to 106, making a net gain for the year of twenty-five. During the year the Council offered three prizes to the three members bringing in the largest number. This added an interest to the work as all contests do, and no doubt aided materially in the success of the work. During the good of the order the members enjoyed a social hour together while they lingered over their cigars and enoyed the speechmaking. The newly elected officers of the Council are to be installed on Tuesday night, January 12, at which time Grand Regent Washbourn and staff will be present. The entertainment committee is arranging a special programme for the occasion.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Governor Murphy has leased the residence of John H. Scudder, on West State street, Trenton, and will occupy it as the executive mansion during the legislative session of 1904. Governor Murphy is to take possession of his Trenton residence January 15.

At an especially harmonious caucus of the Republican Senators, held in Trenton Sunday night, a slate of officers for the coming session of the legislature was agreed on. Senator Wakelee, of Bergen County, was selected for president; Senator Cross, of Union County, for leader on the floor, and Senators Bradley, of Camden; Bacheller, of Essex, and Brown, of Ocean, as a steering committee to choose the minor officers. Among the other officers agreed was journal clerk, Merchant Meeker, Union County.

LITERARY.

"Voices and Visions," a volume of verse by Franklin Baldwin Wiley, literary editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, who formerly resided here, has won much favor among literary men. Mr. Wiley's poetry is fresh and spontaneous and varied in theme and treatment. One critic finds in it "fertility in diction, taste in imagery, sweetness and facility of expression, and much that indicates real poetic fire." The book includes much fine descriptive verse, some humorous efforts, and a number of charming love poems. It is published by The Gorham Press, Boston. $1.25.

—The finishing touches in the work of completing the furnishings of the new rooms of the Plainfield Camera Club in the Babcock building are now being made.

The Singer Manufacturing Company will close tonight and remain closed for ten days.

Timely Protest.

Editor, The Daily Press:

The announcement in The Daily Press on Monday regarding a movement for founding of an orphanage and refuge for Southern negroes in Netherwood has caused great indignation among property owners in that locality. Parties owning land near Prospect avenue and Rahway road have spent considerable money in recent years in improving their property. Many beautiful residences have been erected there, more are in contemplation this next season, and it is expected within a few years all vacant land will be occupied, becoming one of the finest residential sections of the city. The price of land in all that beautiful section of Plainfield has been rising in value in recent years, as the books of the tax department will show, but if an institution of the kind proposed should be erected it would ruin that end of the town as a place of residences and be the means of destroying what has taken years to build up. These are the views as expressed freely by those owning property and making Netherwood their home.

AT INGLESIDE.

Accidents Marred the Sport on the Frisco Track.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—Jockeys Lee, Jackson and Linton were badly hurt in an accident at Ingleside. When the field in the third race reached the three-quarter pole Dora I. stumbled, and Oscar Tolle, who was directly behind, also went down. Linton, on Dora I., sustained a fractured collar bone and was cut about the head. Jackson, on Oscar Tolle, was also badly cut on the mouth, and his back was wrenched.

Close finishes marked some of the events, Andrew B. Cook and Martinmas gaining honors by narrow margins. Fossil led all the way in the handicap. After four straight wins Lord Melbourne finally met defeat in the last race. The results:

First Race—Brennus won, Nullah second and Illiluon third.

Second Race—Andrew B. Cook won, Young Pepper second and Avenger third.

Thousands of persons were gathered outside the station, and they enthusiastically cheered the couple on their appearance. As soon as the duke and duchess entered their carriage the horses were unhitched and the carriage was drawn by the coast guardsmen, preceded by pipers, to Broxmouth Park, the seat of the Roxburghes, which is two miles distant from Dunbar. Presents for every member were placed on the tree and the gifts were all of a useful character. During the evening there were songs and recitations by the members and a general good time. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. Peter VanFleet, Mrs. Harry Schreimer, Mrs. J. B. Higgins and Mrs. Jacob Kettenring.

Mrs. Fanny Jacobs, of Elizabeth, has sued Pride of Elizabeth Circle No. 450, Companions of the Forest of Americ, for $300 damages. Martin; vice chief, William Allen; high priest, Dr. C. M. Luckey; venerable hermit, L. A. Hummer; master of records, H. J. Martin, Jr., and A. R. Vail; clerk of the exchequer, R. V. Kenny; master of the exchequer, W. Randolph; trustee, R. V. Kenny, who, if elected, will succeed himself. Ray B. Carver was nominated delegate to the Grand Castle.

BILL SMITH'S DISAPPEARANCE

FAIR HEIR LEAVES FOR COLORADO, BUT NOT TO SETTLE PENDING LITIGATION.

A rumor circulated yesterday to the effect that William B. Smith, of New Market, had been offered $125,000 to settle the suit now going on in Paris, between New Market heirs of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fair and Mr. Fair's family, was nailed yesterday afternoon when a person in New Market closely identified with the Smith family, indignantly denied the truth of the report. It is termed a fabrication without the least foundation.

The story was based on the sudden departure of William B. Smith for Colorado, where it was said, he had gone to effect a settlement. It seems that several days ago Mr. Smith left the house and declared he would be back in half an hour. At the expiration of an hour, he had not appeared and his family became worried. A search for him was instituted.

Inquiry was made at the depot where it was learned that a few hours previous William Smith had boarded a train for Boulder, Colorado. He bought his ticket twenty minutes before he left the village of New Market. He declared that he was going to Colorado for a trip for pleasure and did not mention anything about business.

His family did not know of his intention of going West until he had gone. None of his relatives in New Market know nothing of any overtures having been made to any of the Fair heirs looking towards a settlement and they indignantly deny the truth of the story. The suit is brought in the name of Mrs. Hannah Nelson, of New Market, the mother of the late Mrs. Charles L. Fair.

To Build Dwelling.

Mrs. Oscar M. Ellis, of West Fourth street, has received from Building Inspector Doane a permit to erect a frame dwelling at 220 Lee place.

Dr. Schenck spoke impressively of the life of Mrs. VanZandt and dwelt on the Scriptural thought of those who sleep in Jesus. To the bereaved ones he told them not to sorrow. He also spoke of the active life of Mrs. VanZandt in her church and of her devotion in her home. During the services E. E. Runyon sang two appropriate selections.

There were a number of beautiful floral tributes, including a wreath of roses from the Consistory and a large bunch of roses from the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed Church, also cut flowers from relatives and friends.

ELECTION OFFICERS' CLAIMS TO BE PAID

Council Agrees to Settle All Claims for Elections of 1901-02, Abiding by the Decision.

DUNELLEN AVE. OPENED

COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED TO ASSESS DAMAGES TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

No Legal Action to be Taken Against Durlach Brothers—Adjustment of Tax Bills—Final Session of Old Council to be Held Dec. 31.

When the adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held last night, Mr. Tolles moved to suspend the regular order of business to allow the presentation of a report on the extension of Dunellen avenue to Myrtle avenue in the borough. He offered a resolution to the effect that inasmuch as the property-owners could not agree in the dedication of property, that a commission consisting of J. Wesley Johnson, David O. Smalley and George Griffin, be appointed to make a just and equitable adjustment and assessment of the property, and Monday night, January 18, was the time fixed when the commissioners will report. These commissioners have agreed to serve without compensation.

All of the members were present at the meeting except Councilmen Pray, vanHerwerden and Tyler. Most of the time was occupied in disposing of various petitions, the majority of which were presented at the last regular meeting and since then had been considered by the chairman of the finance committee, Mr. Daniel, and the corporation counsel.

After a conference between the corporation counsel and Miss Mattison, of the Board of Health office, regarding the latter's claim for pay as a registrar of vital statistics, the question appearing to be which fund this sum should be taken from, it was reported that the claim had been withdrawn.

Mayor O. L. Jenkins appointed William G. Messler a regular policeman, he having served nearly a year as a special to the satisfaction of the police board and the appointment was confirmed.

Corporation Counsel Marsh recommended to the Council that the claims of the election officers for 1901-02 be paid, as a recent decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals, the court of last resort indicated that they are entitled to the sum of $3 for each registry day and $7 for each election day, with the understanding that the city pays only for the work in connection with city elections. The recommendation of Mr. Marsh was adopted and a question of long standing is finally settled.

Mr. Marsh also reported on the ejectment suit brought against the Messrs. Durlach, owners of the property corner of East Front street and Watchung avenue, for the removal of a certain building from the street line. He stated that the contract for the work had been awarded and that A. L. C. Marsh had been engaged as architect. The plans as shown to Building Inspector Doane provides that the building shall face Watchung avenue, that the first floor is to consist of one large and two small stores. Mr. Marsh recommended that as the property-owners have commenced work that legal action be deferred. This recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Daniel reported on the several petitions presented at the last meetings and referred to the finance committee. Regarding the petition of John C. Daly for an adjustment on taxes to the amount of $12.60 which he claimed he paid twice on his Everett place property, it was voted to refund the sum when a certified statement of facts is presented. The request of Eliza T. Brown for a reduction of taxes on her property at 741-745 Belvidere avenue, on the grounds that she was assessed for a barn which is not on her property, Mr. Daniel reported that the tax assessed represeonts an increased valuation of the property from $4,500 to $5,100 and on the recommendation of Mr. Daniel the request of the petitioner was not granted.

One of the most difficult cases reported on was that relative to the petition of Mrs. Lucy B. Tomlinson, who asked for exemption for a tax of $1,500 in the bank as personal property. Mr. Daniel stated that money in the bank is taxable, in fact all real estate or personal tax is liable to tax, but it happened, according to Collector E. H. Smith's statement that several beneficiaries as a result of the Westfield disaster a year ago, went before the Commissioners of Appeal and had an adjustment made regarding several amounts placed in the bank. Mrs. Tomlinson failed to do this and if the Council should exempt her from this tax the law would be violated. The action in imposing this tax on Mrs. Tomlinson was characterized as an outrage by President Buckle, for he declared that many persons who have money in the bank escape a similar taxation. The matter was referred to the finance committee for further consideration.

The petition of Carl Lindmark asking for exemption from a dog tax on the grounds that he did not have a dog when the assessor was around, was denied, it being stated that it was not necessary for Mr. Lindmark to have the dog at the specified time.

M. E. Risberg, who claimed a tax of $2.51 was paid twice, will be reimbursed that amount when she presents a certified statement of facts, and the Council voted to pay E. L. Finch $87.22, that being the sum necessary to reimburse him in the transfer of the assessment on a property on Arlington avenue. It was discovered that Mr. Finch was paying an assessment on some property owned by another party, the lot number being designated wrongly.

The petitions of the American Sabbath Tract Society for exemption from an assessment on bank stock and the Firemen's Relief Association for exemption from tax on Pemberton avenue property, were referred to the city clerk to be in turn referred to the new Council for consideration.

Mr. Lee offered a resolution providing for the location of three two-way fire hydrants, one at the corner of Denmark road and Berkeley avenue, another one on Berkeley avenue and a third on West Sixth street and Clinton avenue. These hydrants will be put in position after the extension of the mains.

The Plainfield Electric Light Company informed the Council that fourteen new street lights have been located as directed.

AMELIA SUTTERLEIN SENT TO REFORMATORY

In Court of Special Sessions at Elizabeth, Judge Vail Disposes of Case Against Her.

COLORED MEN GUILTY

THREE PLAINFIELD NEGROES CONFESS THEIR WRONGDOINGS.

Alfred F. Willibald Gets Three Months as Do Also Wm. Saunders and Ernest Morris—Wm. McCoy to be Sentenced Next Week.

Amelia Sutterlein, the "woman burglar" of this city, who broke into the house of George Simon, of North avenue, and got away with a small amount of booty, was committed to the State Reformatory for girls yesterday by Judge Vail in the Court of Special Sessions at Elizabeth. Yesterday was sentence day in the court.

William Saunders, colored, of this city, pleaded guilty to the larceny of a bicycle and Ernest Morris to the larceny of a coat from U. B. Crane. Both were turned over to the probation officer. Charles Johnson, also from Plainfield, was committed to the county jail for three months for the larceny of a watch from Samuel Johannsen, of Scotch Plains.

For the larceny of $7 Alfred Fred Willibald, of this city, was committed to the county jail for three months. Willibald was arrested in Cranford. He is an old offender having been caught stealing $300 from the North avenue railroad station and sentenced to five months in jail several years ago. He is also said to have deserted from the U. S. army at one time.

William McCoy, colored, of this city, who was found with burglar's tools in his possession in the act of stealing copper wire from the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Railroad Company, pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence until next week.

BURGLARS GET LITTLE BOOTY AT WOOD'S

Men Entered Hotel at Night and Caused Much Damage to Property.

WORK OF AMATEURS

NO CLUE TO PERPETRATORS ON WHICH TO WORK.

Proprietor Believes That Intruders Were Acquainted With the Place—The Cash Register Smashed—The Police Notified.

A burglary took place this morning at Wood's hotel, at the Plainfield Driving Park, when some intruders secured admittance through a rear window and took away with them about $50 worth of goods, some cigars, liquors and other articles of value in the bar room. There is no clue to the thieves, who are believed not to be professionals.

When L. D. Wood, the proprietor of the hotel, went into the bar room this morning a scene of confusion met his gaze. Tables were overturned, glasses were broken and all the choice liquors on the shelves and the cash register were gone. The confusion told all too plainly that burglars had visited the place and that the men were acquainted with the bar room.

Investigation on the outside of the hotel showed fragments of a new one hundred dollar cash register lying scattered about on the frozen ground. The machine was a complete wreck. Twenty dollars in money was secured from the register and about thirty dollars worth of stock was taken away. The burglars failed to secure a large roll of money hidden in one of the drawers. They left behind over $300.

It is apparent that the men secured an entrance to the bar room by forcing the rear window with a jimmy. They then opened the front door and had easy gress. Mr. Wood has a suspician as to who the burglars are and expects to have some tidings of his midnight visitors and the stolen booty within a few days.

Cold Bath.

Jacob Moledesky, of Park avenue, while walking on the ice on Tier's pond yesterday stepped too near some melted ice and fell through. He went over his head in the icy water, but had presence of mind enough to grasp the edge of the frozen crust. He was fished out and went home, little the worse for his ducking.

On several occasions she has addressed mission meetings at Trinity Reformed Church.

THOUGHT HIM A BURGLAR

J. QUINN, OF WATCHUNG AVE., KICKED DOWN STAIRS IN HIS OWN HOME.

Because he refused to make himself known while walking down the darkened stairs of his own home Tuesday night, J. Quinn, of Watchung avenue, was struck several severe blows in the face and kicked down the entire flight of stairs. He is now laid up at his home with severe bruises and internal injuries resulting from his fall.

Quinn lives in the same house as Victor Troice, who, coming home Tuesday night, heard a mysterious chuckle coming from the head of the staircase. He challenged sharply but received no answer and thinking that the man was a trespasser who intended no good he attacked him as stated. Quinn apparently attempted to conceal his identity "for fun."

NEW JERSEY Y.M.C.A. ATHLETIC MEET HERE

Fifteen Associations to Compete in Competition for the Championship of the State.

FEBRUARY 8, THE DATE

EACH ASSOCIATION ENTERING EVENT WILL FURNISH A JUDGE.

There Will be Five Events—The First Regular Athletic Meet of New Jersey Y. M. C. A.—Committee to Make Arrangements.

A State Y. M. C. A. athletic meet will be held with the local association Monday, February 8. Letters have been sent to the fifteen associations in Northern New Jersey, all of which, it is expected, will be represented. It will be the first regular athletic meet in the athletic league of the northern part of the State, and that it is held in Plainfield is a commentary on the excellent equipment of the local association.

Five events will be contested, the 12-pound shot put, the three standing broad jumps, running high jump, running high dive and a potato race, which will cover a quarter mile. Each association will be entitled to enter five men, only one of whom, however, will be allowed to enter any one event. In this way each association will have a single representative in each event.

Each association represented will send a judge, the local association to furnish measurers and scorers and attend to other details.

The winner of the games will be practically champion association of the State, as, of the seventeen associations in New Jersey having physical departments, fifteen are located in Northern New Jersey. A sub-committee of members of the local association will be appointed soon to make all arrangements for the meet.

TO PITCH FOR NEW LONDON

W. M'LAUGHLIN DENIES THAT HE IS NEGOTIATING WITH ANOTHER TEAM.

A report has reached this city that Warren McLaughlin, the baseball player, who represented Plainfield in the National League and who has for the past two years occupied a prominent position in baseball circles, had received a flattering offer from some western baseball manager to play ball in the middle West states this coming season.

Mr. McLaughlin was seen at his home this morning and when asked as to the truth in the report declared that he knew nothing of any proposition having been made to secure him for any western team. He said: "As far as I am concerned I know nothing of any proposition being made and I think there is nothing in the story. So far as I know now, I will be back in my old position on the New London team next season, as pitcher. If there are any negotiations going on they are between the New London management and the team out west as I am still under contract with the New England mangement.

MARRIED THREE YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McVoy Celebrate Their Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McVoy celebrated their third wedding anniversary and at the same time had their son christened, last night, at their home on West Fourth street. Rev. L. B. Howard performed the ceremony of christening the child John Arthur McVoy. There was an informal musical programme and the serving of a collation. The affair partook of the nature of a house-warming, Mr. and Mrs. McVoy having recently moved into the house from Hoboken. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Percy McVoy, Raymond McVoy, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Porter, W. L. Hetfield, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Lister, Miss Mabel First-Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand L. Denckian, William Porter, Miss Mary Duvere, of Plainfield; Miss Marion Porter, of New York; and George Hand, of Hoboken.

Still on Deck.

Senator Kean must not be misled by the heading in the newspapers, "McMurray to leave Plainfield." The reference is to a minister. The Fowler boss has no call to leave Union County at the present moment.—Newark Evening News.

Disastrous Train Wreck on Baltimore and Ohio.

THIRTY-FIVE PASSENGERS KILLED

Train No. 12 Derailed by Running Into Switch Timbers—The Whole Train Badly Smashed—All the Killed Were In Smoker.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 24.—A disastrous passenger wreck occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad eight miles west of here last night, and at least forty people were killed. Twenty or thirty are badly hurt.

The wrecked train was known as No. 12, eastbound, composed of an engine, combination baggage and smoker, two coaches, two Pullmans and a diner.

The official statement of Superintendent W. C. Loree follows:

"No. 12 was derailed by running into some switch timbers or timbers of about that size, derailing the engine and all the cars. All the cars are badly damaged. I do not think any of the equipment will be able to go away from the accident on their own wheels, except possibly the Pullman cars and the diner. The engine lies across both tracks. The baggage car is over the bank. The first coach is partly over the bank. The balance of the train is badly twisted. I judge thirty-five people are killed. All the people killed were in the smoker. Escaping steam from the engine went into the first coach, scalding the people. Very few of the other passengers were injured. The injured have been taken from the wreck and are lying on the bank. The engineer and fireman cannot be found."

The first report of the wreck said it was the Duquesne flier which was involved, but this train does not leave Pittsburg until after the wreck occurred.

Porto Rico Collector Resigned.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 24.—A cablegram has been received from Secretary of the Treasury Shaw accepting the resignation of Alonzo Cruzen, collector of customs of Porto Rico. It is believed here that W. H. Elliott of Indiana, commissioner of the interior for Porto Rico, will succeed Mr. Cruzen and that he in turn will be succeeded by Regis H. Post of New York, who is at present auditor of Porto Rico. It is reported that President Roosevelt will permit Senator Beveridge of Indiana to name the new collector. The resignation of Mr. Cruzen is the result of the recent investigations into the charges of smuggling made against certain officers of the United States navy and Porto Rican officials.

British Ship's Tempestuous Voyage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—The British ship Clive Bank, sixty days from Shanghai for Royal Roads, B. C., is in this port with three of her four lower masts broken off below the tops, under a jury rig of a number of fore and aft sails rigged upon the remaining stumps. The ship, which sailed from Shanghai in ballast on Oct. 26, ran, it appears, into a succession of terrific gales after being out a month and practically rolled her spars overboard. The hull is in good condition, with the exception of the starboard bulwarks amidships, smashed by one of the yards when it fell. The crew of nineteen, in addition to the officers, is safe, no one being hurt during the battle with the elements.

New York Civic Appointments.

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Four appointments of heads of city departments have been announced by Mayor Elect George B. McClellan of this city. William McAdoo, as foretold a week ago, will be police commissioner, and Maurice Featherson will be commissioner of the dock department. John C. Hertle, who was chief commissioner of accounts under the Van Wyck administration, has been named to fill that position again, and William Harman Black is the second commissioner of accounts.

Judge Barrow's Sudden Death.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 24.—Judge Pope Barrow of the superior court was seized with vertigo while trying a case in chambers here. He fell into the corner of the court room into the arms of an attendant and was assisted home, where he died. Judge Barrow was descended from a colonial family and was in his sixty-fourth year. He was a member of the United States senate from 1882 to 1888. He helped frame the state constitution in 1887.

Cuba and Panama.

HAVANA, Dec. 24.—Dr. Manuel Corvalles, special commissioner of the republic of Panama, has arrived here. He expects to secure prompt recognition and the immediate establishment of regular relations between Cuba and Panama. Dr. Corvalles said that he believed the rumors of the landing of Colombian troops in Panama territory have been chiefly inspired by the Colombian government.

More Fighting In Santo Domingo.

CAPE HAITIEN, Dec. 24.—A dispatch received here says that General Morales, with a strong force and many cannon, disembarked at Monte Cristi, Santo Domingo, after a bombardment of the port. The troops under General Jiminez were defeated. General Morales and Vice President Cacares after establishing a depot for munitions of war returned to Santo Domingo.

Found Dead and Frozen Stiff.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 24.—Timothy Wilson was found dead in bed here. Wilson had been dead for several weeks. He lived alone in a shanty, and no one seems to have noticed his disappearance. He was frozen stiff.

FIGHT TO A FINISH

Chicago Labor Trouble Still Interferes With Burials.

NO SETTLEMENT IS YET IN SIGHT

Employers Will Adopt "Open Shop" Principle and Ignore Unions—Police or Military Will Be Called on For Protection.

CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—The struggle between the Liverymen's and Undertakers' association and the Livery Drivers' union, which for the past six days has seriously interfered with the burial of Chicago's dead, as no hearses or carriages have been available for funerals, is to be a fight to the finish, all efforts looking to a settlement of the strike by conciliation having now been abandoned.

For the past two days the prospects for a settlement by arbitration seemed bright, but the contending parties have drifted farther apart than ever, and all peace negotiations have been declared off by the employers.

At a meeting of the employers affected by the strike it was decided to open for business today on the "open shop" principle and employ union or nonunion men. Before this decision was reached arrangements were made to petition one of the circuit court judges for an injunction restraining the strikers from interfering with the business of the employers.

The conservative element at the meeting worked hard to prevent the opening of the stables, but was defeated. The conservatives proposed to make overtures to the strikers on an arbitration basis. This was not given heed by the more radical. The union officials predict trouble when the "open shop" plan is tried.

In anticipation of opposition by the union the employers have called upon Chief of Police O'Neill for further police protection against violence and picketing. In reply Chief O'Neill said: "The police have been ordered to extend to you the utmost protection in carrying on funerals. If you experience trouble call up the nearest police station, and if that does not help call me up."

Chief O'Neill's plan is to have policemen accompany all funerals in Chicago.

Members of the association say that should the police fail to maintain order the sheriff will be called upon for protection, and should that measure fail the governor will be appealed to to supply militiamen.

Lady Is Said to Know.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 24.—First Lieutenant Floyd Miller of the First infantry, U. S. A., who has been on duty at the grave of the late President McKinley and who has been absent from his post since Nov. 29, spent several days with his parents in this city and has been missing since Dec. 5. His parents do not believe that he has deserted or that he is the victim of foul play, although they were of the opinion that he had returned to Canton. They say he was in love with the daughter of a retired army surgeon named Cook in Washington and that they believe this young lady knows of his whereabout.

Big Strike Threatened.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 24.—A strike of carriage drivers and teamsters in St. Louis is threatened. It is stated that if the Citizens' Industrial Association of St. Louis in its announced purpose to enforce law and order interferes with the proposed strike of cabmen and carriage drivers, which has been set for Jan. 1, the officers of a dozen of the local unions of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters threaten that 9,000 men will refuse to work and that not a pound of freight or a ton of coal will be moved by union labor until the strike is settled.

Customs Officer Suspended.

BOSTON, Dec. 24.—Colonel W. W. Castle, examiner in appraiser's stores at the Boston custom house, has been suspended by orders from Washington, pending an investigation. It is alleged that as examiner of metal and machinery Colonel Castle has erred in not placing sufficiently high values on imports, and that the amount of duty, therefore, has been too small. It is understood that Colonel Castle's integrity is not questioned.

France-Italian Treaty.

ROME, Dec. 24.—M. Camille Parrere, the French ambassador, has sent a communication to the Italian government which says that the French government is now prepared to sign an arbitration treaty between France and Italy on the lines of the treaty recently signed between France and Great Britain. It is understood that such a treaty will soon be signed in Paris.

Bunkoed Italian Laborers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Dec. 24.—Reports have been received by the police here from several places where it is claimed that Tony Ross, the Italian who was arrested in this city, has swindled large numbers of his fellow countrymen by getting money from them on the pretense that he was a railroad "big boss" and could get good positions for them.

President Pardons Rieger.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The president has granted a pardon to David V. Rieger, who was convicted in Kansas City in 1899 of misapplying certain credits of the Missouri National bank of Kansas City, of which he was president, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the Missouri penitentiary for six years.

Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 24, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The carriers will greet you with The Daily Press calendar tomorrow morning. Don't forget the boys who deliver your paper.

There's no question about it; newspaper men enjoy a holiday almost as much as other people. For this reason The Daily Press will not be published tomorrow.

If you really want to enjoy Christmas, make a contribution to the Children's Home, the Plainfield Relief Association, the Organized Aid Association or the City Union of King's Daughters.

Common Council's Christmas remembrance to the election officers of 1901-02 is substantial, but then the city fathers are placed in that long list of individuals who make the present because they have to do it.

If the North Plainfield Board of Health finds that a certain Plainfield physician neglected to report a case of diphtheria in the borough, it is its duty to publically censure him. This is too important a matter to be neglected.

There's no cause for rejoicing over the fact that the Young Men's Christian Associations of New Jersey have decided to hold a State meet at the local association's home. It would be surprising if they selected any other place. Plainfield leads—New Jersey follows.

Plainfield will not be jealous if some other community steals the proposed colored orphanage which it is planned to establish in an exclusive section of the city. From what we can learn concerning the objects of the proposed institution it will be nothing more or less than an employment bureau for colored people.

The New York Board of Commerce and Transportation is interested in a scheme to destroy the Jersey mosquito. Brings to mind the fact that other products of Jersey should receive first attention from the Gothamites. The mayor-elect is a son of an honored governor of this State and his police commissioner was born and reared in "Little Spain."

Speaking of headlines, have you ever noticed the delightful ambiguity of the average newspaper heading? Instead of making the headline an index to the ad the average advertiser features a few words that are admirably adapted to conceal the true object of the ad. Newspaper men long ago recognized the value of headlines that told something and so today, by simply glancing over the front page of the newspaper, we can glean practically all the day's news by a perusal of the headlines. Why shouldn't the advertiser adopt the same method? In the first place, you must remember that if you want your ad to be read, your headline must be prominent enough to attract attention, and in order to achieve that prominence the head must be set in large type. I believe that from one to four words are, as a rule, quite enough for a headline. —The Printer-Journalist.

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

All machine plants will close down tomorrow.

Several new hands were taken on at the Potter plant this morning owing to the rush of work.

Harry Busby, of the Potter Press Works, left today for a visit with relatives in Philadelphia.

George Gould, formerly of the Campbell Press Company's plant, has taken a position at the Potter plant.

Judge Schafer, of Pittsburg, has just declared unconstitutional a law prohibiting the employment of boys in the mines.

William Mague, of the Potter Press Company's plant, who has been confined to bed by illness for the past month, is slowly recovering.

The anthracite coal companies have united to test the constitutionality of the labor laws passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature at the dictation of the United Mine Workers.

Judge Kirkpatrick yesterday signed an order instructing Receiver James Smith, Jr., of the United States Shipbuilding Company, to finish the ferryboat Plainfield in the Crescent shipyard at Elizabethport, the Central Railroad to pay over the $37,500 remaining of the contract price; if it costs more to complete the boat the railroad people to pay the differences; if less the creditors of the corporation to get the benefit.

Frederick W. Job, of Chicago, secretary of the employers' association, said yesterday: "Membership in the labor unions in Chicago has fallen off 30 per cent. in the last few months, and I understand that seven locals in the city have lost their charters. Bad times are ahead for the labor organizations. They will reap what they have sown. Corruption and conceit have undermined their strength, and their conduct has outraged public sentiment. They have gone so far in their arrogance and greed that a reaction has set in against them. They have reached their limit and are on the wane. Every factory within the membership of our employers' association will display a sign reading: 'This is an open shop—an American shop for American workmen.'" Mr. Job quoted a printed article of Henry White, of New York, international president of the United Garment Workers, in which he warns the unions of their present perilous predicament.—N. Y. Sun.

The members of the Baptist Sunday-school and their friends enjoyed a happy yuletide together last night, when the Christmas exercises of the school were held in the auditorium of the church. The edifice was prettily trimmed, while the customary Christmas tree occupied a prominent place on the pulpit. The programme, which was one of the best the school has ever given, consisted of recitations, carols, music and addresses by pastor, Rev. G. M. Shott, and Superintendent Charles H. Vincent, who was in charge. During the midst of the festivities Santa Claus arrived, much to the delight of the younger members, who were beginning to get impatient, fearing that the old fellow met with some mishap which would prevent his coming. The merry jingle of bells soon set all at ease and shortly Santa, loaded with presents for scholars and teachers, superintendent and pastor, made his bow and was soon the center of attraction. After distirbuting the presents to the school the old fellow departed to fill other engagements in nearby towns.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 27—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—An optimists' missionary meeting.—Isa. lx, 1-6.

Many missionary meetings are not optimistic. There are so many seeming discouragements in the way of mission work that God's people do not always enter into missionary meetings and service with an optimistic spirit. When we think of the number of those who are in heathen darkness and their condition morally and spiritually we are almost overwhelmed with the problem before us and feel like crying out, "Who is sufficient for these things?" The result is depression rather than elation, and many good Christian people are often much depressed over the conditions and outlook of missionary work. But while these things are dark and appalling there is another side to the question. The cloud has a silver lining, as Isaiah shows when he calls upon the church to "arise, shine!"

1. Missionary optimism is possible because the church's light has come. The church is to lighten the darkness of heathendom, and its light has come. Jesus, the Saviour of the church and the Light of the world, has come. Christ came first to lighten His church and then through His church to lighten the world. The first great step in the enlightenment and salvation of the world has been taken. Christ has come, and hence Isaiah calls to the church: "Arise, shine, for the light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee! For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and His glory shall be seen." God's method in saving the world was not to dispel its darkness at a single stroke, but through an enlightened part to enlighten the whole. Israel was the part, and Israel's light has come in the person of the divine Messiah, Jesus Christ, who is also "the Light of the world."

2. Missionary optimism is possible because the enlightenment and salvation of the world are assured. The light has come and in due time will enlighten the entire world. "And the gentiles shall come to Thy light and kings to the brightness of Thy rising." This is the prophet's prediction that the gentiles as well as the Jews will come to the light which God has sent into the world. And this prediction will come true. It was given under the inspiration of God and cannot fail. The Scriptures repeatedly predict the salvation of the world. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son" for it, and the entire world will some time hear His name and believe in Him. But, furthermore, the prophet in vision sees the fulfillment of his prophecy. "Lift up thine eyes roundabout and see. All they gather themselves together; they come to thee; * * * the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee; the forces of the gentiles shall come unto thee." And as we look about us today we see in reality what Isaiah saw in vision. The light has come. The church is spreading it abroad, and the gentile nations are seeing it and in large numbers, presaging ultimate entire success, are being gathered in. The first sheaves have come and the full harvest is assured.

BIBLE READINGS.

Isa. lii, 7; Nah. i, 15; Ps. lxxii, 8-11; 17-19; Matt. v, 14-16; Matt. xiii, 31-33; Dan. iii, 44, 45; Acts i, 1-8; xiii, 44-49; Rev. xxi, 23-27.

Some Definite Resolves.

Dr. Clark in a recent "Familiar Letter" in the Christian Endeavor World asked Endeavorers to join with him in resolving some definite things for this season's work. Four of the suggestions follow:

First.—I will have a quiet season of communion with God every day.

Second.—I will pray day by day for an outpouring of the Spirit and for a great spiritual awakening.

Third.—I will set apart sacredly the hours for public and social worship in my own church and, when possible, will allow nothing to interfere with them.

Fourth.—I will give systematically, proportionately, generously, as God prospers me.

The Three Things.

Three things to love—courage, gentleness, affection. Three things to admire—intellect, dignity and gracefulness. Three things to hate—cruelty, arrogance and ingratitude. Three things to delight in—beauty, frankness and freedom. Three things to like—cordiality, good humor and cheerfulness. Three things to avoid—idleness, loquacity and flippant jesting. Three things to cultivate—good books, good friends and good humor. Three things to contend for—honor, country and friends. Three things to govern—temper, tongue and conduct. Two things to think of—death and eternity.—Henry Van Dyke, D. D.

The Workshop.

Christian Endeavor is the workshop where Jesus, the carpenter's Son, sharpens the instruments which He uses in the daily construction of His churches.—C. L. Mason in Christian Endeavor World.

The Mint.

Christian Endeavor is the mint where metals are coined and stamped with the King's own likeness.—Effa H. Winkler in Christian Endeavor World.

Pen Points.

There should be no dead line this side of eternity for the Christian Endeavorer.

There are no hammocks in the Christian Endeavor society. It's a workshop, not a rest room.

Where the words "Endeavorer" and "worker" are not synonymous, conditions must be radically wrong.—John R. Clements.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning Dec. 27, Missionary Meeting—A World-wide View—My Responsibility.

The surest test of one's religious condition is found in the way the needs of others are regarded. If their distress causes one to also feel distressed and to anxiously help to relieve the difficulty, the spirit and mind of Christ have certainly taken possession of that person. If any one can see another suffer and not feel an impulse to relieve, even if it costs sacrifice to self, such coldness, indifference and self care are proofs of the lack of the Christ spirit.

The marks of Christian life in the soul are the desire to help others and the sense of pain at sight of sufferings of others.

This sentiment does not arise in us by any conscious effort in answer to a consciousness of duty. We never say, "He is in need; I ought to help him and feel sorry, and I will feel sorry because it is my duty," and so work ourselves into a sympathetic condition. You can't do it if you try. The utmost possible will be a hypocritical imitation of sympathy which will deceive no one but yourself. It will resemble the true as much, perhaps, as brass resembles gold.

If you have salvation through Jesus, you will feel great, deep heart throbs for the world of men in darkness and wickedness and will want to help Him save them. What then? Why, then, you will need to know about them, all their needs, their sorrows, miseries, wickedness, strife, hopelessness and helplessness. Then, when the heart grows sick and the stupendous task looms black, ominous and utterly beyond all possibility of accomplishment, when the littleness of one's own strength shows so discouragingly against the mountain mass of the world's sin—then, if ever, comes the soul stilling assurance of the all sufficiency of God's grace.

What can I do? What ought I to do? I ought, first of all, to keep my ears and eyes open to learn the world's need. I am responsible to know if my fellow men around me are acquainted with God and His offers of salvation. I can find out that as easily as I can find out if they are in good health.

I can live close to Jesus, so as to feel kindly and compassionately toward the world's need. Others may feel contempt and condemnation for the weak and may show harshness in treatment of the helpless. Squalor, misery, viciousness and all uncleanness, physical and moral, are revolting to all the finer sensibilities. No one from preference would seek the society of those infected with smallpox or the plague. Every sense revolts at close contact with the infection. The pollution of all ungodliness is soul sickening. We may turn from it and refuse all aid and fancy that in our relish for perfumed garments and companionship with beauty and strength we are made purer and find a higher culture. What folly!

If you have ever been sick almost unto death and from utter weakness and the collapse of all powers have passed the crisis point and come slowly, slowly up the long hill of convalescence back into the enjoyment and exercise of one power after another, have felt all the flesh renewed with exquisite sensibilities as of babyhood, but with faculties and experience of mature years, you have known the joys of a resurrection. This is much and worth all suffering.

But to have saved another and brought him up this path not merely of physical recovery, but of renewing by the Holy Ghost, and see the new life abounding gloriously—well, that is blessedness. Ever do it? You ought to. You need it. The world needs it. God needs it.

You are responsible for it.

Christian Life and Art.

If we but look at it right we shall find religion in God's first creation, light; in God's first temples, the groves; in moon and stars and fiery firmament, in clouds and mists and seas and plains, in man and beast and bird and creeping thing. Art is an exposition and an interpretation of all these. The feeling of noble exaltation or depression which is at the bottom of every masterpiece and which in a measure is communicated to the spectator is as much God given in the landscape and figure of today as in the Madonna and saint of yesterday. The star of Bethlehem and the star shining in a great man's mind come from one source, and if we but study them they will lead back to that source.—J. C. Van Dyke.

The Tree of Decision.

At Reigate, England, in the spacious grounds of the ancient priory there is a tree which is known as the tree of decision. Under it stood Lady Henry Somerset in the darkest hour of her life. The very foundations seemed to be giving away. She was struggling with the awful question, Is there a God? when there came to her this message: "Live as though I were, and you shall know that I am." The decision was made, and God became real.—Dr. Josiah Strong.

Get Close to Him.

If you stand half a mile off from a man and throw the gospel at him you will miss him, but if you go close to him and lay hold upon him, giving him a hearty grip of the hand, and show that you have an affection for him, you will, by God's blessing, lead him in the right way.—Spurgeon.

Our Future Good.

So should we live that every hour
May die as dies the natural flower—
A self reviving thing of power.

That every thought and every deed
May hold within itself the seed
Of future good and future need.

—Milnes.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR MORNING WEAR.

Some Smart Shirt Waists Made of Substantial Materials.

Plain shirt waists of sicilienne, cheviot and broadcloth are worn beneath tailor made coats. They have longer shoulders and more fullness than formerly.

One of the most useful things to possess is an unlined skirt of white cloth well cut and well fitted. This may be used winter or summer with fine white waists and a pretty white hat.

For dinner or restaurant wear nothing in the way of a white waist equals the blouse of cream net incrusted with narrow lace insertion or applique. This is made very full, with a transparent yoke and a collar and very much puffed sleeves set into a deep tight cuff of lace.

The three-quarter coat is seen in walking suits in conjunction with the kilted skirt. It blouses and is belted in with a wide band of crinkled suede leather.

Of the trimming for winter gowns the colored Paraguay laces with raised effects are quite suitable for smart wear and are most effective on cloth and woolens with a smooth surface. Some of these laces are woven in two distinct colors, and others form a frame of medallion shape to surround the daintiest little embroidered sprays. A few of these motifs of lace and embroidery are quite sufficient to trim a bodice, and they are also used on coatees and boleros, and especially on smart waistcoats of pale colored cloth.

The illustration shows a new shirt waist having a deep yoke which gives the long shouldered effect.

WHAT WOMEN ARE WEARING

Return to 1830 Styles—Figured Silks and Accordion Plaitings.

White cloth is as fashionable as ever, but it is only for the well to do on account of the rapidity with which it soils.

We have returned to the 1830 styles in matters of dress, as witness the full skirts and the deep pointed waistbands. Old fashioned silks, flowered or plain, are trimmed with frayed out ruches of pale blue or pink.

Loose hanging boleros of black chiffon velvet are trimmed with dainty gold thread tassels and bands of embroidered lace.

Both large and small spots and even velvet brooches are coming into favor. Velvet gowns of every kind are seen for both day and evening wear.

Soft chine silks, together with flowered muslins and mulls, make charming gowns and blouses for evening wear. They are particularly becoming to young girls.

Accordion plaited black crepe de chine made with a wide girdle and a handsome jeweled buckle is a very useful as well as becoming afternoon gown.

Zibelines and similar materials are again much used, as well as long haired, thick vicunas. Invisible checks, stripes and other quiet patterned fabrics are smart.

The picture shows a gown of ivory cloth trimmed with narrow fur and spotted velvet. JUDIC CHOLLET.

AMUSEMENTS.

Next week will be one of the great holiday weeks of the year and extra preparation has been made for it by Mr. Keith. Special attention in the arrangement of the bill has been given to the women and children, who, with one accord, look forward to this season of entertainment as being theirs by right of custom. In no place of amusement are their interests more catered to than at Keith's, and this is not true only of the present but at all times, without regard to seasons. For this reason Keith's is the family theatre.

That popular duo of "broken German" funmakers, the Rogers Brothers—Gus and Max—will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House beginning Monday evening, Dec. 28. The vehicle will be a new vaudeville farce by John J. McNally, called "The Rogers Brothers in London." It will be presented in three acts, with very novel locale of scenes. The music this season, composed by Max Hoffman and Melville Ellis, presents a wider variety of catchy, tuneful airs than in the past. Three of the principal numbers are a distinct departure from the music heard in this style of entertainment.

—William Kitchen has changed his residence from West Fourth street, to West Front street, opposite Sycamore avenue

—The Plainfield Relief Association is planning to brighten many homes on Christmas Day, when the usual supply of good things will be furnished.

—Miss Bodine, who has been detained at her home in Jackson avenue since the recent death of her mother, has returned to her position at Woodhull & Martin's store.

Mr. Martin, of Morristown, is visiting his brother, E. C. Martin, of Compton avenue.

BRITAIN AND JAPAN

Berlin Report Says That the Two Will Fight Russia.

LONDON HAS DECLINED DISCUSSION

Statement Is Made That England's Position In Far East Will Make It Imperative For Her to Assist the Mikado's Government.

BERLIN, Dec. 24.—The German foreign office in estimating the probabilities of war in the far east fixes its attention at this moment on Great Britain rather than on Japan, for it is recognized that Japan is only waiting for Great Britain to give the word before beginning hostilities. A new and even portentous element in the situation as it is looked on here is the rising feeling in Great Britain that Russia must yield or Japan and Great Britain ought to fight her.

From the highest diplomatic source it has been reported that the German government, while still refusing to believe that war is certain, is convinced now that if war between Russia and Japan comes Great Britain will take a part in it because the British government looks upon war as possibly the only means of saving and re-establishing her position in the east.

A report from London says the British foreign office has declined to discuss the statements made in a dispatch from Berlin to the effect that England would back up Japan in the event of war with Russia on the ground that "the contingency was too hypothetical."

Diplomats do not expect any immediate action until the Russian reply to Japan's request for a reconsideration of the latest Russian note is received.

JAPAN AWAITS REPLY.

Both Parties Are Reported to Desire Peace With Honor.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 24.—Russia's reply to Japan is momentarily expected to be delivered. The foreign office officials and diplomats continue to express the opinion that as both parties earnestly desire a peaceful settlement, honorable to both nations, and as their allies have left nothing undone to this end, war will be averted. An early conclusion of the negotiations, however, seems unlikely.

In regard to the Vladivostok dispatch saying Viceroy Alexieff had been authorized to settle on the spot all questions concerning neighboring states, etc., the foreign office declares that the viceroy's powers remain as determined on by the ukase issued in August last.

Reports cabled from Peking say that the optimistic feelings in some quarters concerning war between Japan and Russia are not shared by the other diplomats at Peking, whose knowledge of the present situation of affairs entitles their opinion to the highest consideration. It is positively known that the Japanese government has drawn the line for a settlement, beyond which it will not make any material concessions and that she is determined to fight before yielding what she considers to be her vital interests. It is believed that unless Russia concedes important points another exchange of notes will precipitate matters.

It is also believed that Japan will refuse any arrangement holding in abeyance the question of the evacuation of Manchuria, which was one of the terms of the proposed arrangement recently announced from St. Petersburg and which, it is now supposed, was intended by the Russian government as a "feeler." This would be a violation of expressed pledges given to Japan and China.

Minister Uchida is reported to have said he would be obliged to resign his post in the event of such an agreement.

The most dangerous factors in the situation are the confidence of the Russian officials in the far east that a war would mean an easy victory for Russia and the challenging tone of the Russian officials and newspapers.

The intelligent Chinese officials await developments with the deepest anxiety. They foresee the many perils menacing China in the event of war and the possibilities that a partition of the empire may result from China's inability to maintain the neutrality of her harbors and subjects.

The younger officials and the newspapers discuss the possibilities of an alliance between China and Japan, but the only available Chinese troops are the 15,000 Japanese trained men of Yuan Shi Kai, who was recently appointed commander of the imperial army and navy, who might fight under foreign leaders, but whose present officers are incompetent and of doubtful courage.

INSURE VOTING MACHINES

THE CITY CLERK IS NOTIFIED THAT THE CITY IS LIABLE FOR THEIR SAFETY.

The New Jersey voting machine commission has issued an order relative to the care and custody of the machines that were sent to several of the cities of this State for trial at the last election. The question of caring for the machines and insuring them against accident and fire has been under discussion for some time.

The State board settles the matter in the following circular, which has been sent to City Clerk James T. McMurray to which several of the machines were assigned:

"We beg to call your attention to the opinion of the attorney general, dated December 9, 1903, addressed to the secretary of State, to the effect that chapter 171 of the laws of 1903, which imposes upon the board of officers, to whom the State board of voting machine commission has delivered a voting machine pursuant to the direction of the secretary of State, the duty of caring for such machine, likewise by its implication of law makes it their duty to insure such machine as part of the custody and care which the statutes cast upon them.

"In other words, it is the duty of the municipalities to care for and protect the machines, and this duty includes the obligation to see that they are properly insured. The expense of such insurance, under this opinion, is properly chargeable to the municipality."

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

We, the officers and members of the Filmore Avenue Baptist Church beg to speak of the article which appeared in the papers of this city on Dec. 22, in reference to the pastor of our church, coupled with certain actions taken by the so-called conference of ministers at the Bethany Baptist Church, Newark, N. J., in their last meeting.

As to the conclave of ministers in combine with the following names of this city, Revs. E. E. Jackson, Scott Wallace, J. W. Mitchell, out of which the action and decision came in reference to our pastor and the church, we feel sure that when the vote was cast to withdraw the hand of fellowship from our pastor and to make recommendations to our church that the eyes of these three preachers were closed and their heads bowed. Especially he who once pastored our church. For if they had of looked up and even observed their shadow like Judas, they would have excused themselves and sought a limb.

As to the recommendation of this righteous conclave to our church, we wish to inform them that since we did not call our pastor through them, nor support him by their aid, we respectfully ask them to stay out of our business until they are invited; that they may receive better treatment. For we know that the Baptist Church is its own sovereign everywhere, not subject to conference association nor convention, no further than its own right of representation. We also wish to say we are not representatives of the church of man but of God. Lastly, as to the pastor filling his pulpit last Sunday, we wish to say it is absolutely untrue. The Church.

Editor, The Daily Press:

I would ask permission through your columns to say a few words regarding The Industrial Home, of this city, in which, as chairman of the Union County Committee of the State Charities Aid Association of New Jersey, I have a real interest. Last autumn there was a detailed account given through the city press of the changes which had been effected in this institution during the present year, but it may be the public did not fully realize how much was owing to the continued and faithful efforts of the alms committee, composed of Messrs. William L. Gloak, William A. Garrigues and Edward E. Pray. This department of the city's work appeals less strongly perhaps to the public than other interests, but involves much labor and responsibility. There are doubtless many of our citizens who are ignorant of the location even of the Home, and the old adage "out of sight, out of mind" may be very aptly applied, so that it follows that the good work done by the committee is less in evidence than other city improvements, through very real. These gentlemen have studied carefully the needs of this institution, and have used very wisely the appropriation made by the Council, adding many things for the comfort and convenience of the inmates. It gives me pleasure to make this statement at this time, when the committee is about closing its year's work, and it is to be earnestly hoped that the committee of 1904 will show an equal interest. Elizabeth Tiffany.

Plainfield, Dec. 23, 1903.

A Holdup!

Editor, The Daily Press:

Public sentiment seems to be fast increasing throughout Plainfield by the vigorous protests heard on all sides from property owners in this city against the proposed establishment of a colored orphan asylum in Netherwood. It is surely the last place to be chosen, and the secrecy with which the movement has been worked thus far indicates possibly that the colored brethren may have been made a tool of. Surely no public spirited lawyer residing in Plainfield would willingly engage in forwarding such a dastardly plan without knowing that public feeling would be instantly aroused. It is well that the name of the lawyer who has engineered the "deal" is not to be disclosed for the present. It is wiser! It may be a new way to go about to dispose of real estate by frightening adjacent property owners into forming an association for protecting their interests and buying off the schemers. No such institution could long survive without the hearty co-operation of our citizens, and without it, great loss would ensue, not only to those concerned but to the surrounding property owners. Already, it is said, that one large holder of real estate near the proposed asylum threatens, if his property is likely to be endangered to erect a soap and bone factory. This might cause the colored orphan girls to protest against unpleasant odors! It is a game that two can play, but who would be the gainer? Citizen.

HOSPITAL'S BOARD MAKES AN APPEAL

Governors of Muhlenberg Ask for Contributions to Carry on the Work of the Institution.

COMPARISONS DRAWN

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S STATEMENT SHOWS CONDITION OF AFFAIRS.

Only 140 Plainfielders Helped in the Erection of the New Buildings—What Other Municipalities Are Doing—Other Details.

The following appeal is made by the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital:

"The finance committee, of Muhlenberg Hospital, desires to remind the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield that Sunday, December 27, is 'Hospital Sunday' and that on that day our city churches will make their usual yearly offering towards the support of Muhlenberg Hospital.

"The following figures set forth the steadily increasing demands upon Muhlenberg Hospital. Last year the number of indoor cases treated was 458 against 256 five years ago, and 123 ten years ago. The number of operations, excluding dispensary, last year was 277 against 146 five years ago, and twenty-eight ten years ago—nearly four times as many cases were treated last year as ten years ago and nearly ten times as many operations performed. These increasing demands have necessitated enlarged accommodations.

"The erection of the new hospital buildings, which are to be opened Monday for the admission of patients, has been made possible through the generosity of about 140 citizens of Plainfield and North Plainfield, one society, and a few friends from out of town.

"The governors consider it a cause of great thankfulness that the people of our city and borough have at their service a modern hospital so splendidly equipped, which is entirely free from any mortgage indebtedness.

"The enlarged accommodations, however, call for a correspondingly larger corps of nurses and attendants and heavier expenditures for drugs and provisions.

"While the work of the hospital has been nobly supported during the twenty-two years of its existence, yet, in the opinion of the committee, such support has been as a rule confined to a comparatively small proportion of our citizens, especially when compared with what is done by some of our neighboring cities for their hospitals. Last year the treasurer of Muhlenberg received, exclusive of the Hospital Sunday collection, 207 cash contributions, of which six were from societies, and the treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary Board received dues from 163 members—a total of say 370 contributions. The Montclair Hospital, supported by a community with about the same population as Plainfield and North Plainfield, receives yearly, excluding church collections, which in amount exceed those received by the Muhlenberg Hospital, cash contributions from over 1,000 persons, and the Orange Hospital supported by a community with less than three times our population received last year 2,290 cash contributions or over six times as many as Muhlenberg.

"The finance committee, therefore, asks at this time for a material increase in the number of regular subscribers, and with this end in view, subscription blanks will be distributed in the churches tomorrow.

"Last year one of our churches, as a result of its 'Hospital Sunday' collection, endowed a bed for one year; the cost of such endowment is $200, and entitles the donor to name the patient to occupy the said bed for ten months of the year. It will be gratifying to have other of our churches, our manufacturing industries or more of our wealthy citizens endow beds and thus secure the privileges attaching thereto.

"Muhlenberg Hospital is not sectarian, but receives all applicants irrespective of nationality or religious belief and no person has ever been refused admission because of inability to pay for treatment. As it serves all the people, therefore, it must look to all the people for its support.

ROYAL BLUE FLYER KILLED PLAINFIELDER

John Stien Struck Down on Christmas Day While on His His Way to His Mother's.

ACCIDENT AT DUNELLEN

BODY TOSSED IN THE AIR AND DECAPITATED BY FAST TRAIN.

Dead Man Employed in Local Laundry—Thirty-two Years of Age—Leaves a Wife—Member of Fraternal Orders.

While on his way to New Market with Christmas presents for his aged mother, who resides at that place, John Stien, of this city, was struck down by a Royal Blue line flyer and instantly killed. The fatal accident occurred at the Dunellen station of the Jersey Central at 9:45 yesterday morning.

Mr. Stien got off a local westbound train on the opposite side of the Dunellen station, presumably intending to take a short cut through the road to New Market. As he alighted from the train and just as he was about to turn around, the Blue Line train suddenly bore down upon him. The fast train was too near for Stien to make his escape or the engineer to stop his train. The head was severed from the body and thrown a hundred feet, while the body was tossed between the express and the local trains.

What was left of the body was gathered up and taken to Undertaker W. G. Runyon's morgue, where for some time there was some doubt as to who it was. Later investigation, and the fact that Mr. Stien was known to be at that time on his way to his mother's home, proved the body to be his.

Mr. Stien was employed in Thorn's laundry in the east end of the city. About six years ago he was married to the daughter of the late John Hague, for many years an engineer on the New Jersey Central. His wife survives him. Mr. Stien was born at New Market and was 32 years of age. The funeral services will probably be held tomorrow afternoon from the late home on Clinton avenue and interment will be at South Plainfield Monday.

Horse Killed.

A peculiar accident happened on West Fourth street near Park avenue, Thursday afternoon, when one of the valuable horses belonging to the Plainfield Cab Company was killed. The horse was frightened and after a wild jump fell to the ground, the result being that its back was broken. So far as can be learned the car did not strike the animal.

CHRISTMAS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The programme opened with a opened with a Christmas solo by Miss Bennett, "The Chimes of Normandy." Recitations followed by Miss Gregory, whose impersonations kept the audience in continuous laughter and brought her numerous encores.

"The Other Woman," a one-act play, was the evening's hit. The parts were taken by Miss Gregory and Miss Kline, and were played with a high degree of dramatic skill. Recitaitons in negro dialect by Miss Cline were well received. The entertainment closed with a solo, "O, Sweet With Flowers," by Miss Bennett.

EIGHTY HUNGRY LADS FED

POOR YOUNGSTERS FEASTED AS GUESTS OF Y. M. C. A. BOY'S DEPARTMENT.

There wasn't very much left of the good things to eat provided by the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, after eighty hungry poor boys of the city had satisfied some very large-sized appetites.

The members of the boys' department were assisted in providing the dinner by contributions from members of Alpha Circle, King's Daughters, who furnished candy, oranges and other good things. Members of the senior department of the Y. M. C. A. also helped. Miss J. B. Mackintosh, treasurer of Alpha Circle, Miss Katherine Glen, secretary, and Miss Harriet Currie were the waitresses.

HETTY GREEN IN PLAINFIELD

THE WEALTHIEST WOMAN IN AMERICA ONCE RESIDED IN THIS CITY.

Few people in this city know that Hetty Green, the richest woman in the world, lived in this city at one time, yet such is the case. What is more, her son, who now has an ambition to become the Governor of Texas, was well known at the local freight depot, where he was at times employed. An interesting story is told by a well known citizen about her "penny squeezing" habits.

It seems that one evening several years ago, a woman called at his house and inquired about the rental of a dwelling owned by him. The rent was fifty dollars a month and she bargained so persistently for lower rent that the citizen would not rent the building to her. At the time the citizen did not know with whom he was dealing.

Later, in conversation with a friend, he was asked if he knew who the shabbily dressed woman was. He was forced to admit that he didn't, whereupon he was told that it was none other than Hetty Green, the wealthiest woman in America, which greatly surprised the owner of the building.

POOR ENJOYED CHRISTMAS

THE PLAINFIELD RELIEF ASSOCIATION MAKES POOR CHILDREN HAPPY.

Thanks to the Plainfield people and the efforts of the Plainfield Relief Associations, there was many a merry Christmas in Plainfield yesterday. The Relief Association's rooms were filled with articles suitable for the little ones. Three hundred children were given presents. A number of old people were also remembered with useful gifts. Thirty-seven Christmas trees were also sent out.

The Relief Association desires The Daily Press to express its thanks to the pupils of the Plainfield Seminary and the Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School, as well as Neuman Brothers, J. A. Smith & Brother, Scheuer & Co., and all their other friends whose contributions enabled them to carry Christmas cheer to so many homes.

CHRISTMAS DAY IN THE CHURCHES

Roman Catholics and Episcopalians Celebrated the Anversary of Christ's Nativity.

MUCH ELABORATE MUSIC

MASSES IN ST. MARY'S AND ST. JOSEPH'S MARK THE GREAT FEAST.

Special Services in Grace, Holy Cross and St. Stephen's Churches—Swedish Lutherans Observe the Day.

Episcopal Churches.

The attendance at the Church of the Holy Cross yesterday was large. Services were held at 7:30 and at 10:30. Special music was rendered by the vested choir. The Christmas tree exercises will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

At Grace P. E. Church yesterday morning Christmas exercises consisted of Holy Communion at 7 and 8 o'clock and morning prayer and Holy Communion at 10:30 with a Christmas sermon on "The Birth of Christ" by the rector, Rev. E. V. Stevenson. There was special music by the boys' surpliced choir. At the service at 10:30, Rev. E. V. Stevenson was celebrant, Rev. E. M. Rodman, gospeler, and Rev. W. H. Neilson, epistoler.

The members of the Sunday-school of St. Stephen's Church had their annual Christmas festivities Thursday, the members of the primary department enjoying their celebration in the afternoon at the rectory, when games were played. There was a Christmas tree and around it the children sang carols. There was a distribution of presents, including oranges and boxes of candy. At night the older members gathered at the rectory, sang Christmas carols and had a general good time. Then followed the usual distribution of gifts. Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock the Christmas festival will be concluded with a children's carol service.

In Roman Catholic Churches.

The services in both the Roman Catholic churches in this city were unusually well attended yesterday. The Christmas music rendered was exceptionally fine and the disagreeable weather had no apparent effect on the usual attendance at the masses.

The high mass at 5:30 in St. Mary's Church was attended by a host of people, filling the edifice to its full capacity. At this mass the curate, Rev. Father Delahanty, officiated. Other masses were held at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30. A solemn high mass was held at 10:30, when the attendance was even greater than at the earlier service. Rev. Andrew M. Egan was the celebrant; Father Delahanty, deacon; Father Frederici, sub-deacon; and Father Dominick, of Paterson, assistant. In the afternoon, Christmastide services were held in St. Mary's Parochial Hall. There the children of the Sunday-school and church received gifts and candy. A programme rendered by the children was a feature. It follows: Chorus, by the school; "Adesta Fideles;" action song by the kindergarten; recitations by Elwin Sullivan and Miss Mary Gartner; songs by the fifth and six method pupils; recitation, by Miss Ursula Calvin, Miss Alice O'Laughlin, Edward Hanrahan, Miss Catherine Powers, Miss Adele Von Ohl and Miss Helen Hanrahan.

The committee in charge of the programme under the charmanship of Sister Mary Esther, was the Misses Blanche Skinner, Nellie Hanrahan, Margaret King, Margaret Lutz, Mary McCarthy, Christian McEachen, Bessie Bebout, Elizabeth Brown, Elizabeth Casey, Mary Murray, Kathryn Galbraith and Emma Callahan.

The masses at St. Joseph's Church, in North Plainfield, were especially well attended. The chorus choir, augmented by seventy-five members of the Sunday-school, rendered the special Christmas music most creditably. At 5:30, a solemn high mass was sung when Rev. Father Wm. Miller, the pastor, officiated. A low mass was said a 8:30 and another high mass at 10:30, when Father Burk, a Passionist from Hoboken, assisted. Three private masses were said. Among the special anthems rendered by the choir were Mercadante's anthem and Novillo's Adesse Fideles.

Swedish Lutheran.

The Christmas day services in the Swedish Lutheran Church were held yesterday morning with all the characteristic Swedish customs. Swedish Christmas carols were sung by Mrs.

CHARLES E. DUNHAM DIED THIS MORNING

Former Plainfield Merchant Carried Off by Heart Trouble at His Bound Brook Home.

SIXTY-FOUR YEARS OLD

ONE OF SEVEN SONS, KNOWN AS A TEMPERANCE WORKER.

Wife and Daughter Survive Him—Mr. Dunham Was Engaged As a Shoe Merchant Here and Later in Business in Bound Brook.

Charles E. Dunham, for many years a resident of North Plainfield, died soon after 12 o'clock last night at his home in Bound Brook, following a severe illness. He was taken Monday night with what appeared to be neuralgia of the stomach and which later developed into heart trouble. He rallied and seemed much improved, until yesterday afternoon when there was a turn for the worse.

Mr. Dunham was about sixty-four years old. He was born in Piscataway, being one of seven sons. All but two, George Dunham, of New York, and William Dunham, of New Market, are now dead. Besides a wife and one daughter, Miss Elfreda Dunham, three sisters-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Parse and Mrs. D. C. Adams and one living in Minnesota, survive him. He was for many years a deacon in the Congregational Church, Bound Brook, and he was a very active church and temperance worker.

Mr. Dunham was engaged in the shoe business at the corner of Park avenue and West Front street for a long time. About fifteen years ago he moved to Bound Brook and engaged in the hardware business which he continued until a few years ago, when he gave up business and just devoted his time to looking after his property interests, some of which is on Craig place, North Plainfield. According to the annual custom Mr. Dunham and his family expected to spend Christmas at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Adams, of Grove street.

TWO BURGLARS WERE FOILED

MEN ATTEMPTING TO FORCE AN ENTRANCE WERE FRIGHTENED AWAY.

Burglars attempted to break into the house at 390 West Front street, occupied by a family named Maguire, last night but were frightened away before they could effect an entrance. A telephone message was received at police headquarters at 7:30 o'clock from F. D. Woodhull, who stated that a couple of men were trying to force the window of the house next door occupied by the Maguires. It developed that the family heard the men working at the window and frightened them away. Patrolmen Higgins, Overbaugh and McCarthy hurried to the place but, though they found evidences of the attempt to force the window, they were summoned too late to locate the would-be thieves.

Miss Cuming Engaged.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Henrietta W. Cuming, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Cuming, of Putnam avenue, to James F. LaRue, of East Ninth street.

SMITH STILL ABSENT; RELATIVES ALARMED

Whereabouts of "Mayor Bill," Brother of the Late Mrs. C. L. Fair, Unknown.

TOLD SOME QUEER TALES

REPORTED THAT HE GAVE AWAY MONEY AND AUTOMOBILE.

Mrs. Smith Stopped Payment on Checks—No Settlement of Suit Against Other Fair Heirs—Last Seen on Monday.

Where is "Mayor" William B. Smith, of New Market? It was reported Thursday that he had been in Elizabeth for the purpose of identifying the remains of the unfortunate man killed by a railroad train at Rahway. It was learned that it was Clark Rogers, of New Market, who was at the Elizabeth morgue. The remains, which it was thought might have been those of a brother of the "Mayor" were not identified as such.

Smith boarded a Blue Line train for the West, in company with two men. Since his disappearance, relatives here and elsewhere have been anxiously seeking to learn his whereabouts.

At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning he left here with two tickets for San Francisco and a large sum of money. As he stepped on the train he said to a friend that he was going to visit his brother in Boulder, Col.; go from there to San Francisco, and from the latter place was to sail for Paris by way of Japan.

Of all these facts his wife knew nothing. She last saw him on Monday morning, when he left the house, telling her that he would be home for lunch.

"I haven't the slightest idea what has become of him, but something tells me that he has met with violence. I know that he had several large checks in his pocket that morning, one for $1,500, another for $134, and I have learned that he cashed the smaller one in Plainfield that day. I have tried to stop payment on both of them at the bank.

"It has been rumored that my husband and the other heirs of the estate have agreed to make a settlement of their claim for $125,000 each, and that Mr. Smith was going to Boulder to see his brother about that, but I know that is not so. No settlement will be made."

Since he received the first instalment of $24,000 from his sister's estate, Smith, it is said, has led a sociable life among his friends.

On the Sunday night before he left New Market, it is said, he gave away a fine automobile coat to one of his friends and the next day offered his automobile to another friend here, saying that he would bring back another one from Paris worth $5,000.

On the night he went away he offered large sums of money to some of his chums, telling them that he did not want to be bothered with so much at one time.

Smith on Monday started for New York, where, it is supposed, he cashed the fifteen hundred dollar check and purchased the tickets for San Francisco.

AMUSEMENTS.

One of the most striking dramatic successes of the current season has been scored at the New York Theatre by Bertha Galland in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," a four-act play dramatized by Paul Kester from Charles Major's novel of the same title. Miss Galland's engagement of three weeks will end Saturday evening of next week, January 2. This play is a romantic love story of the time of Queen Elizabeth. Surrounding Miss Dorothy, who is made the central figure in the play, are the grand dames and court gallants of the time, including Queen Elizabeth herself and her beautiful, ill-fated cousin and rival, Mary Queen of Scots. "Dorothy Vernon" is an unusually strong dramatic story, full of exciting situations, which are well played by an excellent supporting company, which includes Frank Losee as Sir George Vernon, William Lewers as Sir John Manners, May Robson as Queen Elizabeth, Isabel Richards as Mary Stuart, Carl Anthony as the Earl of Rutland and George LeSoir as the court jester.

Irene Bentley as Kitty Calvert in "A Girl From Dixie" at the Madison Square Theatre is doing the best work of her career and her daintiness of manner and charming stage presence, easily make her the centre of the varying stage pictures. Her vivacity and animation and the abandon in which she portrays the ragged country girl, and afterwards the refinement of her work as the society lady, have added no little to her reputation, while her several song numbers have scored unqualified hits. In the supporting cast are Arnold Daly, Ferdinand Gottschalk, Albert Hart, George Schiller, Charles H. Bowers, Wilmer Bentley, Charles French, Charles Schoffer, Evelyn Nesbit, Dorothy Donner, Esther Lyons, Rose Hart and about fifty other. The regular matinees at this theatre are on Thursday and Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

Manager F. Ziegfeld, Jr., announces the last two weeks of "Red Feather" at the Lyric Theatre. The big company with its stately and golden-voiced prime donna Miss Grace Van-Studdiford, with the comical Thos. Q. Seabrook, the volatile Elise DeVere and its host of other splendid features tours in the large cities of the West for the remainder of the season on Monday, Jan. 4.

FIFTEEN ROUND DRAW.

Tommy Daly of Brooklyn and Jig Stone In Fast Contest.

BOSTON, Dec. 26.—The feature of the matinee exhibition before the Tammany Athletic club was a fifteen round bout to a draw between Tommy Daly of Brooklyn and Jig Stone of this city. The fight was a fast and clever one.

In the early rounds Daly secured a commanding lead over Stone, but the latter apparently was holding back until the final rounds, for in the tenth he started out to win.

With stiff jabs to the face, hard rights to the body and right jolts he weakened Daly. In the twelfth round Daly was very tired, but after that he braced up, and the finish was of a sensational order, both boxing furiously at the gong.

McGovern Knocked Out Allen.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—In one of the fiercest fights ever seen in this city Hughey McGovern, the young brother of "Terrible Terry," knocked out Johnny Allen in the third round. The fight was furious from the start. Up to the time of the knockout blow Allen appeared to have a shade the better of the mill. The finish came twenty seconds before the end of the round. Both boys had been staggering around the ring barely able to stand after their terrific efforts. Allen had just driven McGovern across the ring when the latter turned and swung his right. He landed it with terrific force in the pit of Allen's stomach. Allen fell forward flat on his face. He tried to rise several times, but sank back after each effort.

Christmas Handicap to Proper.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—Proper, the favorite, won the Christmas handicap at Ingleside in the presence of one of the largest crowds of the season. The handicap was somewhat marred by an accident at the start which resulted in Oarsman, the second choice, being practically left. Forest King collided with him, and Wonderly was content to gallop him after the field, as his chances were ruined. Eonic and Falcon Bridge made most of the running in the handicap, but Proper moved up in the stretch and won easily, with Falcon Bridge second. Divina beat Claude, the top weight, a head for third money. The event had a value of $4,540, the winner's share being $3,615.

Witful Won New Orleans Event.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26.—Sam Hildreth's good filly Witful added another victory to her already long list when she galloped home three lengths in front of her field in the Christmas handicap, worth $1,557 to the winner. Witful was always favorite in the betting at twos, with Big Ben, second horse, at fives. The filly broke from the outside, was outrun through the first quarter and only became a serious factor as they turned into the stretch. There she caught Big Ben and Dan McKenna tiring and came away without an effort. Falkland, Little Elkin and W. J. Deboe were the other winning favorites.

Kid Williams Outpointed Tipman.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 26.—Kid Williams of Philadelphia and Joe Tipman of this city, middleweights, boxed fifteen rounds to a draw before the Eureka Athletic and Social club here. Tipman had all the better of the argument until the eleventh round, when he weakened. Williams showed wonderful recuperative powers. He was not strong enough, however, to deliver a knockout blow, but clearly outpointed the Baltimorean in the final round of the bout. Several hundred members of the club saw the contest.

Tucker and Willis Fight a Draw.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Chick Tucker of New York and Billy Willis of this city fought six rounds to a draw at the National Athletic club here. The bout was of the hurricane order, each man giving and taking considerable punishment.

All California Whitewashed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—Superior team work and an abundance of tricky plays, coupled with more thorough training, gave the Carlisle Indian football team a decisive victory over the All California eleven here. The score was 23 to 0.

Will Visit the Holy See.

ROME, Dec. 26.—The congregation of the propaganda has received information that Archbishop Chappelle will come to Rome in the near future for the purpose of obtaining a definite settlement of church questions in Cuba and Porto Rico. It is expected that either before or after Easter Bishop McDonnell of Brooklyn will visit Rome at the head of a body of pilgrims. Another visitor soon expected at the Vatican is Bishop Colton of Buffalo.

Clark's Trip Around the World.

BOSTON, Dec. 26.—Rev. Francis E. Clark, the founder of the Christian Endeavor society, has left this city on a trip around the world. Dr. Clark was accompanied by his daughter. Several clergymen and Christian Endeavor officials were at the station to bid Dr. Clark a farewell.

Los Angeles Earthquake.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 26.—A severe earthquake shock, lasting about eight seconds, occurred here yesterday. The big buildings in the business center swayed for an instant as though they would fall, and people rushed into the streets, thinking some explosion had occurred.

Sheriff Stopped the Fight.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The sparring bout scheduled for at the Spa Athletic club between Kid Sullivan and Sammy Meyers, the Baltimore featherweight, did not come off, the sheriff preventing the fight.

THE WRECK VICTIMS

Connellsville's Sad Christmas, Where Another Succumbs.

FATHER FIENELLO LIES IN STATE

One of the Many Sad Features the Death of Robert Davidson, Who Was to Have Been Married on Christmas Day.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 26.—Another name has been added to the long list resulting from the Duquesne limited wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Harry Devlin, one of the three remaining patients at the Cottage State hospital, expired yesterday morning. The total dead now numbers sixty-five, and this probably completes the list, as the two still at the hospital are doing well and will probably recover.

There was one Christmas funeral—that of Edison Goldsmith. Goldsmith was a popular young man, and an immense concourse attended the services. The bodies of the other Connellsville victims will be held until today or tomorrow before burial. In fact, this is a necessity, as the undertakers are too overworked to attempt to conduct several funerals in a day.

Special services for the dead have been held in all the Protestant churches of the coke regions, and after the burial of Father Fienello, which will take place today, the Catholic churches will hold masses for the dead.

The body of Father Fienello was conveyed to the main body of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, where it is lying in state.

The bodies of about thirty of the victims were gathered up and taken away on early trains.

The remaining bodies identified will be shipped within the next twenty-four hours, and the unknowns will be cared for by the borough council. President George Forter has called a special meeting to take measures toward the formation of a relief committee to look after bodies unidentified or unclaimed. In case no friends appear the citizens will see that the victims do not find a last resting place in the potter's field.

The railroad company will contribute liberally to this fund, but there will be more than the money necessary. All who happen to be left to charity will be decently interred, and the Christian burial service will be performed, the funerals partaking of the form of the town's tribute to the memory of those whose lives were sacrificed in the wreck.

The saddest feature connected with the many sorrowful happenings following the wreck which snuffed out sixty-five lives was the death of Robert Davidson of Philadelphia.

Davidson was fatally injured in the wreck. Dr. Chard attended him. Knowing that his life was but a matter of a short time, he told his pitiful story to the surgeon as the relief train was bearing him to this place.

"This Christmas day was to have been my wedding day," he said between spasms of pain. I was to marry Hannah Wietman in Philadelphia."

His last words while lying on a cot in the hospital were:

"Write to her, doctor. Tell her I am dying. My last words were of her. If I am to die thus, tell her I was brave."

The official investigation to the cause of the disaster is being prosecuted vigorously by the officers of the railroad company, but it is doubtful if any individual will be blamed for the accident. It was apparent that a number of switch ties which had fallen off a westbound freight train and were strewn upon the passenger track caused the flying express to be derailed.

Held on Murder Charge.

BAYONNE, N. J., Dec. 26.—Harry Edmund and John Hoffman are under arrest here for burglary. As a result of a talk with Edmund Chief of Police Magner communicated by telephone with Chief of Police Milliken of Cincinnati, who asked that Edmund be held on a charge of murder. He said a Cincinnati detective would leave for Bayonne with extradition papers at once.

Smallpox at a Dance.

BUFFALO, Dec. 26.—Nine persons suffering from smallpox were taken to the quarantine hospital. Six of the cases were discovered at a dance hall in Broadway, where a large number of persons were exposed to infection. The health authorities are working hard to stamp out the disease. Two buildings have been quarantined and placed under a strong police guard.

Christmas Cheer Distributed.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Through the generosity of General Stephen Moffitt, formerly collector of customs of the Champlain district, 500 of the poor of this city were furnished with Christmas dinners at the different hotels, and gifts were given to 1,400 school children. One hundred baskets were also sent to the homes of the needy.

Three Butchers Killed by Gas.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 26.—William Goebel, twenty years old; Frederick Haberstraw, thirty-two years old, and William Jeckhensser, thirty-eight years old, were found dead in their room. The men were all butchers and retired late. It is supposed they neglected to turn off the flow of gas and were asphyxiated.

Franco-Italian Peace Treaty.

PARIS, Dec. 26.—The treaty of arbitration between France and Italy has been signed here by Foreign Minister Delcasse and Signor Tornielli, Italian ambassador. The treaty is identical with that between France and Great Britain.

SELF PRESERVATION

Japan Must Fight to Preserve Integrity of China.

NO ANSWER YET FROM RUSSIA.

United States Reported to Have Advised Both Nations to Refer Their Differences to The Hague Tribunal.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 26.—The Russian government is still considering the reply of the Japanese government to its note which was sent in answer to Japan's demands relating to the situation in the far east. A reconsideration of the proposals made in the Russian note is considered as a matter of course. Russia has never been disposed to take any step which would lead to an abrupt termination of the negotiations with Japan. The Russian foreign office insists that the Russian proposals are so liberal that it would be scarcely probable to conceive any further concessions.

While the foreign office is unwilling to admit that Russia is prepared to offer more than the concessions outlined in the last note, it is considered possible that the government may suggest changes by which the Russian requirements may be met and satisfaction given to Japan.

A rumor has been circulated here that the United States government is still inclined to suggest the reference of the difficulties between Russia and Japan to The Hague arbitration tribunal.

It is reported from Tokyo that at an extraordinary meeting the cabinet decided to issue an emergency ordinance authorizing the guarantee of the principal and interest of an issue of 10,000,000 yen debentures on the Seoul-Fusan railway, which is expected to be finished under Japanese supervision before the end of next year.

At a dinner given by the Tokyo Oriental association last night former Foreign Minister Kato, who presided, said he deeply regretted that the people had not been taken into the confidence of the government regarding the position of affairs between Japan and Russia. Nevertheless, he said, should the emperor declare war the nation would be found ready to give him unanimous support.

Count Okuma, the former premier, said he agreed with the view expressed by Mr. Kato, and he thought it was now high time to let the people know the actual position occupied by the government. He also declared that not only a feeling of chivalry, but a desire for self preservation, required that Japan should buttress the integrity of China.

Both speakers thought that the situation had reached an extremely critical stage.

Japan Sets a Time Limit.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—It is reported here that the note of Baron Komura, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, to Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister, in response to Russia's reply to the claims of Japan had a paragraph to the effect that only two weeks would be allowed for an answer. This period expires Jan. 7.

Christmas In Boston.

BOSTON, Dec. 26.—Exceptionally warm weather was a feature of Christmas in this city, where the festival was celebrated according to time honored customs. In the churches appropriate services were held, and many had grand musical programmes. The Salvation Army provided Christmas dinners to more than 20,000 persons. A great dinner to the poor of the city was served in Mechanics' hall under the auspices of the Army. Several thousand persons dined at the hall, while the Army sent 2,000 dinners out. In connection with the dinner more than 3,000 poor children were presented with Christmas gifts from an immense tree. Wellesley college students acted as waiters.

Garisenda Tower Sold.

ROME, Dec. 26.—Bologna's most singular structure, the leaning Garisenda tower, which was begun in 1110 by Filippo and Ottone Garisenda and which was owned by the Marquis Malvezzi, has been purchased by Baron Raimondo Franchetti, who is well known as a composer. The price was $2,000. The Garisenda tower is 163 feet high and is ten feet out of the perpendicular. Dante in his "Inferno" compares the giant Antaeus, who bends toward him, to this tower, "When a cloud passes over it."

Greene Colonial Estate Sold.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 26.—The colonial estate of General Francis V. Green, police commissioner of New York, situated on Ocean drive, has been sold to Charles F. Hoffman of New York. The purchase price is not made public, but the estate is taxed for $170,000. The estate contains about twenty acres and is one of the finest properties in Newport. The purchaser already owned Edgecliff, beautifully situated on the cliffs.

Poverty Turned His Brain.

HUDSON, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Brooding over his inability to purchase suitable Christmas gifts for his three motherless children, Joseph Phillips, a Hollowville farmer, murdered the children and then hanged himself in a neighbor's barn. Phillips had complained lately of his poverty, and it is believed his mind became unsettled.

Grainery and Elevator Burned.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Dec. 26.—Fire has destroyed the grainery and elevator of the Jem Milling company, containing about 62,000 bushels of wheat. The loss is $80,000.

FISCHER PIANOS.

It is an indisputable fact that the high esteem given to any work of Art must be founded upon merit. Both have for years maintained the supremacy of the FISCHER PIANO because of its Tone-quality, its Artistic Individuality and its Durability.

COLON CELEBRATES

Recognition of Panama by Britain Joyfully Received.

"GOD SAVE THE KING," SAYS COLON

Governor Melendez Joins the British and Native Residents In Jubilation—Troopships In Readiness at Frisco.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The state department has been officially advised of the recognition by Great Britain of the republic of Panama.

A cablegram from Colon says joyful excitement has followed upon the news that the British government has recognized the republic of Panama. This news, which was conveyed early in the day by the British consul at Panama to the junta, was received here with great enthusiasm, as the foreign population of Colon is largely composed of natives of Great Britain, and the Britishers joined the natives in their jubilation.

Senor Porferio Melendez, the civil and military governor of Colon, rightly interpreting the feelings of the community, gave permission to the inhabitants to celebrate the event without restriction, and full advantage was taken of this permission.

Governor Melendez, accompanied by a band and a military escort, was joined by a great crowd of the inhabitants who assembled in front of the British consulate, where the band played old English airs and the crowd cheered most enthusiastically. A torchlight procession was afterward formed, the crowd marching through the streets singing "God Save the King." This sentiment, "God Save the King," is now heard on every hand.

Consul General Gudger at Panama has transmitted to the state department a report from the American consul at Cali, department of Cauca, stating that the Colombian volunteer forces in that section are disbanding, and there are no indications of an attack on Panama. From Cartagena comes information of a similar character.

Orders have been sent to the transport officials at San Francisco to get the troopships Sherman and Newport in readiness for service immediately.

The transport officials maintain secrecy as to the orders received and refuse to divulge the intended destination of the vessels. It is generally believed, however, that it is the intention to have the troopships in readiness for a movement toward Panama.

The gunboat Bennington has arrived in port from the Bremerton navy yard. It is understood that she will leave in company with the New York, acting as a convoy to the torpedo boats Paul Jones and Preble.

The Olympia, Admiral Coghlan's flagship, has been selected to bring Minister Beaupre from Cartagena to Colon, where the minister will take a passenger steamer for New York.

At his request the Colombian government furnished Mr. Beaupre an armed escort from Bogota to Cartagena.

A dispatch to the department here says that Christmas was not allowed to interrupt martial preparations at the League Island navy yard, at Philadelphia, where the cruiser Dixie is ready to sail for Colon with 600 marines. Ninety-four marines and two officers came from Washington, the balance from New York, Norfolk and Annapolis. Some additional stores have been taken on board, and everything now is in readiness.

Secretary Root, Acting Secretary Loomis of the state department and Senor Walker-Martinez, the Chilean minister, called on General Reyes, the Colombian minister, late yesterday afternoon, but their visit, it is understood, was of an entirely social character.

BUCHANAN AT PANAMA.

United States Minister Officially Presented to the Republic's Officials.

PANAMA, Dec. 26.—W. I. Buchanan has presented his credentials as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to the republic of Panama.

The reception of the minister at the palace was on a magnificent scale. Troops were lined from his residence to the palace, to which he rode in a government landau, accompanied by several representatives of the government and a military band. There was a guard of honor at the palace entrance, and Minister Buchanan was received by all the ministers of the republic and other distinguished officials. All the representatives of foreign governments now here had been invited to attend the reception.

MARINES FOR THE ISTHMUS.

Boston Cheers Detachment That Sails on the Dixie.

BOSTON, Dec. 26. — Thousands of persons at the south terminals station last night cheered the company of marines which left for Philadelphia, from which city they will sail on Monday on the United States steamer Dixie as a portion of the marine battalion which will go to Panama with General Elliott.

Company A is the designation of the detachment which left the navy yard. It was commanded by Captain George C. Reid of the Charlestown barracks and Lieutenant Davis B. Willis, who came from Washington on Thursday to join the company. Most of the ninety-six men composing the battalion company enlisted from Boston or neighboring cities and towns.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

The Jap is like all little men—he's cheeky.

"The cold, gray dawn of the morning after."

Santa's reception was both delightful and expensive.

Necessity is the mother of invention, but advertising is the wet-nurse.—Printers' Ink.

Former Mayor VanWyck, who said that Devery was the best chief of police that New York ever had, now declares that Mayor Low is the worst chief executive that ever ruled Gotham. His later utterances gives one a good idea of his moral calibre.

The selection of Joseph Cross, of this county, as majority leader in the State Senate meets with the general approval of the Republicans at large. The good citizens of Union County, irrespective of party, are proud of their able and dignified representative in the upper house.

Some advertising men think that Philadelphia's retail publicity, as exhibited in its daily papers, is the best in the United States, and there is good ground for this opinion. In connection with this it is well to remember that the Curtis Publishing Co.'s two great magazines have set entirely new styles in magazine advertising. In writing of advertising one is so often drawn to the Saturday Evening Post and Ladies' Home Journal for examples that the repetition of their names is monotonous.—Ex.

If there be any just cause why Joseph A. Hubbard should be removed as a member of the board of assessors the public has a right to know it. No man should be ousted from his position in the municipal government unless he is derelict in his duties or is incapable of discharging them. Unless it be shown that it is detrimtal to the interests of the taxpayers, Mr. Hubbard deserves to be reappointed to the position he had held for thirty-four years. Those who desire to have the present Third ward assessor dropped should come out and make their charges specifically. Can they do it?

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Spencer Conway, of West Fourth street, who has been detained at her home during the past three years by illness, is no better and her condition causes much anxiety.

Blanche McVoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McVoy, of Sandford avenue, who was taken ill several days ago, with what was reported to be diphtheria, has a very light attack of scarletina and she is getting along well under the care of the family physician.

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Charles Layton, a former employe of the Pond Machine Tool Company, is spending the Christmas holidays with relatives in this city. Mr. Layton is working in Chicago.

The chemical works at Middlebrook, N. J., which have been closed for more than a year, resumed operations last week with forty men. It is reported that the plant is now in control of the Standard Oil Company.

The annual report of John C. Ward, State factory inspector, submitted to Governor Murphy, makes the frank admission that the child labor law is being violated throughout the State. The greatest difficulty which the inspector finds in the enforcement of the law comes from the parents themselves, who make false affidavits as to the ages of their children. The most difficult cases to handle are those of foreign-born children, and among this class there seems to be no hesitation in making an affidavit to anything that will aid in getting employment.

—The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society will be held in the Supreme Court room at Trenton on January 7 and 8. A programme of much interest has been prepared. The fruit and flower growers of Union County will be well represented, and several are to take part in the exercises.

—The Lackawanna Bell, the official organ of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., at Scranton, states that through the efforts of General Manager and Vice President W. G. Besler, of the New Jresey Central, that company has become a contributor to the work being carried on by the association. It is said that when Mr. Besler was with the Reading Railroad his influence was constantly felt in the upbuilding of the work of the system.

Mrs. Carrie McCullagh and daughter have returned to their home, Arlington avenue, after a two months' residence in Newark.

Lakewood's Wooded Drives.

The drive, first among Lakewood's special diversions, still securely holds the favor of the great majority of resorters, and has probably advertised the charms of the place more effectively than any other single agency.

Among the first of the plans for development inaugurated years ago by the corporation owning the Laurel House was the well planned construction of many miles of smooth, hard gravel road, radiating from the village in all directions. The Lake Drive, perhaps the most popular because of its glimpses of water through the foliage, is but one of a long list of drives which are favored both by driving and riding parties, while well-kept walks, punctuated by an occasional wayside bench, are also popular at all times.

The laying out of these drives and walks has been done with artistic taste. They wind in easy curves among the trees over slightly rolling country, and though passing through pine forests at all times, there is a variety and change of view at every bend in the road, and no form of rest is more perfect than to lounge in the easy cushions with eyes to view the passing change of scene, and ears to hear only the ring of hoofs on the hard roadbed.

In spring, flowers fill the air with fragrance, and the birds add life and melody to the hour. Here and there you pass groups of children, with their nurses, building their forts of moss or waist deep in rustling leaves, curiously watched by bright-eyed squirrels busy with their stores of nuts or frisking from branch to branch.

What wonder that the woodland drive is a daily delight, and that it is favored not only by carriages but by riding parties and 'cyclists as well.

The New Jersey Central is the only road reaching Lakewood and its service is the best in the land. A Booklet on Lakewood is sent free to any address by General Passenger Department, C. R. R. of N. J., New York City.

OUR GOTHAM LETTER

Interesting and Timely Gossip from the Eastern Metropolis.

MAYOR-ELECT OF NEW YORK

Preparing His New Home—It Is Appropriately Located—Operation of the Criminal Gangs—A Banking Palace—Other Items.

New York.—Workmen of the city will soon erect a pair of fine ornamental lamps at either side of the broad stone steps leading up to the door of the old-fashioned mansion at 10 Washington square, which Mayor-elect McClellan has leased for six years. His term is two years.

The Mayor's Lamps: Why Not?

The lamps are the sign of a mayor's occupancy. They are always placed before the house of a mayor and are not taken away when he dies or fails of reelection. Always they twinkle as they have done, it may be for more than a century, unless the house is torn down. So passing along a humble street in the tenement quarter one comes at times upon the twin lamps at what was once the door of a mayor, and is now a rabbit warren of the very poor. I ran upon a pair of the city's lamps the other day in Second avenue, in which is now the Hungarian quarter. They reminded me of mid-century times when Thackeray visited this country and made his headquarters with a fashionable family on Second avenue.

The political problems of McClellan center upon whether he can satisfy the "boys" without too much dissatisfying the solid citizens who downed Van Wyck two years ago. The social side of his life promises to be interesting. For when McClellan was a poor newspaper reporter he married the pretty daughter of John G. Hecksher, a very great swell in the 400. It may be that Mr. McClellan's political ambition happened about that time; the story goes that Richard Croker himself, hearing the name of George McClellan, saw the young man and gave orders for his political advancement. The possession of a beautiful and tactful wife, skilled in social arts and personally acquainted with the elite of New York, has smoothed his pathway greatly, especially in Washington, where so much is made of social distinctions.

An Ideal Home for a Mayor.

From the upper room, which he will use as a study, technically a "hall bedroom," but in dimensions some 11 feet by 16, as the hall over which it is placed is generous, Mayor McClellan will look out over the scene of social activities of nearly a century. Near by lived "Miss Flora McFlimsey, of Madison Square," whose chronic state of "nothing to wear"-ness aroused the ire of William Allen Butler years ago. Here also lived "Cecil Dreeme" in Winthrop's old narrative. Here the elder Henry James placed more than one of his stories. A hundred feet from the McClellan home, Fifth avenue begins its northward sweep between the home of Gen. Lloyd Brice and that which was the art palace of Mary Morgan. Thence for a mile the avenue is given up to trade, but the square retains most marvelously its old social character. For Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Mr. F. H. Lovell, Mr. Taller, a relative by marrige of the Lorillards and a notable swell, and Gen. Brice are McClellan's neighbors on the one hand; on the other side are Robert W. DeForest, the millionaire tenement house commissioner, who has done in two years such a wonderful work for improving the homes of the city, Charles W. Gould and John G. Carlisle.

Miss Flora McFlimsey

Finally, in the very house which McClellan is to occupy lived until recently Bishop Potter, who now occupies with his bride, formerly Mrs. Clark, her spacious house upon Riverside Drive, near the growing Cathedral of St. John.

So that the future mayor's home stands in the heart of what may be called without a sneer the "best society" of New York.

The "Gangs" and the Police.

They say that there are 50 "gangs" of criminal toughs terrorizing different parts of New York. The "Monk Eastman Gang" is perhaps the most famous from the fact that its leader was recently accused of going over into New Jersey to "do up" a fighting coachman for a Wall street "magnate." Upon that occasion a state senator from New York testified to "Monk's" good character and said that he was very useful to Mr. Sullivan—the great and only "Tim"—and to Foley, the Tammany leader of the Second district. It was the "Monk" Eastman gang that was sent up by the Foley leaders to beat Devery in the primaries in the famous Nineteenth district last summer. After the gang got its money for "repeating" and returned to its own neighborhood the men "blew in" their earnings for drink at such a pace that before morning they had nearly killed several members of rival "Paul Kelly gang." Now "Paul Kelly" is an Italian, by the way, and his real name is Appollonio something or other; hence the rivalry is explained.

"One o' de Gang."

This incident explains also why it is so hard to break up the vicious gangs But the line is drawn. The other morning a boy in a hurry brushed against a bank messenger in the Wall street district who was carrying a bag of money to another bank, more than $100,000. The messenger knocked the boy down, fearing an attack by thieves, and almost before he could pick himself up four policemen were upon the spot and the scufflers were literally carried off their feet.

Chief Byrnes' "deadline" is still operative. Law or no law, a known criminal who ventures farther toward the stock exchange than Fulton street is arrested. He may have legally a perfect right to be upon the public street anywhere, but he would explain that right in unsympathetic ears if he wasted breath upon it.

A Palace for Banking.

The messenger who was jostled was headed for the National Park bank with his load of money.

Filled With Pork and Pie

That institution is one of the largest of the "straight banking business" houses of the city. It does not furnish money for financing great deals, as does the City bank of Mr. Rockefeller's friend Stillman, with its $25,000,000 of capital, or Mr. Morgan's new Bank of Commerce with the same capital and even larger deposits. But its deposits are, in proportion to its $2,000,000 capital, enormous, and its business uses 250 employes.

To house and care for these and to provide upon a scale of unprecedented magnificence for its patrons the Park bank has about completed a palace of finance which has few parallels in the world. It stands upon costly Broadway frontage, but makes no attempt to provide offices for rental in upper floors or to pierce the sky with many stories. As in the great hall of the new Stock Exchange and of the Produce Exchange its banking room reaches aloft a hundred feet, I should say, to its vaulted roof. The walls are of the costliest imported marbles. It is called the "million-dollar banking room." The cost must have been not much less than that.

Clerks, bookkeepers, directors and all the busy men about the place have offices arranged in the nine stories of offices that at one end of the building rise to the same height as the banking room. Not least attractive and convenient are the kitchen and dining room. President Delafield knows that time is money. He knows, too, that men do not do their best work when unwisely filled with pork and pie, especially when there is a "small bottle on the side." Every one of the 250 employes is fed upon the premises—well fed, too—so far as his luncheon goes. This is an economy to the bank as well as to the employe.

The Smashing of Shamrock.

It is cool weather for yacht talk? Nevertheless, an interest rather pathetic attaches to the smashing of Shamrock I, the first boat Sir Thomas Lipton brought over to try conclusions with the Columbia. She is being broken up for material at City island.

How She Looks Now

Haul out of the water one of these great boats for knacking and her enormous size is better seen than ever in dry docks. What looked upon the water like a boy's toy yacht, so gracefully did she heel to the breeze, now towers away into the air amazingly. First there is the most valuable portion, the lead fine-keel, cased and sheathed and braced to the hull with steel. This rises above one's head to the height of a two-story house as she stands upon the ways before it even begins to swell out into the shallow, powerful hull. This again, seen overhead, looms enormously, its 140 feet by 20 feet dwarfing everything else in sight.

Not so very many of the cup defenders have yet been broken up for material. The Independence of Thomas Lawson, which never became a defender, went to the melting pot long ago. But the earlier cup yachts make fine, fast, roomy and convenient large schooners when transformed. The Volunteer had perhaps of all the series the best model for a "wholesome boat" suitable for real use. One only needs to see a cup racer out of the water for the wreckers' convenience to realize what a nuisance she is, her shape how preposterous, her building and repair how great an expense, and when she goes to the knacker her half million of cost shrinks to $12,000 or so of value.

OWEN LANGDON.

Self-Sacrifice.

"Don't you think you would be happier if you went to work?"

"I suppose so," answered Meandering Mike; "but dere's so many people feelin' dat way on de subject dat I ain't goin' to slip in an' spoil deir pleasure."—Washington Star.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FASHIONS FOR GIRLS.

A Wide Variety Offered In Color, Cut and Material.

Who has not read the story of "Little Red Riding Hood," with its tragedy? And we all know that the distinguishing feature of the story is the pretty red cloak, with its hood, which the little girl wears as she travels through the lonely woods on her errand of mercy. Well, the fashion in red cloaks of this exact description has been revived, and the street is plentifully besprinkled with them, in windows and outside. The color is red, undeniable and unmistakable red, in the brightest cardinal shade. The shape is a plain circular, with a capuchin hood, which may be left to hang down the back or be brought up over the dimpled face, and it should reach quite to the bottom of the dress.

FROCKS FOR YOUNG GIRLS.

One beautiful little girl was made the happy possessor of one of these and in addition had a large hat of plaited taffeta of the same shade and color. Her hair fell in long dark ringlets over the hood to the cape from under the big picturesque mob cap. The whole was quaint and very pretty, and the girl, the cloak and the hat were much admired. The cloaks are not so very expensive, as they are unlined and are worn in very cold weather with a knitted vest.

These jersey vests are among the most valuable of the small belongings of a woman's outfit, as they make it possible to be warm and comfortable while wearing an unlined coat.

For the young schoolgirl there are many pretty fancies in the way of neat and girlish frocks, but the dainty old apron is gone from our gaze. Girls no longer have these pretty little adjuncts for their adornment and incidentally to preserve their dresses. A few mothers put clean white aprons on their small girls, but after a child is eight or nine she disdains aprons.

The dresses for schoolgirls are made of woolen goods of various kinds—serge, cheviot, flannel, albatross, Scotch plaids and some few of the zibelines. These are in all the colors of the season, and there seems really to be no difference in the material worn by mothers and children. The belts and collars are generally of velvet or silk to match. Yokes may be of light silk covered with heavy lace, or for ordinary wear the tucked blouse waist is the favorite, with no trimming beyond the decorative effect of the tucking. A really pretty school frock for a girl in her early teens was of tan colored albatross, both skirt and blouse laid in box folds and stitched down. The plaits run out at the knees, which allows the proper fullness to the skirt. The bishop sleeves have two box plaits down to the elbows. A neat black or brown leather belt and a white linen collar, with a dark red or a brown or even a black bow tie, make the costume girlish and "taking."

A more dressy frock is made of light blue liberty silk, the skirt being cut absolutely straight, so that the shirring at the hips and bottom brings it to a perfect adjustment to the slim figure. The waist has shirring around the top, so that it takes the form of a yoke. The upper parts of the sleeves are also shirred, as is the forearm. A couple of rows of black lace insertion are placed around the foot of the skirt, and there is a sash of black satin ribbon.

For the house Oxford ties are prettier than high boots, but high laced or buttoned boots are necessary for the street.

Short sack coats, long rain proofed coats and thick frieze coats for very cold days are all seen. Box coats of melton, with pretty facing, are very natty for the young. Small fur pieces for the neck are shown for young girls, but physicians advise that they should not be worn, as the wearing of fur around the neck tends to weaken the throat.

A few words may be added regarding the undergarments for growing girls. Corsets are out of the question, but there are waists which support the skirts without unduly compressing the young form, and the union woolen undergarments are worn nearly everywhere. Then come the drawers and skirts. The former may be short and fancy, as the warm flannels are underneath. There is a short knitted wool skirt fitting closely to the body and a colored silkoline or satine skirt for every day. For "nice" nothing is so suitable as white with plentiful ruffles of lace or fine embroidery.

RELICS OF A POET

Authenticity of Shakespearean Memorials to Be Investigated.

The Shakespeare's Birthplace Trust Formed at Stratford-on-Avon to Search Out Truth in Connection with Each Relic.

What is and what is not worth preserving as a memorial of Shakespeare must always be an interesting question not only to Englishmen, but to Americans. The Shakespeare's Birthplace trust has been formed to search out the truth in connection with each relic, and see that as far as possible only the plain truth is told about the articles preserved in Stratford-on-Avon.

Even Shakespeare's house is in large part a restoration, a fact duly stated on the souvenir ticket given to each visitor who pays for admission. Fortunately the birthplace needed less restoration than the adjoining and communicating house, which was John Shakespeare's business place, and is now the museum; yet even the birthplace has had such possibilities of gradual alteration that the late Halliwell-Phillips suggested that only the cellarage only could be sure that it remained in the same condition as in Shakespeare's day.

The relics in the house vary considerably in interest. Not one piece of its furniture is known to have been there in Shakespeare's time; though some pieces have been bought by the trustees, because they were in the house early in the last century, and were then shown as being old furniture of the house. The desk from the Grammar school is frankly stated to be Shakespeare's, "by old tradition," and other objects have their claims to notice.

The portraits of Shakespeare include many with incomplete pedigrees, and some of undoubtedly later date than Shakespeare's death. Yet while one "authority" believes in the Ely palace portrait, another is frankly attached to the "Flower" painting at the Memorial theater. Only the Droeshout engraving in the first folio, and the bust in Trinity church have unassailable histories.

The Hathaway house, commonly called Anne Hathaway's cottage, has "nothing but local tradition," with some small amount of confirmatory evidence on which to rest its claims. Yet what can be stronger than local tradition back to a time when there could be no reason for inventing a fabulous story. Even the name of Shakespeare's wife rested on this same local tradition until comparatively recently. Every church register in the neighborhood had been searched and researched for a record of the marriage, and it was a matter of surprise when a bond for the issue of a special license of marriage between "William Shaxpere et Annum Hathway" was found in the consistory court of Worcester.

The New Place museum adjoins the site of the house which Shakespeare bought when retiring to Stratford as a successful man, and where he died. Amongst other things in the museum are a shovel board from the house across the way, which is now the "Falcon Inn," a board which old tradition has associated with Shakespeare as a player of the ancient game of shovel board.

Even at the church the old font may not be the one at which Shakespeare was christened. We have no contemporary description of the font at which the ceremony took place. But we have the baptismal record:—"1564, April 26. Gulielmus filius Johannes Shakspere;" we know that this is "the old font;" and its style takes us back to at least as early as Shakespeare's time.

Pennsylvania's Natural Wealth.

The most valuable of the state's resources are its fuels, in the form of anthracite, bituminous coal, petroleum and natural gas. It is to the possession of these fuels, so asserts Mr. Addison B. Burk in an article on Pennsylvania in Pearson's, that Pennsylvania owes its supremacy in the industries of iron and steel and glass. It produces nearly all the anthracite mined in the United States, as well as a very large part of the bituminous coal; and for many years it has been the source of main supply of petroleum and natural gas. Although its agricultural interests are overshadowed by its mineral products, it had 224,248 farms in 1900, valued at $898,272,750, with live stock valued at $103,439,183, and with farm products for the year worth $207,595,600. In foreign commerce alone it has fallen behind. Philadelphia was at one time the chief [illegible]

"PARSIFAL."

The First Performance of the Great Musical Drama Outside Baireuth.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—For the first time since it was first produced in Baireuth in 1882 Wagner's "Parsifal" has been performed outside of the festival playhouse for which the master composed it. A vast assemblage was gathered at the Metropolitan Opera House to witness it, an assemblage most brilliant in appearance and in quality, following the drama with the keenest attention, with breathless silence, and submitting eagerly to its spell.

It may truly be said that the eyes of the whole musical world were turned upon this performance, and the outcome of it has been awaited with widely varying emotions on the part of many who have been for or against it on divers grounds. Never before perhaps has a stage production of any kind in this country so stirred the imaginations of so many people or been so widely discussed or so urgently debated. In many of its aspects it was one of the most important and significant musical events that Americans have been concerned with.

"Parsifal" was presented in a manner wholly befitting its distinctive character as a work of art, a manner that recognized and gave a full exposition of the solemnity and dignity of its theme, the lofty eloquence of its treatment, the overpowering impressiveness of the drama.

The interpreters of the chief personages of the drama were singers who have drawn knowledge and understanding of its requirements from the fountainhead at Baireuth and who have been among the most distinguished participants in the festival performances there—Mme. Ternina, Mr. Burgstaller and Mr. Van Rooy.

Never in its long history of famous musical events has New York seen the crowd that turned out to witness this gala performance. Wagner's masterpiece has never before been seen except at Baireuth, and the popularity of the opera, combined with the vigorous protests of the composer's wife and the opposition on religious grounds against its production in this country, brought out the largest audience that the Metropolitan Opera House has ever seen.

MARCHING ON SANTO DOMINGO.

Insurgents Under Arms In Favor of Late President Jiminez.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dec. 26.—It is rumored that the greater part of the republic now under arms is in favor of General Jiminez, the former president, who is said to be marching on this city at the head of a large body of insurgents. The provisional government is making active preparations for defense. San Pedro de Macoris has declared in favor of the insurgents. The situation here is becoming extremely critical, though the city is quiet in expectation of events.

There is great depression in business circles as the results of the constant disturbances of the financial situation. The financial condition of the government is very bad owing to the fact that the duties were mortgaged in advance by the government of President Wos y Gil. The United States cruiser Panther and gunboat Newport, the German cruisers Vineta and Gazelle and the Dutch warship De Ruyter have arrived in the harbor.

Probing Suspicious Death.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Dec. 26.—Coroner Scheirer and Chief of Police Eastman are investigating the case of Mrs. Agnes Minerva Leiby, who died on Thursday at the home of William Clader of this city under what seems to them suspicious circumstances. In connection with the case the coroner has determined to hold William Kunkle, an ex-policeman, until an inquest is held. Another arrest, it is reported, may follow. The woman's body was removed from the Clader house and taken to the home of her stepfather at Bethlehem. The police say the body was removed without notice to the board of health. It is said her face was more or less bruised. Kunkle was arrested because he was said to have been with her when she died.

Pugilist Shot For Theft of $1.35.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—Muldoon McDonald, a well known colored heavyweight pugilist, has been shot and killed here by W. H. Atkins, another colored man. The shooting was the result of an attempt upon the part of McDonald, his slayer declared, to steal the sum of $1.35 from a card table at a hotel. Atkins admits the killing and says he was moved to the deed by the refusal of McDonald to surrender the money he had taken.

Authentic Portrait of Dante.

ROME, Dec. 26.—Professor Giovanni Livi, director of the state archives at Bologna, which town is the principal center of Dante's fame, has found a parchment dated 1323, on which are two pen sketches representing Dante crowned by Bologna. This discovery will prove of great interest to those who are searching for an authentic portrait of the poet.

This Lady Has No Spleen.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Dec. 26.—Alive and healthy, although without a spleen, is the remarkable lot of Miss Olive Smith of Minross, Ia., who has visited the University of Iowa hospital and reported to Dr. William Jepson of the chair of surgery. Some months ago Dr. Jepson removed Miss Smith's spleen.

Zanardelli Will Die of Tumor.

ROME, Dec. 26.—The condition of former Premier Zanardelli is extremely grave. His doctors announce the existence of a tumor in the stomach and add that they have given up all hope of their patient's recovery.

YULETIDE AT WHITE HOUSE.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt Entertain Personal Friends.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Christmas at the White House was a quiet day. President Roosevelt's morning ride was abandoned that he might attend the funeral services of Mrs. Hoar. Prior to this he spent an hour at his desk. Distribution of the numerous presents to the children took place immediately after breakfast. There was no family tree, although Archie Roosevelt took possession of the White House sewing room several days ago and devised a tree of his own on which he hung remembrances to the family. Secretary Cortelyou of the department of commerce and labor and General Young, chief of staff of the army, saw the president during the morning. Commander and Mrs. Cowles spent a portion of the day at the White House.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt had a few personal friends with them at dinner at the White House. Those present included Senator and Mrs. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lodge, Mrs. John Lodge, Captain and Mrs. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Adams, Mrs. Charles Henry Davis, Miss Davis, the Masters Davis, Lieutenant Granville R. Fortescue and Mr. R. H. M. Ferguson of New York.

The British ambassador and Lady Durand and their daughter celebrated their first Washington Christmas by entertaining the embassy staff at dinner, and at the Austrian, French, German and other embassies members of the diplomatic corps and others were entertained at dinner.

FORGER ARRESTED.

Drew Gun on Halifax Police and Made a Desperate Fight.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 26.—Armed with a 44 caliber revolver, fully loaded, a man giving the name of C. M. McMichael and his address as Kamloops, B. C., has been arrested by the police here on the charge of passing forged Canadian and American express money orders, several of which he had succeeded in having cashed. Each called for $47.50 and was purported to have been issued from the London (Ont.) office.

He drew his revolver when approached on the street by a policeman, and his arrest was affected only after a desperate struggle. Among his effects were fifty Canadian and American express orders, the American orders being blanks.

McMichael came here last Sunday from Boston. He put up at one of the best hotels and attracted attention by his liberal expenditures.

Baron Rothschild Seeks Help From Britain and the United States.

LONDON, Dec. 26. — Baron Rothschild presided at a joint meeting of the foreign committee and the board of deputies of the Anglo-Jewish association, which was attended by the Rev. Dr. Hermann Adler, chief rabbi of the United Hebrew Congregations of the British Empire, and other prominent Jews.

The meeting considered the latest reports from Russia predicting a renewal of the anti-Jewish outrages at Kishineff on the Russian Christmas day.

It was decided to approach Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and urge upon him the necessity of joint action by the governments of Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of averting the further persecution of Jews in Russia.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

There is a strong sentiment in all the large cities in New Jersey in favor of the abolishment of the office of justice of the peace. The office is one which has been much abused, so much in recent years that it has failed into disrepute. The contention has been made for some time that to do away with the office of justice of the peace it would be necessary to secure a constitutional amendment and the general sentiment against trifling with the constitution is so strong that there is little hope of securing such an amendment. But eminent legal authorities now claim the constitution does not say justices of the peace shall be elected. Should this claim hold good it will afford an easy way out of the difficulty—the people can abolish the office where they so desire by simply failing to make a nomination for it. The whole matter is likely to be pretty generally thrashed out at the coming session of the Legislature.—Ex.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Man's Ingratitude to Man.

Editor, The Daily Press:

In your article on the editorial page of Wednesday's issue referring to the much advertised colored orphanage they are planning to establish on Rahway road, you say, "it is unfortunate indeed that there are no building restrictions in that part of the city." The Netherwood section is very generally covered by restrictions, this is particularly true of the vacant property.

John F. Plummer and William S. Darling were largely instrumental in laying out Netherwood and no doubt Mr. Darling felt sure that the money he spent upon his place was sufficient to protect it from ever becoming a nuisance. Both of these men were large holders of property and it is noteworthy that the heirs of William S. Darling, after selling off all the property adjoining their handsome residence, should have used the last piece of property in their possession to ruin that section of Plainfield.

Your words of advice to the colored citizens were most timely and appropriate, they have "certain obligations which they owe as good citizens." And particularly so, as every colored church in Plainfield has been assisted by liberal contributions from the white citizens, and on more than one occasion the contributions of friends of the colored people have saved them their churches. No one knows this better than Scott Wallace, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, and J. W. Mitchell, formerly of Mount Olive Baptist Church. If there is need of an orphanage let it be located near a colored district and near schools where the orphans may be taken care of properly. If there is need of a home for the southern colored coming here (which is very questionable as there is a constant demand for more good servants than can be supplied) let the home be located nearer the central part of the city, where those needing help may obtain it without a half day's journey.

When you stop to think of it, this whole scheme seems incredible. Many of the best of colored people say it is outrageous, others it is ridiculous. But the people of Netherwood without exception, look upon it as a "hold up" pure and simple; an option is taken and the challenge goes out, comes up and buy us off or we will ruin all adjoining property.

Let the ministers and deacons who have lent themselves to this scheme, it may be as "cat's paw" for some one else, consider whether the part they have taken is that of good citizenship, we will not mention a higher standard. And the real estate dealer or lawyer who is behind the deal, well, it is no wonder quoting from your article "for the present he refuses to allow his name to be used," this is not usually the way in important real estate transactions, but isn't it very like the highwayman?

The Daily Press, which has done much to build up Plainfield, could do no better service than to give free advertisement of those behind the scenes who seek by this means to seriously injure one of its most beautiful sections.

PRAISE FOR SENATOR CROSS

HE DESERVES THE HONOR CONFERRED ON HIM SAYS THE NEWARK NEWS.

The Newark Evening News says editorially: "Senator Joseph Cross, of Union County, has been selected as the Republican leader in the Senate for the ensuing term of the Legislature. This is a position that carries with it a serious responsibility, since the one who holds it must meet every attack of the minority, must maintain the attitude of the majority upon every question, and must be their mouthpiece, their apologist and their defender, as well as their commander-in-chief. The man who is a successful leader in a legislative body must be well informed, constantly alert and able to consult wisely and act judiciously.

"In selecting Senator Cross for this position the Republican Senators have done great credit to themselves and to the Senator from Union; all the more so, because in this, as in all other instances involving preferment, Senator Cross made no aggressive canvass in his behalf, and pulled no wires to insure his own election or the defeat of any rival. It has been characteristic of Senator Cross that from the time he entered politics until the present day he has never sought to secure any office or any advancement through his own efforts.

"As speaker of the House in 1895, Senator Cross developed a faculty of discipline that earned him the profound respect of his colleagues, an accomplishment that will serve him well in his new position, but that which has won him the appreciation of the State at large is his consistent attitude with reference to the public treasury. He has stood guard over the State funds with unremitting watchfulness, fighting manifully against all unnecessary expenditures and yielding only to such appropriations as he was fully convinced were for the best interest of the State.

"It was reported during the past few weeks that efforts would be made to refuse Senator Cross the leadership to which he was justly entitled by personal fitness and by party usage; but had such a course been successful there could have been but one inference—that those who had determined upon extravagant and unnecessary appropriations had succeeded in their purposes. His unanimous selection refutes all such reports, and enhances the credit that belongs to the Republican Senators for having made a choice so excellent and so perfectly in accord with the sentiment of the State."

CHRIST'S NATIVITY ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED IN THE CHURCHES

The Congregations in Plainfield and North Plainfield Commemorate the Greatest Day of Christendom.

NUMEROUS ELABORATE SERVICES

THE LITTLE ONES GATHER IN THE SUNDAY-SCHOOLS TO SING THE PRAISES OF THE SON OF GOD—INSPIRING MUSIC AND APPROPRIATE SERMONS IN MANY LOCAL EDIFICES—THE DECORATIONS WERE ALSO VERY ATTRACTIVE.

First Baptist.

The Christmas services at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning and afternoon were of unusual interest and were largely attended. The edifice was appropriately decorated with flowers and evergreens, while a brilliantly lighted evergreen star over the organ loft was a feature. In the morning the large chorus choir rendered a number of anthems. The solo parts were taken by Miss Louella C. Harris, soprano; Mrs. F. M. Ward, contralto; William Holmes, baritone, and George Smith, tenor.

During the service there was an impressive sermon by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, whose theme was "Christ and His Divinity." It was a strong discourse.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there was the service under the auspices of the Sunday-schools of the church, at which time a special programme was presented, opening with a selection on the organ, with violin and piano accompaniment. Howard Case, the church organist, presided at both services. Other features were the singing of Christmas carols by the main school and the primary department, Scripture recitation by the Junior department, responsive reading, offertory selections by the trio and an address by the pastor. His remarks were chiefly to the young people and were full of interest. George H. Batchelor, superintendent of the home school, was in charge of the afternoon services. There was no night service at the church.

Park Avenue Baptist.

The services at the Park Avenue Baptist Church yesterday morning and in the afternoon, under the auspices of the Sunday-school, were in keeping with Christmastide. In the morning Rev. Mr. Sheppard, of Warwick, N. Y., preached a Christmas sermon, and the quartette choir, consisting of Miss Henrietta Cuming, Miss Adele Runyon, Charles Dayton and Robert Davis sang two selections, one being "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," a composition of Daniel Davis, the organist.

In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Sunday-school held exercises in the chapel under the direction of Miss Florence G. Hawkins, assistant superintendent. There were several recitations by members of the primary and junior departments, a feature being the singing by the juniors. There was also a cornet solo by DeWitt Frazee. Miss Mamie Clark presided at the piano. The church and chapel were decorated with evergreens. The annual entertainment at this church will be held tomorrow night.

Trinity Reformed.

At Trinity Reformed Church Sunday-school yesterday was the big day of the year. The Christmas exercises were held in the evening and the little ones of the school recited and sang themselves into the hearts of a big congregation that left not a pew in the church vacant. The church was decorated with Christmas greens and wreaths and above the altar in red and green in the form of bells were spelled out the words "Merry Christmas." The services were conducted by the pastor and an address was given by Rev. E. M. Rodman, rector emeritus of Grace Church. The regular church choir assisted in the music. Christmas songs were sung by the entire school and the junior and primary departments. There was also a responsive reading by the juniors.

A. L. Titsworth presided at the organ, and was choirmaster and the children's musical instructor.

The children who recited were: Ralph Martin, Rosamond Rogers, Madeline Streader, Helen Roberts, Helen Wooley, Clifford Cole, Marion Blair, Beatrice Tier, Edith Doeber, Madeline Blair, Margaret Hope, Pearl Drew, Gertrude Armstrong, Ella Van Arsdale, Lillie Schlief, Elsie Tier, Blanche Derry, Walter Fisher, Harold Hand, Edson Day, Russell Vroom, Horace Van Arsdale, Charlie Keiderling, Raymond Stevens, Anna Vail, Russell Hoagland, Anna Lee, Eddie McNee, Ernest Stevens, Ella Case, Adelaide Fritz, Edith Richards, Margaret VanDeventer, Emma Ryno, E. Oliver, Gertrude Schlief. There were individual and concert recitations and exercises. Mrs. J. M. Tier, superintendent of primary department, was in charge of the children.

There was special music both morning and evening at Trinity Church. In the morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, preached on the subject, "Christmas, Before and After."

First M. E.

The Christmas services at the First M. E. Church yesterday were of unusual interest. In the morning there were anthems by the chorus choir under the direction of Charles L. Lewis, including a duett by Mrs. Thomas MacDonald and Mr. Lewis. The pastor, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, delivered an appropriate sermon, the chief thought being of Christmastide.

In the afternoon in Vincent Chapel the Sunday-school rendered a programme, in which "The New Born Hope," a musical service was presented. James R. Joy, superintendent of the school, was in charge. There were recitations by Leah Wightman, Helen Joy, Jubilee Rowley, Chester Alpaugh, Harry Staats and Ernest Leckwood. There was an address of welcome by Marion Lynn, a Bible verse by Alice Joy, a song by Ruth Lynn, and a song by Helen Derby and the beginners' department. This programme was given chiefly by the primary and intermediate departments, while Dr. Snodgrass made an address and Rev. Dr. J. R. Bryan pronounced the benediction. R. A. Fenno was chairman of the general committee and Nelson A. Miller was in charge of the music. The decorations were arranged by Louis Wilson.

At night there was a special service, including stereopticon views illustrating the advancement and influence of Christianity upon the world. These views were shown by John Neagle and Dr. Snodgrass explained them. There were anthems by the choir and while some of the views were being exhibited Charles L. Lewis sang selections appropriate to them. The church was decorated with evergreens and flowers and all of the services were largely attended.

Grace M. E.

Grace M. E. Church was filled with parents and Sunday-school children yesterday afternoon when the Christmas exercises of the school were held. In the morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, preached a special Christmas sermon and in the evening he delivered a sermon on "Resolutions" in which he gave sound advice for the New Year. The infant and intermediate department exercises were held in the afternoon. Those taking part were: Dorothy Martin, Mabel Winans, Clara Bodenheimer, Alfred Lowrey, Howard Titus, William Giddis, Gladys Brokaw, Mildred Harden, Helen Nelson, Evelyn Nelson, Blanche Stout, Eva Taynor, Bessie Taynor, Edna Mantz, Edith, Kiva and Myra Lippincott, Beatrice Pope, Edna Stewart, Alletta and Flo Jacobs, Blanche Bensen, Dorothy Penwell and Howard Titus. The girls of Miss Delia Voehl's class gave a selection. They were: Miss Agnes Flemming, Miss Edna Beeching, Miss Clara Rink, Miss Lillian Titus and Miss Myra Lippincott.

The exercises were in charge of Miss Mary Steiner, Mrs. Anna Most and Miss Belle Lunger. The skill with which the children took their parts is due to the untiring efforts of the committee who devoted much of their time to rehearsals.

Monroe Avenue M. E.

The special exercises of the Monroe Avenue M. E. Sunday-school yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock were chiefly by the children of the primary department. Among those who took part in song and recitation were Helen Davenport, Dottie Thiers, Mary McNeal, Carrie Thiers, Carol MacMurray, Flossie Gilbert, Dorothy Barrett, Bessie Gunzleman, Elizabeth Thiers, Louise Praed, Edith Schwartz and Daisy Gilbert. The opening prayer by the pastor, Rev. John MacMurray, was followed by responsive reading conducted by E. H. Beekman. An address was delivered by Walter N. McGee. The members of the senior department represented by Herbert Hillman sang. Mrs. N. M. Smith and Miss Mae Brouer arranged the work of the senior department and Miss Emily Haff had charge of the primary work. Those who assisted were Miss Leora D. Wenzel, Mrs. S. T. Saums, Miss Beulah Cline, Miss Olla Cline, Miss Charlotte Aldrich. The church was decorated with Christmas greens.

Crescent Avenue Presbyterian.

Christmas hymns were sung by the Sunday-school of the Crescent Avenue Church yesterday afternoon. The exercises opened with a "Welcome" recitation by Helen Ryder, followed by a selection given by five little girls, Caroline Slosson, Catharine Brown, Jessie Stewart, Nellie Strong and Allison Williams. There was a duet by Leonard Lewis and Lyle Smith, of the kindergarten. Rev. John S. Zelie made an address. The members of the primary department sang these songs: "Christ Was Once a Little Baby" and "Under the Stars." There will be an entertainment for the school tomorrow night.

At the Crescent Avenue Church last night the cantata, "Story of Bethlehem," by J. E. West, was sung by the regular choir, assisted by a New York choir and local soloists. The regular choir and soloists were Miss Ruth Lewis, Miss Grace Carroll, Rhys Thomas and Herman Greibert. The New York choristers were the Misses Bussard and Boyle, and Messrs. Cafferty and Bolton. Others from this city were Mrs. Asa Collier, Miss Mary Carman, Miss Daisy Kline and Mrs. Burnett, sopranos; Miss Hubbell and Miss Langdon, altos, and Elmer E. Runyon, William Gilbert and Mr. Weston, tenors. Arthur D. Drake was organist. Sermons were preached morning and evening by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Zelie. Music in the morning was by the regular choir.

Warren Chapel.

Christmas carols and hymns were sung yesterday afternoon by the children of Warren Chapel Sunday-school. The paster, Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, made a short address to the children and Chauncey L. Fenton, a West Point Cadet, gave a short address to the children or "Christmas Day." The arrangements were in charge of the Ladies' Aid Society of which Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman is chairman. The superintendent of the Sunday-school, Joseph W. Gavett, made a few brief remarks. The attendance was a record breaker for the year. The Christmas exercises for the older scholars will be held Wednesday night.

Hope Chapel.

For the first time in the history of Hope Chapel the Christmas exercises in that church were held there yesterday. Hitherto it has been the custom for all the chapels connected with the Crescent Avenue Church to meet at the latter place to hold the Christmas service. On account of the increased number of Sunday-school children it was found that there would not be room enough in the mother church for all the members of the chapel Sunday-schools. Rev. George F. McAphee, an officer of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, made an interesting address. He told the children some interesting things about the Indians in the West and how they were becoming Christianized. He told of Indian life in North and South Dakota. The children of the school sang Christmas carols and hymns.

HENRY DWIGHT JANES DIED IN R. R. DEPOT

Heart Disease Carried Him Off As He Passed Through Jersey City Terminal.

LIVED HERE 30 YEARS

FOR MANY YEARS A TRUSTEE OF THE CRESCENT AVENUE CHURCH.

Claim Adjuster for Insurance Company—Aged Sixty-Five Years—Born in Boston, Ohio—Funeral Services Tonight.

While returning from New York to his home in this city Saturday night, Henry Dwight Janes, died suddenly in the Jersey City terminal of the New Jersey Central. Heart disease was the cause of death. Several friends of Mr. Janes were going through the terminal station at the time and hastened to assist him, but life was practically extinct before medical aid could be secured.

Mr. Janes was sixty-five years of age and was born in Boston, Ohio. He had been a resident of Plainfield about thirty years and at present was living with his family at the home of Mrs. Margaret T. West, 120 Crescent avenue. He was for many years a trustee of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church. He lived an exemplary life and was held in high esteem. He was of a quiet and unassuming nature.

Mr. Janes held a responsible position with the Home Insurance Company, of New York, where he had been employed for thirty-seven years. His duties were those of adjusting and settling claims. Surviving Mr. Janes is a wife, a daughter, Miss Mary S. Janes and a son, Edward Janes.

The funeral services will be held from the late home tonight at 8 o'clock and the remains will be placed in the receiving vault at Hillside Cemetery for the present. Later when the weather is more favorable the interment will be at Haverhill, Vermont.

SALVATION ARMY'S XMAS

THROUGH THE GENEROSITY OF CITIZENS, THE CORPS AIDS THE POOR.

The Christmas exercises at the Salvation Army barracks on East Front street were attended by 125 little, poor children for whom Christmas was made more than a mere word by the soliders of the local branch of the army. The exercises were held yesterday afternoon in the main hall. There a huge Christmas tree was ladened with sweets and nuts.

Songs were sung by the children and then the distribution of gifts took place. Adjutant Hattie Veninga and Captain Emma Long had charge. The entire enrollment of fifteen soldiers was present in the evening and each received a little remembrance from the captain and adjutant. During the week before Christmas the Salvation Army, through the generosity of some of Plainfield's wealthier people, gave away over one hundred full suits of clothing to poor children in this city and supplied others with food.

Family Reunion.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Dennis, on East Sixth street, corner of Scott place. During the evening there were instrumental and vocal selections, recitations and a good social time. Those were present: Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Dennis and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Martin, son and daughter, of this city and Borough; and Mrs. Roy Bolles and daughter, of Naugatuck, Conn., and A. W. Sutphen, of Newark.

Westfield Wreck Claim Settled.

The case of Annie C. Greenleaf, of Hobart avenue, against the Central Railroad of New Jersey, has been settled out of court through the agency of John K. Large, district claims agent. The plaintiff brought suit to recover for injuries received in the Westfield wreck. The case adds one more to the many satisfactory settlements by the railroad out of court. George W. V. Moy, Esq., was the plaintiff's counsel.

—The Rascos Club has postponed its meetings until Tuesday, Jan. 5.

—Neuman Brothers have a special blend of coffee which is almost as good as their famous Java and Mocha. They have fine Formosa Oolong tea.

WALDRON'S SAD HOME-COMING

RETURNED FROM BUYING GROCERIES AND FOUND HOME BURNED DOWN.

While William Waldron was away from home Saturday night, his house at Sherman avenue was burned to the ground. Waldron had spent Christmas with his family visiting friends in Elizabeth and returned Saturday alone. He started a wood fire in a grate which evidently ignited the woodwork while Waldron was buying groceries in this city. The house is located outside the city limits and it was impossible to turn in an alarm. Even if firemen had been sent for they could have done no good as the fire was well under way when discovered and there was no water near with which to fight it. The house was newly built and furnished by Waldron.

DR. SNODGRASS TO STAY.

Congregation Asks Pastor to Continue His Good Work at First M. E. Church.

At the meeting of the Official Board of the First M. E. Church held last week, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass received an unanimous call from the members of his congregation to return to minister to that flock for another year. In extending this call the congregation refuses to accept his resignation offered recenlty. It is believed that he will continue his work here. Few pastors have been as successful as ministers of that church as has Dr. Snodgrass. During his six years' term as pastor of that flourishing flock he has built up the church to a great degree.

THREE SMALL FIRES.

Little Damage Done by Blazes in the Borough Saturday and Yesterday.

The members of the borough volunteer organizaion responded to three alarms Saturday and yesterday. The first alarm came in by telephone at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a chimney fire at the home of Arthur W. Kenworthy, at 21 Myrtle avenue. The conflagration was in the chimney and the department soon had it under control.

The second fire was at 41 Prospect place where another chimney was afire Saturday night. The department was again called out yesterday afternoon by a still alarm for a fire in the home of Otto Ebel, on Duer street. An overheated furnace pipe set fire to the flooring and before the fire department had the flames extinguished two beams and a part of the flooring were burned away. The damage is slight, covered by insurance.

Son Stole From Father.

Charles Kennett stole a suit and overcoat from the house of his father, Stephen Kennett, of 433 West Fourth srteet, and pleaded guilty in Justice Huff's court this morning. He was sent to Elizabeth without bail. Kennett disposed of his goods to Walter Carter, who, it is alleged, paid one dollar for them knowing that they were stolen. Carter was held in $150 bail, but was unable to furnish it and will have all his board bills paid by the county until the Grand Jury acts.

Cruelty Case Postponed.

Though the trial of the case of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals against William Blackford was set for Saturday in Justice Warden's court in Dunellen, a second postponement was taken by agreement of counsel, F. J. Blatz, Esq., for the society and Robert Adrane, Esq., for the defendant. The defendant is alleged to have starved three of his horses to death at his farm in South Plainfield, and half starved three others.

To Erect Dwelling.

C. C. Graves, of South Second street, has received from Building Inspector, T. C. Doane, a permit to erect a frame dwelling on South Second street.

A $30,000 IMPROVEMENT

GEORGE J. TOBIN TO ERECT A BIG BUILDING IN EAST FOURTH STREET.

Great possibilities are opening up for Watchung avenue, south of North avenue, as a business thoroughfare. Announcement was made through these columns a few days ago that a row of new stores and dwellings was to be erected at the corner of Watchung avenue and Fourth street to extend from that corner to the depot wall. Several stores in the old Crescent Rink building have recently been remodeled and have been occupied by enterprising business men, among them being George Scribner, the news dealer.

And now comes a report that George J. Tobin, sanitary engineer, will commence building a warehouse on the southwest corner of Watchung avenue and Fourth street. The building he plans to erect will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000 and while it will probably be occupied as a storage warehouse, it will be designed so as to be an architectural addition in the neighborhood.

Mr. Tobin this morning confirmed the report that he is to build on that lot and said that operations will be begun early in the spring. He said that the building will be at east five stories high and will be sixty by eighty-three feet, facing on Watchung avenue. He has had the plans drawn for the new building. It may be possible that there will be stores built in the lower floor. It will be thoroughly fire proof and will be equipped with elevators, fire bulkheads and other schemes for preventing the spread of fire. The building will be of stone or brick.

In speaking of the erection of the proposed building Mr. Tobin said that he has been contemplating the construction of the structure for some time but that on account of the unrest in the building trades, and the prevailing high prices of building material, he has been compelled to postpone the work on the building until spring.

INSURANCE CO. TO PAY.

First Presbyterian Church Congregation to Recover $500.

The damage to the First Presbyterian Church, caused by the fire there last week, is fully covered by insurance which will be recovered from the company. As has been estimated the damage will amount to about $500. It was thought by some of the congregation that the church would not be able to recover the insurance as the nature of the decorations in the edifice was of such inflammable material. It seems that in the policy there is a clause which allows the church to decorate and the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Herring, has been advised that the damage will be settled for by the insurance company.

Fire at Railroad Station.

A fire in the Netherwood station, Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, burned the ceiling along the sides of one of the closets, the amount of damage being inconsiderable. A lighted cigar or cigarette thrown in a cuspidor filled with sawdust was the cause of the trouble. The ticket agent at the station, George Tester, put out the flames, using the station hose. An alarm was rung in from Box 28, but the firemen found little to do after their arrival.

Chimney Fire.

A chimney fire in the sitting room of the house of Abner Wilcox, 1423 Watchung avenue, corner of Woodland avenue, did some trifling damage yesterday noon. A telephone alarm was answered by No. 2 Hose wagon and the Chief. Too much soot was the cause of the trouble. The chimney place was lined with terra cotta and the fire burned itself out.

Condensed Steam Caused $200 Loss in the Masonic Lodge's Communication Chamber.

ORGAN NOT INJURED

CEILING AND WALLS RUINED BY THE ESCAPING STEAM.

Trouble on Fifth Floor of Babcock Building in Connection With Heating Apparatus—The Carpet Damaged—Furniture Wet.

Much of the fine decorations of the Masonic rooms in the Babcock building were ruined last evening through a leakage in the steam pipes. The trouble came in the heating apparatus on the Madison avenue side of the building. There was no steam on during the day and the pipes probably froze. Then when the steam was turned on again late in the afternoon it made its way through the indirect steam heating box and the register to the ceiling where it condensed and fell in big drops to the floor and along the walls.

Besides the ruining of the decorations and the ceiling and walls the furniture was drenched. The carpet was wet through, but the damage to this will be trifling. The organ escaped, though the wetting of the side walls behind it may have injured the pipes slightly. It is thought that $200 would cover the amount of damage.

The whole trouble was solely on the fifth floor in connection with the heating apparatus of the Masonic Hall. The leakage to the floor below the Masonic lodge room was unimportant.

The trouble was located at 7:45 o'clock last night by Thomas Washington, janitor of the Stillman building, who heard the noise in the pipes and reported it to Thomas Titsworth, janitor of the Babcock building. One of the members of the lodge assisted the janitor in repairing the damage by removing and drying the furniture and furnishings that were wet.

THE GERMAN'S KRIS KRINGLE

GESANG AND TURN VEREIN MAKES HAPPY 150 LITTLE ONES.

Kris Kringle visited the Saengerbund Hall yesterday afternoon and made gifts to fully 150 children. Christmas carols were sung and selections were rendered by the members of the singing section of the Gesang and Turn Verein. A great Christmas tree, in the centre of the hall, was illuminated. The committee in charge of the programme was composed of August Wolf, Adolph Barre, Charles Meyer, Mrs. Otto Keller, Mrs. Joseph Haurand, Mrs. Adolph Barre and Mrs. Ambrose Schlick.

Mrs. Mattnias Mensenbach, in the name of the Ladies' Section, presented the Gesang and Turn Verein with six round tables. The president, William Gardner, made a responding speech. The president of the society and the janitor, Matthias Mensenbach, were recipients of useful gifts. The annual New Year's ball will be held Thursday night.

Those present were: The Misses Grace and Nellie Squier, Valley Brooks, Frances Rittenhouse, Edith Sears, Florence Phillips, Agnes VanNorden, Jannie Hazard, Edith and Olive Bird, and John Rittenhouse, Ernest Bird, Erickson VanNorden, Russell Hess, Chester Peck, Fred Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. William Peck.

Gun Club's Shoot.

The Independent Shooting Club defied the wind, rain and cold on Christmas Day and enjoyed the shooting at the Maple avenue grounds. The scores have not yet been arranged for publication as all the members have not qualified. Another shoot will be held on New Year's Day at which time it is probable that the qualifying rounds will close.

HEAD-ON COLLISION

Pere Marquette Road Has Its First Disastrous Wreck.

TWENTY-TWO DEAD, MANY INJURED

Cause Assigned Is That High Wind Extinguished Red Danger Signal Light and Westbound Train Ran Past Crossing Station.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Dec. 28.—A disastrous head-on collision between Pere Marquette railroad passenger trains near East Paris caused the death of twenty-two persons and serious injury to twenty-nine others. Several of the injured will probably die.

The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Baldwin, Mulliken, Mich.; Louis Baldwin, their son, Mulliken, Mich.; Lester Williams, Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Daisy Giles, Lowell, Mich.; Burt Myers, Grandville, Mich.; Walter Jordan, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Joseph Hull, colored, Windsor, Ont.; Austin I. Wager, baggageman, Detroit, Mich.; Charles A. Stoddard, engineer of No. 6, Detroit, Mich.; Charles A. Devine, Grand Rapids, Mich.; William Helmrich, baggageman, Detroit, Mich.; F. M. Gillet, Burr Oak or Portland, Mich.; Allen H. Wells, Big Rapids, Mich.; Frank Burns, fireman of No. 5, Detroit, Mich.; Peter W. Wierengo, Grand Rapids, Mich.; George Palmer, American Express agent on No. 6, Detroit, Mich.; William Smith, Saranac, Mich., and four unidentified men.

The injured were mostly Grand Rapids and Detroit men.

It was the most disastrous wreck in the history of the Pere Marquette system, and, instead of being caused by man's carelessness or mistake, is charged to the high wind, which extinguished the red signal light in the order board at McCords Station, where the westbound train was expected to stop and receive new orders. Two minutes before the train rushed by McCords the light was burning, says the operator there, but in that brief interval the blizzard that was raging extinguished it, and train No. 5 flashed by the station to crash into eastbound train No. 6 near East Paris. The trains, which were two of the finest on the system, were reduced to a promiscuous pile of broken and twisted timber and metal, with dead and injured pinned down and crushed by the fragments of the heavy cars.

Five cars and two large locomotives were jammed into a space ordinarily occupied by three coaches, and the wreckage was strewn across the railroad right of way from fence to fence.

When train No. 5, bound west, whizzed by McCords instead of stopping the frightened operator notified the dispatcher, then found that his red light had been extinguished. He reported this fact, and then there was but one action to take. The collision was inevitable.

The dispatcher's office called for medical aid and gave orders to hold the train over the Saginaw branch at the depot and get the wrecking outfit under steam. They then waited for the word they knew must come.

There was no chance of the fast running trains seeing each other through the driving blizzard in time to even slow down, and in a few minutes word came from the conductor of No. 5 that they had crashed together and that there was an awful loss of life.

The westbound engine, No. 397, drove through No. 6's engine like a wedge, separating the gear from the boiler and standing the latter on end like a broken, twisted shell. The running gear was crumpled up like so much twine. Great cast steel side rods bent into many shapes, and even the steel tires of the big driving wheels split and sprung from the wheels, landing in some cases ten feet from the engine. The boiler of engine No. 397 turned over several times, and the very force of the twisting impact seems to have been the means of saving the life of Engineer Waterman. He was flung forty feet over the fence at the edge of the right of way. Moon, his fireman, was sitting on the opposite side of the cab, and he, too, was thrown clear of the pile of wreckage.

As the trains came together the steam domes of each boiler blew off, releasing their contents, else there would have been added horrors from the blistering steam. No. 6, eastbound, was composed of a mail and baggage car, combination smoker, buffet parlor car, day coach and diner. The baggage coach, caught between the engine and heavy train, crumpled up like pasteboard, only the roof remaining partially unbroken.

The big blind mail coach, heavily bulkheaded, took the brunt of the blow, but withstood the crash and communicated it to the smoker, next in the rear.

The smoker was swept clean as the mail car telescoped its entire length and turned over at the north side of the track. The smoker in turn crashed several feet into the parlor car, and it was at the rear end of the smoker and forward end of the cafe car where all the passengers were killed or injured. From a space six feet square the bodies of two women, a boy and a man were taken out.

The westbound flier, with its heavy bulkheaded cars, stayed on the rails back of the baggage and mail cars, and the passengers in this train escaped serious injury. As one man they rushed out of the train to assist the less fortunate ones on the train from this city. Many stripped warm overcoats from their backs and covered the suffering injured as they were borne to the less shattered cars of No. 5 and into the remains of the parlor car of No. 6. Nearby farmers, hearing the crash, turned out with blankets and did valiant service.

According to statements made by officials of the Pere Marquette, the westbound train was traveling down grade at the rate of sixty miles an hour. The eastbound train was climbing the hill at a speed of forty miles an hour. The former carried probably seventy-five passengers, while the latter is believed to have been carrying at least 125 persons. The two trains collided at about the middle of a long, sweeping curve three-quarters of a mile west of East Paris. On the inner side of the curve is a high embankment, preventing a view of the track ahead. When the engines met one turned completely over and lay with its nose in a direction opposite to that in which it had been traveling. The other climbed the wreckage of the first, its boiler torn from the trucks, standing erect in the center of the debris.

In the cafe coach of the ill fated eastbound train, which was demolished as far back as the rear of the forward trucks, one of the most shocking of the many tragedies of the wreck was enacted.

Section Foreman Linden J. Baldwin, wife and son had spent Christmas in Grand Rapids and were returning to their home at Mulliken. Between the man and wife, sitting on the top of the car seat and playing with a bank received as a Christmas gift, was their little son. The crash came, and all three met death. A beam flying through the air struck the child, beheading him. Mother and son were found together on the floor of the cafe car by the wrecking crew when they penetrated into the wreck.

General Superintendent Smith said: "I have no reason to doubt the statement of Booth that his light was burning two minutes before No. 5 passed McCords and that the wind extinguished it.

"This is the first wreck in which the Pere Marquette ever killed a passenger on its own train. The road has killed passengers on other trains, persons at crossings and employees, but never before has it killed outright or fatally injured a passenger of its own."

WAR CLOUDS DARKEN.

Diplomats at Peking Expect That War Is Inevitable.

PEKING, Dec. 28.—The opinion entertained by the best informed diplomats in Peking that war between Russia and Japan is probable and almost inevitable remains unchanged.

Special dispatches from Tokyo say that the Japanese government is adopting an imperative tone in pressing for a speedy reply to its last note.

The Japanese war party is growing in strength and is bringing all its influence to bear upon the government.

The Chinese board of war has ordered the viceroys to furnish full information as to the numbers of foreign trained troops available for active service. The viceroys of three of the central provinces in response have reported that 90,000 such troops are in readiness. This is unquestionably a remarkable exaggeration, as the great majority of the foreign trained troops exist only on paper.

The dowager empress has issued an edict, at the request of Prince Ching, appointing several unknown and probably inexperienced officials as heads of army departments.

Influential officials continue in their determination to, if possible, keep China neutral in the event of war.

An Ominous Sign of War.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—A report here says the Japanese army authorities have requested the newspapers to refrain from publishing news concerning the movements of troops or other war-like preparations. This is regarded as a practical censorship and an ominous sign. The newspapers express concern over the movement of foreign warships toward the far east and particularly over the statement that United States marines have been ordered to Korea, fearing some unforeseen incident may precipitate events.

Evarts' Widow Dead.

WINDSOR, Vt., Dec. 28.—Helen W. Evarts, widow of the late William M. Evarts of New York, died at her country home here in her eighty-fourth year. Mrs. Evarts was the daughter of Allen Wardner of this town. She was married Aug. 30, 1845, and since the death of her husband in February, 1901, had lived in her native place. Mr. and Mrs. Evarts had twelve children, nine of whom, four sons and five daughters, are living.

Admiral Dewey Sinks Kiowa.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—The Clyde line steamer Kiowa was sunk below Boston light in a thick snowstorm by the outward bound fruiter Admiral Dewey and now lies on an even keel, with her masts and the top of her smokestack projecting above the water. Her decks are covered by eleven feet of water at low tide, and great difficulty, it is thought, will be experienced in lifting her.

New Yorker Jumped Overboard.

GALVESTON, Tex., Dec. 28.—Captain Evans and the passengers of the steamer Denver, which has just arrived here from New York, say that a passenger named Garth, initials unknown, reported to be a New York city broker, committed suicide by jumping overboard shortly before the vessel reached port. No cause for the act is known.

Evans' Fleet Sails For Guam.

HONOLULU, Dec. 28.—Rear Admiral Evans, in command of the fleet here, says that the situation in the far east is too grave for the Asiatic fleet to remain longer in Honolulu and has decided to sail tomorrow for Guam, although he has been authorized by the navy department to use his discretion.

ELLIOTT IN COMMAND

Dixie Will Take Six Hundred Marines to the Isthmus.

CRUISER LADEN WITH WAR STORES

Quantity and Character of the Material Indicate That the Government Is Preparing For a Long Campaign In Panama.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28. — The Sabbath stillness at the League Island navy yard was broken by the hurried fitting out of the cruiser Dixie for her trip to Colon, and today the trim vessel lies in the Delaware river ready to sail. The activity at the yard resembled the busy scenes there previous to the Spanish-American war. Brigadier General Elliott, commanding the marine corps and who is going to the isthmus on the Dixie, is now on board. Three companies of marines, one from Boston and the others from Washington, on their arrival were sent on board the cruiser. Altogether the Dixie will take south 600 marines, who will be under the command of Lieutenant Colonel Waller. The quantity and character of her cargo indicate that the government expects a long campaign at Panama. Her holds and decks are crowded to the limit with stores. Besides the regular stores and other outfit for the marines on board of her and those now at the isthmus the Dixie will take with her five wagon loads of small arm ammunition, a large quantity of lumber, camp supplies and a number of wagons.

A dispatch from Panama says elections for members of the constitutional convention have been held in every part of the republic, and telegrams from the interior report the apparent triumph of the candidates proposed by the popular junta, composed of Liberals and Conservatives.

For the first time in the history of the isthmus the elections in the city of Panama have been conducted without any attempt at bribery or other illegalities.

Ernest Lefevre, director of telegraphs of the republic of Panama, was married last night to Miss Oderay Arango, daughter of Senor Jose August Arango, president of the provisional government. The sponsors were Senor Arango and Mrs. Amador, wife of Dr. Manuel Amador, the minister of finance. The wedding was attended by several prominent persons, including United States Minister Buchanan, officers of the United States navy and members of the consular corps.

A report from Colon says that the marines from the converted cruiser Prairie who have been stationed at Yaviza have gone from there to Panama and are now located at Bas Obispo, a station on the Panama railroad, occupying the houses of the canal company.

BURGLARS AND FOOTPADS.

Blow Open Safe and Hold Up Several Suburbanites.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28.— Two white men, with revolvers, blew open a safe, held up several persons and otherwise caused considerable excitement in the suburban towns along the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad. Two men were held up at Haverford, and later a man escorting several ladies was stopped by the same men, but the screams of his companions scared the footpads off.

Several hours later they appeared at Strafford, covered an aged watchman with revolvers and blindfolded him. The men then blew open the safe in the railroad station, which is also used as a postoffice, and took about $1,000 in money and stamps.

The police have a good description of the burglars, but they have been unable to find any trace of them.

James Gordon Bennett Park.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28. — Announcement is made that James Gordon Bennett will lay out and adorn a large park, to be dedicated to the public, in memory of his father, the founder of the New York Herald. It will lie between the Boulevard Lafayette and Broadway, north of One Hundred and Eighty-second street, and lands now owned by Mr. Bennett will be devoted to this end. Landscape architects and gardeners are working on the designs. Upon the highest elevation within the park bounds will be erected a monument to James Gordon Bennett the elder.

Lynchers Do Much Damage.

PINEAPPLE, Ala., Dec. 28.—In an effort to hide the lynching of Arthur Stewart, a colored prisoner whom they secured from the local jail, a mob is thought to have set fire to the jail, which was destroyed, together with eight stores, two warehouses and the postoffice. The loss is $25,000.

Avarna to Succeed Nigra.

ROME, Dec. 28.—As Count Nigra, the doyen of the Italian diplomatic corps, insists upon retiring from his post as ambassador to Austria, it is suggested that he be succeeded by the Duke of Avarna, who is now minister to Switzerland.

Adirondacks Had Twenty Below.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The mercury touched 10 degrees below zero here, and the weather then began to moderate. In the Adirondack foothills temperatures of 18 and 20 degrees below zero were reported.

Gallego Flour Mills Burned.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 28.—The Gallego flour mills, one of the largest plants of the kind in the south, has been destroyed by fire. The mills were owned by Warner, Moore & Co. The loss is $150,000.

The Newark Evening News counsels the promoters of the so-called colored orphanage not to erect a building on Rahway road as is at present proposed. Incidently it speaks of the site as already having been purchased which fortunately is not the case. This is what the Newark paper has to say on the subject:

"The southeasterly section of Plainfield, which includes Netherwood, is one of the finest residental sections of that beautiful city of the plains. It is high and dry, has good drainage, fine water, pure air, electric cars and a fine view of the mountains distant on the north and of the fertile plains of Middlesex on the south. But the present inhabitants of the Netherwood section are up in arms and threaten to sell their properties, at a sacrifice if necessary, and move away. This is all because a committee appointed to secure a site and to build a negro orphanage has bought a large corner lot in this fashionable and desirable section, and is preparing to build on it. The Plainfield people generally are becoming more and more exercised over the matter and the local papers are taking up the question and are giving much advice. The committee has been made aware of the popular objections and has been advised to accept a less conspicuous property, but the colored men seem thus far determined to stand on their legal rights and to establish the orphanage on the site selected. It is poor policy on the part of the colored people and their committee to take this attitude. They cannot afford to plant an orphanage where it is objectionable to so many white people, and where it will inevitably cause the depreciation of valuable property, for the simple reason that they must depend on the contributions of white people for most of the money to maintain the institution. They would better yield to public sentiment and accept some other site. Meantime they might drive a pretty sharp bargain in disposing of their corner lot and thus have more funds to expend in puting up a costlier building on a cheaper lot."

Should the colored people attempt to make capital by such methods as the Newark News points out is within their power, they will find that the charitable people of Plainfield will not extend them any aid in conducting the institution.

CHRISTMAS IN CHURCHES

borough were held on Christmas day and therefore the only Yuletide celebration was in the special music which was repeated at the morning service in St. Mary's Church when at 10:30 a solemn high mass was held. Father Andrew M. Egan was the celebrant, Father Delanhanty, deacon, and Father Frederici, sub deacon. At St. Joseph's R. C. Church a special musical programme was rendered at the 8:30 mass when the children of the Sunday-school choir, numbering seventy-five, sang the sacred music. The 10:30 mass was a high one at which Father William H. Miller was celebrant.

Grace Episcopal.

At the Sunday-school festival of Grace Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a number of carols were sung by the school. The infant class sang "Twinkling Stars." The rector, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, told a "Christmas Story." The Christmas music was repeated at the regular services of the church yesterday, St. John's day. Mrs. W. A. Freeman was organist. In the morning an offering was taken for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital.

Holy Cross.

At the Church of the Holy Cross yesterday the Christmas music was repeated. In the afternoon service at 4:30 there was special music by the choir and a solo by Mrs. William L. Saunders. J. E. Skiff was organist. The Sunday-school celebration will take place tomorrow night.

Heavenly Rest.

Christmas music was repeated yesterday at the regular services at the Church of the Heavenly Rest.

St. Stephen's.

The usual services were held at St. Stephen's Church yesterday, with a children's Christmas carol service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The music was in charge of Charles Suhr, organist, and the vested choir. The carols sung at the Christmas entertainment on Thursday night were repeated and the rector, Rev. William Vincent Dawson, made a short address. The choir also rendered special music, including several anthems.

The entertainment will be held in the church tomorrow night.

Heavenly Rest.

Christmas services were held at the East Third Street Chapel last night at 8 o'clock, when a special programme of music was rendered and there were short and appropriate remarks by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and George A. Chapman, the chief thoughts expressed being in harmony with the season. The chapel was decorated with evergreens and flowers and the services were of interest to all.

Bethel Chapel.

Decorated with Christmas greens Bethel Chapel yesterday afternoon was the scene of a pleasing Christmas service conducted by the Sunday-school children. Christmas carols were sung and addresses were made by Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian Church, Frederick H. Andrews, William D. Murray and the pastor of Bethel Chapel, Rev. F. D. Tilden. It has been customary heretofore to hold union services in the Crescent Avenue Church, but on account of the large number of little folks in the Sunday-schools of the various chapel, it was decided to hold the exercises separately. The Christmas tree exercises will be held Tuesday night.

Mt. Olive.

There was special music by the chorus choir and an appropriate sermon at the Christmas service held at the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, yesterday morning, and at night there was a special children's service in charge of the pastor, Rev. E. E. Jackson. There were anthems by the junior chorus of thirty-two voices, assisted by the church choir, under the direction of Richard Randolph.

In addition there were recitations by Miss Ivy Henry, Willie Jones, Miss Laura Connett, Miss Agnes Alexander, Miss Elisabeth Yetman, Miss Lettie Jones, Miss Alberta Gordon, Miss Florence Washington, Miss Anna Fisher; an essay by Miss Mary Randolph and a vocal duett by the Misses Maude and Mattie Green. The annual Christmas entertainment of the school will be held Thursday night.

The session of the Sunday-school yesterday afternoon was in the nature of an exchange of greetings and farewell to Superintendent M. C. Dobbins and the other white teachers who sever their relationship with the school this week. There were remarks by Mr. Dobbins, Pastor E. E. Jackson and C. B. Leonard, clerk of the First Baptist Church. The latter reviewed the history of the colored church, recounting its successes and failures.

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Several new hands were taken on at the Potter Press Company's plant this morning.

Joseph Sweeney, of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, is out again after a short illness.

Charles Meyer, of the Potter plant, who has been confined to bed by illness for the past three week, is much improved.

George Smith, of the Pond Machine Tool Works, suffered a painful injury Thursday by having his middle finger of the right hand caught and crushed in one of the machines.

Rudolph Wurgler, of the borough, is confined to his home with a crushed foot. He was at work in the Aluminum Press Works on Wednesday when a heavy piece of iron fell on his foot mashing the flesh and bones.

Lewis Alpaugh, for fourteen years employed at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works, but who was recently laid off with a number of other employes, has secured a fine position with a large machine shop in Newport News, Va.

Despite the fact that conditions this season among the machinists have not been as bright as formerly, all of the local merchants report the Christmas trade very good. In many cases people waited until the last minute to make their purchases and the clerks were made unusually busy.

Dr. A. W. Anderson, of East Second street, is detained at his home by illness.

Miss Ruth Maxson has returned from Smith College, to spend the holiday season at home.

Mrs. E. S. Hooley and daughter, Miss Ray Hooley, of the borough, continue to improve from their illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Johnston, of Summit avenue, were guests of Jersey City relatives, yesterday at a family reunion.

JEWS ARE IN TERROR

Anti-Semites In Kishineff Are Urged to Second Massacre.

DATE SET IS RUSSIAN CHRISTMAS

Relief Committee Sends Petition to President Asking Him to Avert a Second Horror Threatened For Jan. 7 In the New Year.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Trapped in Kishineff, 40,000 Jews wait in terror for the coming of the Russian Christmas day on Jan. 7, when the brutal and inflamed Russian population of that town plans to begin the new slaughter that is destined to leave the place without a living Jewish inhabitant.

The horror of the situation is almost beyond comprehension. No effort is made to keep secret the preparations for the wiping out of half the population of the city.

Daily pamphlets calling upon the Russians to arise against the Jews on Christmas circulate from hand to hand, and the distribution is aided by the police and soldiery of the town. The Jews know the fate that is to be theirs, but cannot evade it.

The following petition has been sent to President Roosevelt:

"Word has come out of Russia that the Christmas festival is to be signalized at Kishineff by another such massacre of the Jews as excited the horror of the world during Easter of 1903.

"Your excellency is the head of the most enlightened nation in the civilized world, and in behalf of 1,000,000 of our brethren who have found refuge in your country we address this petition to prevent what is worse than any war—the torturing and slaying of men and women through race hatred and religious prejudice. We feel confident that your voice in this cause of humanity will not go unheeded.

"We have reliable information that the same unfounded accusations as preceded the hideous Kishineff massacre are again being published there; that the same violent and incendiary attacks are being circulated representing Jews slaying Christian children as a sacrifice for a religious ceremony. It is unnecessary to state to an intelligent mind that human sacrifice is as foreign to the religious observance of the Jews as it is foreign to any other civilized church or creed, but the Easter massacres are evidence that such monstrous accusations are received and accepted by the ignorant, among whom the Jews of Kishineff are compelled to live.

"The Russian officials have not prevented this inciting to riot, and the public press recounts that the Jews of Kishineff have been notified that in the event of the attacks they must not defend themselves on pain of having the czar's soldiers set upon them.

"In such an emergency we implore your excellency to direct the attention of the Russian government to the threatened massacre, that countless human lives may be saved and desolation averted. The friendly relations now existing between Russia and the United States and the humane cause in which your action is solicited assure us that your words will have great weight."

The petition is signed by K. H. Sarasohn, president of the Kishineff relief committee and publisher of the Jewish Daily News, and Arnold Kohn and Simon Wolf.

Steamer Took Fire and Sank.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 28.—The British schooner rigged steamer Lady Joicey, Captain Smith, bound from Chilean ports to Savannah, Ga.; Wilmington, N. C., and New York with a full cargo of nitrate of soda, took fire and sank seventy-five miles due south of Porto Rico. The cargo of the Lady Joicey exploded, and the vessel went down within two and a half hours, all efforts to save her having proved futile. Captain Smith, with his crew and one passenger, arrived at Ponce in two small boats completely exhausted and almost naked, having made their way through terrible seas.

Four Wreck Victims Unidentified.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 28.—There are twelve victims of the wreck of the Duquesne limited of the B. and O. railroad at Dawson on Wednesday night, at the three morgues in this city. Four of these are unknown, and means for their identification are either entirely absent or very meager. The unknown dead will be kept at the morgue as long as possible, and when all hope of identification is past they will be buried here.

Emissaries to the Mad Mollah.

ROME, Dec. 28.—News has been received here that Captain Bisio, commander of the Italian squadron in Somaliland, arrived at Obbia on the flagship Cristoforo Colombo, from which point he sent emissaries to the interior, having been given to understand that the Mollah was disposed to treat with Great Britain through the Italians.

Incendiary Burns New Block.

BATH, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The business block recently built at Savona, near here, by Morris Trumble has been destroyed, with its contents, by fire. The loss is about $6,000. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Hooker Building Burned.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., Dec. 28.—The Hooker building, a four story structure in this place, has been destroyed by fire. The total loss is estimated at from $30,000 to $40,000.

Saratoga Church Damaged.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The First Methodist Episcopal church here has been damaged by fire to the amount of $25,000.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

Alumni coaching has proved popular among colleges of the west of late and there has been a tendency to thus replace the familiar type of leader. Arthur Curtis, an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin, and who coached the Badger football squad the past season, has agreed to continue another year. Fogg, Juneau, Abbott, Driver and Lerum, who have played on the team for two seasons, are being considered as assistants. It is regretted by those in favor of the alumni system that in most cases the change to this method is induced by the failure of the big teams to succeed in the company in which they wish to travel. Prominent among the schools of the west is Illinois, which will inaugurate a return to the system once inaugurated by George Huff. Huff was a Dartmouth man, pure and simple, but yet was strong with Illinois and in some respects regarded as an alumnus. He was succeeded by a long list of special coaches, who under the conditions at Illinois proved practical failures. They failed largely because of their youth in the coaching line and because they either did not have the brain to develop under Illinois conditions or did not stick to the task as Stagg and Yost have done. Yost, however, had his preliminary ups and downs with other schools and learned many valuable lessons. Illinois coaches have never had that opportunity. It is thought that perhaps an alumnus would, as with the case of Curtis at Wisconsin, have the regard and confidence of the school and be permitted to work out a system. It seems now very likely that the ex-center rush, Lowenthal, of Illinois, will be the man selected to inaugurate a return to the old-time style of coaching at Illinois. McCornack at Northwestern has a three-year contract. When he quits he hopes to see an alumni system of coaching established. Should he do so and have successful teams the next two years, it will be the first winning school to quit one system and go to the other with its eyes open. And a severe task it will be for the poor alumnus who steps in at that critical time and a blow it will be to the school should the system fail to make good at the jump-off.

Arthur Curtis

To "Larry" Lajoie, captain of the Cleveland American league team, belongs the real honor of having been the leading batter in the league during the season of 1903, with an average of .355. "Duke" Farrell, the veteran catcher of the Boston team, heads the list with a percentage of .404, according to the official figures, but as Farrell played but 17 games, while Lajoie appeared in 126 contests the honors of the year go to the big Frenchman. After Lajoie comes the name of the unfortunate Delehanty of the Washington team, who lost his life in the Niagara river. "Del" had played in 43 games, with an average of .338. "Nick" Altrock, the pitcher who won the final game for the White Sox in the local post-season series, is fourth on the list, with a percentage of .333 and after him comes Crawford of Detroit, Dougherty of Boston, Hickman of Cleveland, Young of Boston and "Willie" Keeler of New York. Earl Moore of Cleveland, with 22 games won to seven lost, heads the list of pitchers with a percentage of .759. While Moore is the leader he has but two points the better of "Cy" Young of Boston, who won 29 games and lost but nine, and Tom Hughes of Boston has a percentage of .750, winning 21 games and losing seven. Bernhard of Cleveland, who led the pitchers last year, is in fourth place, with a percentage of .737. Fielder Jones of the Chicago White Sox leads the outfielders with an average of .988, making but four errors in 137 games, while "Billy" Sullivan of the same team is a close second to Jack Warner of New York among the catchers, with a percentage of .987.

Earl Moore

James J. Hogan, '05, of Torrington, Conn., has been elected captain of the Yale eleven for next year. Hogan has played tackle for three years on the Blue and prepared at Phillips Exeter academy.

A decision of importance to bowlers and bowling clubs intending to participate in the national championship contests of the American Bowling congress at Cleveland, February 8-13, has been rendered by the executive committee. Under the Indianapolis plan of organization it was supposed that all entries would have to be affiliated with one of the local city organizations. This, however, is not the case. Any club or bowler is eligible upon compliance with the rules of the congress, but no club is entitled to any voice in the proceedings of the congress unless affiliated with one of the city associations.

"Bobby" Walthour, for himself and his team mate, Munroe, won the recent six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden. Forty yards separated Walthour from Leander, who was second at the finish, being ten good yards ahead of Floyd Krebs, behind whom came Fisher, an indifferent fourth.

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

A RANCH GIRL.

"Bossie" Mulhall, Champion Steer Roper of the Southwest.

If an eastern college girl should spend a year on a western cattle or horse ranch and avail herself of the opportunities she would have for acquiring knowledge she would learn quite as much as in the best year of university life. The learning of the college might be classical; that of the ranch would be distinctly practical, and the twelve months spent thus would probably be the most healthful year of her life—free, noble and independent. In truth, not a few of the gifted and noted young women of today—artists, actresses, singers and others—took their rise and spent their early girlhood in the broad region where one's nearest neighbor is sometimes miles away and where it is wicked not to be well.

Athletic development now being fashionable among women, we need not be astonished at any exhibition of muscular strength and skill on the part of the feminine sex. We need not be surprised really, you know, when Miss Lucille Mulhall, a mere slip of a girl eighteen years old, wins the first prize of $1,000 over the most skilled cowboys in the southwest in a champion steer roping contest at South McAlester, I. T. Women could have done the like all along.

It is of interest to know that the girl who won the prize, Miss Mulhall, affectionately called "Bossie" by her intimates, is a refined, well educated, accomplished young lady, who knows Latin and mathematics and can play the piano exquisitely as well as dance like a fairy. Besides this she is an expert rifle shot and is said to have killed a prairie wolf at very long range. It is plain that cowboy accomplishments do not interfere with social and educational ones; on the contrary.

Miss Mulhall's father, Zack Mulhall, owns and lives on a large ranch in Oklahoma, and there his two daughters, Lucille, or "Bossie," and Agnes, received the cowboy part of their education. It is pleasant to know their father encouraged their acquirement of practical ranch knowledge and skill, considering that no gymnastic training for his girls could be better than cowboy athletics. Therefore they learned to gallop like mad after a herd, to "cut out" and rope a wild steer and to throw and tie it as well.

At the agricultural fairs in the ranch region the cattle roping contests are a regular part of the entertainments. In the southwestern territories there is annually a great cowboy tournament, where the cattlemen show their courage, strength and skill in competitive exhibitions. A great number of the spriest, wildest steers the country affords are driven to the grounds and put inside the inclosure ready for the sport. The yearly contest draws cowboys and spectators not only from Indian and Oklahoma territories, but from Texas and from states to the north and west. It was in this tournament that Miss Mulhall won her laurels over the bravest, most skillful lariat throwers in the land.

The steers are selected by lot, so that the girl "Bossie" had no advantage at all over her masculine competitors. The conditions were that each contestant should rope, throw and tie three steers, one after the other, and the person who did this in the quickest time should be the winner. The most difficult part comes perhaps after the animal is "roped." The long, coiled, snakelike lariat has to be hurled at the steer in full gallop. It must either catch him square over the horns or else be neatly thrown around one of his flying heels. In either case, with the help of the trained cow pony, the creature is thrown and tangled in the rope. Then, quick as lightning, the rider must dismount, run to the struggling steer and tie him fast, so he cannot rise and run away.

All this Miss Mulhall accomplished three times and did it more quickly than any of the men contestants. It was a fair and square victory. One steer she roped, threw and tied in forty seconds, and that was her quickest time. It is not, however, quite equal to the champion record, which is a few seconds under hers.

At the contest Miss Mulhall rode astride on her favorite cow pony, which had been trained for the sport. She has always ridden astride, for no sidesaddle would be safe in the rough riding which cow people must do. It may be mentioned that quite recently some of the most popular young ladies of New York's exclusive set have given up the sidesaddle and appeared bravely riding astride.

MARY EDITH DAY.

MEN OF WASHINGTON

A Budget of Timely Gossip from the National Capitol.

THE POSITION OF BRISTOW

He Is Not Popular with the Politicians But They Fear Him—A Popular Colored Servant—Other Notes.

Washington.—Joseph L. Bristow, the fourth assistant postmaster general, is an official who has made good by being strictly and fearlessly honest. At this moment he is perhaps less liked personally than any other official of the government, and yet there is no other official of the government who is quite so sure of holding on to his position as long as he likes, as is Mr. Bristow.

Hon. Joseph L. Bristow

In the course of his career as fourth assistant postmaster general he has made enemies by the hundred, and many of these enemies are men high in position and possessed of great influence; but he goes cheerfully on, seemingly indifferent to friendships or enmities, attending strictly to business and making good.

Bristow occupies an anomalous position. He not only has administrative duties in the postal service, having immediate supervision over fourth-class postmasters, and now temporarily of the delivery systems; but he is also head of the force of detectives, known as inspectors, who are set over the rest of the postal service to see that it is kept up to the mark. These inspectors are constantly going up and down all over the United States looking into the operations of every post office, so that Bristow is in reality at the head of a great detective bureau, and in the course of events, through long habit, he has become an ingrained detective himself. Perhaps that is now his most marked characteristic. He hunts for crime with the instinct of a policeman, and he glories in its discovery. In pursuing the ends of justice he is influenced by neither personal nor political considerations. No wonder he is not liked.

Bristow's Methods.

Bristow used to be a newspaper editor. In fact, he is a newspaper proprietor now, and his income from that source supplements nicely the niggardly salary paid by the government. When he was personally conducting his little journal out in Kansas they say he was always hot on the scent of anything that looked like crooked work, and the practice he had there has stood him in good stead since.

Turned the Senator Down

But the habit of mind is not conducive to personal popularity. Senators and representatives who have business with Bristow in the administrative division of his work complain that he always seems to look on them with suspicion. So pronounced had this feeling become a few months ago that there was a strong movement to secure his removal in order to make way for somebody who would be a little more tactful and confiding. Indeed the movement had gained such headway that Bristow's departure from Washington was confidently looked for by the unregenerate when the president suddenly ordered the general investigation of the post office and the fat was in the fire.

Bristow is really no more popular now than he was before he made his record of indicting the postal conspirators, but he is several hundred per cent stronger. One of the most influential men in the senate called on Bristow not long ago to inquire about a little post office affair in his state. He put his request to the fourth assistant. Bristow turned him down abruptly and completely. He refused even to listen to argument. The senator angrily turned on his heel and went out vowing vengeance. But he won't get it—at least not until a new administration comes in.

Congressman Hitt.

There is no man in either branch of congress who has a more interesting history than Robert Roberts Hitt, of Illinois, the chairman of the committee on foreign relations.

Hon. Robert R. Hitt

Mr. Hitt, away back before the war, as a boy, was the stenographer who took down Lincoln's speeches in the Lincoln-Douglas debate. Afterwards he came to Washington, and he was connected with the white house staff when Lincoln was assassinated.

When Andrew Jackson took the oath of office as president, after the tragedy, Hitt was present in his capacity as stenographer, and he tells an interesting story of that occasion which has never been in print. It is history that Johnson was in no condition to take the oath. To put it charitably, he was over-stimulated. As the oath was administered he turned to those near him and muttered:

"That ain't the thing that counts They'll have to look at my record to see what I'm going to do."

He then proceeded to deliver a rambling address, which Hitt took down in short hand. The speech was so extraordinary that republican leaders who heard it went to Hitt and told him that it must not be given to the public in the form in which it was delivered. Hitt accordingly wrote it out and submitted it to some of the wiser heads that night. They went over it carefully, polishing it into shape, all with the view to preparing the way for a sentence which they added: "I shall follow in the steps of my lamented predecessor."

After this doctoring Hitt took the speech to the new president. By that time Johnson had sobered up. He read the speech over carefully and with evident approval.

"I didn't realize," he said, "that I was making so good a speech."

But when he came to the last sentence he balked.

"Did I say that?" he asked. "I don't remember anything like that."

Hitt replied that he hadn't quite caught the conclusion of the speech, but he believed that was what the president intended to say. But Johnson wouldn't have it. He went over the sentence several times and then declared that he would not let it go that way. He struck out the obnoxious sentence, and all the scheming of the wise leaders went for nothing.

Passing of a Colored Factotum.

"Uncle Jerry" Smith, the old colored factotum at the white house, has raised the stars and stripes over the historic mansion for the last time.

This Was the Limit

Ever since Grant was president, a generation ago, Uncle Jerry has performed that duty, and he has taken as great pride in it as the color bearer of a regiment takes in carrying his standard into the thick of the fight, but increasing years, with their legacy of feebleness and failing sight, have served him the summons at last, and hereafter the agreeable task will be executed by younger hands.

Several times of late Uncle Jerry has raised the flag union down. It happened, unfortunately, on the day the Honorable Artillery of London visited the white house, and that brought the situation to a climax.

A retired enlisted man of the navy and a retired sergeant of the army will now perform the ceremony by turn—which is fitting; as the president is commander in chief of the army and navy of the United States.

There will be sincere grief over the departure of Uncle Jerry. No public functionary in Washington has been more familiarly known by all sorts and conditions of men. A southern darkey of the old type, courteous to the point of elegance, with a cheery smile and a profound bow for every frequenter of the executive mansion, he has been a picturesque survival of the earlier day. Nobody will ever fill his place. His long white apron and broom and his honeyed speeches are things of the past, never to be recalled.

Quay Will Stay.

Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, says that Senator Quay will be reelected. Senator Quay says that this is his last term in the senate. The chances are that Penrose is right, in spite of the fact that Quay is the acknowledged boss of Pennsylvania politics and ought to know as much about his own political future as anybody else.

Senator Quay

The fact is that the Pennsylvania republicans need Quay in the senate, and nobody else could quite take his place. He announced a year or so ago that he would not be a candidate for reelection. That was when he was ill and felt his life might depend on his withdrawal from public life.

He is better now. In fact, he is better than he has been before in years, and the members of the organization think he had better remain in the senate, thus preventing a fight for the succession, which is always unpleasant in a state where the machine likes to see itself running smoothly without any creaking of the joints. The chances are that Quay will be reelected by the machine and that he will agree to serve again.

Quay has always been regarded as an Indian in politics. He never forgets a friend or forgives an enemy. It is not generally known, however, that Quay is realy of Indian descent, and that he is very proud of it. If he had his right he would be chief of a tribe which is now quartered in the Indian territory. On certain ceremonial occasions they always send for him and they always expect him to come. He had rather go out and fraternize with the red men with whom he claims kinship than participate in the most splendid function in Washington. They are proud of him and he seems to be equally proud of them.

ABEEL ARRESTED.

It Is Said He Posed as Young Millionaire to Trick Girl.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Dec. 28.—There is no doubt in the minds of the police that the man just arrested on the Canadian side of the river is James Abeel of New York, who, it is alleged, posed as "J. Ogden Goelet, Jr.," claimed relationship to the well known Goelet family and became engaged to Miss Grace Anderson of New York as Goelet. The prisoner, however, still maintains that Hall is his proper name.

On Wednesday of last week two men went to the Savoy hotel at Niagara Falls, Ont., and registered from Chicago. One of the men gave his name as F. S. Hall and the other W. K. Hall.

Saturday night Chief of Police Mains of the Ontario force received a telegram from Inspector McCluskey of the New York police asking him to arrest F. S. Hall at the Savoy hotel, who, the message said, is wanted in New York on a charge of forgery. Hall is still at the Savoy in charge of a police officer. The man with him is not in custody.

Hall has engaged Germain & Pettit, a well known law firm of Welland, Ont., and he will doubtless fight extradition. Acting under the advice of his counsel he will make no statement further than to declare that he has committed no crime.

If Abeel persists in his determination to fight extradition and refuses to return to New York the officials admit they will be at a standstill in the case, because the extradition laws, it is said, will not cover the case.

Abeel said last evening: "So much trouble has been made for me by the police and newspapers that I do not know but what I will return and prove my innocence. I am entirely innocent of impersonating J. Ogden Goelet or any other Goelet. The fact that I am making my home in Canada under an assumed name is purely a personal matter. My family is well acquainted with my reasons, and so long as I do not turn my assumption of an alias to any criminal account I do not think I am answerable to any one. I have communicated with my relatives, and if it is thought best I shall return to New York, and then the truth as far as I am concerned will become known."

The description of F. S. Hall and James Abeel tally very closely, and the police are positive they have Abeel. He will be arraigned before Magistrate Cruikshank this morning.

Boston Police Raid Cheap Lodgings In Search of Criminals.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—Following out the policy inaugurated last Sunday morning to rid the city of suspicious persons and vagrants, the entire detective department yesterday made a second series of raids on cheap lodging houses. As a result fifty-nine alleged vagrants and suspicious characters were locked up in the city prison. Last Sunday fifty-two arrests were made. This time every lodging house in the west and south ends of the city, where applicants can secure beds for 10 cents, was visited.

The prisoners will be subjected to a rigid examination, and each will be photographed and his Bertillon measurements taken. Those not wanted by the police for a specific offense will be ordered to leave the city.

The present crusade against suspicious characters was prompted by the numerous assaults, robberies and burglaries that have occurred during the past few weeks.

Life Savers Are Safe.

COHASSET, Mass., Dec. 28. — The life saving crew, in charge of Captain Osceola F. James, who manned the Nantasket and, with several of the rescued crew, returned to the schooner Allen H. Jones, which had been left out in the storm, have reached this port, having spent the night on board the schooner. Grave anxiety had been felt for the life savers, and efforts to locate them were continued throughout the night. The sailors of the Allen H. Jones remained aboard the fisherman and have succeeded in getting her under way for her destination.

MacArthur at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—General MacArthur has returned from the Hawaiian Islands, where he has been making a military inspection. The general was greatly pleased with the islands, which he termed "a most valuable acquisition to the United States." He was asked, "Is it true that your visit to the islands was cut short by the probability of war with Panama?" The general considered the question a moment and said, "Well, I'm here."

A Tennessee Shooting Scrape.

DYERSBURG, Tenn., Dec. 28.—In a shooting scrape at Lane Constable Alfus King shot and killed a man named Klymer, seriously wounded Frank Wright and slightly injured Magistrate John Street. The shooting grew out of a trial before Magistrate Street.

The Plainfield Trust Company

A BRIEF SUMMARY

At this, the close of our first calendar year, we think it an opportune time to make public a brief statement of what has been accomplished by this Company in the eighteen months of its existence.

It has been its fixed policy to allow depositors to share liberally in its earnings. To that end three per cent. interest has been paid on both savings and checking accounts.

The accompanying comparative statement of deposits, showing the rapid increase of the Company's business since its inception, may, we think, be taken as a fair indication of a satisfactorily rendered service, and an appreciation of progressive banking methods.

Last day of	Number of Depositors.	Amount of Deposits.
July 1902,	108	163,279.73
Oct. 1902,	516	288,754.81
Jan. 1903,	720	380,427.58
Apl. 1903,	1,006	490,828.05
July 1904,	1,219	967,050.54
Oct. 1903,	1,477	667,335.20
Dec. 1903,	1,569	750,326.63

We start the new year promising a continuance of the past liberal and courteous treatment, and invite the bank accounts of those having no present occount in town, as well as of those considering a change in arrangements now existing.

Inquiries directed to any of the officers of this Company regarding facilities or terms, will receive careful attention and a prompt reply.

OFFICERS:

O. T. WARING, President. A. V. HEELY, Vice-Pres. HENRY A. McGEE, 2d Vice-Pres. J. HERBERT CASE, Sec'y and Treas. EDW. F. FEICKERT, Ass't Secretary.

POLITICAL NOTES.

James E. Martine, of this city, who strongly advocates the holding of the next Democratic convention in New York City, Saturday morning received a letter on the subject from Congressman William Sulzer, of New York. Mr. Sulzer says the convention is coming to New York "sure."

The recent appointment of George B. McClellan as Police Commissioner of New York, recalls to the mind of many Plainfielders the fact that James E. Martine was one of the delegates to the State convention when Governor George B. McClellan, father of the Police Commissioner, was nominated for the Gubernatorial position in this State. General Stirling, of this city, was the chief of a bureau appointed by Governor McClellan to stamp out the pleuro-pneumonia among cattle which was so prolific in this State at one time.

Suing for Cost of Decorations.

Suit has been instituted in the case of Louis Hermen, of the Persian Wall Paper Company, against Hattie C. Scholler, on contract. The case will be tried in the next term of the Somerset County District Court probably in April. The plaintiff claims non-payment in accordance with a contract. William Newcorn, Esq., represents the plaintiff.

In Borough Court.

In the borough court Saturday night William F. Jeroloman appeared to press a complaint of disorderly conduct against Lawrence Fahn, Jr., and Andrew Carney, Jr. The boys, it appears, had been acting disorderly, but no case was proven against them by the complainant. They were represented by Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer.

AMUSEMENTS.

Klaw & Erlanger, whose remarkable energy and enterprise have done so much for the American stage, have achieved their greatest triumph in production in "Mother Goose," now running at their New Amsterdam Theatre. What this theatre is to the playhouses of the world, the finest, this production is to stage efforts in general, the greatest. Nothing like it in magnitude, gorgeousness of scenery and costumes or number of people employed in presentation, has ever been seen in the world. This production presents not only one great novlety, but many. It is a procession of novelties from start to finish. Like the famous three-ring circus, it is three great shows in one. An extra matinee performance will be presented on New Year's Day and regular matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Seats may be ordered by mail accompanied by remittance.

XMAS ENTERTAINMENTS IN SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

Young Folks of First M. E. and Congregational Churches Celebrate the Great Feast.

UNIQUE PROGRAMMES

MISS AIMEE EMMONS' RECITATIONS PLEASED BOTH ASSEMBLAGES.

Euterpean Glee Club Provided a Pleasant Feature of the First M. E. Affair—Xmas Gifts for New York Mission at Congregational.

First M. E.

The Christmas entertainment at the First M. E. Church, last night, was given by the Euterpean Glee Club, of this city, assisted by Miss Aimee Emmons, and for over an hour the members of the Sunday-school and their friends enjoyed a programme of unusual excellence. The work of the quartette, E. E. Cutting, E. Maxwell Honeyman, Sydney R. Titsworth and Howard T. Lewis, under the direction of Clifford Braider, pianist, was cordially received. The quartette selections included some of the latest compositions, while the solos by Mr. Cutting and Mr. Honeyman, and the solo parts by the other two members, won well-deserved applause. The voices blended in the sweetest harmony and the audience was thoroughly appreciative.

Sharing the honors of the evening, Miss Emmons received much praise for her work. Her first selection was Dickens' "Christmas Carol," and during the forty minutes required to give it she held the closest attention of everyone present and won the sympathy of all for old "Scrooge," who eventually learned to appreciate Christmastide. The next selection by Miss Emmons was "Budd's Christmas Stocking," in which she again won applause.

After the programme there were presentation of boxes of candy to the pupils, the presentation of an upright piano to the beginners' class, while Miss Sharp, pianist of the Sunday-school and Mr. Kennedy, the sexton, each received substantial remembrances.

Congregational.

The Sunday-school Christmas exercises of the Congregational Church proved enjoyable to a large assemblage at the church last night. A prettily decorated Christmas tree was a feature. The sleight-of-hand performances of William A. Ransom, of Rahway, were unique and brought enthusiastic approval.

The services opened with a hymn by the Sunday-school, "Come All Ye Faithful," followed by a carol, "Down the Ages Afar." Two vocal selections in Scotch and Irish were rendered by Willard Wadsworth and a recitation, "Two Stockings," evoked much enthusiasm for Miss Amy Winant. Two songs were sung by the primary department, in charge of Miss Mary Robinson, "The Star of Bethlehem" and "Under the Starry Sky." The musical programme concluded with a carol, "Christ Was Born."

One of the most pleasant number of the programme was the bringing of gifts for the Italian Sunday-school of Rev. Antonio Arreghi in New York. The gifts included food, books and toys and formed two large packages. In addition a donation of $10 was made in money.

Boxes of Christmas candy were distributed to the members of the school. A handsome present was made to George W. Dean, the sexton of the church, in recognition of his valuable services.

In the musical part of the programme, Miss Wadsworth accompanied her brother, Mr. Wadsworth. In the other parts Miss Yale accompanied.

The services were under the general charge of the superintendent, Alexander Millar.

The singing was in charge of R. S. Lane. The entertainment committee consisted of Miss Mary Whiton, chairman; the Misses Addie Jackson, Aimee Emmons and Mary Robinson, who with others decorated the Christmas tree.

Common Council Meeting.

At that time the reports of the various officials for the year will be presented and the year's business will be concluded, prior to the Council of 1904 coming into power. J. ACKERMAN COLE'S GIFT

SCOTCH PLAINS CITIZEN PRESENTS TWO BRONZES TO NEWARK LIBRARY.

Two pieces of statuary are to be presented to the Newark Public Library this week by Dr. J. Ackerman Coles, who purchased them in Europe for this purpose. They are bronzes, and in his letter to the Library trustees Dr. Coles did not make it quite plain in announcing the gift, whether they were busts or full-sized statutes, saying in one place that they were busts and in another that they were exact copies of large statues, one of them of heroic size. The trustees can not tell just what disposition will be made of the gifts until they know their size.

Both the statues or busts are bronze, one a copy of the Apollo Belvedere, in the Vatican, and the other a faithful reproduction of a famous statue of Caesar Augustus. It was intended by Dr. Coles that the gift should reach the Library on or immediately before Christmas, but they will not arrive before Tuesday. The art commission of the Newark Free Library, which is supposed to pass upon all gifts of this sort before the trustees accept them, has not seen the bronzes. Dr. Coles feels confident that the recognized artistic merits of his gifts makes their acceptance a certainty.

DRUM CORPS WIN.

Jury Decides That the Uniform of Organization Does Not Belong to a Member.

In the case of the Independent Fife and Drum Corps against Frank Carver to recover for a uniform, which both parties to the suit claimed as their property, a verdict for the drum corps for $12 and costs was rendered yesterday by a six-man jury in Justice Huff's court. The defendant claimed that custom had decreed that the uniforms of the corps should be the property of the individual members. By the plaintiffs it was claimed that the defendant had received payment for all his services in behalf of the corps and that the payment did not include the uniform. The jurors were U. B. Crane, Jonathan Smith, Theodore Gray, William Lyness, Theodore Mason and Henry Mallinson. The plaintiff was represented by William Newcorn, Esq., and the defendant by V. W. Nash, Jr., Esq.

IN FAR COUNTRIES.

Newark Men Who Are Known Here Spent Xmas in Distant Lands.

Two young men who are well known in Plainfield who spent their Christmas and will spend their New Year's perhaps the farthest away from home are Frank Ekerson, of Newark, a young missionary who has spoken at Trinity Church and at Marconnier Chapel a number of times and Stanley Lunger, who has been here on many occasions visiting relatives. The former arrived at Amoy, China, three weeks ago where he at once started to lead the Mongelians into a happier path of life and the latter is connected with one of Uncle Sam's battleships in Turkey. Verne Miller, of Rutgers College, who has also been in this city on several occasions, where his relatives are living, enjoyed his Christmas dinner in Loag. Illicos North, Philippine Islands.

COLORED PASTOR REINSTATED

REV. ESSEX J. CRUDUP NOT TO BE OUSTED UNLESS FOUND GUILTY.

Action against Rev. Essex J. Crudup, pastor of the Filmore Baptist church, colored, will not be taken by his brethren in the colored ministry of the State unless he is found guilty by the Grand Jury of the crimes of which he is accused. At the regular weekly conference of the New Jersey Baptist ministers at Newark yesterday it was decided to reconsider the action of the previous week in suspending the accused man from the the fellowship of the conference and in instructing his brother ministers in this city to demand his suspension as pastor of his church. The previous action had been taken by a unanimous vote.

The decision to withdraw the action of the previous week was taken in order not to prejudice the case against Crudup and from the idea in general that a man should be believed innocent until proved guilty. The task of proving his guilt resting entirely with the Grand Jury, it was thought best to defer judgment until after the trial of the case. The discussion of the Crudup case occupied the entire time of the conference with the exception of the reading of a paper on the object of the new Afro-American colored council by Lawyer Cosey, of Newark.

At the Calvary Baptist church last night a conference was held on the Crudup case, the result being much the same as in the Newark conference. It was decided not to take any action until the court has passed judgment.

SMITH'S TEAM WINS THE LEAGUE SERIES

Six Straight Victories the Record of Aggregation Finishing in First Place.

Y. M. C. A. TOURNAMENT

HEINECKE'S FIVE DEFEATED IN FINAL GAME, SCORE BEING 13 TO 9.

Neal's Team Crushes Hand's Collection of Players in Last Match—Score 27 to 0—Standing of the Four Teams—Summaries.

The senior basket ball league at the Y. M. C. A. brought its series of games to a close last night with a final victory for Smith's team which gives it a clean record of six victories and no defeats. Smith's five took a hard earned win from Heinecke's team, the final score being 13 to 9. At the end of the first half the score was four to four and when the second period opened both teams were on their mettle and fighting hard for every advantage.

Hand's team was overwhelmed in its game with Neal's. It failed to score even a goal from foul and its guarding was so weak that the Neal boys made the score 27 to 0, their baskets being made almost at pleasure.

The standing in the league is: Smith—6 games won, 0 games lost; Neal—3 games won and 3 lost; Heinecke—2 won and 4 lost; Hand—1 game won, 5 lost. Summaries:

Smith—Smith and Radford, forwards; Caleen, centre; Scull and Brokaw, guards. Heinecke—Woodland and Mundy, forwards; Utzinger, centre; Aalholm and Heinecke, guards. Score, Smith 13, Heinecke 9. FUNERAL OF H. D. JANES

REV. DR. RICHARDS AND REV. MR. ZELIE OFFICIATED AT THE SERVICES.

The funeral services of Henry Dwight Janes were held last night at 8 o'clock from the late residence, 120 Crescent avenue. Besides a large number of friends and neighbors from this city, there were present many New York business men, associates of Mr. Janes at the Home Insurance Company's offices, where he was employed for nearly forty years. They also sent beautiful flowers in great quantities, there being wreaths and other pieces and cut flowers.

Rev. John Sheridan Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, where Mr. Janes was a trustee for many years, offered prayer and read a Scripture selection in opening the services. A quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Titsworth, Miss Nan. Randolph and E. E. Runyon then sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul," after which Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, of the Brick Presbyterain church, and a former pastor of Mr. Janes, made a few remarks and offered prayer. The services closed with the singing of "Rock of Ages," by the quartette.

Early this morning the remains were taken to Haverhill, Vt., where the interment will take place in the family plot.

A CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

TROLLEY CO. PUTS THE SUNDAY TIME-TABLE IN EFFECT FOR WEEK DAYS.

Commencing yesterday the Sunday schedule for the local trolley cars as well as those running between here and Elizabeth went into effect for week days. This means that in Plainfield on the Dunellen and Netherwood line four cars will do the work of five and the running time will be that much faster. The motormen and conductors do not favor the change as it is attended by more or less danger in operating under such a fast schedule. This does away with one car and two crews in this city and on the main line.

DRYDEN SECURES DIVORCE

B. O. BOWERS, JR., CORESPONDENT IN SUIT OF FORMER PLAINFIELDERS.

By overhearing a conversation over the telephone through a cross wire, Robert Wesley Dryden, of New York, formerly of this city, was enabled to obtain testimony sufficient to secure for him a decree of absolute divorce from his wife, Blanche Alice Dryden. The divorce was denied him by Justice Scott, of New York, last August.

Mr. Dryden depended upon the testimony of Catherine Venables, Mrs. Dryden's colored maid, to sustain his charge that his wife had transferred her affections to Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., of this city. Mrs. Dryden talked with Mr. Bowers over the telephone from the Hotel Vendome and the clue thus furnished enabled Mr. Dryden to win his case.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryden were married in Camden in 1895 and lived in this city where the alleged cause of action arose.

BOYS SEE REFORMATORY.

Y. M. C. A. Lads Visited State Institution at Rahway.

A delegation of fifteen members of the Boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., in charge of Secretary Robbie, paid a visit to the State Reformatory at Rahway yesterday afternoon. Of the 256 inmates of the institution they learned that two or three were from this city. The boys at the institution are kept busy by some one or another of a dozen occupations open to them. The prisoners are graded in classes and obtain promotion by good conduct. All the cooking and laundry work is done by the inmates. In one department 115 pairs of overalls are turned out every day for export and are made entirely by the labor of the young prisoners.

MARTINE MAY GET FAT POLITICAL JOB

Republican Leaders Urging Governor to Place Him on State Board of Assessors.

POSITION PAYS $2,500

VACANCY TAKES PLACE IN MARCH AND DEMOCRAT MUST BE NAMED.

Martine Anxious to Secure Position Has Never Held Political Office Though He Has Been in State Politics for Forty Years.

After forty years tireless work in behalf of his party, James E. Martine, of this city, is likely to receive a political position, and if he does it will be due entirely to the efforts of those whom he has fought in the political arena. A vacancy in the State Board of Assessors takes place March 2, 1904, the term of Robert S. Green, Democrat, of Elizabeth, expiring at that time. Green will not be reappointed. The salary attached to the office is $2,500 a year and the vacancy must be filled by a Democrat.

It is said that when the Republican leaders in the State learned of the coming vacancy, a number interested themselves in Mr. Martine's behalf and have been urging Governor Murphy to select the one man in the State who has never lost his courage notwithstanding the repeated defeats his party has encountered in the State and Nation during the last four decades.

When seen today by a reporter for The Daily Press, Mr. Martine admitted that he is seeking the appointment and as might be expected of him spoke hopefully of the outlook. "The first intimation I had that my name would be placed before the Governor," said Mr. Martine, "was in letters received by me from men who though staunch Republican leaders are strong personal friends of mine. The position is a pleasant one according to my tastes and I don't mind saying that I will take it if Governor Murphy selects me. I have told my Republican friends that should I be honored by them in this city, I will not flinch from my duty as a Democrat to continue to fight against the Republican party's principles. If I should be an officeholder, I'll be the same Jim Martine shouting the glories of Democracy."

Other Democrats who are mentioned for the position include Robert Stockton and Francis B. Lee, of Trenton; Frederick Parker, of Monmouth; Thomas Birch, of Burlington; Eckard P. Budd, of Burlington, and former Senator Lewis J. Martin, of Sussex.

TROLLEY MEN MAKE PROTEST

DISLIKE REPORT THAT THEY MUST HAVE UNIFORM OVERCOATS BY JAN. 1.

The conductors and motormen on the local trolley lines have been hearing reports for the past few days which they believe to have some foundation to the effect that unless they wear uniform overcoats when they report for duty on the morning of January 1 they will not be allowed to take out their cars.

They will also have to have new caps and new badges for use on that day. These will be distributed by the company, but the cost to the men will be $1.21 each. The caps will have straight peaks or visors instead of the slanting ones now used. New small coats with a limited number of pockets are also required. The new overcoats will, it is said, cost $12.50 each. Some of the new men aver that they are not in a financial condition to purchase the new coat.

A duty postponed is a duty neglected. It is your duty to buy your groceries at a store where they will give you your money's worth of good reliable goods and where they will give you prompt and careful service. If you are not getting such service or a high quality of goods it is your duty to change at once and buy of L. C. Ortner, of Park avenue and Fourth street. You will wonder why you hadn't been wise enough to trade there before.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Mam'selle Napoleon," in which Anna Held is now appearing at the Knickerbocker theatre, has to do with love and intrigue in the days when Napoleon juggled nations and principalities as a mere pastime. The music is by Gustav Luders, composer of the score of "The Prince of Pilsen." "Mam'selle Napoleon" may truly be said to be a very costly damsel. 'Twould not savor of exaggeration to say that "a barrel of money" has been expended in presenting her and the pictured narrative of events in her career to the public. Evidences of a lavish hand are everywhere, and it must truly be said that the standard of acting in the play is particularly high, the richness of the investiture, the pretty chorus girls and the lilt of certain of the songs cover a multitude of sins

Weber & Fields' will enter upon the new year with "Whoop-Dee-Doo" and "Waffles" as the most successful of all their productions since they took possession of the Music Hall. There will be an extra matinee New Year's Day when the entire company will receive callers and extend a hearty welcome although separated from guests by the footlights and orchestra. Preparations have been made behind scenes for a celebration between the matinee and night performances and occupants of all the dressing rooms will be "at home" to their brother and sister performers. There is talk of a dainty spread to be served by Miss Lillian Russell, and her callers will comprise Weber & Fields, Louis Mann, Peter F. Dailey, John T. Kelly, Evie Stetson, Carter DeNaven, Charles Halton and all the other members of the all-star stock company. Afternoon dress will be dispensed with. After the night performance Thursday, Weber & Fields will receive the members of the company and a few selected friends in the Music Hall cafe.

—Dr. Neff, president of the Neff College of Oratory, says: "Miss Jeannette T. Broomell is the finest interpreter of child life on the American platform." She will appear with other talent in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course entertainment New Year's night. See advertisement.

SUFFERING SANTO.

Capital of Santo Domingo Groans Under Her Rulers.

THREATENED WITH ANOTHER SIEGE

Situation Is Alarming, as Gunboat Newport and Her Small Crew Are Only Protectors Now in Port Should an Outbreak Occur.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dec. 29.—The situation here is extremely critical. The provisional president, General Morales, is absent from the city, and the provisional minister of foreign affairs, in terror, has resigned, as a consequence of which the council of ministers is incomplete.

General Celletier has formed a provisional government at Azua de Compostella, presided over by himself, and the inhabitants of Barahona have joined in the movement, and the two forces are jointly marching on this city. Consequently there are now two provisional governments in the republic.

The German warships have left here for Kingston, Jamaica. The United States gunboat Newport is the only war vessel here, and owing to her small crew she cannot restore order if a serious outbreak occurs. The situation demands the presence of more warships.

The provisional government endeavored to secure a loan of $20,000 for the purpose of defending the city against the insurgents; but, being without resources, the government could not guarantee the loan nor the city against pillage by the insurgents.

Should they succeed in effecting an entrance to the city it is expected that the members of the provisional government and their immediate supporters will withdraw to the fort. This action will no doubt cause fighting in the streets, the result of which will be the placing of the lives of foreigners in danger.

United States Minister Powell has been requested to call a meeting of the diplomatic and consular corps for the purpose of taking measures to protect foreign lives and property.

The greater part of the republic of Santo Domingo has declared in favor of General Jiminez, the former president of the republic. The provisional government here is making active preparations for defense.

Would Wreck Train, Then Rob.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 29. — Arthur Lee, alias Charles Lee, was sentenced to ten years in state prison at Halifax for derailing the Southern railway's train No. 3 at Milton Station. Lee was captured while removing rails from the Southern's tracks at Jeffries Junction. For this attempt to wreck he received a five years' sentence. The negro's scheme was to wreck a train near a station and in the confusion following rob the cars.

Old Blockade Runner Dead.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Sir William Allan, the well known marine engineer, ship owner and member of parliament for Gateshead since 1893, is dead. He was born Nov. 29, 1837. He was formerly a working engineer in the British navy and chief engineer of a blockade runner during the civil war in the United States. He was captured, lodged in the old capitol prison and was eventually paroled.

Big Blaze In Boston.

The Corbett-Hanlon Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—With the arrival of the sporting men from the east there is a big boom in the betting on the Young Corbett-Eddie Hanlon fight, which takes place in the arena of the Mechanics' pavilion this evening. Ben Garson, a well known New York follower of pugilism and one of the visiting delegation, has brought on $50,000 with which to back the chances of the champion. Many thousands of dollars more are known to be in the possession of his party, and it is expected Corbett stock will now go soaring.

Intercollegiate Chess.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. — Harvard came out with flying colors in the first round of the intercollegiate chess tournament, having beaten Columbia by 2½ to ½, one game pending, which at the worst should net Harvard another half point. Being, however, a pawn ahead, Carr, the Harvard representative, looks upon this game, which will be submitted to the referees, as a certain win. Yale and Princeton broke even, each having won two games.

Canole Got the Decision.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 29.—An injured hand prevented Kid Williams of Philadelphia from meeting Martin Canole of Fall River before the Warren Athletic club, and Kid McCree of Philadelphia was substituted. Canole had things his own way from the start and was awarded the decision in the third round after McCree's seconds had thrown up the sponge to save him from a knockout.

Favorites were successful in three of the six events, and the others went to second choices except the second, which was won by Golden Boy. Haviland was defeated in the last few strides of the mile selling race by Princess Tulane. Haviland carried the money of the big bettors.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—J. E. Grillo, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, has been elected president of the American Association of Baseball Clubs vice Thomas J. Hickey, resigned. CZAR'S INTENTIONS.

Russian Minister Explains Why Manchuria Is Held.

JAPAN MIGHT OCCUPY THE COUNTRY

Cold Weather Is Bad For Movement of Troops, and For the Present Tokyo Government Must Be Checkmated.

PEKING, Dec. 29.—Lien Fang, first secretary of the board of foreign affairs, has just returned from a visit to the Russian Minister Lessar, of whom he requested information concerning the intentions of the Russian government regarding the evacuation of Manchuria.

Minister Lessar in reply said that nothing could be done at present with a view to evacuation for two reasons. In the first place, the minister pointed out that the cold weather made it impossible to remove the troops from their present position, besides which there were no barrack accommodations to be had elsewhere, and in the second place M. Lessar said that it would endanger Russian interests to undertake evacuation during the progress of the negotiations between Russia and Japan for the reason that Japan might seize the opportunity to invade Manchuria.

The Chinese government is so alarmed at the prospect of becoming involved in the seemingly prospective war that it would prefer that Russia should remain in control of Manchuria. As an alternative the foreign office has indicated to the ministers that a settlement satisfactory to China would be that Russia and Japan should retain their respective treaty rights in Korea and Manchuria if they agree not to attempt the obtaining of further advantages in either country.

The Russian commander here has imperatively requested the Tartar general to disband his militiamen and to disarm them. The Tartar general issued an order in accordance with this request, but it is understood the men are concealing their arms supposedly with the Tartar general's connivance.

It is believed that Russia will consolidate her warships in the far east with the volunteer fleet in the Mediterranean, which latter now numbers nine vessels. The vessels of the Mediterranean fleet have been purposely kept apart so that no idea might be given of the character or strength of the squadron.

In political circles the opinion prevails that the attitude of the United States government will have a definite influence in solving the situation, whether it sides with Japan and Great Britain or remains neutral.

Killed His Mother-in-law.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 29.—Filled with rage because he believed that his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence, had induced his wife to separate from him, Joseph Eardley, a plush weaver, forced his way into Mrs. Lawrence's home and fired a shot from a revolver into her temple, from which she died without having regained consciousness. Eardley was placed under arrest within fifteen minutes after the shooting. He became hysterical in the police station and denied that he had committed the act, but later made a statement in which, the police say, he admits the shooting.

Ghouls Robbed the Dead.

PERE MARQUETTE, Mich., Dec. 29.—Despite the extreme precautions and watchfulness of the Pere Marquette railroad officials and county officers it is now believed that many acts of vandalism were committed at the wreck near East Paris Saturday night and that ghouls despoiled the bodies of the dead. Much jewelry and money is missing.

He was walking home from the Odd Fellows' meeting."

Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 29, 1903.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

If you make a resolution to be sure to your word you'll not be able to make many others on New Year's day.

Mayor Jenkins thinks that Plainfield's greatest need is a city hall. Right you are mayor, but city halls cost money.

The New Brunswick Home News furnishes testimony which shows that our Middlesex neighbors have awakened to a realization of their true position. It says: "Most local people have an idea that New Brunswick has enough crooks of its own without having to harbor outside talent."

It is a source of pleasure to know that the congregation of the First M. E. Church has asked Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass to reconsider his resignation and to continue to dwell among us. It is a flattery testimonial to a Methodist minister to serve a big congregation for six years and in Dr. Snodgrass's case we see no reason why he should not hold the position for life. Certainly he is a great credit to the church.

Governor Murphy will name the successor of Robert S. Green, of Elizabeth, on the State Board of Assessors and James E. Martine, who has steadfastly fought tooth and nail for the Democratic party, is a candidate for the position which must be filled by a Democrat. As might be expected there's a whole flock of Democrats anxious to get the job, and the friends of Martine, will have to hustle to convince the Governor that the Plainfield is the right man for the place. Few men in New Jersey are so much abreast of the times in State affairs as is our conscientious, aggressive and able fellow townsman, "The farmer orator." For forty years the interests of the Democratic party he has considered his interests and during that time he has advocated its principles and its candidates' success without any reward. There is not a man in this city who can say aught against him and the Governor will win many friends among the Republicans here if he selects Martine for the place. At the same time he will have the satisfaction of knowing that he has discharged his duty most creditably.

What will be the slogans of the two great political parties next fall? That is the question upon which depends the future of this country to a great extent and it is causing much anxiety at present particularly among those wooing a presidential nomination. There is not so much uncertainty so far as the dominant party is concerned, the only matter of doubt being the position the Republican National convention will take as to the tariff. A strong element desires to bring about a marked revision of tariff duties, especially on goods made by the so-called "trusts." It is practically certain that Mr. Roosevelt's International policy will be enforced. In fact the party in power will "stand pat," as Mr. Hanna would put it, being seemingly convinced that under its administration the country has prospered to a marked degree. The Democrats do not seem to be as much worried over the planks of their platform as over the selection of a candidate to stand on it. The conservative element is taking more interest at present and will likely control the convention. The platform will be made to fit the man in any event and it is extremely probably that it will be constructed on conservative lines. This being the case, the populistic phrases which characterised the principles set forth in 1896 and 1900 will pass into history and bimetallism and government ownership will not play a part in the campaign. The foreign policy of the present administration and the "trusts" as well as the post-office scandals, will receive a full share of attention. It is also possible that the race question, if such it may be called, will come in for a share of attention. But it must be said that all is guess work at present for in politics "no man knoweth what the morrow will bring forth."

A prominent resident of Somerville was the centre of attraction on a New Jersey Central train yesterday, while he was on his way home. The man had imbibed too freely before leaving New York and when he boarded the train insisted on annoying other passengers, especially the women. One method used to do this was to get in the seat behind a woman and tickle her in the neck. This was continued until the passengers complained. The conductor finally put the man in the smoking car.

GOSSIP OF NEW YORK

The Place of Editor McKelway in Gotham Journalism.

THE REAL ESTATE CONDITIONS

What the Reorganization of the $60,000,000 Realty Trust Means—Too Many Hotels—The Return of the Kitchen.

New York.—St. Clair McKelway, editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, has been again brought into national prominence by the receipt of the letter in which Grover Cleveland declined to be a candidate for the presidential nomination.

Editor McKelway

More than any other man in New York McKelway fulfills the old-fashioned idea of the editor who is a personal power in public affairs. It is not age that gives him this position of authority, for he is yet in late middle life. It is something in the man's mental make-up which allies him to the personal editors of the past. People meeting each other in street cars say: "Let's see what the World says this morning." Or the Herald or Sun, as the case may be. At night going home in Brooklyn with a copy of the Eagle, it is: "'Let's see what McKelway has to say"—though McKelway himself may be at the moment far away. His name is a household word where those of Merrill, of the World, Hazeltine, of the Sun, Nicholson, of the Tribune, and others as powerful, are unknown.

Dr. McKelway is a master of Johnsonian ponderosity. He is a maker of phrases to match Mr. Cleveland's own. His style holds out a clutch for ridicule. When as editor of the Albany Argus he was the model for democratic editors throughout the state, jokers insisted that the party managers had to furnish diagrams before the men on the country weeklies could understand his editorials. The Sun, in a spirit of bitterness which has long passed from New York journalism, once referred to him as the "omnisciolistical princox that daubs dullness over the vast editorial page of the Brooklyn Eagle." The Eagle's editorial page is no longer vast; it was never dull.

The Making of an Editor.

Dr. McKelway is rather above medium height and ponderously framed. He is a man's man, a master of anecdote, allusion and illustration. Originally a rather halting and ineffective public orator, he has persevered in the art until he is easily Depew's rival in London as in New York as an after-dinner speaker. He lives in very modest style, as befits a Brooklyn editor, and his salary is probably exceeded in dimensions by those of 20 New York newspaper men of whom no one ever hears.

Monotonous Companionship.

Years ago McKelway was a sub-editor upon the Eagle, a paper which had employed men like Walt Whitman, Archie Gordon, "Tom" Kinsella, Kenward Philp, accused of being the author of the Morey letter, and other famous newspaper men. From the Eagle, a nursery of democratic editors, he was called to command the Albany Argus. Later he was called back to the Eagle to take command, Kinsella being dead. When Brooklyn became a part of New York, McKelway suddenly forged to the front, when already his hair was thin on top and grayish along the side, as the democratic nestor and adviser of statesmen. This is his simple life story.

The brilliant Watterson occupies in Louisville a position somewhat analogous to McKelway's in New York. Col. Alexander K. McClure did until recently occupy such a position in Philadelphia. Changes in ownership of the Times of that city changed McClure's outlook upon life. It is said that his recent appointment as prothonotary at a salary of $15,000 by Matt Quay was arranged because of these changes.

Another Philadelphia editor who long enjoyed a position as Mr. Cleveland's close friend and occasional mouthpiece upon public policy, Mr. Clarke Davis, of the Philadelphia Ledger.

The Triumph of the Kitchen.

The reorganization of the $60,000,000 realty trust contemplated by such substantial men as Messrs. Speyer, Stillman, Juillard, Olcott and Hyde has an interest far beyond New York.

Parker "Entertainment" Committee

It was a department of the realty trust, the Fuller Construction company, whose president, Judge McConnell, brought from Chicago the famous "grafting" walking delegate, Sam Parks, now in Sing Sing prison; this company for a long time enjoyed as one of its assets the reputation of never having any "trouble with the unions." Long after the disastrous strikes began last spring the Fuller company went on its way serenely. But the powerful stockholders were restive under criticism of the methods hinted at—plainly, it was alleged, that the Fuller company kept the walking delegates on its payroll—and when of late the Fuller company began getting its share of strikes, and when the Wall street "bears" waided the company's securities, organization was resolved upon.

Curiously, there is something else doing in local building. The promised millennium, the coming age when housework was to be abolished, when all families with money enough were to live in hotels, isn't coming. The kitchen triumphs.

Legally, every New York building which contains apartments with separate kitchens is a tenement house, no matter how fine and costly, and is limited in height by the street it faces, and in the area of the lot which it can cover. This, upon most streets, limits building to eight or nine stories for apartments for housekeeping. But these limits do not apply to hotels. Hence it has been a favorite speculation to combine two or three or four or more lots almost anywhere up-town and erect a family hotel thereon, with a great general restaurant, but no separate kitchens for the residents.

Hotel Business Overdone.

All at once it dawns upon the building fraternity that the hotel business is overdone. Costly apartments are vacant, thousands of them, while the humble "flat" with kitchen attached which is at once a trouble and an economy is in great demand. The millennium is put off for a year or two. Bridget's calling is not gone.

The Kitchen in the Air

This discovery is one cause of the slackening of the pace at which big buildings are erected. Owners of costly plots cannot build upon them profitably to a height of only eight or nine stories. They are hoping for such an amendment of the law as will permit them to erect ordinary flats in 20-story houses; if they get that modification you will hear no more for a time of the "startling drift toward the hotel" which has so worried the preachers for the past years. The preachers and moralists might have spared their disquiet. There never was any such tremendous drift, after all. With the builders and real estate agents, wish was father to thought.

City people are much like others, after all. Flat life, it has been proved, does not menace the home spirit. People live in flats because they have to. The hotel may be a different matter, for children at any rate. People seem to think so, from the latest returns. Meanwhile the scene of greatest building activitiy shifts to Brooklyn and the outskirts generally, where small houses and modest flat buildings of conventional type are going up faster than ever before.

As a trade pointer, this shift means more demand for lumber and ordinary building material, much less demand for structural steel.

A Daughter of Good Fortune.

The next great wedding in society will probably be that of Miss Florence Twombly and Mr. William A. M. Burden.

Captains of Industry

Miss Twombly is a "darling of the gods." At home she lives in a great palace in New Jersey, erected at a cost, with its surrounding 4,000 acres, of some $2,000,000. A Harvard graduate at a salary of $10,000 a year is the steward of this great estate. It is named "Florham" in compliment of the girls baptismal name.

In winter the Twomblys occupy for a short time one of the great brown stone packing boxes on Fifth avenue, which were the first "Vanderbilt houses" to arise upon that now much Vanderbilted thoroughfare. Mrs. Twombly was a Vanderbilt and drew the customary $10,000,000 which was given to each child of William H. Vanderbilt, except Cornelius and William K., who got each some $60,000,000. Twombly also was a wealthy man.

The Burdens are an older family than the Vanderbilts. Their considerable wealth is drawn from the great Burden iron works in Troy, about which the two branches of the family have for some time waged such a bitter quarrel. A very dear cousin of Miss Twombly, Miss Sloane, also a Vanderbilt grand-daughter, married James A. Burden, Jr., of the other branch of Burdens from William A. M. of the name. Perhaps the ties thus closer drawn may lead to reconciliation, and perhaps they may not.

The young bridegroom-expectant known nothing about iron making. He is a Wall street broker. Is that a fact significant? Would it be better if more of our young men knew about making things and fewer knew about selling and buying company shares?

Carnegie, you know, boasts that he "made steel, not securities."

OWEN LANGDON.

The Best of Reasons.

Dashaway (displaying handsome Christmas gift)—What do you think of that? That's for my doctor.

Cleverton—What is your idea in giving him a present.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

DOMESTIC WORK

Make It a Trade

THERE is one way to solve, at least partly, the vexed question of domestic help, and that is to make the social position of the kitchen girl a better one, so that intelligent American women can do housework without loss of self respect. There is one sure way also to do that, and it is to let the kitchen girl be graduated from a school of domestic science, as other girls are now graduated from schools of telegraphy, stenography and bookkeeping or from institutions where professional nurses are trained. Until the day of the nurse's training school her profession was not a profession at all, but a haphazard business given over to Sairy Gamps and Betsy Prigs, who stood very low indeed in the social scale. Now the smart, refined, trained nurse in her pretty, immaculately clean uniform is the social equal of any other professional person.

The like thing would undoubtedly happen in case of the girl who does domestic work if she took a course in a school of perfect housekeeping and at the end received a diploma certifying that she is a refined, intelligent woman who knows her business and will mind it. The disrepute into which domestic service has fallen is partly owing to the ignorance of those who do it. The raw, green girl who comes to us from the peasant class of other lands may have all the virtues of a perfect American housekeeper, but they are undeveloped. Many of these girls come from homes which have mud floors and know almost nothing, even of personal cleanliness.

These girls can secure work at good wages the moment they touch our shores, though quite ignorant of the tidy requirements of American housework. The abundance of employers makes them extremely independent and tends to develop alike impudence and slatternliness.

Suppose, now, American clubwomen should establish in each of the large cities of the Union a school for training in domestic work, confining its scope strictly to that. There would be courses in cookery, laundry work, chamber work and house cleaning. With modern improved domestic utensils, machines and implements household labor may be now made much easier than formerly it was. The first course in the model training school should be the inculcation of cleanliness as the foundation of all the rest. This probably would be the hardest course in which to train the housework student. At the end of the prescribed term of instruction, lasting, say, one to two years, there would go out from the school a young woman who would make of household work what the trained nurse has made of attendance on the sick.

Mrs. Russell Sage, whose head is packed full of good, hard common sense, is an advocate of as well as a worker for a school of domestic labor like that suggested. She is president of a board of women who purpose to start soon in New York city a training school for household workers. The ladies expect to connect with the institution an employment agency for their graduates and others. Mrs. Sage has made a study of domestic science and domestic help. She is freer from snobbery than most women with millions at their command would be, and she realizes perfectly that a kitchen girl is a human being with feelings, impulses and even prejudices much like those of the lady who employs her. Take domestic service out of the domain of rough labor and elevate it to the dignity of a trade, is the conclusion wise Mrs. Russell Sage has reached. To this end, under her lead, intelligent ladies, like herself, of the kind that do things, are working.

An association of ladies some years ago established a school of housework in Philadelphia which has done noble service in improving the domestic help of that city.

There is such a thing as aesthetic housework. The gentle Quaker women, the quiet Shaker sisters, with their exquisite housekeeping, have shown that. From even the artistic viewpoint there is something beautiful in a house shining clean and in order from top to bottom. The girl graduate of the housekeeping school will understand household sanitation and hygienic cookery. She will attain such dignity that she will be able to enjoy regular hours of labor and have some time for herself.

BEAUPRE AT COLON

Admiral Coghlan's Friendly Visit to Bolivar's Governor.

COLOMBIAN WARSHIP RUNS ASHORE

Naval Commander, Visiting Cartagena to Bring Our Minister to Colon, Is Received Without Any Display of Hostility.

COLON, Dec. 29.—Admiral Coghlan's flagship, the cruiser Olympia, has arrived here from Cartagena bringing A. M. Beaupre, United States minister to Colombia, and Mrs. Beaupre. When Minister and Mrs. Beaupre arrived at Cartagena from Bogota they at once boarded the Olympia, and she sailed immediately for Colon. Minister Beaupre sails for New York on the steamer Yucatan today.

The reception of the Olympia at Cartagena was friendly. The naval authorities here received instructions from Washington on Christmas day not to send the cruiser Atlanta, the converted cruiser Mayflower and the gunboat Castine to Cartagena with the Olympia, as previously projected.

The Olympia therefore sailed for Cartagena alone at daybreak and arrived off the Boca Chicha entrance to the big lagoon on which Cartagena is situated early in the morning. As the Olympia ran in toward the entrance she descried the Colombian cruiser Cartagena four miles distant, making every effort to reach the entrance and to pass into the lagoon ahead of the Olympia, which she succeeded in doing.

The Olympia steamed slowly to the tortuous entrance between two old Spanish forts, which were apparently deserted, and found that the Colombian cruiser had taken up a position a short distance inside, but commanding the entrance. It was learned subsequently that the Cartagena had grounded there and that later she was towed into port.

The Olympia passed the Colombian warship and proceeded to Cartagena, which is eight miles from the entrance.

Anchoring about a mile from the town, the Olympia hoisted the Colombian flag at her main and fired a salute of twenty-one guns. Shortly thereafter the Colombian battery at the edge of the town returned the salute.

Admiral Coghlan then sent a boat ashore to communicate with United States Consul Orr, but it was learned that Mr. Orr had left Cartagena about a fortnight ago for Barranquilla. The British vice consul at Cartagena, who is a very sick man and is hardly expected to live, had undertaken to look after United States interests pending the arrival of Mr. Orr's successor.

Admiral Coghlan then arranged to pay an official visit to Dr. Jose Insignares, the governor of Bolivar, which he did in the afternoon, accompanied by Captain Harrison G. O. Colby. Both officers were in full dress uniform.

A big crowd gathered at the docks to meet Admiral Coghlan and Captain Colby, and it silently followed the carriage containing the officers through the streets to the palace, where another big crowd had assembled.

Governor Insignares, surrounded by a large number of secretaries and aids, received Admiral Coghlan in the large saloon of the palace, to which the populace was admitted. The latter, however, were separated from the dignitaries by a railing.

Admiral Coghlan and Governor Insignares exchanged the regulation formalities, the crowd listening attentively. The governor said he would return the visit immediately, whereupon Admiral Coghlan and his party returned to the Olympia.

The officers were in no way molested or annoyed by the crowd, which followed them closely all the time. Neither by words nor looks did the populace display any hostility. The Colombian battery fired a rear admiral's salute as Admiral Coghlan pulled off for the Olympia.

In the afternoon Governor Insignares, accompanied by a numerous retinue, boarded the Olympia for the return visit and remained for some time before the Olympia sailed for Colon.

On the governor and his retinue disembarking the Olympia fired a governor's salute of seventeen guns and immediately thereafter hoisted anchor and steamed out of the lagoon.

While Admiral Coghlan and other Americans were treated civilly and courteously, and, while their visit was not marked by the slightest unpleasant or untoward incident, it was evident that the authorities at Cartagena were not glad to see the Olympia and were very glad when she took her departure. Admiral Coghlan was careful to leave at the soonest possible moment, evidently remembering the absolute loyalty of the department of Bolivar to the Bogota government.

It is expected that the Bogota government had spies in Cartagena who were carefully watching out for any evidence of disloyalty since the Cartagenan authorities evidently desired to avoid all unnecessary friendliness with the Americans. Governor Insignares kept himself surrounded by his staff of secretaries during his interviews with Admiral Coghlan in order no doubt to have witnesses to prove that he was no more friendly than the circumstances required.

No political references were made during the interviews except by the chief of the Cartagena customs, who while aboard the Olympia proposed with great earnestness a toast to the continuance of the friendly relations between the United States and Colombia.

Comparatively little information as to the general situation could be gained at Cartagena. There are probably 3,500 troops there, and there are reported to be 5,000 at Barranquilla. The government is doubtless slowly concentrating troops at Barranquilla and moving them toward Titumati in small numbers. There are probably 1,200 Colombians at Titumati and vicinity now, and this number is gradually being increased.

Minister Beaupre had a good trip down the Magdalena river and was greatly gratified to find the Olympia at Cartagena on his arrival. The Bogotan authorities extended every courtesy to the minister, who left Bogota in a special train and was carried down the river on a special steamer. He made the trip from Bogota to Cartagena in seven days.

Minister Beaupre emphatically declined to talk of the political conditions.

Mr. Beaupre is going home on a leave of absence which has long been deferred. He said he thought that any trouble between the United States and Colombia was improbable and that the Americans in Colombia, of whom there were very few, there being only about ten in Bogota and some prospectors in Antioquia and other places, were in no danger of molestation.

General Rafael Reyes has been bitterly criticised at Bogota for having invited the Panamanian commissioners to breakfast when here aboard the Canada. The general's action in this matter is considered undignified and a sign of weakness.

General Reyes' continued absence at Washington is resulting in a certain slight weakening of his influence and prestige.

It can safely be said that the influence of time and a calmer consideration of the situation is bringing about, though slowly, a greater readiness on the part of Colombia to accept the inevitable and to get all she possibly can from the republic of Panama by diplomatic means.

AT ST. PETERSBURG.

Consensus of Opinion Is That the Czar Desires Peace.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Latest dispatches from St. Petersburg state that the consensus of unofficial opinion among those who are associated with the government is that the czar is so peacefully disposed that he will make such concessions to Japan as are necessary to prevent war, provided that no unforeseen events force the hands of the governments concerned.

Great Britain's forward movement at this time excites both the admiration and rage of the Russian diplomats, the former for the clever political move, the latter because Russia is so preoccupied in the far east that she is unable to prevent Great Britain from creating her own Manchuria in the Yangtse provinces. It is pointed out here that the present situation affords Great Britain the same opportunity as actual war between Russia and any third power.

Lumber Mill Plant Destroyed.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 29.—Fire has destroyed the planing mill and the entire stock of dressed lumber at the Camp Manufacturing company's big plant at Franklin, Va. The planing mill was one of the largest of the company's buildings, and flames spread from it and communicated to the lumber piled in the yard. Two million feet of dressed lumber were consumed.

Jealousy Caused Two Deaths.

SARNIA, Ont., Dec. 29. — Joseph Boyd, employed as a trackwalker in the St. Clair tunnel, has shot and killed his wife in their home here in the presence of their three little children and then killed himself with the same revolver. The bullets caused instant death in both cases. It is said that jealousy had caused some domestic trouble in the Boyd family.

DEFIED THE SOLDIERS.

Attorney Glover Had to Be Shot Before Being Captured.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Dec. 29.—Excitement has been occasioned here by the action of Attorney John M. Glover, formerly a congressman from Missouri, in defying the military, barricading himself in his office and only surrendering after receiving a bullet wound in the arm.

Colonel Verdickberg, commanding the militia, has received a letter from Mr. Glover denying the legality of the recent order for the surrender of arms by citizens.

In his letter Glover referred to Governor Peabody as "a cheap anarchist." He declared that he had two revolvers in his office and defied the military to take them from him.

Colonel Verdickberg at once dispatched Major Naylor with a squad to capture the attorney and his weapons. The lawyer's office was found barricaded, and Glover appeared with a revolver, declaring that he would shoot the first man who attempted to break down the door. The place was surrounded by troops, and orders were given to shoot the man if he appeared with a revolver again.

When Glover appeared several shots were exchanged, and he was wounded in the arm, after which he was easily overpowered.

The Plainfield Trust Company

At this, the close of our first calendar year, we think it an opportune time to make public a brief statement of what has been accomplished by this Company in the eighteen months of its existence.

It has been its fixed policy to allow depositors to share liberally in its earnings. To that end three per cent. interest has been paid on both savings and checking accounts.

The accompanying comparative statement of deposits, showing the rapid increase of the Company's business since its inception, may, we think, be taken as a fair indication of a satisfactorily rendered service, and an appreciation of progressive banking methods.

XMAS OBSERVED BY THE SCHOOLS

Great Festivals in a Number of Local Churches Attract the Young and Old.

VARIOUS PROGRAMMES

The Anniversary of Christ's Birth Celebrated in Regal Style—Presents for the Young — Recitations, Songs and Stories Given by the Pupils—The Details.

First Baptist.

The little folks of the First Baptist church Sunday-school had a jolly good time at their annual Christmas entertainment held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. Mrs. J. A. Powlison, superintendent of this department, assisted by several teachers, was in charge. The room was appropriately decorated, while a Christmas tree was the centre of attraction.

The programme opened with Scripture reading by Mrs. Dudley S. Miller, a prayer and the singing of Luther's Cradle Hymn. This was followed with a welcome address by Herbert Rittenhouse and a song and recitations by Emilie Compton, Florence Neal, Ralph Smalley, Lawrence French, Elmer French, Lester Chandler, Junior VanDeventer and Bessie Carson. Ethel Marie Runyon and Bessie Case were received as new members. Announcement was made of the birthdays of Mary Buchanan, Loraine Dunn and Mabel Douglass. Each pupil present received presents, consisting of books, games and dolls, while the older persons were served with tea and wafers.

Last night the entertainment for the older members of the Sunday-school as well as the church, attracted a large audience. L. H. Biglow, Jr., was the chairman of the Christmas entertainment committee. Joseph Lorain appeared in a series of imitations principally on the banjo and xylophone, as well as imitations of the phonograph, automobile and mosquitoes. Miss Edith Cline Ford gave a number of recitations, imitating birds and her impersonation of child life as well as other characters. Joe Mackay, "the human violin," and vocal mimic, who claims to be the only person giving the imitation of violin playing so near the real thing, that many were deceived. He related many humorous stores. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Edith Cairns. At the close of the entertainment there was a novel feature. Bonbons were generously shot out of a small cannon into the audience, causing a wild scramble among both young and old for the confection.

Trinity Reformed.

The children of the primary department of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school were made happy with Christmas gifts and a Christmas celebration yesterday afternoon in the Sunday-school room. Those in the primary department received games and the children on the cradle roll were given boxes of blocks. Songs and recitations were rendered by Helen Wooley, Edith Richards, Margaret Vandeventer, Blanche Derry, Gertrude Schleif and Edna Oliver. The entertainment was under the general charge of the superintendent of the primary department, Mrs. J. M. Tier, and the corps of teachers acted as a committee and served refreshments.

The Sunday-school room was crowded to the doors in the evening for the annual entertainment of the main department of the Sunday-school. A delightful programme was rendered. C. Southard Thompson, of Elisabeth, for a long time a resident of this city, was the chief entertainer. He is known as the "handkerchief king" and does things with handkerchiefs, making them appear and disappear in unaccountable places, that certainly give him the right to the title. He was loudly applauded for his clever work in this and other sleight-of-hand performances.

Other numbers on the programme were humorous selections and songs by J. F. Dillon, musical selections by Paul Cohen and soprano solos by Miss Dorothy Halstead. Miss Halstead and Mr. Dillon, in a clever comedy sketch on the troubles of a newly married couple, kept the room in laughter.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, Miss Mabel Wilson, Mrs. F. E. Woodruff, Mrs. L. R. Schofield, Edgar Sheppard, H. J. Martin and H. W. Marshall.

At the close of the entertainment gifts were distributed to the members of the school.

First M. E.

The primary department of the First M. E. church Sunday-school had a good time yesterday afternoon in Vincent chapel, a Christmas entertainment being provided for the little tots. The affair was a simple, but enjoyable one, consisting of recitations by Dorothy Lynn, Jubilee Rowley, Chauncey Stewart, Edward Crone, Helen Derby and Helen Carson.

A Christmas tree, attractively decorated with holiday gifts for the children, was arranged in one of the class rooms and after the programme these gifts were distributed to the delight of the pupils. A feature thoroughly enjoyed was the serving of ice cream and cake. The entertainment was concluded with the playing of games. These women were in charge of the affair: Mrs. Arthur Crone, Mrs. Thomas McDonald, Miss Edna French, the Misses Snodgrass, Mrs. William Symons and Miss Elsie Horne.

Crescent Avenue.

The children of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, in a spirit of making Christmas a merry time for those little children in this city who are less fortunate, brought with them to the Yuletide exercises in the Sunday-school room of the church yesterday afternoon a quantity of wearing apparel and food for the children in the Industrial Home in this city. The gifts will fill a barrel and will be sent to the home today. The children at the afternoon entertainment were treated to a moving picture exhibition. These were most entertaining to the little folks. Later in the afternoon ice cream and cake were served. The older members of the Sabbath-school were entertained by the biograph pictures at night. Christmas greens formed the principal decorations. Those in charge of the programme were Miss Piersin, Mrs. Roger Murray and Miss Bowen. A feaure of both the afternoon and evening entertainments was the singing of Christmas carols by the members of the school.

Holy Cross.

The Christmas entertainment at the Church of the Holy Cross, in the borough, was conducted last night on an elaborate scale. The children were treated to the novel sight of seeing a real live Santa Claus climb down a chimney and received gifts from his hands.

Forming in the parish house, the choir agumented by the members of the Sunday-school, sang a processional to the church, where, for a half hour devotional and praise services were held. Christmas carols were sung and the rector, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey, made a short address to the younger members. After the services in the church the vested choir and Sunday-school pupils returned to the parish house, singing carols on the way, where they were introduced to Santa. Santa appeared in the person of William Westphal. The part was carried well.

The arrangements were in charge of the teachers of the Sunday-school. They spent most of the afternoon in arranging the place with Christmas greens and Yuletide blossoms. In charge were Mrs. William A. Westphal, Miss Faber, Mrs. Bradley Hall, Miss Rita Pond, Bradley Hall and the rector, Rev. W. Montgomery Downey.

Park Avenue Baptist.

The members and friends of the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school were entertained last night by the annual Christmas tree celebration. All the seats in the Sunday-school room were occupied. The entertainment began with selections by the Mandolin and Banjo Club of the High School, under the leadership of Chester Briggs. Some mystifying sleight-of-hand tricks by Mr. —— Doane provided amusement, and Chester Briggs was heartily applauded for some finely played mandolin solos. Henry Hall's phonographic selections were particularly good. A selection by the Mandolin and Banjo Club concluded the programme.

Gifts of dolls and toys were distributed by the committee to the children in the primary department and boxes of candy to all the members of the school. The committee consisted of Miss Florence Hawkins, chairman; Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Miss Delia Runyon and Mrs. W. S. Lowry.

Monroe Avenue M. E.

Readings on the birth and childhood of Christ illustrated by stereopticon views were the feature of the entertainment of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church Sunday-school last night. A series of humorous pictures was also presented. Weston Gavett and Fred Phillips had charge of the stereopticon. The music included several carols, singing by the primary department and a solo by Miss May Pound. The entertainment was in charge of Walter M. McGee, superintendent of the Sunday-school.

Hope Chapel.

A most successful Christmas entertainment was held by the Hope chapel Sunday-school last night. The programme consisted of an address by Henry C. Squiers, superintendent; the singing of Christmas carols by the school; the presentation of stereopticon views and moving pictures, and recitations by Elmer DeHart and Miss Mabel Hunter. The singing was led by Ira W. Travell. Gifts of candy and oranges were distributed to all the members of the Sunday-school and the children of the primary department were remembered with dolls and other toys. The committee in charge was composed of I. W. Travell, chairman; John H. Cose, George E. Firstbrook, Benjamin Evans and Charles Vincent.

Grace M. E.

"A Christmas Eve Adventure" was the title of a clever four-act play produced last night in the Sunday-school rooms of the Grace M. E. church. In the case were Miss Ada VanHorn, Sheppardess; Miss Adelaide Marsh, Fairy Queen; Misses Jennie and Alice DeMott, flower girls; Miss Edna Sebring, Miss Kipsey and Miss Margaret Darby, fairies. Others in the cast were Benjamin Schuck, Russell Harden, Raymond Stevens, Russell Conroy, Miss Anna Hoagland and Miss Bertha Simpson. All those in the cast were attired in brilliant costumes.

The committee in charge of the arrangements were Miss Della Voehl, Miss Minnie Marsh, Rev. Dr. Edwin L. Earp, Benjamin Schuck, Mrs. Giddis and the superintendent of the school, John Valiant.

In the afternoon the little children of the school took part in a Christmas entertainment which was a great success. The little ones sang carols and took part in motion songs. The committee in charge of this part of the programme was Miss Belle Lunger and Miss Winifred Carroll.

Bethel Chapel.

One of the most cheerful places in the city last night was Bethel chapel where Christmas exercises were held. The church was decorated artistically with greens, ferns and Yuletide blossoms and each person present received a gift. The committee in charge of the exercises consisted of Miss Ophelia Dorsey, Miss Clara Lane, Miss Anna Brodnax aond Benjamin Sutton. These had charge of the refreshments of ice cream and cake. The presents were given out by the superintendent, Stephen A. Ginna, and the pastor, Rev. F. D. Tilden. Christmas carols were sung by the Sunday-school scholars and Miss Gussie Wray.

First Presbyterian.

The Christmas entertainment yesterday afternoon in the Sunday-school room of the First Presbyterian church closed with a cob-web social. At the end of the various strings the members of the Sabbath-school found their gifts.

Exercises and recitations were given by Elston Hoagland, Tullia Alcord, Marielle Dunham, Ethel Naylor, Margaret Hutchinson, Ethel Neill, Francis Cadwell, Craig Blair, Lucille Ewart, Marguerite Woolston, Harold Phifer, James Buckle, Iola Schenck, Constana Hutchinson and Marion Wean.

In "The Awakening of Santa Claus," these took part: Santa Claus, John S. Johnston; Mrs. Santa Claus, Miss Julia Williams; star fairies, Tullia Alcord, Marielle Dunham and Ethel Naylor; old man, in search of the North Pole, Ray Boice; his wife, Galdys Edsall; polar bear, Charles Burns; mother goose, Beatrice Bedford; boy blue, Lucile Ewart; Jack, Craig Blair; Jill, Margarite Currin; Mother Hubbard, Francis Cadwell; imps, James Buckle, Horace Adams, Harold Phifer and Elston Hoagland.

The Santa Claus at the First Presbyterian church even remembered the members of the cradle roll. Each tot received a scrap book. Photographs of all the members of these wee associate members of the Sunday-school were displayed. The committee in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment was Miss Jessie Praden, Miss Josephine Morrison, Miss Linda Morrison, Mrs. George Ballantyne, Miss Clara Dunham and Mrs. Edgar W. Williams.

East Third Stret Chapel.

Both old and young had a good time at the Christmas entertainment at the East Tibrd Street chapel, last night, when a varied programme was presented. Joseph Lorain, who afterward entertained at the First Baptist church entertained, assisted other talent in giving his clever imitations and playing on the banjo, while Rosano, a juggler, kept all in perfect wonderment as he performed his various tricks.

Fred VanEps received a great ovation when he rendered a number of his best selections on the banjo, while soprano solos by Miss Florence Bennett, recitations by Miss Hazel Grant and cornet solos by DeWitt Frasee were fully enjoyed, as were also vocal duets by Miss Nettie Young, and Miss Freda Gray, a violin solo by Harold Welsh, accompanied by Mrs. G. W. Sauma. There were several carols by the primary department, led by Miss Christine Vibrock.

After the entertainment there was the presentation of several gifts, including a Morris chair to Rev. George Bowers, who has labored faithfully at the chapel, and a handsome hall chair to L. W. Randolph, the superintendent of the chapel. Mr. Randolph presented the Morris chair, while U. B. Crane presented the hall chair on behalf of the Sunday-school. Rev. J. Lester Leggett, who enters upon his work at the chapel January 1 was present and was introduced to the members and friends.

This committee was in charge: L. W. Randolph, U. B. Crane, Edward Baker, Frank Stewart, Webster Grant, Miss Lillie Titus, Miss Lizzie Frank, Miss Pittinger, Mrs. John Mackey, the Misses Mackey, Miss Deborah Winn and Miss Christine Vibrock. All of the members of the school received appropriate gifts.

Seventh-Day Baptist.

"Santa Claus' Defenders," was the name of a Christmas cantata given at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, last night under the auspices of the Sabbath-school. Various pupils of the school, together with a chorus composed of the little folks in the primary department gave the cantata. These folks heard that there was a scheme on foot to do away with Santa and they rally to the support of the patron saint.

The chief characters included "Mr. Discontent," Charles P. Titsworth; "Santa Claus," Charles Neagle; "Grimmy," Roy Titsworth; "Old Women," Mrs. J. G. Miller, Miss Nan Randolph, Mrs. C. H. Dunham, Dr. Martha Stillman and Mrs. G. E. Stillman; "Goodwill," Helen Rogers; "Peace," Ethel Rogers; "Love," Helen Ford; "Fairy Sylph," Nellie Williams; magic dells, Hannah Shaw, Dorothy Hubbard, Jessie Jones and Evaloise St. John; "Harry," Alfred Manley; "Herman," Robert Mitchell; "Amos," Phillip Mosher; "Baker," Boardman Mosher; "Nita," Violet Jones, while Miss Cornelia impersonated the characters of "Maggie," a street waif, and "Amelia," singing two soprano solos in each impersonation. Mrs. W. C. Hubbard was the accompanist.

After the entertainment Santa Claus distributed gifts. The entertainment was in charge of Miss Ernestine C. Smith, chairman; Miss Myra Clark and Mrs. Nathan E. Lewis. This was the refreshment committee: Mrs. G. H. Babcock, Mrs. C. L. Ford, Mrs. I. N. West, Mrs. W. H. Satterlee and Mrs. J. G. Miller. Miss Ida Spicer purchased the presents and C. L. Ford's Bible class took charge of the decorations.

Each person attending brought either an apple or potato and these will be distributed today among poor families in the city.

Grace Church.

The Christmas festival of the Sunday-school of Grace church, held in the parish house, last night, differed from those held in previous years. There was no tree and the entertainment was provided by a professional prestidigitateur, who bewildered both old and young. The other part of the entertianment cotisisted of mandolin and banjo selections by four men who belong to the colored mission of the church.

The pupils of the school received gifts of candy, but other more substantial gifts were brought to the church a week ago Sunday. These were sent to the Mission House at Trenton to be distributed among the poor of the diocese.

These persons composed the committee in charge of the affair: Mrs. W. H. Stirling, Mrs. J. P. Taylor, Miss Florence Tweedy, Miss Rodman and Harry Finch, Howard Fleming and J. E. Erickson.

Heart Party New Year's.

J. Dunbar Wright's Description of Enchanting Country Including Yellowstone Park.

AT THE PARK CLUB

LECTURE ON AMERICAN'S WONDERLAND FINELY ILLUSTRATED.

The Grandeur of Nature as Seen Through a Car Window—Talk Given for the Benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital.

Through the unique scenery of the Yellowstone Park and among the grand peaks and passes of the Canadian rockies, J. Dunbar Wright, conducted the enthusiastic party of Plainfielders, who, last night, attended his lecture at the Park Club house. The lecture was an account of a trip actually taken by the speaker through the wonderful county he described, and the fine photographs which illustrated it were the work of his own camera.

In beginning his account of the Yellowstone, Mr. Wright exhibited a map, showing the location of the various points of interest in the Park, and the route taken by the coaches which traverse it, the trip usually being made in five days.

Pictures of the hotels at the stopping places were shown, Mr. Wright making humorous comments on the accommodations to be found at each. The comfortable coaches, each with its quartette of strong and well-kept horses, were shown in many situations along the route, travelling the almost perfect roads of the Park, some of which are a triumph of engineering skill over nature's obstacles.

The speaker gave a vivid description of the scenes in this wonderland of America; the marvellous many shaped and brilliantly colored formations of limestone and silicate, the boiling springs, strange hot water or mud geysers, with their periodical erruption, the weird Fire-Hole river, and the grand canyon, in the rushing waters at the bottom of which Mr. Wright caught the finest brook trout of his experience.

The second part of the lecture was devoted to the trip through the Canadian Rockies by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The photographs were taken, in part, from the car window. Views of sublime peaks, deep gorges, dashing cataracts and rivers of ice followed in rapid succession. Others pictured Mr. Wright experiences in climbing mountains and glaciers, where, as he remarked, one could slide down, in five minutes, the slope he had taken five hours to climb.

The lecture was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mr. Wright's style was simple, entertaining, and humorous, while his photographs were remarkably clear and illustrative, and in many cases had been colored so as to bring out in an excellent manner the striking hues to be seen in the Yellowstone scenery.

The last views of the series were not exhibited, as unfortunately the gas in the stereopticon suddenly gave out. Mr. Wright, however, added that his had nearly given out also, so the gathering broke up amid much laughter.

The lecture, which was well attended, was given for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. The name of Wright is no new one in effort in behalf of the hospital, as it was the father of last night's speaker who was instrumental in the building of the new operating pavilion.

FATAL FRACTURE OF SKULL.

James B. and Robert Guttridge Hear of Their Father's Death.

Word has been received by James B. and Robert Guttridge, of South avenue, of the particulars concerning the death of their father, Robert Guttridge, which occurred at his home in Snettisham, County of Norfolk, England, December 16. He was out riding and he stopped his horse to button his coat, it being a very cold day. A horse he was driving gave a sudden start and threw Mr. Guttridge out of a wagon, fracturing his skull and caused death. Mr. Guttridge was in the sixty-ninth year of his age.

STRANDED THESPIAN ARRESTED

CLIFFORD MENUEZ, AN ACTOR, SEARCHING FOR HIS WIFE, WHO IS AN ACTRESS.

Clifford Menuez, a broken down actor, was stranded in this city yesterday, and was taken to police headquarters by Patrolman Overbaugh because it was said he had been acting suspiciously at the North avenue railroad station. He was given a night's lodging at the station and told to leave town this morning.

Menuez stated that he had come here from Boston over the Joy line to New York city, looking for his wife, who, he said, had been playing with a company at the Central theatre. He claimed that his home was in Chillicothie, Ohio, and that he had telegraphed to a brother in that place who had promised to send him money.

It was thought at the North avenue station that someone had been tampering with the lock of the ticket office, but there was nothing to show that Menuez had been guilty of this.

THIRD WARD MAKES PROTEST

Representative Men From All Walks of Life Petition Mayor Not to Remove Mr. Hubbard.

TAXPAYERS INDIGNANT

The Present Incumbent Has Served Faithfully for 37 Years—Majority of Property Owners Remonstrate Against Practical Politics Being Introduced—The Petition.

Mayor Jenkins has received a petition from the residents and property owners of the Third ward urging the re-appointment of Joseph A. Hubbard as assessor from that ward.

Men from all walks of life, irrespective of party affiliation, have united in an expression of confidence in, and fitness for, this important office. They represent a majority both of the taxable property and voters in the ward.

The list also includes all the Commissioners of Appeal and a majority of the Third ward Republican City Committee.

Another petition and indorsement from members of the Union County Board of Assessors has also been presented. For many years Mr. Hubbard has been continuously identified with this office, and he has done much to equalize taxation throughout the county. The city has had no more conscientious public servant.

Why not re-appoint him? Who is urging a change, and why?

These are questions the petitioners of the Third ward wish answered.

The Daily Press which first protested against the proposed change herewith reproduces the petition:

Plainfield, N. J., Dec. 30, 1903.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

A. Kane, of Fillmore avenue, can supply you with second hand lumber, doors, window frames, etc., at the most reasonable rates.

To have you electric wiring done properly state your case to John H. McCullough, of Steiner place. He will do the work promptly and thoroughly.

If you are satisfied with your present meat dealer, don't change. If you are not satisfied, buy of J. W. VanSickle, North avenue, and you will never change.

You can't be too careful where you take your prescriptions for compounding. You can rest content if you take them to C. M. Nagle's pharmacy on West Front street.

Fine country sausages, potato salad, Saratoga chips, fruit and vegetables are only a few of the delicious things sold at R. W. Barnes' on Park avenue. Trade at Barnes' because his stock is fresh.

Clocks, jewelry, watches, diamonds, and, in fact, everything that can be found in a first class jewelry store is kept in stock at Carl Silbert's store on Somerset street, just below West Front street.

The Lindsay dairy on Mountain avenue sends out nothing but the best milk. You can rely upon its purity and that is most important when you consider what an essential article of diet milk is.

There is a great deal of satisfaction in patronizing a barber shop that is strictly up-to-date and sanitary in every particular. Such a place is conducted by E. B. Maynard, of North avenue. Every patron is a pleased one.

If you have not yet made your selection of wall papers for your home, call at the New York Painting and Decorating Company's store on Park avenue. There you will find a large assortment of the latest patterns and the prices are reasonable. This company also contracts for first-class painting, all work being guaranteed.

One does not always want to negotiate a loan from a friend and that is one reason why the New Jersey Loan Company, of Newark, has been so successful. You can secure a loan from this company, giving your furniture and household effects as security. At the same time you have the use of your goods. See the company's advertisement in another part of The Press.

AMUSEMENTS.

Santa Claus is on the stage during the last act of "Babes in Toyland," at the Majestic Theatre, at all the extra holiday matinees, with various and sundry packages and parcels of presents for the children in the matinee audiences. Out-of-town and local patrons have signified their intention of bringing the children to see the beautiful extravaganza and thank Manager Flaherty for keeping open house during a season when there is a slump in commerce and busy men have an opportunity of being amused. New features in the production make the season a gala one for both the company and the old and new patrons.

The first week of the year will be marked at Keith's by the presentation of one of the best vaudeville bills of the season. There is no one particular cat or acts that stand out above and beyond all others for all around merit, the bill could not be improved upon. As in all of the programmes as arranged for the Union Square Theatre there will be several novelties, the soul of variety. Some of these have been brought from Europe at great expense, while others are the results of the fertile brains of native performers. Few bills contain the names of more artists in their various lines who are entitled to be called headliners.

Charles Richman and his fine supporting company at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, in Victor Mapes' romantic drama of the Revolution, "Captain Barrington," continues as one of the most potent dramatic attractions in the metropolis. This play has been accepted by press and public as the most stirring, pleasing and picturesque drama of the Revolutionary period yet presented. It has all the fascination of a spirited story of that vital period, filled as it is with action and color, while its love story is one of the most delighting imaginable, and its comedy is rich and amusing. Among the distinguished military personages who witnessed and applauded "Captain Barrington" at the Manhattan last week were General Nelson Miles and General Corbin, Commander of the Department of the East of the United States Army.

—Charles Barber, of West Fourth street, who escaped from Muhlenberg Hospital, Sunday night while in a delirious state of mind, and who returned to his home, will be left there for the present, or until such time as the physicians decide upon the best course to be taken in the case.

Lakewood As a Home.

There is and has ever been a power of attraction about the homely old word, home. It is spoken with fixed and full content by those who have gained the right; with wistful longing by other who are wanderers and birds of passage. For so small a grouping of common letters, the little word includes more than any other, carrying a sense of safety and responsibility; association and freedom; rest and possession—to all, without class distinction.

Nothing so certainly fixes the stamp of safety upon the growth of Lakewood as the fact that each season finds the place more and more a home resort. The view of such progress is satisfactory because it implies and proves the presence here of the best of conditions. Men of affairs do not, upon haphazard impulse, invest in land and expensive houses and furnishings; they do not bring their families for a stay of months to any location on chance, but because after observation and tests they have found certain advantages to commend a given point.

What are such advantages, with reference to Lakewood?

With its healthfulness, sports, and other attractions elsewhere mentioned, the accessibility of the place from great business centers is an undoubtedly strong argument among busy men; the fact that private and public schools of the first class are being constantly improved also carries weight to the parents of delicate children, while the churches and the library of the village count as factors of avdantages among those who would live among conditions of health, moral and mental as well as physical.

Vanity Fair was famous for its gayety, but yet a poor place for homes, and that each year new and attractive homes are here established is to the credit of Lakewood, as well as a recognition of her manifold merits.

Booklet 341 issued by the New Jersey Central, General Passenger Department, Central Building, New York City, contains pictures and information on Lakewood worth reading. Send for it, it's free.

ROOT TO ACT FOR HAY

Secretary of War Will Negotiate With General Reyes.

CABINET CONSIDERS COLOMBIAN NOTE

Ratification of Treaty With Panama Must Be the First Step--Reyes Will Remain at the Capital Awaiting a Reply.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—At a meeting of the cabinet called by the president the Panama situation was the principal subject under consideration. All members of the cabinet except Secretary Hay, who is ill; Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Knox, who are out of the city, were present. The meeting was one of the longest held for several weeks, the session consuming quite two hours.

Secretary Root was delayed nearly half an hour in his arrival at the meeting, having been in conference with General Reyes, the special representative of Colombia. This circumstance caused it to transpire that during the illness of Secretary Hay Secretary Root has been designated by the president to conduct the negotiations of this government with General Reyes.

Secretary Root laid before the president the details of his interview with the Colombian minister. Careful consideration was given to the Colombian note filed with the state department by General Reyes, but it can be said that no answer has yet been made to it. The note was submitted by the Colombian minister in Spanish. Some delay was encountered in the translation of the document, but finally the translation was laid before the president and Secretary Root for consideration.

Secretary Root informed General Reyes that the reply of this government was not ready, but that it would be given him as soon as possible. Secretary Root will give the response to General Reyes when a decision as to its precise nature shall have been reached.

No intimation of the contents of General Reyes' note or of the reply of this government is given from any authoritative source. It is known, however, that the administration regards the ratification of the treaty with the republic of Panama as the first step to be taken in the entire pending matter.

General Reyes has not indicated to Secretary Root what his intentions are regarding his future movements. It is presumed he will remain in Washington at least until the reply of the United States to his note shall have been presented, but so far as can be ascertained nothing definite is known as to his intentions.

Xavian Brothers' School Burned.

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 30.—The industrial building of Mount St. Joseph's School For Boys at Millbury, conducted by the Xavian Brothers of the Roman Catholic church, was destroyed by fire which started from a defective chimney. The loss on building and contents, including a printing office, wire working department and shoe shop, is $7,500. A winter's supply of vegetables, which the sixty-five boys dug from the farm of 150 acres, was lost.

He pretended to be violently ill, but when examined by two physicians, who reported that he was shamming illness, he dressed and walked to the jail.

NO DEADHEADS ON TROLLEY

P. S. C. TO DISCONTINUE PASSES NO ITS LINES AFTER JANUARY 1.

All free passes on the lines of the Public Service Corporation expire with the end of the year and conductors will be instructed not to honor the "blue tickets" after December 31. President McCarter says that he and everybody else will pay fare from January 1, thereafter to the end of time, and that those who have books will have to use up their tickets before that date to get the good after. City, county and State officials generally expect free rides. Police officials and detectives nearly all carry the blue tickets. The employes of the Street Car Advertising Company and the officials and office employes of the street railroads have them as a matter of right or would charge back their fares to the company. Altogether there are nearly 400 coupon books issued in Newark alone and even more in Hudson county, besides the Passaic and Union county books.

The Daily Press has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Plainfield.—Printers' Ink.

Having before him the petition of the citizens of the Third ward, which protests against the removal of Joseph A. Hubbard as a member of the local Board of Assessors it is the plain duty of Mayor Jenkins to obey the wishes of the taxpayers and make no change in the assessorship. We invite our readers to scan the list of signers, which will be found in another column, for it shows that the protest first made by The Daily Press is supported by representative men from every walk in life and including the majority of taxpayers in the ward. Joseph A. Hubbard is a good citizen and a fine public servant. He has served the people as an assessor for thirty-seven years and there is no reason to suspect that after so long a term he will not be true to his duty. There has been no complaint made of the manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office and those who seek to have him removed have failed to assign any reason for their attitude in the matter.

Mr. Mayor, we are confident that you will govern yourself in this matter as you have in all public affairs entrusted to you.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Blackmailing Scheme?

Editor, The Daily Press:

Has Plainfield degenerated into a community controlled by "blackmail?" I cite the proposed purchase of the Darling property in Netherwood for a colored headquarters, or homes; and the erection of shanties by Italians on Hillside avenue in the midst of fine residences. Is it not dangerous to own property in your city? A spirit of blackmail seems to pervade your atmosphere. Am I right?

A few of the things Scotch Plains wishes for the year of 1904: A number of new houses that will rent for from $10 to $15 per month, city water in the cross town streets, a new school house for the school children in the lower end of the township, an increased appropriation for police, a home of its own for the public library. These are only a few of the wants, but the most needed ones.

CAMP BOWSER GIVES DANCE

GRADUATES OF LEHIGH UNIVERSITY ENJOY AN EVENING AT THE CASINO.

The members of "Camp Bowser" held forth at the Casino last night in one of the most successful dances of the season. It was attended by about two hundred people, many of whom were from out of town. The big hall was decorated with Christmas greens tied in place with wide red ribbons. In each alcove in the ball room were college insignas and banners of Lehigh University. The lamp shades were covered with red tissue paper and the whole effect was most pleasing.

It was the annual winter dance of the camp members. The patronesses were Mrs. Charles Brooks, Mrs. L. H. Biglow, Jr., Mrs. James Blake, Mrs. Charles T. Abbott, Mrs. Clifford Mc Gee, Mrs. W. A. Pinto, Mrs. E. B. Day and Mrs. W. T. Kaufman. The committee in charge of the dance was Edward Overton, DeWitt Brokaw and Harold Dolner. The refreshments served at midnight were elaborately arranged and were accompanied by musical selections by Pond's orchestra, of New York, who also furnished the dance music.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

ACCESSORIES OF FASHION.
Pretty Folded Kid Belts and Dainty Hand Bags.

The hat made entirely of ermine is the most fashionable and smart a woman can have, and its chief beauty is that it goes with everything.

Wide kid belts are perhaps the smartest feature of fashion for street wear. They are carefully fitted and are laid in folds to give the appearance of silk or cloth. They come in all tints to match the costume.

The little hand bag to match the costume has taken the place of the ordinary pocketbook. These little bags have come to be a necessity since women no longer have pockets. The bag should be as small as possible, however, just large enough to hold a handkerchief and a powder puff together with the requisite change. The prettiest come in pearl gray and in lavender kid mounted in gold, with little stones set in the fastening. Curious fat gold purses combining cardcases with the name traced in colored stones are carried in Paris.

The illustration shows a coffee colored cloth gown with facings of brown velvet decorated with tiny gilt braids and buttons. JUDIC CHOLLET.

COFFEE COLORED CLOTH DRESS.

SEPARATE WAISTS.
They Are Elaborately Made of Velvet, Chiffon and Lace.

The few blouses seen are of the most elaborate description. They are made of fine all over lace or crepe de chine or fine yellow net applique, with yellow insertion.

Chiffon velours and spotted velvet form some of the warmer blouses, and these are mingled with lace and sable or chinchilla edging. Blouses of green chiffon velours combine very handsomely with old yellow lace and chinchilla.

DOTTED CHIFFON EVENING GOWN.

They are worn either with skirts of cloth or of velvet. Blouses pouched back and front are among the latest things. They are made of accordion plaited chiffon trimmed with a narrow edging of good fur and a chemisette of fine lace. Such a waist carried out in white would be most dressy and effective worn with a white cloth skirt made very full and trimmed with applications of the same lace as the vest.

Ruchings will take the place of fur trimmings in the early spring, and they are very fashionable as it is on the lighter gowns, such as crepe de chines, veilings, etc.

Gowns of brown chiffon volle are considered very smart for restaurant dining and theater wear. They are trimmed with Persian chiffon and tiny gold or silver tassels.

Hats in pale shades of beaver are very smart and require but little trimming, a few flowers or a knot of ribbon, to render them complete. The great thing is to find a smart and becoming shape in a good quality.

One of the most effective hats is of black beaver trimmed with two beautifully shaded roses attached to the underside of the brim, while the upper part of the hat is simply trimmed with a big satin or velvet bow.

The illustration shows a dotted chiffon evening gown trimmed with ruchings of silk and diamond shaped medallions of lace.

ARMING FOR WAR.

Russia and Japan Prepare For a Great Struggle.

TWELVE RUSSIAN BATTERIES READY

Tokyo Government Invested With a "Monte Christo" Credit For Military Defense and Right to Create a War Council.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—A Russian dispatch says twelve batteries of the four grenadier brigades of field artillery, stationed in and around Moscow, have been selected for service in the far east and have received new guns which the Russian artilleristis claim are superior to the French fieldpieces.

The early departure of three of these batteries is expected, which will place 108 field guns, with the latest equipment, at the disposal of Viceroy Alexeiff.

It is said here that all the volunteers living at their homes, who, as graduates of high schools, are privileged to serve only a year with the colors, have been ordered into barracks.

An official report from Tokyo says an emergency ordinance, promulgated late Monday night, invests the government with unlimited credit for purposes of military defense.

Three other ordinances were issued, relating, first, to the Seoul-Fusan railway, which is brought closer under official control; second, to the revision of the organization of the imperial military headquarters in war time; third, to the creation of a war council in war time.

These ordinances, it is considered, look like war and completely provide for all emergencies.

An extraordinary meeting of the privy council approved the issue by the cabinet of an emergency ordinance authorizing the guarantee of the principal and interest of an issue of 10,000,000 yen debentures.

The ordinance also provides for all possible military expenses for the protection of the railway and other interests.

It is reported that the Japanese ministerial council has demanded the transfer of $25,000,000 from the educational fund for emergency purposes.

Panic on Cotton Market.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30.—It was a field day for bears in the cotton market. After several futile attempts to break the market a panic was caused in some way or another, and within ten minutes prices went down about sixty points, or $3 a bale. This happened during the noon hour, and for about half an hour the Cotton Exchange was in an uproar. Hundreds of longs were wiped out, and their efforts to get out with as small a loss as possible caused prices to go lower and lower. It was one of the worst stampedes of frightened longs ever seen in the local market.

Miscreant Who Derailed Train.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Dec. 30.—General Superintendent J. B. Yahe of the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the criminal who opened and spiked the switch at the southern end of the Newcastle Junction yards which caused the derailment of the westbound midnight train from Pittsburg yesterday. The heavy padlock had been wrenched loose and was found battered and twisted. The automatic signal lights showed white after the accident, indicating a clear track.

Navy Treatment For Consumptives.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Dec. 30.—The navy department recently decided to make a test of the open air treatment for consumption. After examining various localities it selected Warrington, near the navy yard, as the best location. Six patients are now under treatment at the camp for naval consumptives located three weeks ago, and so far all are showing improvement. If the camp should prove satisfactory it will be made a permanent institution.

Record Cold For Adirondacks.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Dec. 30.—Monday night was the coldest of the season in the Adirondacks. The lowest temperature was recorded at Bloomingdale, where the mercury stood 32 below zero. At Saranac Lake it was 28, Lake Placid 24, Lyon Mountain 20, Upper Chateaugay Lake 21, Dannemora 19 and Loon Lake 23 below.

Czar to Visit Italy.

ROME, Dec. 30.—It is asserted that Prince Ourousoff, the new ambassador from Russia to Italy, in presenting his credentials to King Victor Emmanuel announced that it was the intention of the czar to visit Italy next spring in return for the Italian monarch's visit to Russia.

Senator Scott Denies.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Senator Scott of West Virginia has denied as absolutely without basis reports that the chairmanship of the executive committee of the Republican national committee had been tendered him by the president and had been declined by him.

Porte Wants Italian Governor.

ROME, Dec. 30.—Rechid Bey, the Turkish ambassador, has presented to the Italian government the request of the porte for the appointment of an Italian officer to command the international gendarmerie in Macedonia.

"Fighting Bob" Sails For Manila.

HONOLULU, Dec. 30.—The vessels of the Asiatic squadron, under command of Rear Admiral Evans, which has been in this port for several days, have sailed for Manila via the island of Guam.

AT COUNCIL BLUFFS

Citizens Excited to Pitch of Lynching by Assaults.

NEGROES HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Prisoners Were Removed to Fort Madison In Consequence of an Attack by an Infuriated Mob—Another Attack Threatened.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Dec. 30.—Neely Zimmerman and George Burk, the negroes charged with assaulting Mrs. Sparks and her daughter, who narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an infuriated mob here, have been taken to the state penitentiary at Fort Madison for safe keeping. The two men were taken before Judge Wheeler and waived preliminary examination. The judge then signed an order for their removal. The men were hastily spirited away, and Sheriff Cousins left with them on the first train for Fort Madison.

During the day Sheriff Cousins learned of an organized plan to lynch Zimmerman and Burk and again made a request for a company of militia to guard the county jail and arranged for a heavy force of city police to assist in case their services were required. Feeling against the prisoners increased, and small groups of men gathered in the vicinity of the jail to discuss the matter. Sheriff Cousins then decided that the safer course was to remove the men from the city and applied for an order of removal.

Four assaults within a week similar to those made on Mrs. Sparks and her daughter had wrought up the working people of the city to a pitch of feverish excitement, and this feeling was freely voiced on every street corner. The excitement was sufficient to lead the authorities to the belief that a bold attempt would be made by a well organized mob to lynch the negroes, and they then decided to avoid all trouble by removing the cause for a repetition of the disturbance.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

The Liverymen Refuse to Arbitrate. Some Strikers Back at Work.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—A positive refusal to arbitrate was the decision of the joint associations of liverymen on the proposal submitted by the striking livery drivers. The strikers asked that the adjustment of the whole difficulty be placed in the hands of former members of the Chicago board of arbitration.

The reason given by the livery owners for their refusal of the proposition of the men was that the selection of the arbiters by the drivers gave the employers no voice in the matter.

Many desertions from the union are reported. At the headquarters of the liverymen's association it was claimed that fully sixty strikers had applied for their old jobs and had been put back to work.

All Kinds of Weather.

NEWPORT, R. I., Dec. 30.—Nearly every variety of weather has been experienced here in twenty-four hours, snow, hail and rain falling, while a terrific thunderstorm, accompanied by blinding lightning, caused terror to many who recalled the disastrous storm of 1894. First the mercury was 8 degrees above zero and then went to 34 degrees. Afterward a heavy snowstorm set in, and in an hour the rumble of thunder was heard to the southward, and the wind increased until it had attained the force of a gale. The thunderstorm lasted an hour, during which the stone steeple on St. Mary's Catholic church and the wooden spire on Trinity church were struck by lightning, but neither seriously injured, and the fire alarm system damaged. Later the skies cleared, and fair weather again prevails.

Graft Charged In Kansas City, Kan.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—Members of the board of education of Kansas City, Kan., have been charged with soliciting bribes for the appointment of teachers to public schools by witnesses before the grand jury. Frank Colvin, a principal, is said to have testified that a member of the board demanded money for his reappointment, which he refused, and John Schaich, an attorney, is quoted as saying that a member of the board, through a third person, demanded money for the reappointment of his sister as a teacher

PITTSBURG, Dec. 30.—For twelve hours, commencing at 6 o'clock, thirteen engine companies battled with a stubborn fire in the six story storage warehouse of Haugh & Keenan, Third street and Duquesne way. Crossed electric wires is given as the probable cause of the conflagration. The loss, according to James F. Keenan, president of the company, may reach $700,000.

The Plainfield Trust Company

At this, the close of our first calendar year, we think it an opportune time to make public a brief statement of what has been accomplished by this Company in the eighteen months of its existence.

It has been its fixed policy to allow depositors to share liberally in its earnings. To that end three per cent. interest has been paid on both savings and checking accounts.

The accompanying comparative statement of deposits, showing the rapid increase of the Company's business since its inception, may, we think, be taken as a fair indication of a satisfactorily rendered service, and an appreciation of progressive banking methods.

Date.	Number of Depositors.	Amount of Deposits.
July 1902,	108	162,279.73
Oct. 1902,	516	288,754.81
Jan. 1903,	720	380,427.58
Apl. 1903,	1,006	490,828.05

Dec. 1903,	1,569	750,326.63

We start the new year promising a continuance of the past liberal and courteous treatment, and invite the bank accounts of those having no present account in town, as well as of those considering a change in arrangements now existing.

Inquiries directed to any of the officers of this Company regarding facilities or terms, will receive careful attention and a prompt reply.

BOROUGH COUNCIL'S WORK

MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED AT FIRST SESSION OF NEW YEAR.

The next meeting of the North Plainfield Common Council will be held Monday night in the council chambers. The appointments will not be made until March. It is possible that something may be done in regard to the paid fire department in the borough to supplant the present volunteer system. It is said that Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed will have drafted the ordinance for the new system in accordance with the resolution passed with but one dissenting vote at the last meeting, and that a counter-move will be made by the firemen. What this movement is, none of the firemen will say. They declare that they have no intention of petitioning the Councilmen to reconsider their plans. The third reading of the ordinance outlining a fire limit in North Plainfield will probably take place.

The oil stove in Dr. Edward Rushmore's barn at 429 Park avenue blazed up yesterday afternoon at 4:50 o'clock and for a few minutes threatened to make business for the firemen. The stove was located in the loft of the barn which was filled with furniture, making it next to an impossibility to get at the flames. A mattress stuffed with excelsior added to the danger. COMMON COUNCIL REVIEWS THE WORK OF THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS FOR 1903

The City Fathers in Final Session for the Year Hear the Annual Reports of the Heads of Principal Branches of the Local Municipal Government.

THE IMPROVEMENTS THE KEYNOTE OF ALL THE REPORTS.

EXCELLENT CONDITION SHOWN IN THE STATEMENTS SUBMITTED BY THE TREASURER, FIRE CHIEF, POLICE CHIEF AND STREET COMMISSIONER—MANY IMPROVEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE AND OTHERS RECOMMENDED—DETAILED REPORTS.

With unusual despatch the Common Council for 1903 finished up the business for the year at its final meeting held last night, and to all purposes the Council is now a thing of the past, although it will be legally in existence until 12 o'clock on New Year's Day. All of the members were present except Councilmen E. E. Pray and W. A. Garrigues, the former retiring this year. Mr. Pray, however, sent a pleasant letter denoting his regrets in not being able to attend the last meeting.

President James F. Buckle, who also retires, made a brief mention of the pleasure he has had during the year in presiding over the meetings of the Council, while a resolution offered by Mr. Lee extended to the retiring president the thanks of every member for his uniform courtesy and the efficient manner in which he presided over the meetings for 1903, was passed unanimously.

The actual business of the meeting consisted chiefly of hearing reports of the various officials. These reports, which are published in other columns, include those of City Treasurer William F. Arnold, Chief of Police P. S. Kiely, Chief of the Fire Department T. O. Doane and Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that during December sixteen permits were given and that for the past year 258 were granted. City Judge William N. Runyon submitted his annual report, in which he expressed his appreciation for improvements made in the police department. The statistical part of his report is found in that of the Chief of Police.

Mr. Daniel reported on two old petitions, one of which was regarding the adjustment of a tax assessed on property owned by the Potter Press Company, it having been claimed by the company that the tax was paid twice. Mr. Daniel moved that the matter be referred to the incoming Council. He also moved similar action regarding the petition of F. E. Kinsman for an adjustment of the tax on his property on Pemerton avenue.

Mr. Murphy reported that an electric light has been located at the corner of West Fourth street and Manson place, in accordance with the petition of O. R. Pearson and referred with power. He also reported that he had received a communication from the president of the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, informing him that the local light company had been merged with the Union and Middlesex Lighting Companies and that in the future all bills would be payable to the Union, Middlesex and Somerset Lighting Company. This communication was referred to the corporation counsel for consideration.

Mr. Murphy, as chairman of the light and trees committee, reported that there are now 884 street lights, at a yearly cost of $15.50 each and one arc light at annual expense of $100. He also reported that the lighting service during the year had been satisfactory.

Mr. Tyler, as chairman on public service, submitted a report, containing thirty-eight typewritten pages, upon the application of the Central New Jersey Telephone Company for franchise rights in Plainfield. Accompanying it was a summary of the report. It treats the subject pro and con and is intended to be an impartial statement of facts, concluding with the recommendation that the time is not ripe for the granting of a second franchise, as the independent companies are not in condition to become successful competitors of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company. A synopsis of this report will be published by The Daily Press on Saturday.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution that the city treasurer's report be published in the local papers and that 200 copies of it be printed for distribution. Mr. Lee offered a similar resolution that 200 copies of Chief Doane's report be printed for exchange with other departments.

The report of the alms committee showed that there is a balance of $428.32 on hand out of a total of $7,413.48 available to this department, December 31. The total disbursements for the year were $6,688.15, allowing a balance on hand to the credit of the poor fund, January 1, 1904, of $725.33. The report shows that at the last report there were five male and nine female inmates of the Industrial Home. The number received during the year was eight males and nine females, while seven males and seven females were disposed of during the year. There was one death, leaving a total number of sixteen at the home at present. The total number receiving miscellaneous help outside during the year was 251.

During the year $1,300 was expended on general repairs. The home has been connected with the city water supply and a number of other necessary improvements have been made, including a miniature sewage disposal. This is the first money spent on the home building since it was established by the city. Due praise is given the Paliufield Relief Association, the Organized Aid Association, the State Charities Aid of Union County and King's Daughters for the kind services of the city nurse. In the unanimous opinion of the committee this co-operation of the different charities has enabled the committee to dispose of a great many cases that would have otherwise been a burden to the city. The report shows that Overseer of the Poor Alexander Ayers has made 201 calls to the home and 475 calls at office and home of the overseer were made.

After the transaction of all the business of the evening, the minutes were read by the stenographer, George B. Wean and afterward adopted by the Council, thus bring to a close the actual business of the Common Council of 1903.

Warren Chapel.

The Christmas entertainments in Warren chapel yesterday afternoon and last night were largely attended. The evening entertainment was provided by New York talent. Joseph Mackey pleased his hearers with vocal and instrumental selections and recitations; Walter W. Waters, a monologue artist, was well received with his humorous recitals and Mrs. H. W. Rankin, a clever pianist, gave several renditions. Some clever recitations were given by Miss Geer.

Remarks were made F. H. Andrews, the superintendent of the school, and by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, the pastor. Candy and refreshments were served. The committee from the Ladies' Aid Society in charge of the arrangements was composed of Mrs. Joseph W. Gavett, Mrs. Joseph O. McKelvey, Mrs. George Demarest and Mrs. Gibson Smith. Ida Wheeler, Louise Demarest and Ashley Burner recited and the pastor made a few remarks. The committee in charge of this part of the programme was Miss Evelyn Benton, Miss Laura Lovell, Miss Margaret Swain and Mrs. B. K. Ulrich.

Society of Friends.

The Friends of the First-Day school met at the meeting-house on Watchung avenue, last night, and participated in an excellent Christmas programme, under the direction of Margaret Vail, superintendent. There were numerous recitations and readings by the younger pupils of the school and an appropriate address by W. D. Williams.

Afterward all adjourned to the upper room, where ice cream and cake were served to all, while the pupils each received a box of candy and an orange. In the recitations and read-

Mr. Allis is survived by a widow and two children, Dr. J. A. Allis, of Montclair, and Mrs. Nathan E. Lewis, of Arlington avenue. He was a member of Winfield Scott Post, No. 75, G. A. R., and of Queen City Lodge, I. O. O. F. He has been a resident of this city for many years, coming here from Leonardsville, N. Y., and has been employed as a draughtsman at Potter's Press Works. He served through the Civil War in a New York regiment. He was a prominent member of the Seventh-Day Baptist church. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence. The interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

AFTER INSTALLMENT HOUSE

A PLAINFIELD CONCERN TESTS THE SCHEME OF A CLOTHING HOUSE.

To test the validity of their contracts suit has been brought against L. Sternberg & Co., by Herzig & Kapp, of this city, in the Elizabeth District Court, and has been won by the latter by default. The point at issue is of interest to all who purchase goods on the installment plan. The system in vogue at the local clothing firm is that when a person buys a suit he signs an agreement binding himself to pay one dollar weekly. In default of any payment the clothing firm can collect that customer's salary for a year or more, leaving him without any support. Many of the manufacturing firms in this city have become tired of being dunned by the clothing concern for assigned wages and the firm of Herzig & Kapp took it to court where, after being postponed six times, the case was awarded to the plaintiffs yesterday. The defendant firm made no defense. W. S. Angelman represented the plaintiffs and Samuel Schleimer, of Elizabeth, was the counsel for the defendants.

SAENGERBUND BOWLERS WIN

Y. M. C. A. TEAM DEFEATED IN THREE SUCCESSIVE GAMES.

The Saengerbund bowling team of North Plainfield had sweet revenge on the Y. M. C. A. bowlers last night, defeating them three straight games on the Saengerbund alleys. All the games were fairly close, but whenever the Y. M. C. A. men advanced their scores they found their opponents going enough higher to win None of the scores were especially high, as indicated by the fact that Meyer, of Saengerbund, was high roller with 168. A third and deciding match will be played on the association alleys, January 13. Summary:

COUNCILMAN LEE EXPLAINS

SAYS THAT HE HAD NO INTENTION OF OFFENDING COUNCILMAN CLARK.

Since announcement was made in these columns yesterday that Robert Clark, Jr., would tender his resignation at the meeting of the North Plainfield Council Monday night, there has been a change in the situation and it is now likely that his proposed action will not be taken. Charles A. Lee, whose remarks at the last session were taken by Mr. Clark as a personal offense, communicated with the latter today and it is believed that the unpleasantness will no longer exist between the two councilmen.

Mr. Lee has sent this letter to The Daily Press:

Editor, The Daily Press:

I learn with regret through the columns of The Press that Mr. Robert Clark, Jr., intends to offer his resignation as a member of the Common Council at our next regular meeting because I "refused to apologize to him for certain reflections made at a recent meeting of the body."

The "reflections" referred to were contained in the words which I used at the time specified, and were as follows: "I am working for the interests of the taxpayers of the borough and not for Warren Engine Company. I have no aspirations for future political honors, although others may."

If my remarks thus made have offended Mr. Clark, I am quite willing and ready to offer him my apology. I have always held him in high regard, and do now esteem him as a valued friend, and Christian gentleman, and no member of the Council would regret more than I to have him resign.

Charles A. Lee.

STRONG BASEBALL NINE FOR PLAINFIELD

Scheme on Foot to Organize a Crack Aggregation to Represent City on Diamond.

SEMI-PROFESSIONALS.

ST. MARY'S CLUB PROMOTING THE PLAN OF FORMATION.

Local Players to be Augumented by Out-of-Town Men—Arrangements for a Fine Field—Fair to Raise Money for Proposed Nine.

Plainfield is to be represented in the baseball field next season by a stronger team and it is said St. Mary's nine is at the head of a scheme to give to the fans of this city and vicinity a model, up-to-date article of ball which will compare favorably with any organization in this vicinity. Much has been said about doing away with all the smaller teams here and merging the best players into one crack semi-professional aggregation which will be a credit to this community. At the head of the scheme are John Owens, manager of last year's St. Mary's team; Clinton Shannon, the president, and Victor Troyce, the secretary, of the same organization.

A meeting of the players of St. Mary's nine will be held in the T. A. B. Hall on West Fourth street Sunday afternoon at 2:30 when the matter will be further discussed. Two sites are under discussion as proposed baseball diamonds. The locations of these lots have not yet been given out. There is talk of enclosing the field with a tight board fence and of erecting a grandstand which will accommodate at least five hundred people.

Lindaman, the Hoboken pitcher, Lamar, his catcher and Manager Driscol, of the Hoboken nine, are interested in the proposed deal. Driscol has informed the local promoters that he will see that the best professional players are supplied Plainfield. For the purpose of raising funds for the new project, a fair is planned by the managers of the St. Mary's team which will be held in the T. A. B. Hall in the near future. It is probable the date will be set at the meeting Sunday.

While there will be some out-of-town professional players in the team the new nine will be representative of Plainfield and will probably be known as the Plainfield baseball nine, because of the fact that it will be primarily composed of local players.

POLICE SUMMARY FOR 1903

SYNOPSIS OF CHIEF KIELY'S REPORT SHOWS GOOD WORK DONE.

The total number of arrests during the year 1903 in this city has been 688 as against 690 for the year 1902. The total amount of fines collected has been $710 as against $640.85 for the preceding year. This is according to the report of Chief of Police P. S. Kiely, submitted to the Common Council last night. Of the arrests, 624 were of males and 59 of females; 549 of whites and 134 colored. As to nationality, 332 of the culprits were Amerians, 75 Irish, 34 Italian, and the rest scattered.

The total amount of the appropriation for the year for the department was $18,900; the total expenditures, including running expenses, cost of erecting the police stable, purchase of horse, wagon, harness, etc., was $18,791.50, leaving a balance of $108.50. Extra appropriations were made during the year to the amount of $6,915 expended, $6,025 for the Gamewell alarm system, and $890 for six new steel cells. The institution of the new cells, introduction of the Gamewell system and leasing of rooms above the present headquarters were recommended by Chief Kiely in his last year's report and have added greatly to the efficiency of the department.

As the result of the arrests during the year, 136 prisoners were fined, 375 released on suspended sentence, 52 dismissed, 53 committed, 44 held for the Grand Jury, and the other cases disposed of in miscellaneous ways. The arrests for drunkenness were 104, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 170; for disorderly conduct, 170; for larceny, 33; breaking and entering, 5; burglary, 7; assault, 17; embezzlement, 10, and other cases scattered.

STREET COMMISSIONER GAVETT'S REPORT

Work Done on Plainfield's Thoroughfares and Sanitary Arrangements For the Year.

AS TO BRICK PAVEMENTS

MUNICIPAL STREET SPRINKLING CONSIDERED A DECIDED SUCCESS.

Sewage Disposal 800,000 Gallons—Flagging and Curbing—Macadamizing and Resurfacing—Building Line Recommended.

In his annual report submitted at last night's meeting of the Common Council, Street Commissioner Gavett states that "the heaviest work of the year in street repairing has been that on Watchung avenue, from East Sixth street to Woodland avenue, on which but few repairs had been made for many years. Near Woodland avenue a fill of ten inches was required, and on account of the large amount of water flowing through this street, all of the work was much heavier than usual.

"West Fifth street between Plainfield and Park avenues, was also in bad condition, and in repairing it, the crown was lowered where it had been found inconveniently high. Richmond street, which was macadamized originally at the expense of the street railway company, and which is subject to very heavy carting to and from the freight house, required much more than the average amount of repairs.

"The heavy storm in October did considerable damage to Richmond, East Front, East Second and East Third streets, caused very largely by the flood waters of Green brook overflowing through them to Cedar brook. These floods, which happen every few years, are a serious detriment to property in this vicinity and as far south as Park avenue. We consider it very desirable that their cause be investigated by the Common Council, and the proper remedy applied.

"West Front street was resurfaced at different points and is now in a better condition, as a whole, than ever before. West Second street has been thoroughly repaired. Resurfacing work was also done on many streets. West Fourth street, West Sixth street, West Third street and South Second street were repaired where broken up by sewer ditches; the cost of repairing the latter being borne by the sewer contractors. Terrill road, for the greater part of the distance between South avenue and Cushing road, has been top-dressed, partly with cinders and partly with crushed stone.

"The only new macadamizing done by subscription of property owners this year was on a portion of Webster place. Early in the summer an ordinance was introduced for macadamizing several streets, amounting in all to about four miles, but owing to various delays, the contract was not awarded until October fifth, since which time, six streets have been macadamized but are not finished.

"On Woodland avenue part of the space west of the track has been spread with 2½ inch stone, and on West Fifth street, between Grant and Monroe avenues, a part of the heavy earth fill has been made. There are several streets under contract, on which no work has yet been done.

"Various plans have been suggested from time to time for securing a section of pavement which would be more clean and durable than macadam. While the latter presents a good appearance in the residential sections of the city, even during wet weather, the heavy wear in the business districts causes muddey streets after every rain except the most severe downpours, which wash the macadam effectually. We would recommend paving Watchung avenue, from East Second street to North avenue, with vitrified brick on a concrete foundation, after having a first class track laid by the street railway company. The company would bear between one-third and one-half of the expense.

"Tar macadam is proving a very satisfactory pavement in many cities, and we strongly favor it for our own. One firm, at least, claims a patent on this style of pavement, and we have thought it best, on this account, to defer action until the city can lay the pavement without danger of suits for infringement.

"The Arlington avenue storm sewer, which was nearly completed in 1902, has been finished, and not only frees Arlington avenue from any ac-

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

All the best grades of coal. No dust; no dirt. Telephone 193. John Johnston, South avenue.

A satisfied customer always returns. People who buy goods at Hodge's pharmacy on East Front street, once, become steady customers.

A well made cigar is a delight. It burns evenly, smokes cool and gives general satisfaction. That is why the cigars made at H. Eggerding, on Park avenue, are so popular.

There are still many desirable things at J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store and if in search of a wedding or birthday gift you will find it at this store in the right quality and price.

There is no sense in paying for meats and fish that do not give satisfaction. Get them at a place where you know they will be as represented. Fred Endress's store is the place. West Front street.

Among the New Year resolutions you make include one that if you have any painting or paper hanging done, you will employ a first class firm like Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place. Good goods, the best workmanship and fair prices are the rule.

Both & Co., the East Front street butchers, will continue next year to merit the ever increasing trade that is coming to the firm. Meats and poultry are handled in such large quantity that the firm can afford to sell below the price asked by other dealers.

Electrical goods, fixtures, wiring and contracts are specialites at W. H. Pope's store on North avenue. Fine work at moderate prices. Poor wiring is a danger and a constant menace. Expert wiring, like that done by Pope, not only insures perfect lighting but is a convenience.

It is usually the well dressed man who gets ahead. No man is well dressed who is not well shod. Get your shoes at a place where you can rely upon the excellence of the quality, up-to-dateness of the style and wearing capacity. Get them at M. C. VanArsdale's, East Front street.

You make no mistake when you trade with the Gayle Hardware Company. The stock of hardware, kitchen utensils, builders' materials are all of the same high standard. It is the custom of this company to buy the best goods sell at a reasonable price and in this way the business has increased steadily.

When you purchase clothing of M. Weinberger, of West Front street, there is satisfaction in knowing that you get the best goods for the least money. Every garment is well made, of the best material and represents full value. Mr. Weinberger is now conducting a closing out sale prior to moving to his other store and there will be unusual bargains.

It enables everybody, poor and wealthy, to dress well on easy payment. One dollar a week will dress you as well as the next man. Call at their East Front street clothing parlors and see their bargains.

MORE WARSHIPS FOR ISTHMUS.

French Charge d'Affaires Arrives at Colon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Word has been received at the navy department from San Francisco that three additional vessels had left that place to join the fleet under Admiral Glass at Panama. They are the gunboat Bennington and the destroyers Preble and Paul Jones. The gunboat will act as convoy to the smaller vessels. They will stop at La Paz, Mexico, for coal and also may stop at San Diego for the same purpose.

A Colon dispatch says Henry Moet, who has been appointed French charge d'affaires at Panama, has arrived there and was received with honors by the officers of the military and police. He paid a formal visit to Governor Melendez. M. Moet will remain at Colon until tomorrow, when he will go to Panama to take up his duties.

British Vice Consul Hudson paid an official visit to Governor Melendez and congratulated him on the rapid advances made by the republic.

A Paris cable says the annual meeting of the Panama Canal company developed unusual interest and excitement. Prior to the opening efforts were made to secure enough proxies to overrule the existing management of the company, which is favorable to the sale of the company's property to the United States. The group of shareholders inimical to the administration of the company assembled afterward and took up the consideration of measures which should be adopted to obtain the judicial nullification of the action taken by the meeting.

JAPAN'S DETERMINATION.

London Report Says France Would Not Join Russia.

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—While the German government denies that Japan has informed the European powers that she has sent an ultimatum to Russia, according to information emanating from official circles here late last night, Germany admits the possibility that the members of the Japanese cabinet in informal conversations with foreign diplomatists may have mentioned Japan's measures for mobilization in order to show her serious intentions and as an ocular demonstration of the determination with which she means to assert her claims.

It is reported from London that Baron Hayashi has declared that in the event of war he has the best authority for saying that France would not join forces with Russia even should China co-operate with Japan and that the triple alliance would preserve strict neutrality. For the former statement Baron Hayashi's authority is not known, and his belief in France's neutrality in case of China joining in the conflict creates some doubt and astonishment.

Great Britain appears to be confining her diplomatic efforts to preserve peace solely at Paris and Tokyo. She has not attempted, it is asserted here, to bring pressure to bear at St. Petersburg, leaving that phase of the negotiations to France.

It is reported that Japan has offered to purchase from the Chilean government the battleship Capitan Prat and the cruiser Chacabuco, just finished.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Jan. 3—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—The kind of growth I need in 1904.—Eph. iv, 11-16.

The kind of growth I need in 1904 depends entirely upon the condition of my moral and spiritual character at the beginning of 1904. What God wants us each one to be is a symmetrical, well balanced, full rounded Christian. No Christian grace should be abnormally developed. No one should be given such prominence as to dwarf the others and give them no opportunity for growth. Each Christian grace is to be so normally developed that when they are all taken together they will present a perfect spiritual life, as when the members of the body are so evenly developed that in the aggregate they go to make up a perfect physical man. This being the aim, we must therefore grow in the graces in which we are deficient. The missing grace is to be added and the weak grace to be strengthened. Therefore to grow intelligently we must examine ourselves as to our needs so that they may be supplied. Do we lack love, then we should grow in love. Is our power to resist temptation weak, then that should be strengthened.

But the apostle lays special emphasis upon the fact that in the development of the perfect man in Christ particular stress needs to be laid upon certain virtues. In these things all should grow, and it is hardly imaginable that any of us has so far developed in them that further growth is impossible. Among these fundamental principles of Christian character stand faith, knowledge and love. Without faith it is impossible to please God, and that we may develop a Christian character that will be well pleasing in His sight faith must more and more become a part of our lives. Growth in knowledge is also essential to symmetrical Christian development. "Grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ," says the Apostle Peter. Knowledge is not virtue. A man may know, yet not do. But knowledge is essential to growth. We cannot believe until we know what God would have us believe; we cannot love until we know whom God would have us love; we cannot do until we know what God would have us do. Growth in knowledge is most essential, therefore, to perfect development. And all growth is in love. Love is the basis as well as the crown of all the Christian graces. "Rooted and grounded in love," we are to come "unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."

God recognizes our need of growth and has provided for it. His Holy Spirit has endowed certain of His people with special powers of religious leadership. He has given us apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers "for the perfecting of the saints." Let us under the direction of the Holy Spirit Himself and His inspired teachers strive to grow nearer and nearer to the goal of perfect manhood set before us throughout this entire year.

Ex-General Secretary Baer.

In all the wide field of Christian Endeavor no man, next to Dr. Clark, is better known than Mr. John Willis Baer, who for many years served the United society as its general secretary and who saw the movement develop from the days of its childhood to the time when it had become a worldwide force. The possessor of a splendid personality and with rare gifts as a public speaker, in addition to being an executive of exceptional ability, Mr. Baer has had no small part in developing and advancing Christian Endeavor.

JOHN WILLIS BAER.

Although in his present position on the home mission board of the Presbyterian church he has not so large opportunity as formerly to plan and work for Christian Endeavor, he is still with voice and pen doing much to spread its influence and increase its usefulness.

Once an Endeavorer, Always One.

No Endeavorer need ever leave the society. The time may come for him to leave the active membership, but he should never be less than an honorary member.—Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark.

An Addition to the Motto.

The Endeavor motto is "For Christ and the Church." Add this to it—"the whole wide world for Jesus."—Rev. Reginald J. Campbell, Minister of City Temple, London.

Gems of Thought.

Lord, help me to take fewer things into my hands and, to do them well.—Wayland Hoyt, D. D.

Let us be sure that the more we realize God's vaster purposes the more dearly we can feel His personal care.—Phillips Brooks.

There has never been a great and beautiful character which has not become so by filling well the ordinary and smaller offices appointed of God.—Bushnell.

I believe that all who truly desire and seek it may love God with all their heart and soul, mind and strength, and their neighbors as themselves. This is entire sanctification.—Bishop Vincent.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Jan. 3: "The Kind of Growth I Need In 1904" (The Morning Watch Enrollment—Eph. iv, 11-16.

The growth set forth by the apostle is twofold. It is the increase of the person in his individual life of confidence in Christ and Christly knowledge. The end to be attained is the stature of a full grown manhood in spirit. This is the maturity of Christian faith and experience. Not that any two persons will be exactly alike any more than two full grown men are physically alike. Variety in religious experience and knowledge will be marked. Uniformity is no more to be desired nor sought in spiritual life than in bodily appearance. Frederick as emperor of Germany may prefer a bodyguard of men all of whom shall be giants in stature, but he will never succeed in making all his subjects six feet tall.

I ought to grow up in Christ in all things until I am full grown.

There is such a thing as family resemblance so that children show a general likeness in features and form to each other and to parents. In some cases this is very marked. Sometimes twins look so much alike that only intimate friends can tell them apart. So in spiritual matters. We come to be and speak and think and do the same as Christ and God, our Father. Our resemblance to each other and to Him increases as we go on in this way of living. Yet must Jesus ever be our elder brother, the first begotten of God. We are privileged to grow up into Him until we attain to the measure of the stature of His fullness.

Beside this personal and individual growth there is a community life in which we have part. The "body of Christ" it is called by Paul. It is composed of all those who love and serve Him. He is described as the head, and all others appear as parts of the body. This is a favorite figure of speech with the apostle. He regards some as eyes, others as ears or hands or feet. Each has some place and some part to perform in the church. No one is to despise another because his appointed work is not the same as that other's. Each is to esteem and honor the other. The work of each is needful for the success of all.

Personal advance and growth can only be in union with the progress of all the rest.

The growth needed by each in 1904 is such as shall best develop a symmetrical personality and a united church. Special needs peculiar to each case must be studied by each one for himself. Careful self examination will be required for this. In some particulars all are alike and require the same things. As in the body all parts are sustained and nourished in common and disease in one part affects all, while strength in one part assails all others to maintain health, so in the church of Jesus Christ there are graces and gifts of which all partake and to which each must contribute.

It may be well to itemize some particular needs.

First.—I need to grow in steadiness of aim. I am Christ's. I must hold steady inside to that one purpose to be like Him, to be His in every way and everywhere and at all times. This is the inner life.

Second.—I must grow more skilful in His work to speak and do for Him in all ways possible.

Third.—I must grow in knowledge of Him and His world.

Fourth.—I must grow in ability to get and give for Him and His.

Pride Versus Progress.

Without humility religious progress is impossible. Pride is the destruction of the principle of progress. It whispers to us continually that we are all that could be desired or it points our attention to high positions and ambitious effort beyond the scope of other men. Yet the true growth of the soul is not to be measured by our attempting many extraordinary duties, but by our power of doing simple duties well, and humility, when it reigns in the soul, carries this principle into practice. It bids us hallow our work, especially whatever may be to us hard or distasteful work, by doing it as a matter of principle. It enriches common acts of neighborly and social kindness with that intensity of moral effort which is due to every act of which the deepest moving power is the love of God.—Rev. F. D. Huntington, D. D.

The Pattern In the Mount.

Is not Christ the mountain up into which the believer goes and in which he finds the divine idea of himself? As a mountain seems to be the meeting place of earth and heaven, the place where the bending skies meet the aspiring planet, the place where the sunshine and the cloud keep closest company with the granite and the grass, so Christ is the meeting place of divinity and humanity. He is at once the condescension of divinity and the exaltation of humanity, and men wanting to know God's idea of man, any man wanting to know God's idea of him, must go up into Christ, and he will find it there.—Phillips Brooks.

God's Message.

He who catches the one great thought of purpose in life has heard the first syllable of God's message to him. And after the struggle by which he consents to God's will in him, renouncing selfish desire, welcoming trying conditions, accepting a stern commission, always the angels come and minister to him.—Joseph May.

Nobler Work to Do.

Amid the gathering storms of doubt
Our hearts grow faint and cold;
The strength we cannot live without
Thy love will not withhold.

Our prayers accept, our sins forgive,
Our youthful zeal renew;
Shape for us holier lives to live
And nobler work to do.

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

We are reliably informed that the proposition to establish a so-called colored orphanage in the Netherwood district is nothing more or less than a scheme in which real estate men are interested and is not in the public's interest. If the true facts can be learned, the names of all white persons back of this nefarious scheme will be exposed in these columns.

Colored Orphanage Plan.

Editor, The Daily Press:

A goodly number of white and colored citizens, including the newspaper reporters, have asked that I express my opinion respecting the colored orphanage under contemplation. I think the idea is a plausible one, but it requires much intelligence to begin such an institution, and finance to maintain it, and that is what we, as a poor people, have not. I have not been consulted but I have been informed that Rev. Mr. Wallace and a few of his board of officers have had lucrative inducements offered to them, and so many hundred of dollars to perpetuate the work, should they begin it or accept the propositions offered. I have been told that there was a generous philanthrophist hid in the wood pile. If he would make himself known, it would give more inspiration to the colored people to consider with a greater degree of interest the advisability of shouldering the responsibility. My preference is if such a gift is to be made the colored people that it be in the city or some section of the city that would not incite a feeling against us by those up to whom we will have to look at times for assistance.

I offer the following: If any citizen will give to us a piece of land clear of all incumberance in an desirable section in Plainfield and donate one thousand dollards toward such an enterprise, which is an absolute necessity, the citizens will unite and accept. But such donors in giving to our people will remember that the gift is not to me, my church, nor my officers, but the colored people, and before the acceptance of the same the whole people must be called together and elect their trustees, and the deed made over to them for the people of Plainfield, colored, and their successors, and that the whole people be represented by all of the colored churches and other organizations of interest of our race, etc. I hope the effort of Rev. Wallace and Spencer Conway and others may prove a success and not inimical to the white race. E. E. Jackson.

Alexander Kane, of this city, a hustling promoter of many enterprises, has purchased a portion of the property on the Fanwood road in what was a part of Galvin's Park and plans are now being made by him to open the place June 1 as a rival attraction to Galvin's Park. The purchase includes the hotel at that point and the property surrounding it and he will make extensive improvements to the same. It is understood that the present building will be extensively altered and amusement apparatus will be placed about the grounds.

FIRE DEPARTMENT RECORD

CHIEF DOANE TELLS WHAT HAS BEEN DONE AND RECOMMEND THINGS.

Chief T. O. Doane in his report of the fire department carefully reviews the work for the year and makes a number of important recommendations. He says:

"There have been some improvements made in the department during the year. A new roof has been placed on the West Second street engine house, and the stalls altered. The partition and the first floor of this house should be taken out and stairs removed to rear, making an improvement in looks as well as general utility. New doors are needed in front, and all the woodwork repaired and painted. The roof of the headquarters building and of the West Fourth street house have been painted, which they very much needed. Teams have been purchased for Nos. 1 and 2 hose wagons.

"I would earnestly recommend the immediate purchase of 4000 feet of hose. We are very much in need of that amount. A life net should be purchased, as this useful article may be the means of saving life at any fire. We need a deluge, so that when necessary we can throw a large and powerful stream. Rubber tires should be placed on all of the apparatus and especially on the truck, which is very heavy, weighing about four tons. The rubber tires would not only save wear on apparatus and harness, but be a great help to the horses, as the apparatus would roll very much easier.

"A six-circuit repeater is very much needed in our fire alarm system. Our lines are virtually all in one circuit just as it was when installed twelve years ago. Then there were only twelve miles of wires, now there is nearly double that amount. We then covered a comparatively small part of the city; our wires now spread out in nearly all parts of the city, running through trees in every direction. In case of trouble or a break in any part of the line, every box in the city is out for a time, often for an hour or more. With a repeater installed, each circuit would be taken care of automatically. I recommend that you give this your careful attention the coming year.

"I again respectfully call your attention to the fact that more hydrants are needed in the business section of the city. This should be done before a permanent pavement is laid. Last year I recommended that three four-way hydrants be placed on the north side of West Front street, one central between Somerset street and Compton's lane, one between Compton's lane and Madison avenue, one on the south side between Madison and Central avenues, the two-way hydrant on East Front street central between Park and Watchung avenues should be replaced by a four-way, and another two-way placed on the opposite side of the street, and a four-way placed on Park avenue between Front and Fourth streets. There should also be a hydrant placed on Madison avenue near the bridge. I again renew my request of last year, that water wagons be prohibited the use of hydrants. The water company should place stand-pipes for the use of these wagons, then there would be no excuse for mud-holes in front of houses, and our hydrants can be kept in repair.

"I would recommend that two more permanent men be appointed for the headquarters, and one for each of the other two houses. With the present number of men, we are very much handicapped at meal hours, and especially so on days when there is a man off in either of the houses, because of accident or sickness. We have so many telephone and still alarms that we should be prepared for them at all hours."

The other reports of the various departments will be found in the columns of today's issue.

Corset Dept.

The institution of a corset fitting department in connection with our already spacious corset department has won the hearty approval of many Plainfield ladies and bids fair to have a long list of friends before it is much older.

This department is now in charge of a competent corset demonstrator who has had years of valuable study and experience in many of the largest cities of the U. S. At the Pan-American in 1901 she represented one of the leading United States corset manufacturers.

We have a room comfortably fitted with the necessary conveniences for those wishing to have their corsets fitted at the store, but we will gladly call at the home of any prospective corset purchaser and fit her there at her convenience.

Our department furnishes the leading styles in the well-known

W. B., Nemo,
Wright Bust Form,
Warners, Royal Worcester,
R. & G., Thompson's,
Armorside, Ferris,
D. H. & Co.,

and the department can furnish any well-known corset now on the market.

SIX HUNDRED DEAD

Chicago Iroquois Theater Matinee Holocaust.

DEATHS BY ACTUAL COUNT 637

Victims Were Suffocated by Gas and Trampled On.

THE FIREPROOF CURTAIN FAILED

Breaking of Electric Wire, Which Dropped Alive on Scenery, Caused the Disaster—Fire Spread Rapidly, and Panic Ensued, Filling the Passages With Entangled Strugglers, Soon to Become a Charred Mass of Bodies.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Six hundred and thirty-seven people by Coroner Traeger's actual count were killed in ten minutes during the great fire and panic in the Iroquois theater, the newest, the largest and as far as human power could make it the safest theater in Chicago.

A few of these people were burned to death by fire, many were suffocated by gas, and scores were trampled to death in the panic that followed the mad plunge of the frightened audience for the exits.

It will be many days before all of the bodies recovered from the ruins are identified. There are bodies lying by the dozen in the undertaking rooms, in the police stations and in the hospitals from which nearly everything that could reveal their identity to those who knew them best is gone. Their clothing is torn to rags or burned to cinders, and their faces have been trampled into an unrecognizable pulp by the crowd that trampled them down as they fled for safety.

The fire broke out during the second act of the play "Mr. Bluebeard," which was the first dramatic production produced in the theater since its erection. The company, which was very large, escaped to the street in safety, nearly all of them, however, being compelled to flee into snowy streets with no clothing but their stage costumes. A few members of the company sustained minor injuries, but none was seriously hurt. The dead and wounded were all in the audience.

The accounts of the origin of the fire are conflicting and none of them certain, but the best reason given is that an electric wire near the lower part of a piece of drop scenery suddenly broke and was grounded. The fire spread rapidly toward the front of the stage, causing the members of the chorus who were then engaged in the performance to flee to the wings, with screams of terror.

The fire in itself up to this time was not serious and possibly could have been checked had not the asbestos curtain failed to work. As soon as the fire was discovered Eddie Foy, the chief comedian of the company, shouted to lower the curtain, and this was immediately done. It descended about half way and then stuck.

The fire was thus given practically a flue through which a strong draft was setting, aided by the doors which had been thrown open in the front of the theater. With a roar and a bound the flames shot out through the opening over the heads of the people on the first floor and, reaching clear up to those in the first balcony, caught them and burned them to death where they sat. Immediately following this rush of flames there came an explosion which lifted the entire roof of the theater from its walls, shattering the great skylight into fragments.

As soon as the first flames appeared beyond the curtain a man in the rear of the hall shouted: "Fire! Fire!" and the entire audience rose as one person and made for the doors. It is believed that the explosion was caused by the flames coming in contact with the gas reservoirs of the theater, causing them to burst.

Will J. Davis, manager of the theater, said after the catastrophe that if the people had remained in their seats and had not been excited by the cry of fire not a single life would have been lost. This, however, is contradicted by the statements of the firemen, who found numbers of persons sitting in their seats, their faces directed toward the stage, as if the performance was still going on. It was the opinion of the firemen that these people had been suffocated at once by the flow of gas which came from behind the asbestos curtain.

As near as can be estimated at the present time about 1,300 people were in the theater. Three hundred of these were on the first floor, the balance being in the two upper balconies and in the hallways back of them.

The theater is modeled after the Opera Comique in Paris, and from the rear of each balcony there are three doors leading out to passageways toward the front of the theater. Two of these doorways are at the end of the balcony and one being in the center. The audience in its rush for the outer air seems to have for the greater part chosen to flee to the left entrance and to attempt to make its way down the eastern stairway leading into the lobby of the theater.

Outside of the people burned and suffocated by gas it was in these two doorways on the first and second balconies that the greatest loss of life occurred. When the firemen entered the building the dead were found stretched in a pile reaching from the head of the stairway at least eight feet from the door back to a point about five feet in the rear of the door.

This mass of dead bodies in the center of the doorway reached to within two feet of the top of the passageway. All of the corpses at this point were women and children. The fight for life which must have taken place at these two points is something that is simply beyond human power adequately to describe. Only a faint idea of its horror could be derived from the aspect of the bodies as they lay. Women on top of these masses of dead had been overtaken by death as they were crawling on their hands and knees over the bodies of those who had died before.

Others lay with arms stretched out in the direction toward which lay life and safety, holding in their hands fragments of garments not their own. They were evidently torn from the clothing of others whom they had endeavored to pull down and trample under foot as they fought for their own lives. As the police removed layer after layer of dead in these doorways the sight became too much even for police and firemen, hardened as they are to such scenes, to endure.

The bodies were in such an inextricable mass and so tightly were they jammed between the sides of the door and the walls that it was impossible to lift them one by one and carry them out. The only possible thing to do was to seize a limb or some other portion of the body and pull with main strength. Men worked at the task with tears running down their cheeks, and the sobs of the rescuers could be heard even in the hall below where this awful scene was being enacted. A number of the men were compelled to abandon their task and give it over to others whose nerves had not as yet been shaken by the awful experience.

As one by one the bodies were dragged out of the water soaked, blackened mass of corpses the spectacle became more and more heartrending. There were women whose clothing was torn completely from their bodies above the waist, whose bosoms had been trampled into a pulp and whose faces were marred beyond all power of identification.

Bodies lay in the first and second balconies in great numbers. In some places they were piled up in the aisles three and four deep, where one had fallen and others tripped over the prostrate forms, and all had died where they lay, evidently suffocated by the gas. Others were bent over backs of seats, where they had been thrown by the rush of people for the doors, and killed, with hardly a chance to rise from their seats. One man was found with his back bent nearly double, his spinal column having been fractured as he was thrown backward. A woman was found cut nearly in half by the back of the seat, she having been forced over it face downward.

In the aisles nearest to the doors the scenes were harrowing in the extreme. Bodies lay in every conceivable attitude half naked, the look on their faces revealing some portion of the agony which must have preceded their death. There were scores and scores of people whose entire face had been trampled completely off by the heels of those who rushed over them, and in one aisle the body of a man was found with not a vestige of clothing, flesh or bone remaining above his waist line. The entire upper portion of his body had been cut into mince meat and carried away by the feet of those who trampled him. A search was carefully made with a hope of finding his head, but at a late hour it had not been discovered, and all that will ever tell his friends who he was is the color and appearance of the clothing on the lower limbs, and this is in such a condition as to be hardly recognizable.

The theater had been constructed but a short time, and all its equipment was not yet in place. This was unfortunately the case with a fire escape in the rear of the building. The small iron balconies to which the iron ladders were to be attached were up, but the ladders had not yet been constructed.

When the panic was at its height a great number of women ran for these fire escapes, only to find as they emerged from the doorway upon the little iron platform that they were thirty to fifty feet from the ground, a fire behind and no method of escape in front.

Those who reached the platform first endeavored to hold their footing and to keep back the crowd that pressed upon them from the rear. The effort was utterly useless, and in a few moments the iron ledges were jammed with crowds of women, who screamed, fought and tore at each other like maniacs. This lasted but a brief interval, and the rush from the interior of the building became so violent that many of them were crowded off and fell to the granite pavement below. Others leaped from the platform, fracturing legs and arms, and two were picked up at this point with fractured skulls, having been killed instantly.

George H. Elliott, secretary of the Ogden Gas company, was in a building directly opposite from the theater across this alley and, noticing smoke, went down to ascertain its cause. When he reached the street the women were already dropping into the alley, and Elliott immediately rushed for a ladder in an effort to save as many as possible. No ladder was available, and the only method of assistance they were able to devise was to hurriedly lash some planks together and throw them across to the affrighted women on the platforms, with instructions to place the end firmly on the iron framework. Before this could be done a fearful loss of time ensued. The women were being pushed every instant into the alley, and by the time the bridge was constructed but few remained to take advantage of it. However, about two dozen, it is believed, made their way across this narrow causeway.

The members of the theatrical company, being on the first floor, had comparatively little difficulty in reaching the street, although their situation was for a moment highly critical because of the speed with which the flames swept through the mass of scenery in the flies and on the stage.

Eddie Foy, principal comedian in the play, was one of the last to escape by getting out through a rear door after assisting the women members of the company to safety. He went into the Sherman House in his stage costume and with his face covered with grease paint in order to secure surgical attendance for some burns which he had sustained. In describing the commencement of the fire Foy attributed the extent of the catastrophe to the failure of the fireproof curtain to work properly. Because of this, he said, the flames readily obtained access to the main part of the theater and were by the draft, carrying with it gas as well as fire, swept up to the two balconies, where the loss of life was greatest.

"The fire began in the middle of the second act," said Mr. Foy. "An electric wire broke, was grounded, and from this the flames were started in the rear of the stage. The stage is unusually wide, and there was so great a draft the flames spread rapidly. They soon had attacked all the scenery in the rear of the house. I never believed it possible for fire to spread so quickly. When it first started I went to the footlights and, to prevent alarming the audience, said that there was a slight blaze and that it would be better for all to leave quietly. Then I stepped back and called for the asbestos curtain to be lowered. This when about halfway down refused to go further, and thus an additional draft was created. This swept the flames out into the auditorium, and I knew that the theater was doomed.

"I hurried back to the stage and aided in getting the women members of the company into the alley. Some of them were in their dressing rooms and were almost overcome by smoke before they could get down to the stage and to the doors. The simple fact that the curtain did not descend entirely was what saved the lives of the company, although it caused such a horrible catastrophe in the front of the house.

"After the curtain had refused to descend there came the explosion of the gas tanks, and with the curtain down all the fire and gas would have been confined between the rear wall of the theater and the fireproof curtain in front. Under these circumstances it would not have been possible for a single member of the company to escape alive unless he or she had been standing immediately in front of the door leading into the alley. As it was the draft carried all the gas and fire out before the curtain, and the company was saved, although their salvation was the death of so many poor people in front."

Rarely in the history of Chicago has its people been so stirred by such a calamity. It is, next to the Chicago fire, the greatest catastrophe that has ever occurred here, and the speed with which it came and went seemed for a brief period to appall the business section of the city. The news spread with great rapidity, and in a short time hundreds of men, women and children were rushing toward the theater.

The building in which the calamity occurred stands midway between State and Dearborn streets on the north side of Randolph street. Although every available policeman within call of the department was immediately hurried to the spot and the men placed in lines at the ends of the block, allowing nobody to enter Randolph street from either Dearborn or State street, it was found for a time almost impossible to hold back the frenzied crowd that pressed forward, many of them having friends or relatives in the theater and anxious to learn something of them. The conduct of the police was beyond all praise. The officers held their ground firmly and gently pushed back all those who sought to gain an entrance to the theater, although in some instances frantic men anxious to look for their loved ones actually beat the officers with their fists in their rage at being prevented.

In spite of the efforts of the police, however, a large number of people succeeded in breaking through the lines and entering the theater and in many cases did heroic work in rescuing the injured and carrying out the dead. Among these was former Alderman William H. Thompson, who unaided carried to the street the bodies of eight women. The first newspaper men upon the ground also carried out many of the dead and injured. The building was so full of smoke when the firemen first arrived that the full extent of the catastrophe was not immediately grasped until a fireman and a newspaper man crawled up the stairs leading to the balcony, holding handkerchiefs over their mouths to avoid suffocation. As they reached the doorway the fireman, whose wisdom was better trained in such emergencies, seized his companion by the arm, exclaiming, "Good God, man, don't walk on their faces!"

The two men tried vainly to get through the door, which was jammed with dead women piled higher than either of their heads. All the lights in the theater were necessarily out, and the only illumination came through the cloud of smoke that hung between the interior of the theater and the street. The two men immediately hurried to the floor below and informed Chief Musham of the fire department that the dead bodies were piled high in the balcony and prompt assistance must be rendered if any of them were to be saved.

The chief at once called upon all his men in the vicinity to abandon work on the fire and come at once to the rescue. The building was so dark and the smoke so thick that it was found impossible to accomplish anything until lights had been secured. Word was at once sent to the Orr & Lockett Hardware company, two doors east of the theater, and that firm at once placed its entire stock of lanterns at the service of the department. Over 200 lights were quickly carried into the building, and the work of rescue commenced.

So rapidly were the bodies brought down that for over an hour there were two streams of men passing in and out of the doorway, the one carrying bodies, the other composed of men returning to get more. They were carried into Thompson's restaurant, which adjoins the theater on the east, where all the available space was given by the proprietor.

The dead and wounded were placed upon chairs, tables and counters, one woman even being placed for lack of a better spot on top of a cigar case. Because of the tremendous throng which surrounded the block in which the theater building stood it was not possible for the police to carry the dead and wounded any distance, and they were compelled to wait for ambulances at the theater.

Although all the patrol wagons and every ambulance owned by the city was pressed into service, they were utterly inadequate to carry away the dead, and in a short time there was a line of corpses fifty feet long piled two and three feet high on the sidewalk in front of the theater. It was found necessary in order to convey the bodies rapidly to the morgue and to the various undertaking establishments to press trucks into service, and in these upon costly blankets furnished by the dry goods stores in the vicinity and covered with the same material the dead were hauled away practically like so much cordwood.

The merchants in the vicinity of the theater rose to the emergency in splendid fashion. Marshall Field & Co., Mandel Bros., Schlesinger & Meyer, Carson, Piere, Scott & Co. and other large dry goods stores sent wagon load after wagon load of blankets, rolls of linen and packages of cotton to be used in binding up the wounds of the injured and to cover the dead.

The drug stores furnished their stock to anybody that asked for it in the name of people hurt in the fire. Doctors and trained nurses were on the ground by the score within half an hour after the extent of the calamity was known, and every wounded person who was carried from the building received prompt medical aid. A number of doctors waited at the entrance to the theater, with stethoscopes in hand, and as soon as a body which looked as though it might possess life was carried out it was at once examined and if dead placed on the pile lying on the sidewalk. The others were at once placed in ambulances and whirled away to hospitals or to the offices of physicians in the immediate neighborhood.

CORBETT WON FIGHT

Hanlon Badly Punished In Sixteen Rounds.

IT WAS A FAST AND FURIOUS BATTLE

Featherweight Championship Won by the "Pride of Denver"—It Is Said Hanlon Would Have Been Killed Had Fight Continued.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—"Young Corbett" defeated Eddie Hanlon in the sixteenth round of the fight for the featherweight championship at Mechanics' pavilion.

In the first round Corbett did most of the leading, poking straight lefts for the face and right upper cuts, but Hanlon did the effective work in the breakaways. Corbett fought aggressively in the second round, landing one blow under Hanlon's heart that told for a moment. Hanlon then forced the champion to the ropes and held his own. The pace was fast in the next, and

"YOUNG CORBETT."

Hanlon's nose began to bleed from a straight right in the face.

They fought fiercely in the fifth, both landing lefts and rights to the body. Corbett rushed as the round closed, but failed to land. Hanlon landed a hard right on the head, and Corbett then sent Hanlon back to the ropes with a clean right to the jaw in the fifth. Corbett struck very low and was warned by the referee to be careful.

Both men did considerable talking. Throughout the sixth round Corbett seemed anxious to "mix it" at all times.

The next round was about even. The twelfth round was Hanlon's. He gave Corbett a hard right uppercut on the body and did all the forcing.

In the thirteenth Hanlon became groggy, but saved himself by keeping close to Corbett.

In the fourteenth Corbett sent Hanlon to the floor with two lefts to the jaw. He was down nine seconds. The gong apparently saved Hanlon from a knockout.

In the fifteenth round Corbett plainly had his man beaten, and the referee asked Hanlon's seconds to take him out of the ring, but they refused. The champion sent the Californian to the floor with right and left to the jaw, where he took the count of nine. Corbett pounded him in the face and yelled to Hanlon's seconds to stop the contest, but they refused. He smashed his man back to the ropes with blows on the jaw until Graney interfered and gave the decision to Corbett. It is said that Hanlon would have been killed but for the referee stopping the fight when he did.

The hall was taxed to its capacity long before the bell clanged, summoning the principals to action. Despite the fact that Hanlon in his previous encounter with the champion had somewhat the better of the bout Corbett was a pronounced favorite in the betting. Opening up at 10 to 8 a few days ago, the odds gradually shortened owing to the weight of Corbett's money, and when the lads entered the pavilion 2 to 1 was offered, with the Denver boy on the long end. The articles of agreement stipulated that they should weigh in at 129 pounds at 6 o'clock or forfeit $1,000. Corbett was the first to step on the scales and just topped the beam at an even 129. Hanlon was evidently under these figures, as he failed to move the scales.

Racing at Ingleside.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31.—Jennie Hughes, a 12 to 1 shot, and Arthur Ray, a 15 to 1 shot, won out here.

The Plainfield Trust Company

A BRIEF SUMMARY

At this, the close of our first calendar year, we think it an opportune time to make public a brief statement of what has been accomplished by this Company in the eighteen months of its existence.

It has been its fixed policy to allow depositors to share liberally in its earnings. To that end three per cent. interest has been paid on both savings and checking accounts.

The accompanying comparative statement of deposits, showing the rapid increase of the Company's business since its inception, may, we think, be taken as a fair indication of a satisfactorily rendered service, and an appreciation of progressive banking methods.

cumulation of water, but greatly improves the condition of the streets to the southwest. Albert street storm sewer has been improved, apparently solving the difficulty on that street, as the enlarged pipe and new inlets now remove the surface water promptly. On West End avenue the extension of the 24-inch storm sewer from Front street to Green brook permitted the filling in of the deep ditch which formerly carried the water, and the raising of the whole street with slag from Pond Tool Works. This slag alone makes a very fair road surface, and furnishes an excellent foundation on which only a thin coating of stone is needed to complete a good macadam pavement.

"A fifteen-inch pipe has been laid under Union street at Stelle avenue, which may eventually be extended to Cedar brook. New storm sewers have been asked for in Plainfield avenue from West Seventh street to the brook near the city line; in Darrow avenue through West Fourth street to and through Grant avenue to the storm sewer at Second street. Unless this sewer is constructed, Darrow avenue will have to be filled to such a height as will seriously depreciate the value of the adjoining property. Storm sewers are also needed in Watchung avenue, from Hillside avenue to Cedar brook, in Putnam avenue, and in North avenue from Leland avenue to Cedar brook. It would be a decided benefit to the city if Cedar brook could be widened and deepened from South avenue to Park avenue.

"The principal work ordered by the committee this year was the flagging of Arlington avenue, from West Seventh street to Randolph road, and all of this work has been done or is under contract. During the year 1903, 10,823 feet of flagging have been laid and 1,780 feet of curbing have been set.

"Fourteen crosswalks have been laid or practically made new this season; it has been the custom of the committee to provide them as promptly as possible after the completion of flag sidewalks by the property owners. Several culverts have been constructed and others rebuilt. Some in Putnam avenue are in need of similar treatment. The 48-inch cast iron pipes from Berckman street, which were taken out when the new bridge over Cedar brook was built by the Freeholders, were carted to Hobart avenue and placed in the small brook south of Eighth street, making a permanent improvement. The carting was done by William Hand without charge.

"The work of grading Jackson avenue has been carried on during the year whenever the force could be spared for it, but considerable excavation yet remains to be done between Front and Second streets; with the best of the material from this block it is intended to fill in Netherwood avenue north of Second street. The work on these two streets and on Jackson avenue has resulted in a decided improvement to the eastern district of the city. West Fourth street, west of Clinton avenue was partly graded to drain a hollow at Hunter avenue and should be completed next year; the erection of ten new houses on our southern boundary during the year shows how the improved section of the city is constantly enlarging. The erection of the new Muhlenberg Hospital at the corner of Park avenue and Randolph road and the grading of the property made necessary the grading of Randolph road.

"Reference has been made to the good results obtained by the use of slag from Pond Tool Works on West End avenue; similar satisfactory work has been done on Clinton avenue, south of Third street. It would be of great benefit if all the sandy streets in the vicinity of the works could be excavated, say six inches below grade, and filled with this slag.

"Proceedings for the laying out and opening of Myrtle avenue, from the intersection of Dunellen and Compton avenues to Green brook, there to meet the proposed extension of Myrtle avenue in North Plainfield, have progressed as far as the appointment of commissioners."

Referring to the street sprinkling the commissioner says: "The sprinkling of streets by the city has been, with few exceptions, very satisfactory to the property owners, and has aided materially in keeping the macadam streets in good condition. It has made possible the successful application of small patches to the macadam pavement, and the six inch tires on the sprinklers have proved their value as rollers in consolidating the stone. We believe that the public would not care to return to the old method of street sprinkling, and that the Common Council will be obliged to continue to have the work done under city control. We recommend that two more wagons be purchased and a sufficient appropriation made to operate them throughout the year excepting when the temperature is near or below the freezing point. While the carrying out of this improvement will probably cause some increase in the tax rate, the largest part of the cost will be paid by those who have, in previous years, subscribed for street sprinkling, and to them the annual expense will certainly be less than formerly."

"The storm of September 16th uprooted a large number of trees, completely blocking many of the streets; the cost of cutting up the trees, removing them and repairing the sidewalks was $74.84. The usual trimming of trees has been continued by authority of the committee on lights and trees, and is not paid for out of the street appropriation; the work meets with general approval and many owners request an extra amount of trimming. As the shade trees in the city increase in size, it becomes more and more evident that for the public health, for the best development of the trees and for the good of the streets, our trees should be thinned out.

"We believe that prompt action should be taken by the incoming Council to establish building lines on all streets in and near the business centre of the city, and to appoint commissioners to assess damages and benefits.

"The street railway company has paid for removing snow from streets and as its proportion of the cost of street repairs, $1,053.80. The continual tearing up of the streets to make repairs to the track, often several times in the same place, has been annoying to this committee, and suggests that the effort should be made to have all the tracks in the city thoroughly overhauled and laid in a substantial manner; it is evident, from the frequent derailing of cars and the decayed condition of such ties as are removed, that the roadbed is in urgent need of repair.

"Last spring seventy-two street signs were put up, most of them to replace those which were damaged; some of the injuries to the enamel were no doubt caused maliciously, but the majority of failures were probably the result of defects in manufacture. Most of the street signs are now in excellent condition, and the few damaged ones can be replaced at small expense.

"There are a number of macadam streets in need of repair. The Hillside Cemetery Association has agreed to pay one half of the cost of repairing Belleview avenue in a thorough and substantial manner, providing that the work be done at an early date.

"The sewerage system has been operated very successfully during the past year and the new disposal plant is considered, by many of those visiting it, to be largest and best example of the septic tank and double contact bed system in this part of the country. All of the sewers and flush tanks have been examined and tested about five times during the year.

"Two hundred and seventy-five new sewer connections have been made during the year, making a total of 7,775; the four mile contract of Jas. Maybury & Son is practically completed, and many connections have been made with the new sewers as they progressed. This work, also that done under the previous contract, will probably be referred to the sewer assessment commissioners early in 1904. Several additional sewers are now asked for, and the demand will no doubt continue until all the streets are sewered.

"The quantity of sewage has almost doubled since the new disposal works were constructed, being now about 800,000 gallons per day. In wet weather there is a considerable leakage of ground water into the sewers constructed in North and South avenues by Patrick T. Plunkett, and as this was discovered before his final payment, the amount still due him has been retained to cover cost of repairs.

"The former residence of the operator at the disposal works having been taken by the Board of Health for the Emergency Hospital, we suggest that a plain dwelling be erected by the committee on the lot at the east corner of Rock and Dunellen avenues, in which the operator may reside near the works. Some much needed repairs are now being made to the barns on the city property."

KELLEY BOUND.

Executor of Hanlon Estate Must Perform His Duties Faithfully.

Codington & Swackhamer, representing the heirs of the late Margaret Hanlon, of Summit, secured in the Orphan's Court at Elizabeth yesterday, an order to show cause why Edward B. Kelley, the executor, of the estate should sell the lands and grounds held in trust by him. He was held in $4,600 bonds for the faithful performance of his duties. It seems that Kelley was made executor of Mrs. Hanlon's estate at the time of her death. A few days ago, it is alleged, he proceeded to sell some of the property held by him in trust. The heirs of the estate have had him placed under bonds for the faithful performance of his duties.
